

Commissioners Hear Public's Views On New McCamey Pool Project

At a public hearing held in the county courtroom last Monday, August 23, the Commissioners court heard opinions and questions concerning the proposed construction of a swimming pool for the Negro population in McCamey.

In a courtroom more than half filled, mostly with Negroes interested in the project, the court heard various groups and individuals speak in favor of the project. Among those endorsing the project and having representatives at the meeting were the McCamey Chamber of Commerce, the McCamey Lions Club, the McCamey Women's Clubs, a Negro delegation and several individuals. All expressed the opinion that the pool should be built.

No organized opposition was present at the meeting; however some individuals expressed the opinion that the negro population of Rankin was also entitled to similar facilities as those planned for McCamey.

In the discussion it was pointed out by the court that no new tax money would be used in this project. It would be financed from money now on hand and in the water improvement fund. It was estimated that there is approximately $140,000 in this fund at this time.

Cost of the project was estimated at $36,000 with some $29,000 of this going into the construction of a 24x50 ft. community building with kitchen, a bath house with facilities for men and women and a concession stand. There would be some $16,000 spent on construction of the main pool which would be average 65x35 feet and constructed in a fan shape. Also included in this sum would be a wading pool and a filter plant for the main pool.

The above figures do not include the cost of the land which was estimated at $1,500 for approximately a city block nor does it take into consideration whether or not there will be a need of additional help in maintaining the pool and equipment.

After the hearing was over, the Commissioners' Court authorized the architectural designers to proceed with plans and specifications for the pool.

With a few more boys expected to report when they return to Rankin, the present squad has 9 freshmen, 7 sophomores, 8 juniors and 4 seniors.

Rankin will meet Rochell here on September 10 for their first game of the 1954 season.

WAY BACK WHEN —

By accident, an old program concerning Rankin was discovered by one of the News employees last week.

It was a program called "Safety First" by Sheldon Parmer staged and under the direction of Mrs. C. G. Falk. Staged by the Missionary Society of the Rankin Methodist Church, the program included the following characters: Clarence G. Falk, Lloyd Vick, Carson Taylor, Robert Hunt, Grimm Taylor, Edith Harris, Mayana Yates, Lulu C. White Cleora Bizzell and Bernice Lewis.

Cloma Davis was piano accompanist with the play being staged in the Palace Theatre. Admission was 25 and 50 cents and the time was Friday evening, October 19, 1928.

Perhaps as of much interest as the long-ago-date on the program was the fact that it was printed on a letterhead of the Chamber of Commerce of Rankin. James S. Key was listed as president; Roy R. Priest, vice-president; Clarence G. Falk, secretary, and Anna Mae Brunson, treasurer.

Proving that in days gone by Rankin was definitely out to boost itself, the letterhead had a large heart printed in the center of the page. Imprinted on the heart was the following:

RANKIN in the heart of four great oil fields—Upton County Seat—Railroad Supply Center for Yates Field—World's largest oil producing area—Good Schools and Churches—Cattle Shipping Point—Pure Water at Shallow Depth—Ideal Living Conditions.

Across the bottom of the sheet in large letters was the wording "Finest Hotels Between San Angelo and El Paso."

One thing that Rankin might still use from this old letter would be the civic pride displayed in its make-up. Folks were proud of Rankin then and are proud of it now—they just fail to tell others about it.

Paving Issue Is Discussed With Neighbors By Lions

Realizing the need for cooperation on the matter of the paving bond issue being considered, a committee of the Rankin Lions Club met with the McCamey club last Monday night in McCamey.

Composed of W. J. Pollard, Ted Hogan and L. D. Sipes, the committee explained Rankin's needs for paving and asked the opinion of the McCamey group on the possibilities of securing their backing on the project.

A favorable report was given by the club along with the suggestion that a combined committee of the two towns go to Crockett County and meet with interested groups there concerning their attitude toward the proposed paving of a road into that county.

It was further explained by the McCamey club that although they favored the project, it would have to be modified some from what it was when it was defeated in the last called election. It was their opinion that paving in the county and in the two towns were definitely needed but that a thorough study of the situation and the needs must be made before action is taken. Specifically, they felt that there is a need for paving of city streets in both towns, completion of paving in northeast Upton County and if possible, paving into Crockett County. The possibility of omitting curbing and storm sewers from the project were discussed.

In an effort to secure further advice and support for the project, the Rankin Club will continue to send out committees to meet with the various civic organizations in the county and adjoining counties as well as interested individuals and business organizations.

Anyone having opinions which they might like to place before the club is invited to do so. It is their desire to try to get as many people behind the project as possible and to work as closely as possible with everyone interested in the paving issue. They feel that it should fill the needs of all concerned and that the more opinions they can receive from various groups and individuals, the better.

Defeated a little more than a year ago was a proposed 1 1/2 million dollar bond issue covering a very similar program. However, it is felt that the main reason the other issue failed was from lack of finding out what everyone needed and what most of the voters were willing to support. Some feel that had the previous issue been better planned as to location of paving and actual need involved as well as having the backing of more individuals and groups, it would have carried. A further drawback to the original plan was the amount of money proposed and the limited amount of paving that was to be laid.

It is for these reasons that the Rankin Lions Club feel that the project must be looked into thoroughly and that hasty action would not be wise. They solicit your opinions and your support on the matter.

RANKIN GAS CO. POINTS OUT NEED OF PREPARING FOR COLD WINTER AHEAD

In an effort to encourage people to get their homes ready for winter now, the Rankin Gas Company this week announced a plan whereby homeowners can get their installations now and pay later.

Joe Powell, owner and manager of the firm, says that anyone who wishes may call the Rankin Gas Company and they will be glad to come out and make all the necessary installations for connecting houses or business buildings to the present system. Powell pointed out that the average cost of installation was approximately $25.00 and that this amount need not be paid now, but could be worked out to the best interests of those needing the service.

He further pointed out that, taken on a yearly basis, natural gas was approximately one-third cheaper than any other type of fuel in use in this part of the country and that the first year's savings would pay for the installation. In addition to this, he further pointed out the benefits of using natural gas such as having an unlimited supply at all times and never having to bother with having someone service a home unit.

Rankin Gas Company brought natural gas to Rankin approximately two years ago and since that time has given the town excellent service. Their lines have been extended and many new connections have been made recently. Users have expressed satisfaction with the service and find it very convenient as well as economical.

VOTING BY FORMER AF MEMBERS LEGAL AUG. 28

Former members of the Armed Forces, the U. S. Maritime Service or the U. S. Merchant Marine who have seen active duty within the last 18 months are entitled to vote in the August 28 run-off primary without the payment of the poll tax, according to a ruling by Attorney General John Ben Shepperd.

Shepperd said the waiver also applies to any person who is now on extended duty as a member of any of the reserve components of the Armed Forces, a selective service draftee, a member of the National Guard, the U. S. Maritime Service or the U. S. Merchant Marine.

The Texas Constitution prohibits military members of the "regular" military establishments from voting.

Voters covered by Shepperd's ruling are not required to accompany their application for an absentee ballot by either a poll tax receipt or an exemption certificate, though the county clerk may require the voter to make a statement setting forth his military status.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Anderson spent the week-end with relatives in Wichita Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith and daughters, Lois Ann and Wanda Lee, of Arkansas City, Kansas, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. O. McEwen and Mr. and Mrs. George Stephenson.

ROUNDUP OF WEEK'S NEWS

*Being a column devoted to the latest rumors—mostly.

HIGHWAY WORK

Work on widening of Highway 67 was well under way this week. All the old pavement had been removed and grading of the road bed is in progress. No definite date has been set for completion of the project.

Plans for lighting of the street once it is completed are underway. First mention of this undertaking was voiced in Rankin Lions Club with a follow-up by city officials working with West Texas Utilities. Present thinking on the matter is the installation of the vapor type lights similar to those now in use on Main Street.

NEW CONSTRUCTION

Several new projects are underway and others are in the rumor mill. Ground was graded just east of the News Office last week where it is reported an office building will be constructed soon. Work continues on the new home of Lowery and Workman Insurance and is shaping up into a very attractive looking structure. At least one new house is being built and several more are on the drawing boards. One party from San Angelo was in Rankin last week looking into the possibility of constructing 15 new homes priced to sell in the lower class field.

McCAMEY SWIMMING POOL

If Rankin approved or disapproved of the proposed construction of a swimming pool and club house in McCamey for the negro population, they certainly did not show it either way at the public meeting held last Monday. Only four people from Rankin besides the Commissioners were on hand while McCamey had an estimated 50 persons there to "speak their piece."

They proved one thing and Rankin should take a lesson from it: Get organized. They had representatives from the Lions Club, the Chamber of Commerce, churches, etc., and they all came prepared with petitions and speeches. They did not come to try to put something over on Rankin; they just came prepared to present their case and they did it well. We "jest wasn't" resentful.

ABSENTEE COUNT AT 77

According to the county clerk's office, absentee voting stood at 77 at noon Wednesday. This will be the majority of all such voting since that phase of ballot casting closed Tuesday at midnight. Only ballots mailed in and bearing a postmark prior to that time would be legal.

Mrs. Jack Marshall has gone to Lubbock where she will attend a family reunion. Her brothers are Grady, Wayne, and Stacy Ashley of Lubbock, and Ab Ashley of Vernon, Texas. Her sisters are Mrs. Blanche Eslinger of San Marcos, Mrs. W. J. Howell and Mrs. Edgar Nevels of San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Gene Yocham attended funeral services for her great uncle held in Balinger Tuesday.

Mrs. Odessa Edward's sister, Mrs. G. R. Cearley, of Altus, Oklahoma, visited in her home over the week-end.

SCHOOL ROUND-UP FRIDAY

Forty-five first graders were on hand for the pre-school round-up held last Friday evening. They and their mothers received instructions on what to expect when the youngsters enter school for their first term as well as having the school's procedure explained to them. The children were all given a physical examination by Dr. J. D. Gossett and School Nurse Ina Lair.

At last year's round-up there were 47 present and at the first day of school approximately 90 students registered. Taking this as a guide, school officials are expecting between 90 to 100 to enroll in the first grade Monday August 30.

METHODIST OPEN NURSERY

Beginning next Sunday morning, there will be a nursery to care for the babies and small children during the services at the Methodist Church.

It has been announced that the nursery is in need of a baby bed. If you have one that isn't in use or know of one that is available, please contact Mrs. Ray Lee.

THAT'S RANKIN FOR YOU

R. L. Barbee, local retailer, had an experience last week that proved a point in what this newspaper has been telling its readers for some time.

Barbee's had a customer who was not satisfied with the fit of a pair of boys jeans she had purchased. Being very frank about the matter she told Mr. Barbee that she was going to look around in Midland and Odessa and see if she could not find what she wanted.

After a whole day's shopping in the two towns, the lady returned to Rankin and purchased 6 pairs of the jeans from the Rankin store. She had not only found that they were cheaper by about a dollar, but that they were of superior grade and cut. In this particular instance, the Rankin price was $1.98 while for the same quality in the larger towns, the price ranged from $2.49 to $2.98.

We've said it before and we say it again—it's cheaper to trade at home.

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT WATCH OUR WINDOWS FOR OTHER SPECIALS

ernor Shivers and Judge Yarborough stepped up their respective campaigns. Both made special appeals to the thousands of potential balloters who shunned the polls in the first primary. In rallies and radio broadcasts over the state, the governor told listeners that good, sound state government was the only medium through which Texas could continue its prosperity.

"This is no time to start experimenting. This is no time to throw the state government into complete turmoil," Shivers said as he pictured Texas' present financial and economic picture as bright.

Shivers said that the state is now free of depression, that industry and employment are "booming."

"Most families are now better set financially with money in the bank, and the state government has a balance of $27 million with which to work improvements," the governor explained.

He underlined the evils of government leaders trying to buy public support with public money as "leading down the road of waste, extravagance, and corruption."

Shivers also lashed out at the claim that he had broken a political pledge given at the 1952 Democratic Convention.

"My opponent has charged that I pledged to support whom-ever was nominated at the 1952 Democratic Convention," he said.

Shivers read from the convention record that the only pledge he made was to put the Democratic national nominees' names on the Texas ballot. That was done, he said.

In a skirmish over the labor-union vote, the Governor accused Yarborough of being "ashamed" that every strong CIO box went for the Austin attorney in the first primary.

Shivers, who has claimed that outside labor organizations are supporting Yarborough, said that Yarborough had now turned his back on his supporters by claiming that the union boxes had gone for Shivers.

Shivers also reported that 59 members of the State House of Representatives had announced their support of him for governor.

Takes Dim View

While Shivers' picture of the present administration was a bright one, Yarborough's was the opposite.

In a theme developed in the early days of the governor's campaign and followed steadily, he lashed Shivers and the state administration with curt and critical accusations.

Yarborough pitched in a new charge as he drove and flew over the state.

Large billboards over Texas urging motorists to drive safely were paid for by an oil company, Yarborough stated, a direct violation of law because Shivers' name was on the billboards.

He said it was a violation for a corporation to contribute to a political campaign.

In stump speeches Yarborough also had nothing but criticism for state government.

He re-warmed charges, developed earlier in the race, that a long tenure in office had caused corruption in the capital and that Shivers was conducting an "untruthful" campaign.

Yarborough reiterated accusations that state printing contracts were let illegally.

At Gonzales he asked 150 court house square listeners to make sacrifices in time and effort to "preserve their freedom and liberty" by voting for him.

He also declared the need for a drought-relief program and promised if elected to draw up a "comprehensive drought-relief plan."

Could Pose Problem

The possible problem of having a state governor belonging to one political faction and a Texas democratic party organization of another strain is causing loss of sleep for some party leaders.

The problem is this: Shivers, as a conservative democrat, presently heads the state's party organization which also is conservative democrat.

In addition, his followers took control of the party convention to be held September 14.

If Yarborough, as a liberal-loyalist, wins the August 28th run-off, the situation for the next two years could see the head of the state Democratic Party at odds with his party's official organization.

White, Porter Spar

State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has charged that the Texas drought relief plan for stockmen may prove a failure if "Republican political ambitions" are not separated from the program.

White accused Jack Porter, Republican national committeeman from Texas, and other Republican leaders with blocking the effectiveness of the program.

Porter in turn stated that White was angry "because New Dealers are being replaced with people who believe in sound principles of government."

White said that in this three years of drought relief work it had never been necessary to clear anything through national committees of either party.

He had earlier stated that the FHA, administering the program, was being made to depend on the Republican committee for its policies in drought relief.

Angry Boss: "You should have been here at nine."
 Late Steno: "Why, what happened?"

ARMY SEEKING TO FILL RANKS BY ENLISTMENT

In an effort to fill its ranks with qualified and career minded personnel, the Army continues to authorize enlistment and reenlistment in a wise choice of initial assignments, according to Sec. Daniel R. Dawson of the Odessa Army Recruiting Station.
 Sec. Dawson listed the following choice of assignments as being available on a quota basis: qualified applicants for enlistment in the Regular Army: Adjutant General's Corps, Army, Army Medical Service, Army, Chemical Corps, Corps of Engineers, Finance Corps, Infantry, Military Police Corps, Ordnance Corps, Quartermaster Corps, Signal Corps, Transportation Corps, Regular Army Unassigned, and Airborne Unassigned.
 It was pointed out by Sec. Dawson that the Army maintains private schools to train personnel in all of these branches.

Another unusual incentive, the Army is now offering positive enlistees in the Army Technical School Training Program, which allows high school graduates to actually select the training school of their choice and have their attendance guaranteed before they are required to enlist," Sec. Dawson concluded.

MARVIN McEWEN TRAINS AT GEORGIA ARMY POST

CAMP GORDON, Ga. — Pvt. Marvin McEwen of Rankin will graduate this week from the Field Radio Repair Course, one of the many courses offered at the Southeastern Signal School, Camp Gordon, Georgia. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. McEwen of Rankin.

The Field Radio Repair Course which is 25 weeks long, trains selected personnel in field and depot maintenance of radio equipment used by the Army in the field.

During his training, Pvt. McEwen received a technical education worth thousands of dollars. He will now be reassigned to an active unit of the United States Army.

The Southeastern Signal School is a component of the Signal Corps Training Center, a anteed before they are required to enlist," Sec. Dawson concluded.

The Eagle or the Oyster?

© Fritz Henle—Courtesy Cities Service Company

Now comes the season of the year when the Red, White and Blue is glorified in oratory throughout the land. Pilgrimages flow, Washington, Lincoln, Franklin, Patrick Henry, and Jefferson are quoted. For speakers bold enough to break with this tradition, we suggest the examination of a speech written by Merle Thorne, editor of SERVICE Magazine, for the July issue. Theme—"The Eagle or the Oyster?"

For a people . . . who elect opportunism rather than opportunity, who dream of security rather than success; who believe political charity is a virtue; who mock the frugal and plunder the thrifty; who adopt the rule that if I don't succeed you are to blame, that what you have is as much mine as yours; who contend that property is a shameful sign of success; who whimper that failure is the nobler cause; well-being is wicked; prudence, out-of-date; sacrifice silly;—for such a people a fitting emblem is the Oyster.

For a people . . . who faced nature in the raw, with privation the rule and hardihood a virtue; who endured defeat, disease and disaster for a hundred years in order to get a foothold on the Eastern Seaboard, the while with one eye on the interior, a no-man's land, a cockpit for settling international rivalries and private grudges, disputed by wild animals and wilder redmen; who sacrificed thus for a belief in the worth and dignity of the individual; who believed that economic freedom was as important as political freedom; who substituted "In God We Trust," for the Old World motto "In Government We Trust"; for a nation built by men who dedicated their lives to achieve the realization of these beliefs, I give you, fellow citizens—the Eagle!

Bluetongue Vaccine Now Produced By 4 Plants

COLLEGE STATION.—A vaccine for bluetongue is now in production in four commercial laboratories. In addition to some deaths, this sheep disease results in severe loss of weight, impairment of fleece quality, stiffness or lameness, and screwworm infestation.

Workers of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station have made several contributions to the basic research on this disease. These include: (1) the first description of the disease in the United States in 1952, when it was called sore muzzle, (2) multiple isolations of the virus from Texas sheep, (3) preparation of an experimental vaccine against Texas strains, (4) confirmation of the South African work which incriminated the Culicoides gnat as a transmitter or vector, and (5) discovery that a certain new antibiotic renders the bluetongue virus ineffective when studied in test tubes and chicken embryos. This work has been centered at the Sonora Station and directed by Superintendent W. T. Hardy and D. A. Price, associate veterinarian.

According to Dr. C. M. Patterson, Extension Veterinarian, the vaccine now available commercially is a cooperative development by the USDA, the state of California, and private companies based on earlier work done in South Africa. Although it contains the live virus, it is intended to be harmless to sheep but should immunize them against the known strains in both Texas and California.

Now that a vaccine against bluetongue is in use, it will be important for the Texas workers as well as others to watch for the appearance of any strains against which the vaccine fails to protect. If such strains appear, they can then be isolated and incorporated in the vaccine for the following season.

Hints Given On Grain Storage

FUMIGANTS
 There are several fumigants that are effective for killing stored grain insects. These are formulated as various combinations and are sold by companies under different trade names. The dosages also vary some according to the ingredients used in the formulations and direction for use as given on the label should be followed. Some of the fumigants and dosages commonly used are given in the table below.

There are various other combinations of chemicals used as fumigants. Ethylene dibromide, sulphur dioxide, acrylonitrile, methyl bromide, trichloroethylene, and benzene are the names of some of the chemicals often used. Manufacturing and formulating companies sell fumigants under trade names, however, the ingredients are given on the label. There also are variations as to the dosages required for different combinations and it is, therefore, necessary to follow instructions given on the label. Fumigants properly applied will penetrate grain and give good insect control to a depth of 10 to 12 feet.

WARNING!

TEXAS FARMERS-RANCHERS WARNED OF CIO LABOR PLANS

AUSTIN, Tex., Farmers and ranchers of Texas were warned this week that the CIO plans to organize the farm workers of Texas if its candidate wins the Governor's race.

This warning came from Governor Allan Shivers who charged that the backers of his opponents "want to turn the state government over to the same bunch that is trying to wreck Port Arthur."

"One of the first things they would do is put one of their red-hot organizers from Port Arthur in as labor commissioner. Then every time a farmer or rancher wanted to hire someone he would have to go through the CIO."

Governor Shivers said there was no doubt in his mind that the aim of the CIO after the job of organizing industry in Port Arthur and along the Gulf Coast is finished is to begin organizing farm labor in all parts of Texas.

"You can imagine what will happen when the CIO starts dictating how many laborers are needed to plow ten acres of land, refusing to allow a man to work more than thirty-five hours a week during the harvesting season and telling how much a farmer can charge for his crop," he said.

The Shivers administration, the Governor said, has worked hard to help preserve and protect the rights of the working man.

"But as long as I am Governor, the professional labor bosses who have been sent to Texas from the East — specifically those in the CIO and its Political Action Committee — are not going to run our State Government," Shivers promised.

Shivers said the average working man in Texas appreciated good government and that they were not going to let CIO bosses and professional organizers from the East do their thinking — and voting — for them.

HOW VALUABLE IS YOUR TELEPHONE SERVICE? Recently we asked a group of telephone customers to help answer that question by keeping a record of all the calls they made and received for a week. Like others in the group, Mrs. Felicia Littlejohn (above) was genuinely surprised at how much she depended on her telephone service and how it helped her through busy days. Altogether, Mrs. Littlejohn made and received 58 local calls in the seven days and she estimates that they covered a total of 345 miles... all for a few pennies a call. SOUTHWESTERN BELL... DANCE SCHOOL OPENS
Flo Darling will be at the Rankin High School gymnasium Tuesday, August 31st, from 2:00 until 4:00 p.m. to register pupils for dance lessons.
So that more children might be able to take lessons, only one lesson a week will be given at half the regular price, $5.00 per month. For older students there will be a class in ballroom or social dancing which not only will include waltz, fox trot, rhumba, congó, bop and folk dancing, etc., but a foundation in grace, poise and ballroom etiquette which are more desirable qualities in a dance partner than knowing lots of intricate steps.
Mrs. R. D. McSpadden and daughter, Neva, were shopping in San Angelo Tuesday.
Week-end guests in the H. C. Dishman home were his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Boutwell of Bellevue.
