TUMBLING TUMBLE WEEDS A'PLENTY — Almost every student has heard from his parents or grandparents about how hard it was to get to school in the old days. Few can top this situation faced recently by Anna Ford who makes a round trip of over 90 miles each day to attend Rankin High School. Anna's car, by which she makes part of the journey, was completely covered by tumbling weeds following a recent March blow. The car was "stuck" on dry land.

Ivan Wilson Babb, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Babb of Big Lake was admitted March 23 and dismissed March 24.

Mr. David Knowlton of Rankin was admitted March 23 and dismissed March 28.

Sherron Sue Rowe, 7-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Rowe of Rankin, was admitted on March 24 and dismissed March 28.

Mr. A. A. Morgan of Rankin was admitted March 24.

Deborah Kay Medley, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Medley of Rankin, was admitted March 27 and dismissed March 28.

Mrs. Joe Arrington of McCamey was admitted March 28 and dismissed March 30.

Janice Sue Halford, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Halford of Rankin, was admitted March 30.

83RD GRAND JURY RETURNS 4 BILLS

Meeting last Monday for the March term of court in the 83rd Judicial District, members of the Grand Jury returned four true bills of indictment.

Charged with theft of more than $50. was Jimmie T. Lee formerly of McCamey.

Lloyd Eugene Garner, also a former resident of McCamey, was billed with child desertion. Dan Morgan Bowline, former McCamite, was charged with theft of more than $50. while T. E. Autrey, Jr., McCamey, was billed on a second offense of drunk driving.

Autrey is the only one of the four still living in Upton County. Warrants were issued this week for their arrests.

Judge C. E. Patterson of Alpine presided with Lucis D. Bunton of Marfa as District Attorney. A. E. Ivy was foreman of the jury.

Trial has been set for the middle of May.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Arrington of McCamey are the parents of a new daughter born in Rankin Hospital March 28 at 2:17 a.m. weighing 6 lbs., 15 ozs. and named Loretta.

Rankin voters will make two trips to the polls within the next few days to cast their ballots in the School and City Elections.

On Saturday, April 4, two school trustees will be elected for three-year terms. Seats up are the one presently held by Joe Simpson and the one vacated by Walton Poage who declined to seek re-election af-

Rabbit Drive Planned For Saturday, April 4

Shooters from this area have been invited to attend a rabbit drive on the Frank Midkiff Ranch, located approximately 6 miles North of Midkiff on Saturday, April 4.

Activities are said to be scheduled for 8:00 a.m. with those who so desire joining the shoot at any time during the day. A barbecue dinner will be served at noon.

No charges will be made for taking part in the drive. However, the shooters will be expected to pay for their lunch and to furnish their own ammunition. Shotguns will be used and a truck carrying ammo will follow the gunners.

Rabbits have increased in such numbers throughout this area within the last few years that they are becoming a serious threat to range lands.

Hurst Barbecue Has New Orange Drink

"Orange Delight" has been chosen as the name for a new and entirely different fountain mixture offered for the first time this week by Hurst Barbecue.

The new mixture, made from fresh crushed oranges and several "secret ingredients", came about as a result of experiments made by Ennis Hurst, owner, in an effort to find something different in the line of refreshments.

"We believe everyone will like Orange Delight," Hurst said. "It is not only an entirely different taste in refreshments, it is healthful, refreshing and delightful."

As a special introductory offer, good for Saturday, April 4 only, Hurst is giving a free 25c size Orange Delight to the bearer of the coupon appearing in his advertisement on page two of this issue of The Rankin News.

Earlier in the week, Hurst was giving a few samples to some of his customers to test their reactions and found them all highly complementary on the drink.

ter about 14 years on the board.

Candidates in this contest include Simpson, seeking his third term, Johnny Hurst, cashier at the First State Bank, Willie D. Poyner, an employee of The Humble Company, Ward Thornton, Santa Fe section foreman, Dr. J. D. Gossett, Allen Moore, independent oil well servicing contractor, Blanche Lewis, housewife and employee of Ramsey Cafe, and Myrle Brown, owner and operator of the Credit Bureau of Rankin and The Style Center.

Other school board members are Bruce McGill, Ed Guy Branch, J. F. Everett, Carl Shaffer and Walton Harral.

This year's contest, although not a spirited one, will offer the voters an opportunity to elect one or more women to the board. It is believed that this is the first time for women to seek a seat on the school's governing body.

Election Judge will be Boyd Cox with Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Hamp Carter, Mrs. H. Wheeler and Mrs. Sam Holmes as assistants in Rankin. In the Midkiff box at the Phillips recreation hall in the Phillips Camp, Alvin Bushong will be the judge.

Polls will open at 8:00 a.m. and close at 7:00 p.m.

Absentee voting which closed this week has been light with only five votes cast.

CITY ELECTION

On Tuesday, April 7, polls for the City Election will be open from 8:00 a.m. until 7:00 p.m. with Mrs. Henry Scarborough as judge. Her assistants will be Mrs. Sam Holmes, Mrs. Boyd Cox and Mrs. Hurchell Shaw.

The contest here will be between the incumbent, J. B. Pettit, Jr. and Marcus Price.

Of all the ten candidates in the two elections, Price, Brown, Lewis, Hurst, Poyner and Thornton are making their first bids for an elective office. Gossett and Moore were candidates in last year's school voting.

GETS LIGHT RAIN

Last Wednesday night's shower, the first measurable moisture since the first of the year, dropped about .2 of an inch in rain gauges within the city limits.

Tommy Workman reported .3 of an inch while the Al Owens ranch West of Rankin was said to have had up to one-half inch of moisture.

Local ranchmen continue to hope for spring showers with all area rangelands said to be in serious need of moisture.

From time to time, you who follow this column have read portions of reprints we took from one Earnest Joiner at the Ralls Banner. As we've said before, we do not always agree with the man but have thought that he had some good points on occasions and always presents his arguments, whatever the cause, forcefully and bluntly.

Evidently, we are not the only ones who think so. Recently Joiner was given nation-wide publicity by TIME Magazine as being one of the outstanding editors in the entire nation. This has not only resulted in considerable fame for a fellow newspaper editor but has also brought him subscriptions from all over the U.S., and a number of Foreign countries. He has received letters from all over the map and according to a sample he ran in his newspaper last week, most all of them agree that he is an outstanding editor.

Before, we have ran only small parts of his copy but this week, we are going to give you a sample of the type of writing that evidently wins a man fame and fortune. You can make your own decision as to whether or not he is deserving.

The following is by Earnest Joiner, Editor and Publisher of The Ralls Banner.

The day before all hell broke loose around here last week, I had it in mind to do a bit of long-distance lobbying in behalf of House Bill No. 439 by Rep. Ronald W. Bridges of Corpus Christi, it would outlaw capital punishment in Texas. Bridges must be given credit for a tubful of guts for introducing a sane, sensible Christian principle among Texans who pride themselves on sallivantin' sixguns, neck-tie parties and the gentle art of dispatching their neighbors to whatever in an electric chair at Huntsville. As was anticipated committee hearings on the bill ended in an uproar, with members aghast at the prospect of removing this symbol of sanguinary savagery. I mentioned this to Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston over the week end. He thought life imprisonment would be too expensive for taxpayers to stand. Funny, it shows my lack of understanding in fiscal matters. It never occurred to me capital punishment was economic rather than moral.

People being what they obviously are, I can understand murder. I know all about crimes of passion, and can say with certainty that there have been times in my life when, further provoked and having the instrument of destruction at hand, I would have tried to murder. Murder is as natural an instinct as sex and self-preservation. Man in his indescribable wisdom has enacted laws tending to thwart all three, and that's a bare-faced affront to the creator who cooked up man with his every frailty, pronounced him "in the image," and sent him forth to undo all of which he was originally endowed. How far have we progressed when we recognize that murder is bad, and that yet another murder is the solution? Our legislators evidently believe that getting out of the murder business is a new social experiment cooked up by eggheads, fellow travelers and Communists. If they would look beyond the borders of Texas (that over heart) they would discover that nearly every other state in the nation has abolished capital punishment, and that in every one the incidence of capital crime is lower than in Texas. Michigan may be bankrupt, but it has half the capital offense Texas does. Rep. Eckhardt, mentioned above, represents Houston, internationally renowned as "the murder capital of the world."

Puzzle: here in a "Christian America our letters are all post-marked "Pray For Peace." Our currency boasts "In God We Trust." Prayer opens our congresses, legislatures and even commissioners' court. Powerful groups are organized to protect birds and animals from routine abuses man heap upon them. Laws regulate cruelty in slaughter of animals at abattoirs. I know of no group dedicated to abolishing the barbaric execution of human beings. Five thousand years ago a victim to mass indignation was placed face up on a sacrificial stone. An executioner or priest raised a dagger and plunged it into this victim's heart. Deftly, he removed the quivering organ and tossed it into fire to appease the wrath of God. Five thousand years later a victim of mass indignation is strapped into a chair after months and even years of torture, during which time he has died a thousand deaths. His head is shaved, his pants leg slit. The executioner, with priest observing, raises a hand and throws a switch. The quivering heart that once was roasted in appeasement is now roasted by electricity and buried. Progression from the dagger and heart roasted over an open fire to the electric barbecuing of the entire body is known as Christian civilization.

One can't discuss the subject without an advocate of barbarism quoting for the world's most discredited book, the Old Testament: "An eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth." Granting the virtue of this cruel philosophy, is legal murder today truly an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth? Not long ago an Alabama Negro was given the death penalty for an armed robbery that netted him less than $2. Nobody was injured in the crime, except an old lady who happened to be white, and lost two bucks. "Is that an "eye for an eye?" If, we truly wanted this eye for an eye, we would not send a rapist to the electric chair, but in turn rape him. Kidnappers would not burn; we'd send a posse to kidnap his kids on their way home from crime school some afternoon. Even that horrible book doesn't demand two eyes for one!

How would you like to be accused of a capital crime and have your fate in the hands of 12 good men and true? Twelve good men and true who dispute violently on such subjects as the New Deal, the virgin birth, organized labor, Benson's farm plan, best pitcher in the American league, hottest jazz drummer, prohibition, woman suffrage and the divinity of Jesus Christ? Twelve men who never have and never will agree on any fundamental question are going to arrive at a unanimous agreement of guilt or innocence in one place at one time? I'd rather flip a coin to decide a man's fate than trust a jury of 12 to sift the pure and unadulterated crap from arguments of

Omicron Tau Sorority Initiates Four Pledges

The Omicron Tau Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met in the home of Carolyn Hood Tuesday evening.

In an impressive candlelit ceremony, four new members, Fay Copeland, Billie Currey, Avonilee English and J. J. Woods, received the Pledge Ritual initiating them into the Sorority of Beta Sigma Phi.

"Beta Sigma Phi is happy to welcome these new members into its organization of more than 6,000 young women," Sara Rozean, president, has said.

Mrs. Rozean called the business meeting to order after the ceremony. The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President, Cecil Shurtliff; Vice-president, Coral Rankin; Recording Secretary, Dorothy Sawyer; Corresponding Secretary, Stella Hughes; Treasurer, Naomi Odom; Extension Officer, Ann Harkey.

Coral Rankin presented the program "Let's Match Wits" with the assistance of Sybil Browning.

Cokes, coffee and cookies were served to 20 members.

Visitors in the Ed Edgar home this week include his parents from Oklahoma.

Mrs. Milton McCarver and children visited her parents in Fort Worth over Easter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Hurst were in Dallas for the Holidays.

WANT TO BE OLD?
that most of us want to live longer, but we do not want to be "old". There are more people over 65 years of age than ever before and the number is increasing. The only "insurance" against being "old" is to plan to live fully as we grow older, so we can enjoy these added years. The best plan seems to be to live fully and intensely day by day, to have useful interests, activities and hobbies, and continue learning something—plenty of the tried and true recipe of "love, work and worship".

What you learn doesn't seem to matter a great deal, according to the experts, so long as it is interesting and worthwhile to you. Some things can be learned best alone; other things are more interesting learned in groups.

Now is the time to start to develop more varied and widening interests to provide insurance against old age!

CORN BREAD

Corn bread is good nutrition as well as good flavor, especially if enriched meal is used. The B Vitamins and iron added in enrichment contributes to good skin, good eyes, good nerves, rich red blood and general well being.

We were speaking of old age insurance above. Don't forget that good nutrition contributes a lot to well being in later years.

We have a bulletin "Corn Meal and Grits — Selection and Use" which gives a lot of good recipes for corn meal products. A copy is yours for the asking. We think you'd like to try the sausage corn bread supper and some of the other tempting dishes.

THE WEEK AHEAD

A glance at our schedule for the week ahead looks as if we'll be getting plenty of the "old age prevention" recipe we were talking about, since we seem to have both days and night filled up. We're sure that rest was intended to come in there somewhere too, but, well, guess we'll try to find that another time!

Saturday, April 4 Is School Election Day

KNOW Your School—Ask Yourself These Questions And KNOW The Answers Before You Vote—Then Vote To KEEP RANKIN SCHOOLS AMONG THE BEST IN TEXAS

1. Does each first grade use a standard method to teach in order to keep from confusing the second-year students? Are the same methods of reading and writing used? The same question might apply to each of the elementary grades.
2. Do we attend school only when invited to programs or when our children are having a problem; or do we make a habit of visiting our schools to understand the problems of both teachers and students?
3. What do we really want in the way of an education for our children—do we want them to be trophy hunters, or are we more interested in their learning reading, writing and arithmetic? Are we just concerned in something that appears to be an accomplishment; what things seem to be—or do we learn what they really are?
4. Do you know there are some educational systems that give tests at intervals to see how well a teacher conveys the subject to the students? When it is definitely known that the teacher does not reach the mind of the student, the teacher is placed with a group that he is able to convey the subject too. (Rankin uses this system.)
5. Are our children allowed to grow into a Democratic way of thinking—if not, how long will we be good Americans?
6. Are our young men and women afraid to express their opinion because of their desire to finish their education?
7. Do we realize that schools are a very good breeding place for foreign doctrines such as Communism?
8. Do you know that our school is known to be one of the best disciplined schools in the state?
9. Do you talk about your school to your neighbors? Or do you take your criticism—constructive or otherwise—to the respective person concerned?
10. Have you ever taken the time to thank one of the Custodians for the many little things they do after school hours for our children, not to mention the wonderful job they do in maintaining our school buildings and grounds.
11. Do you read and examine the financial record of the school each time it is published? Do you feel you have fair representation for taxation?
12. A large percent of the students must ride many miles into school. Do we realize what their coming to Rankin has meant to our school? It has meant more money for our school and a larger enrollment. Let us be considerate and give them a hand.
13. In your opinion, does our school have too much outside activity?
14. Did you pay your poll tax? Are you interested in the kind of school your child attends? If so, the Polls Open at 8:00 a.m. and do remember to Vote. Fishing will be good later and you get thru in plenty of time to shop.

Why Gamble?

Yes, why gamble . . . when there's no chance of winning? That's the kind of gambling you're involved in when you drive your car beyond the recommended period without having the oil changed.

Although you may use the very best motor oil, such as Phillips 66 Trop-Artic*, there comes a time when the accumulation of impurities in the oil reduces its efficiency.

That's why lubrication experts say: the best motor protection is to use the best motor oil, and change it every 1,000 miles under average around-town driving conditions.
