

THE SCOOP by Scoop

J. B. Hutchens, Jr., Editor

THE TIME IS NOW—

With eight men now running in the school board race, now is the time to get to work for your candidate. It is strickly within the American tradition to back the candidate of your choice—whether it's for a school board election or for the U. S. President and since there is always two sides to any question, politicking for your favorite choice for an elective seat is not only Democratic, it is often helpful in getting the issues involved before the voters and in creating constructive interest and thinking in the election itself.

I fell certain that there is not one among the eight seeking seats on the school board who are not wholeheartedly for Rankin having the best school possible. It can also be said that each of them will do his best to make a good board member if elected—all have the best interests of the school at heart.

But, it is also comon knowledge that they do not all agree on how best to reach the objective of getting the best school possible here in Rankin and therein lies the choice on which the voters ought to make their decisions on picking the men they will vote for.

This newspaper would welcome statements from any or all of those in the race—or any interested citizen. I think we can have discussions and articles on this with open minds on all sides and without anyone becoming undully perturbed.

This is the time to speak your peace—before the voting—not after the election when it will then be time to again join ranks and give those elected your support, regardless of whether your men got elected or not.

SEVENTY-ONE RUNNERS—

Over in the State Senatorial race, voters will cast a ballot on April 4 that measures 7x15 inches and contains seventy-one names—all running for one unexpired term as Texas Senator.

In a way, it's a joke. Some of those running know they have no chance whatever of being elected and will make no effort to seek votes—but they will be able to tell the grandkids that their grandpa once made the race for United States Senator.

One fellow is running on the platform that he is going to help the little farmer if elected. That is about like saying he's going to give aid to the Indians who whipped Custer since both the little farmer and the Indians went out of the picture at about the same time. Another says he's the papa of the wife of Bing Crosby—and that might help him if teenagers could vote Bill Blakely, like Lyndon B. Johnson before him, is for everybody and those are the fellows to watch.

Just to make things interesting, I think we ought to get up a good write-in campaign for Allen Shivers.

WHO PAYS WHAT—

For some time now, there has been a running shoot-out going on between privately owned Utilities Companies and the REA which is government supported. A lot of money has been spent by the private concerns trying to get across their side of the story—money, incidentally, which is not deductible according to the Income Tax boys.

Why all the fuss? Well, how would you like to try to run a business against a competitor who paid no income tax? How would you like to have to pay out 52 cents of your net earning in taxes while your competitor gets by almost scott free? How would you like to try to do business against a competitor who did not have to even show a profit? It would be an almost impossible job and yet, that is exactly what the privately owned utilities companies are having to do—and privately owned utilities are supported by stockholders who are private citizens—the same private citizens who are forced through federal taxation to help support such schemes as the REA. In other words, anyone who and ideas that will mold their later life. It is important that they are not only taught about democracy, but are allowed to practice democracy. This includes the maintenance of a democratic atmosphere around them, for these same students will some day govern America. Thus, putting democracy into action is one of the high purposes of our public schools.

Democracy is fostered in many ways in our public schools. Although there are some instances when it seems that there is no democracy in a school, it is important to remember that restrictions are only put upon a student because they are necessary for effective education. Also, one should remember that he is not compelled to adhere to these restrictions. If one does not wish to abide by the rules of the school, he is free to disobey them. He may not graduate or may be expelled, and then he would no longer have to abide by the rules.

Among the many examples of democratic choice in public schools, two important ones are choice of subjects and elections of the many officers in school. Although a few subjects are required, a person still has the opportunity to select quite a few. Besides class officers, there are also student council members, club officers, and favorites that are elected by the students. There are also extra-curricular activities in which one may or may not participate according to his desires and abilities. In many classes at times, the teacher allows students to talk quietly without asking permission. Also, many teachers listen to and consider some of the desires of the students. Teachers may decide what is to be studied or on what day to have a test according to what the students wish. These are a few of the ways in which democracy is practiced in our public schools.

Democracy in our schools is patterned after our democratic system of government. It is a relative democracy. People are allowed to do as they please as long as they do not infringe on the rights of others. However, students sacrifice a few of their rights to attend school. It is necessary that the faculty have the authority to maintain order and quietness. Thus, the democracy that is promoted through our public schools is very similar to the democratic system operating in our nation as a whole.

It is by means of democracy in action through our public schools that the democracy of the American nation can best be maintained to prevent other dictators like Hitler from enslaving the people.

Noted Educator Has Good Words For Rankin System

Spring Term Opens March 27 in 83rd District Court

A grand jury panel has been called for March 27 for the Spring term of court in the 83rd District Court, Judge Pat Patterson of Alpine presiding. Shelby Blaydes is the District Attorney for the 83rd District.

Those called for duty are E. D. Kinney, C. N. Adkinsson, Kenneth Caldwell, H. V. Hardin, Sidney Hoffman, A. E. Bradshaw, Floyd Covill, Mrs. Nora Locklin, J. L. Wells, Mrs. Grace Ramsey, A. E. Ivy, Mrs. Grace Bains, Frank Boyd, J. L. Manry, Jr., Mrs. Zoe Anderson and Glendale Betz.

Dr. Kenneth McIntyre, professor, Department of Education Administration, University of Texas, was the speaker for the evening last Wednesday night at the Rankin Schools in observance of Texas Public Schools week.

Dr. McIntyre told the almost full-house of some 400 persons gathered in the high school auditorium, that much work was ahead for schools and that schooling in general was changing. He said that grading would be harder despite the fact that many more children were entering the systems all over the nation. He stressed the importance of quality in the educational system and also said that more Federal aid to public schooling was on the way.

Concerning teachers' salaries, he made the observation that he had yet to see any teacher get rich on their salary.

He complimented Rankin schools on their improvements in facilities and their stronger educational program that is now underway. He said that he did not know of any easy way to meet the problems ahead for schools but that Rankin seemed to be willing to put forth the effort that will be needed.

He received a good round of applause from the gathering.

AWARDS MADE—

Prior to the Doctor's address, the Rankin School Board honored employees with service pins.

Receiving awards for 5-10 years of service to the system were: Bill Hood, Christa Dobbs, Vergil Dobbs, June and Fred Prentice, Johnnie Ruth and Ted Walker, Zollie Rawlins, Billie Little, Effie Pettit, Myrtle Reed, Bessie Sheppard, Lucille Shoemaker, Grace Tippet, Lillie Young, Stella and Mike Hughes, Edith Pettit, Ethel Snell, Bill Johnson, J. R. Lott, Lynn McAden, J. B. Pettit and Curtis Sheppard.

Ten and over pins went to Bill Cook, Oleta Bloodworth, Theresa Hurn, Katy R. Reams and Bill Moore.

One employee, Lucy Calla Henley, received an award for over 20 years service with the local schools.

Visitors in the classrooms during the week and who signed the guests register numbered 240 at the elementary school, 173 at the junior high and 159 at high school.

Mrs. H. Wheeler, who underwent surgery last Monday, is reported to be much improved. Her address is Gaston Hospital, Dallas, Texas.

Upton 4-H Club Has San Angelo Winners

The Upton County 4-H Club continued their winning ways last week in the San Angelo Livestock Show when Virginia Harral again took top honors, this time winning the Champion Crossbreed. The San Angelo show does not have a grand champion. The Upton County Club, in addition to winning a number of lesser positions, had the top pen of 15 in the Crossbreed Class.

Miss Harral's lamb brought $500 in the auction and others ranged upwards from $50 each.

Mrs. Omar Warren visited last week-end in Dublin with her sister, Mrs. Noel Littlepage.

BCD MANAGER—

In reviewing some of the accomplishments and undertakings of the Board of City Development since its formation about a year ago, J. L. Manry, Jr. this week pointed out that the BCD has taken an active part in a number of local projects such as the All Kid Rodeo and Quarterhorse Show, the 50-Year Celebration held here last summer, helped in the organization of the Go-Kart Club and construction of track, has assisted construction crews in getting located and into operation here.

Has an active list of property and houses for rent, has been of assistance to new people moving into the community, has started a new coming greeting service among local merchants and has assisted merchants in various promotion programs.

Has held several community clinics in which problems relating to Rankin have been studied, worked toward keeping the bus line to Rankin in operation and has, through their manager, answered correspondence concerning Rankin, individuals, companies and assisted in various surveys.

"Perhaps one of the more important projects on which the local BCD worked was the clean-up drive last summer," Manry has said. "Rankin looked much improved last summer and many favorable comments were heard."

How their telephones save Mr. and Mrs. Neil Sauer 2 1/2 hours a day

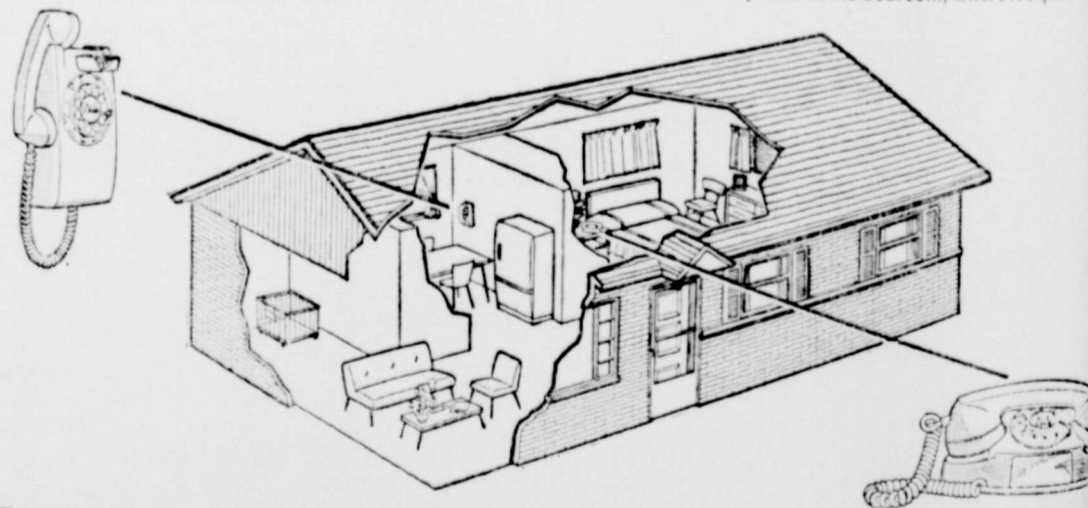

By DON DAVIS, Telephone News Writer

"I called a department store to order a place setting of china I saw advertised. I'm going to give it to a friend who is getting married."

"As a photographer, I have calls at home in the evening to arrange for props and models. So I use our Princess phone in the bedroom, where it's quiet."

The Sauers use their phones — a white Princess model in the bedroom and a green wall phone in the kitchen — about 50 times a week to help them get things done.

As she speaks of the Princess, Mrs. Sauer's eyes light up. "It's so small and lovely. And the way the dial lights up is great." The Sauers use their bedroom phone when they want quiet and privacy. This phone also gives Mrs. Sauer a sense of security when she's alone at night.

Why not take a tip from the Sauers? Enjoy the convenience, pleasure and security of extension telephones. Just call your telephone business office or ask a telephone serviceman. Cost is low.
