Leota Glen and William D. Hamlin Marry at Veterans Hospital Chapel

As the first wedding in the new chapel at the Veterans Administration Hospital, Leota Glen, 1923 Harrison, Amarillo, became the bride of William D. Hamlin, 904 Taylor.

Chaplain Morris Lively read the double ring service at 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening, June 22. Mrs. Lively, accompanied on the piano by Miss Betty Bannon, sang "I Love You Truly" by Bond. The traditional wedding marches were played by Miss Bannon for the processional and recessional.

Arrangements of white gladiolas banked the chancel and the altar was lighted with cathedral tapers in crystal candelabra. The altar cloth and cross were those used by Chaplain Lively on the Army Hospital Ship, Frances Y. Slanger.

Mrs. Howard Sigmon attended the bride at matron-of-honor, and Howard T. Sigmon was best man. Major John Horne, Horace Prince and Ernest Moore served as ushers.

For her wedding the bride chose a pastel blue suit with contrasting blouse of pink and accessories in black. Her corsage was fashioned of pink roses.

Mrs. Sigmon wore a white suit and a corsage of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony the bridal party was honored at a reception in the parlor of the nurses' home at Veterans Hospital. Seasonal flowers and white tapers decorated the bride's table. Miss Ora B. Kirkham presided at the coffee service and Miss Margaret McIvry served the cake.

Mrs. Hamlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Glen of Snyder, was graduated from Snyder High School and the School of Nursing at Henderson Memorial Hospital, Abilene. During the war she served as an Ensign in the United States Navy Nurses Corps, stationed at San Diego Naval Base.

Mr. Hamlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hamlin of Friona, was graduated from Friona High School and served with the Medical Corps during the war. He is employed by the Burkett Paper Company of Amarillo.

The couple is at home at 1923 Harrison, Amarillo.

County Judge A. D. Smith of Farwell, who is a candidate for a continuance in the same office, was in Friona Tuesday afternoon. Judge Smith is making a faithful thorough canvass of the county in the interest of his candidacy.

C. R. Elliott of the C. R. Elliott Company of Bovina, was a business visitor here Tuesday afternoon. He favored the Star of-

Wynona Kyte and H. C. Davis Wed At Carlsbad

A quiet ceremony was performed at Carlsbad, New Mexico, on Friday of last week, July 5, which united in the bonds of holy matrimony, Miss Wynona Kyte and H. C. Davis, both of Friona.

The wedding was somewhat of a surprise to many of their friends at Friona, although others were anticipating it. Mr. Davis told a friend on the street here, on Wednesday evening that he was planning to drive to Carlsbad that evening and spend the Fourth in visiting the Carlsbad Caverns, but no further information was given.

This program was apparently carried out and completed with the wedding on the following day.

The bride has been operating the Vogue Beauty Shoppe, here, which she purchased some months ago, having come here from Amarillo.

Mr. Davis had lived in the Friona community for several years and since coming here, has operated a farm, which he owned, northwest of Friona. Since selling his farm about three years ago, he has been at leisure, looking after and selling other property in the State. He also owned and operated the Pas-year, and served one term as deputy sheriff. He is therefore well and favorably known throughout this locality.

Mr. Davis is not fully decided what line of occupation he will devote himself to, but stated that he and his bride will make their home at Friona for at least some time.

FOUND WEATHER PARACHUTE

Claude Osborn, whose large farm is some five miles northwest of Friona, found one of the government's weather parachutes, together with the box or instrument, which accompanied it, somewhere on his farm, the first of the week. He brought it to the post office, Monday to have it returned to Washington. However, before sending it away, he brought it to the Star office for the manager to view it. Evidently the concern had been landed for several days, as the fabric of the parachute had been eaten full of holes by insects.

He had a short visit while here.

Right Under the Blast, but Still Afloat

The light carrier Independence is shown burning in Bikini Lagoon hours after the atom bomb explosion. This picture was taken from deck of a salvage ship. The "Mighty I" was right under the blast, but she rode it out, although her superstructure was swept away.

ATTENDED CONFERENCE

Friona was represented at an Evangelistic Conference of the Methodist Church that was held in the Polk Street Methodist Church at Amarillo on Wednesday, by Rev. David Binkley, Mrs. Lucile Foster, Mrs. George Stowers and Mrs. Howard Ford. Speakers for the occasion were Bishop Seelman, Rev. Schooler and Dr. Orlov. W. Carter.

MR. AND MRS. GUYER HAVE GUESTS

Mrs. Frank Kellman and her daughter, Miss Martha Kellman of Camby, Ind., arrived here Wednesday night, for a few days visit in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Guyer and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Reeve.

Mrs. Kellman is a former neighbor and close friend of the Guyers and Reeves at their former homes in Indiana, and they have not met for several years. Miss Kellman is book-keeper and receptionist in the office of one of the leading physicians of her locality and is taking her vacation.

STITCH AND CHATTER CLUB

The Stitch and Chatter Club met in the home of Mrs. Wilma Curtsinger, Wednesday, July 3. The roll was called and answered with canning recipes.

Miss Doris Moody joined the club and two of the members dropped from the club. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Joe Poindexter, July 17. Roll call will be answered with a poem.

After the business meeting, refreshments were served to Mrs. A. W. Anthony, Clyde Denton, Ernest Anthony, Joe Poindexter, E. M. Sherrie, T. J. Poindexter, B. Short, Ross Terry, A. W. Anthony, Jr., Merle Masie, Joe Miller, Clyde Sherrie, and Misses Jean Anthony and Doris Moody, and the hostess.

Mrs. C. Smith and small daughter, Floye, of Ada, Okla., are visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Brannon. Mr. Smith, who is a teacher in the Ada schools, will join them later.

Bob Simmons of Clovis, was the guest of his friend, George McLean on Thursday of last week.

A. O. Drake, one of Friona's esteemed pioneer citizens, took his first ride in an airplane, Sunday. He has expressed himself as well pleased with the experience and enjoyed the ride very much.

HAMPTON SON IS BORN

Dr. and Mrs. Dan E. Hampton became the parents of a baby boy Wednesday night.

District Attorney King Fike of Dalhart, was here a part of the day, Tuesday, with his cheerful smile and winning personality, meeting a few more of our voting citizens in interest of his candidacy. If Mr. Fike's political prospects are the least bit gloomy it is certainly not reflected in his radiant smile.

Floyd H. Richards of Dalhart, candidate for the office of District Attorney, was here a part of the day, Thursday of last week, meeting our people and making a house to house canvass in the interest of his candidacy. Mr. Richards is a World II veteran and a young man of prepossessing appearance and cordial personality.

Pvt. Earl Drake Writes of Visit to Brother's Grave at St. Lo, France

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Drake received a very interesting letter from their son, Pvt. Earl Drake, who has been with the Armed Forces in Europe for the past several months. The letter was received Wednesday morning, and by the kindness of Mrs. Drake, we are permitted to print it in full.

Le Harve,
Camp Phillips M,
July 2, 1946.

Dear Folks:

Saturday morning we didn't know when we would leave, so I made up my mind I was going to see Owen's grave even if I missed the shipment. I got my pass and six "K" rations around 12 o'clock and started out for Le Harve walking. I got a ride in a jeep and caught a train at 1:44. I believe I had to go to Rouen, change trains and go to Serquigny and change trains to Coen and had to stay there from 11:00 o'clock Saturday night until 6 Sunday morning, then to St. Lo. I got there about 10 o'clock. Boy, that town is sure blown up and not much traffic. I traded a $1.00 bill to a Polish soldier for 500 francs, 5 packages of cigarettes for 500 francs, and gave an old taxi 1500 francs to take me out to the cemetery. I had a hard time getting him to wait on me to go back to St. Lo. I was there only about one and a half hours. I walked right over to Owen's marker and his name sure did hurt me and his dog tag on the back of his marker. The same one he showed us at home one night. I took 2 rolls of pictures and a G. I. who is in charge of the cemetery came out and talked to me and said he had a camera and went and got it and took one roll and gave it to me. You know before I got to the cemetery I thought I could get someone to take my picture by Owen's grave. I would but I didn't think of it until I was started back to St. Lo. I hope the films will be good. The cemetery was flat with grass and some small white flowers all over the ground. Owen's grave was next to the road in the cemetery I thought their heads would have been to the west but they were all to the north. There were 1202 in Owen's cemetery, then, across the main road there were 1200 Germans buried. Mother, I'll tell you more about it when I get home. He is resting and is better off than we are, but we loved him so much. I got to St. Lo and no train until Monday, July 1, at 11 o'clock, so I found out the English had a Red Cross hospital there, so I stayed all night there, then I got in here last night about 8:30 and my company was still here, and we may

FRIONA LAUNDRY SOLD

In an interview with F. L. Bandy, who has owned and operated the Friona Laundry, formerly known as Houlette's Helpy-selly Laundry, for the past several months, stated that he had sold the business to C. S. Williams, of Grady, New Mexico. Mr. Williams took charge of the business Wednesday morning.

Mr. Bandy stated that he had been doing a very satisfactory business with the laundry since taking charge of it and was well pleased with the results, but the condition of his health made it impossible for him to continue in that line of work.

TABERNACLE BEING ERECTED

Work on the tabernacle for the Pentecostal holiness church camp meeting is progressing nicely, the frame work being up and almost ready for the roof.

It has the appearance of a commodious structure and comfortable for the warm season and an open air service.

Rev. Houlette is working very faithfully to have everything in readiness for the camp meeting which will begin on July 21, and continue through the 31st.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Carter and small daughter of Dumas, spent the weekend here visiting Mr. Carter's sister, Mrs. D. H. Coldiron and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Dallas E. Coldiron spent the weekend on a business mission at Dallas.

The Friona Roping Club held another of its regular contests Sunday afternoon. These contests had been interrupted by the wheat harvest season.

start the 4th or 5th of July, but don't know. There will be 14 ships in by July 10, so can't be long. I got you two rocks from the edge of the cemetery road and some short small flowers and some dirt from his grave. Well, it is sure hot here in the day time. I guess it is at home, too. I didn't get up in time to go to breakfast this morning and they are feeding dinner now, so I'll go eat soon. They line up double lines for several blocks to eat. Mother, I'll close for now and tell you about my trip later. I hope you are all well. I feel C. K.

Lots of love.
Your son, Earl.
P. S. Mother, here are some flowers that were on Owen's grave. I'll keep some, but they are so wilted. I thought I had more of them. Van Wormer said they looked like daisies.

BASEBALL NEWS

By Ed White

No game to report. To our sorrow, the game was called off, owing to the death of our star shortstop, Belden Lawson, who was killed Saturday while visiting in Oklahoma.

He was one prime fellow that everyone liked, and he will be sadly missed by his many, many friends, including his baseball comrades.

We hope to have two ball games here this Sunday — one with the Tucumcari All Stars, at 2:00 p. m., and the other with the strong Sudan team, immediately following the Tucumcari game. We hope to have some batting averages out next week.

FRIONA'S NEW LAUNDRY OPENED

Bills were out announcing the opening day of Friona's new steam laundry, Wednesday, with an invitation to the general public to attend and see the work of Friona's new industrial enterprise, which is owned and will be managed by Messrs. Eubanks and Cunningham.

These men had erected a commodious building in the north part of the city on the south side of the highway, and have put in the past two months in erecting their building and installing their equipment.

They are now prepared to do all laundry work other than finishing work, which equipment will be added later as the demand occurs, and they invited everybody to visit them on Wednesday and bring their week's wash for one day's free service. They will appreciate any favors shown them in a business way.

your co-operation in letting us use them. Those using the rooms will pay for them.

Remember the date of the meeting — July 23-30, inclusive. Services all through the day and at night. There will be plenty of parking space around the tabernacle. If you have a room, drop a postal to Rev. E. E. Houlette.

Union Congregational Church: The attendance at Sunday school was much better than the previous Sunday, with Dr. Lindeman in charge of the Adult Class.

At the Worship Hour, Dr. Lindeman delivered another of his choice and especially instructive sermons. If no hindering circumstances arise, prevent, Dr. Lindeman will preach for us again next Sunday at the morning worship.

The attendance at the preaching service, Sunday, was up to the average or better, and, of course, a full attendance is expected for the coming Sunday.

A letter from Dr. and Mrs. North has been received at the Star office, and as its contents are as much for the community as to the Star individually and not being long, we will quote it here:

Burtrum, Min. July 2, 1946
I have been intending writing you ever since we arrived here a week ago last Saturday. We left Friona on Tuesday June 11th and drove 700 miles in two days; spent five days with our sons in Kansas City then arrived at Grinnell, Iowa, where we attended the General Conference of Churches. Our next move was 400 miles to Burtrum where we expect to remain until mid-August or early Sept. (Continued on Back Page)

COGITATIONS and APHORISMS of Jodok

I went to church again Sunday and heard another of those sermons which have an especial appeal to me, probably because the preacher's theme and idea ran along pretty well parallel to my own on religious matters, or, as I prefer to state it—Christianity.
His subject was—"The Straight and Narrow Way." Have you found it?" and he mentioned a number of things that have always bewildered me in my cogitations about such things. The Bible states it this way—"Because straight is the gate and narrow is the way, that leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it."

Now, I am not going into a harangue about Christianity, but I have wondered just why Jesus put it that way, for, by his own life and teachings, the way to life is just as wide and easy to travel as the way to Destruction. There are just as many ways of doing good as there are of doing evil, and they are just as easy to find and usually much easier to perform as are the evil deeds, and neither is the way always straight. For it often requires considerable circumventing of the object or the projects in view or a coming up on the right or proper side of it before action is begun, in order to accomplish the good thing without any evil being attached to it.
I sometimes wonder, if, after all, the good way is not always the easier of the two, and instead of it being straight and narrow, it occurs to me that the way leading to real life is wide enough to encompass the entire earth, and while it does seem that the great majority of mankind chooses the way to Destruction rather than the way to real life. But, I am prone to believe that it is not because of narrowness or the straightness of the way nor the ease in following the other, that causes them to take that instead. It is man's own selfish, grasping, that leads him astray. If man cannot see and recognize the way to do good instead of evil, it is because he does not want nor try to see it.
Just why Jesus stated the exhortation or principle as he did, is not for me to say, but if one had heard that sermon, he would have had a mighty good impetus for seeing it if he cared to do so.

I have known and talked privately with a great many ministers of the gospel, and in these private conversations, they have expressed sentiments and ideas very similar to those that were used in that sermon Sunday, but when they get in the pulpit, they seem, in some way, to glide softly around the point in such a manner that their force is lost upon their audiences. Just why this is, I do not know, probably because I am not a preacher. If I had been preaching that sermon, Sunday, I would probably have said many things that the preacher did not say, because, more than likely, they were not needed to be said, and it is more than probable that it is a good thing that I am not a preacher.
Now, I am not saying these things out of any disrespect for the ministers, for I have a profound respect for them if I feel them to be sincere in what they preach, (and most of them are,) but I have learned enough from hearing them, to know that I could never last long as a preacher, unless I had enough of my life, or had an independent income sufficient to thus keep me while I should preach.
Neither would I say anything intentionally to hurt the most delicate feelings of any person. Thus, it is easy to see that I will never be a preacher, as I have neither of the requisites or provisions that I mentioned in the foregoing paragraph. Neither could I preach a sermon on each Sunday or one each week, for, though I were to give my entire time to the matter, I do not feel that I could so arrange my discourse in words that would convey my exact meaning so that I would be thoroughly understood by my hearers without some little offence to some which is another good reason for me not being a preacher.

A man asked me one day last week, how it feels to be an octogenarian, or at least a near octogenarian. Does he feel more reserved or more "Sot in his Ways," as he grows older? Or does he become more liberal in his views? Does he look toward the future with dread or regret, or with greater complacency and relief?
Well, I can answer those questions only so far as my own experience will allow me. I may not be liberal enough, but I am many, many more times liberal toward my younger days or even my middle life. I can now see no reason for being otherwise. I am not so much—"Sot in my ways," as I formerly was, and I feel such results to have come from my own cogitations regarding the matter. As to feelings when viewing the future, I view it with utter complacency. I have no great desire that I may live twenty or thirty or fifty years longer, neither have I any special desire to cease to live here, but while I do live, I hope to retain my powers of understanding, so that as more advanced ideas are developed, I may be able to understand and apply them to my own life, and that, if possible to assist others to understand them in their own peculiar way, and that my portion of ignorance may be less instead of more dense.
Maybe I can get at the answers to those questions a little better by quoting from Tennyson and Whittier, as follows:
"Flower in the crannied wall, I pluck you out of the crannies, I hold you here, but IF I could understand What you are, root and all, and all in all, I should know what GOD and man is."
—Tennyson.

How Did Your Representative VOTE ON THE CLOSED SHOP?

Below will be found a photostatic copy of page 2565 of the House Journal, May 29, 1945, of the 49th or last session of the Texas Legislature.

This House Joint Resolution No. 1, was a proposed amendment to our Constitution to have been submitted to the voters of Texas, which if it had been ratified, would have guaranteed an OPEN SHOP in Texas. In other words every citizen would have been guaranteed the right to work when, where, and for whom he desires, and at whatever wage he would be satisfied to work for, whether a Union or Non-Union worker.

You will note that this amendment failed to receive the two-thirds vote necessary for passage, the vote being 60 for, 54 against, and 36 absent. 24 of those absentees are shown on this page and many of those 36 no doubt were absent because they were politically afraid to vote either way.

We all know that the C. I. O. is spending several million dollars to organize our farm and other unskilled laborers in the South; that one labor organization has bragged that it would spend all of its 47 million in reserve to defeat President Truman; and that the C. I. O. Political Action Committee is spending large sums of money right here in Texas to elect to our Legislature those favorable to its program, and to defeat those against its program of (1) a CLOSED SHOP, (2) the FAIR EMPLOYMENT PRACTICES COMMITTEE (by which Negroes and Mexicans must be employed alongside Whites on equal basis) (3) ALLOWING NEGROES TO VOTE in our Primaries, and many other matters that are foreign to our American Democratic institutions and long time practices.

The people of Texas and the Nation had better look into the qualifications and political affiliations of the men they elect to our Legislature and to Congress, and also look up their record on past matters of vital importance to our Democratic form of government.

House Joint Resolution No. 1, was one of those important matters. HOW DID YOUR REPRESENTATIVE VOTE ON THIS BILL? The reprint at the right will show how he voted. You had better stop, look, and think before you vote.

Summerfield

BY MRS. GUY WALSER

Sunday school and church were attended by 97 Sunday morning and 58 Sunday evening. There was special music at both services.

Miss Jo Ann Walser was brought home from the hospital Saturday.

Several showers fell in this area last week. The row crop that has been planted is looking good. Several farmers are starting potato harvest.

Clyde Roberson of Hot Springs, N. M., visited friends in this community last week.

About 12 cars of wheat have been shipped from the Summerfield elevator this season.

Douglas Powell has returned to Washington after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Powell, and other relatives.

Lutheran Church Will Have New Pastor Soon

E. W. Lichtsinn of Indianapolis, Indiana, has accepted a call extended to him to become pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran Church of Hereford, according to word received by Henry Wedel jr., secretary for the local congregation.

Mr. Lichtsinn will also be pastor of the Lutheran Church at Friona.

Mr. Lichtsinn, candidate for the ministry, was graduated from Concordia Theological Seminary in St. Louis, Missouri, last month. His preparatory education was received at Concordia College in Fort Wayne, Indiana, before entering the Seminary.

He will probably arrive in Hereford before the end of this month.

During the past six months the local congregation has been served by pastor Martin J. H. Hartenberger of Amarillo. Mr. Hartenberger has announced that there will be no services at the courthouse this Sunday, July 14, but that Sunday school and divine worship will be conducted on July 21, beginning at 3:15 o'clock in the afternoon. The Lord's supper will be celebrated in the four o'clock service.

their dependents. Ours is not a program calling for blood, sweat and tears, but one which calls for vision, ingenuity, sweat and smiles.

The administration of this VA office, in cooperation with all service organizations, as well as the masses of the people, will be done in keeping with the mandates and wishes of the Congress. We want every veteran and his dependents to have everything coming to them under the law—and that at all times, a service officer appearing in behalf of a veteran from any community within our jurisdiction will receive the courteous and undivided attention of a Rating Board at the Lubbock VA regional office," Sisson concluded.

Tonic of Iron Is Recommended for Yellowing Trees

For those maple and poplar trees that are showing all the yellow leaves around town, Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, County Home Demonstration agent, recommends a good stiff dose of iron tonic.

The soil in this area is generally deficient in available iron, Miss Oliver explains, and both maple and poplar need a lot of it.

Two parts of wettable sulphur, one part of iron sulphate (coppers) ten parts of barnyard manure (for general soil building) put into the soil around the trees should do the job. The ingredients are inexpensive, and the results worthwhile.

Yellow leaves produce no plant food, and a tree whose leaves are yellowing is showing symptoms of simple starvation.

A solution of one-percent iron sulphate sprayed on the leaves will have immediate, but temporary effect. This year's crop of leaves will become green again after a few applications, but new leaves put out by the tree will suffer the same malady unless available iron is put in the soil. Be careful, in using a spray, that the solution is no stronger than on percent, a two-percent solution kills.

"But don't laugh if some old hand tells you to drive old nails into the tree trunk, or to bury pieces of scrap iron around the roots," Miss Oliver said. "That's one way of getting iron into the soil and to the tree."

"Of course," she added, "the tree may die before it gets enough iron from that source."

The iron salts, placed in the soil, provide needed iron much more rapidly and effectively, and cost little more in either time or effort.

Banks of New York City were the first in the United States to use the clearing house system.

Regional Office Of V. A. Snowed Under by Work

LUBBOCK, July 8—Robert Sisson, Veterans administration regional office manager, in an address before the 5th Division, American Legion Convention, Sunday, June 30, frankly and honestly told the Legionnaires that the West Texas VA regional office was laboring under a reservoir of work inherited from other VA regional offices who formerly served this area.

"In going through these transferred files our first responsibility to the veterans of this region will be to answer their correspondence—which, in too many instances, we have found to be long past due. We ask your tolerance while we of this VA regional office use every means at our command to reduce this reservoir, and place our operations on a current basis. The adjudication division is progressing rapidly on initial claims and in doing a job to command your respect," Sisson emphasized.

"The Veterans administration prides itself in being the largest Federal agency in existence, which has for its sole purpose sympathetic and understanding

Unloaded Gun Causes Near Tragedy

Margaret Staats was transferred to the Baylor Hospital in Dallas last night. Her condition was reported as "slightly improved" by the local hospital at that time.

Margaret Staats, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Staats, is in a critical condition at the Deaf Smith County Hospital as result of an accidental shooting at the Staats home near Summerfield last Saturday evening.

A .22 calibre bullet is lodged in her lower spinal column. Doctors give the child an even chance for recovery.

The accident occurred just at sundown last Saturday evening, when Margaret's little brother, 8-year-old Gene, stumbled and fell with a .22 calibre rifle. The gun discharged, and Margaret was struck in the back by the bullet.

Members of the family had just returned from the field, where they had taken supper to the harvest hands, and were unloading the pickup. Margaret, with her arms loaded, was just

Shippers Urging Congress to Act on Bulwinkle Bill

The Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce recommended passage of the Bulwinkle Bill on June 14 after adopting amendments to meet certain objections to the bill as it was passed by the House of Representatives by a vote of 277 to 45 on December 10, 1945.

One of the principal amendments added by the Senate Committee to the House Bill is a more precise statement of the standards governing the Commission in granting or withholding approval of agreements submitted by the carriers.

As a further safeguard, the Committee adopted an amendment to give the I. C. C. the right to call for reports from carriers' rate conferences and other organizations which require its approval, and the right to inspect their books, accounts, files and records.

Another amendment adopted in the House bill that no agreement shall be adopted unless "there shall be accorded to each party the free and unrestrained right to act contrary to and independently of the determination" of a carriers' conference or other organization.

Extensive hearings were held in the House and Senate in which testimony supporting the bill was virtually unanimous from shippers and shippers' organizations and from all sections of the country. The bill was also supported by the Interstate Commerce Commission and almost all of the state regulatory commissions.

Before the House and Senate Committees suggestions for clarifying amendments were offered by the Interstate Commerce Commission and other public regulatory bodies, and by shippers' organizations. The bill as it passed the House, with the further amendments adopted by the Senate Committee, represents very largely the consensus of shippers and regulatory bodies, as formulated and expressed by the House and Senate hearings and consideration.

The effect of the bill is not to withdraw the business of transportation from the application of the anti-trust laws but to make clear the intent of Congress that, in so far as the Interstate Commerce Act extends, the regulation of carriers to which it applies shall be under that Act.
