Girls Tie For First Place; Boys Win 3rd in District

Rankin High's Girls' Basketball team was headed this week for a one-game playoff match with the Eldorado Girls. Officials of the two schools were busy Wednesday trying to work out a date and site for the match.

Athletic Director Don Leach of Rankin High said that he felt the game would be played on a neutral field, possibly Ozona, Big Lake or Mertzon and that the date would be early next week.

Rankin and Eldorado moved in to a tie for district honors when the Eldorado team beat Sanderson last Tuesday night. Both Rankin and Eldorado have 5 and 1 district records and each team has one win over the other.

last Tuesday night had its brighter moments despite their loss to Big Lake in the final game of the season. While the Red Devils were giving the district champion Owls their worried moments and finished the game only 10 points behind. Iraan was doing the Devils a favor by beating Ozona. This left Rankin in undisputed possession of 3rd in District behind Big Lake and Eldorado. Ozona finished 4th, Iraan, 5th, and Sanderson 6th.

Rankin had a 5-5 district record; Big Lake was 10-0; Eldorado, 8-2; Ozona, 4-6; Iraan 3-7 and Sanderson, 0-10.

Coach Leach said that the boys would move right into track and that they would enter the Comanche Relays in Ft. Stockton this week. He said that this meet would be only a practice event for Rankin since they had not had time to get their track program organized.

WALK IT OFF—

With every place in the country trying to get in on the hiking craze, it is somewhat amazing that we have not had something along that line in Rankin as yet. It could be that the competition doesn't look interesting or it may be that not enough of us can afford the two pairs of shoes or so that it takes to walk the distance.

But one thing I'll wager you is that if we should have such a contest, there'd be at least seven bystanders who would know all about the rules of the game.

THE RIGHT TO KNOW—

It has been learned that our hard-working state representative from this district, Gene Hendryx of Alpine, is sponsoring a bill in Austin that would make it unlawful to bar the public from meetings held by such governing bodies as city councils, commissioners' courts, school boards, etc. except in such cases as those meetings in which the discussing of hiring or firing employees is being considered.

Shucks. That cuts the heart out of the fun. Those are usually the only kind of meetings that draw much attention from the public.

But seriously, Mr. Hendryx is again to be commended for his fine work in Austin and for his support on this bill.

We here in Rankin and Upton County have been rather fortunate as far as closed meetings are concerned. None of our governing bodies on the local basis have ever been much for holding secret meetings except the hospital board over in McCamey when they recently barred the press. I do not know whether that ban still stands or not but it was an exception to the general practice for this area. We're usually wide open at all such meetings be they hospital boards, school boards or what have you.

Nevertheless, Mr. Hendryx's bill is a good one but this does not mean that it will pass. Statewide, many of these governing boards frown on the open meeting business and they are not so open and above board as our local ones. These various boards, commissions, councils, etc. have great power in themselves. They can be judge, jury and prosecutor—all in one as we have recently seen over in Pecos. There the hospital board booted out this Dr. Dunn and out he will likely stay.

And actually, he has not had his day in court. Sure, there have been hearings and a lot of talking but he has not—and likely never will—get to put his side of the case before an impartial jury or judge.

As the law now stands, the hospital board could decide for themselves and that is that. Dunn's chances of getting into a court and making the board prove the wisdom of its decision is practically nil.

Last fall in a proposed amendment to the Texas Constitution—the so-called Trial de Novo amendment—would have taken a little of this power from such bodies. It was actively opposed and soundly defeated—mostly because the public never clearly understood the issue.

Hendryx's bill would make a very small intrusion into this power of bureaucratic bodies and for that very reason, it may run into some rough sledding before it ever becomes law.

It's pretty hard to beat city hall when they really put up a fight.

A CUSS FIGHT—

It is interesting to note that a report in last Tuesday's Standard Times from San Angelo told of a squabble between Hendryx and Governor John Connally. It appears that one of the sub-committees of which Hendryx is the chairman has sidetracked one of the governor's pet bills—one in which he proposed to pack a committee for studying Texas education by picking all 25 members himself. Hendryx and two or

And, according to the Standard, Connally used "abusive language" at Mr. Hendryx on two different occasions. In other words, the governor cussed and raised hell

NO COMMENT—

Last week end a threesome of us who like to think of ourselves as golfers, along with wives and assorted other members of the family, tootled off down to Del Rio to strike a few shots on one of the better tests of golfing to be found anywhere.

The town was full of band students and high school golfers and tourists and numismatics. That latter word refers to people who make a hobby of collecting coins or money, usually of the old and rare variety. But during our short and wet stay in the border city—the city of sunshine—we learned that the Del Rio type Numismatic and his cousin across the river in Acuna are just a little peculiar in their coin collecting habits in that they are not very interested in the small coins—they want the whole roll—and quick. We glanced at one menu in Del Rio that started at $2.50 and went up and didn't even list hamburgers.

Wow. Outside of that bit of information. I have an agreement with my fellow companions—that if they wouldn't say anything about my golf, I wouldn't say anything about their trip.

Methodist Attend
Ozona Workshop;
Plan Local Schooling

Mrs. Tom Workman, Mr. Dale Andersen and the Reverend Austin Masterson attended the Curriculum Workshop, "The Faith We Teach," at the First Methodist Church, Ozona, Tuesday, February 19. "Workshops such as this," says Reverend Masterson, "are scheduled for Methodist churches throughout the country for the purpose of giving guidance to church school teachers and workers who are involved in Christian teaching and, also, of making preparation for the reception of the new curriculum literature The Methodist Church for the Children's Division of the church school." Mr. Masterson says, "this new format has been in the making for over five years and it will be ready for 1964."

The text for these workshops is "Foundations of Christian Teaching in the Methodist Church." It covers the following areas of study:

1. The Nature and Work of the Church
2. The Gospel the Church Teaches
3. The Nature of Christian Education

Workings of Jr. Hi Student Council Told

The Junior High School Student Council is composed of two students elected from each homeroom in grades six thru eight. To be eligible they must exhibit good citizenship qualities and maintain good scholastic grades—and be elected by their fellow students. Those elected last fall are:

Eighth Grade:—

Kenneth Parrish, Fayne Zoller, Linda James and Billy P. Brown

Seventh Grade:—

Sandra Reeves, Roy Lee Stacy, Rhonda Sproul and Charles Masterson

Sixth Grade:—

Jane Skinner, Shelton Smith, Debbie Day and John Kidd.

The Student Council usually meets on Tuesday with the principal to discuss plans for the homeroom programs on Thursday. Some of the topics they have helped develop in homerooms so far this year are: "Civil Defense" "Flag Etiquette," "Our Constitution," "Democracy Becomes Important in the Modern World," "Democracy as a Form of Government," "Democracy — Its Strength; Conditions for its Success," "What Can I Do in the Classroom to Help Me Succeed Scholastically?"

The Council also helps to serve its school in other ways. They act as a means of communication between students and the principal on group issues and programs. They have the privilege and are encouraged to bring before him topics of concern to be discussed and considered. Often they are in charge of special assembly programs for the Junior High.
