OH JOY, JOY-

Down in Austin, the good word has been put out that "this year. Texas citizens will find the new tax burden about to be unloaded on their shoulders one of the lightest they have had to shouldour backs in years"

Le Filler

For the above quote, one assumes that we are all to top about with joy and sing great and high praises to our lawmakers in Austin. Just think, "one of the lightest we have had dumped on onr backs.

That's about like saying, "Gee, folks, we're sorry but we're going to cut your throat, but, ha, ha, don't worry, we're only go. ing to cut it just a little less than wide open.

So who is laughing.

Aside from being the old familiar line of soft sell on taxes by which we are told that white is really not white but black, it is an insult to ones intelligence.

There is no such thing as a "little taxes". The word is "more' taxes. If this "light load" was all the tax load on our shoulders. then it might be termed light. The present tax load is not light -you don' make it any lighter by adding more taxes, not even the "lightest load in many years." You only pile one more straw on the camel's back.

A pitch like that reminds one of the installment sellers who will say, "look, buddy, boy-you are now making payments of ten dolhars a month and if you will buy such and such your payments will only be three dollars more per month." The only thing wrong with that sort of deal is that ten and three make thirteenit always has and it always will And who is going to be "chosen' to pay this light load of new taxes? You and I-that's who.

Don't you read before you buy?

Most people do.

They count on advertising in print to give them the information they want on products that interest them-information on features . . designs . . . and prices, for example.

People not only read about products and services, they show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and samples; they tear out ads to take along when they go shopping.

When you add it all up, print advertisingthe kind you read in the pages of this newspaper-makes sense.

And because it measures up to the buying habits of most consumers, print makes sales. Most people read-and then buy. Don't you?

Proof that such things as the March of Dimes, Heart Fund and the present Cancer Crusade are worthwhile is to found in polio. Former institutions dedicated to treating polio patients, such as Gonzales Warm Springs in Texas and many others across the na. tion, have either been closed or shut down. Doctors say that in the next few years, polio may become as uncommon as small pox.

How do you feel about your chances of having to deal with polio today as compared with 10 years ago? Not so frightening ,is it? How would you like to feel the same way about cancer?

That day is coming when we can feel safe from this disease. How fast it gets here will depend on you and I. There are many requests for donations nowadays and at times we all become weary of them but they are voluntaryyou're not required to give 20 percent of anything - not any fixed amount but if we all just gave the price of a package of Non-screwworm samples totaled 273 for the week.

Srewworms are moving northward within the fly release area. but eradication officials feel infestations can be controlled before they become too widespread IF livestock producers will treat wounds with approved smears and sprays before the screwworm fly is attracted to the wound.

The first confirmed screwworm case in New Mexico for 1963 was reported in Luna county on April 3, with another sample being confirmed in Hidalgo county on April 6. Both counties are in the fly release area of New Mexico, but extra flies were dropped on the infested premises.

Dear Scoop,

I can remember when I was still in high school that every time some organization won a sweepstakes award, you entered it in your column as a "sweepsteaks". In the Easter editon of the Rankin News, I read that several Rankin students won "sweepsteaks" in the elementary division of the science fair. I am not one to correct someone on errors in the art of writing, but the word is SWEEPSTAKES:

please use it in the future, if not simply as a favor to me.

I want to congratulate you on a job well done in your work as editor of the Rankin News. . . . (the writer here tosses in a few flowers to the editor)

All of us here at Texas University are proud of our weekly papers, and I just wanted to point this out, and maybe more Rankinites would be too. Keep up the good work, and you will win many more "sweepseaks" in your lifetime. Sincerely.

Lonnie Ferrell

Ed.: Young Farrell was an honor student in Rankn for many years and was included in some of the "sweepsteaks" he mentioned.

They say that poor spelling is a mark of ignorance—in which case The Scoop admits to being well marked. At any rate, I have written the word on the wall, along with about half the rest of Mr. Webser's works and will try to remem. ber how to spell it.

Ferrell will find an easy mark in editors with his kind and considerate words—just a s soon as he learns to stop pointing out their faults. Thanks. I wish more would comment—good or bad.
