Saturday, May 30

Post No. 421 of the Legion in McCamey Memorial Day service Saturday May 30, Post M. R. Clary announcing an invitation to Upton County to attend. Commander Clary reported that services would begin at 11:00 a.m. at the McCamey Cemetery.

The program lists "The Star Spangled Banner", played by high school bands; the Invocation by the Rev. Loyd Kincaid; a Memorial address by McCamey Mayor Jack Milam; a Memorial prayer by H. L. Swanson and the firing squad and colors drill under the direction of C. G. Smith.

Taps will be rendered by members of the McCamey High School Band and services will be conducted by Commander Clary.

The first order for the observance of Memorial Day was issued in May, 1868 by Gen. John A. Logan of the Grand Army of the Republic "for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in the defense of their country . . ." For many years after the Civil War, the GAR in the North and the Confederate Veterans in the South took charge of Memorial Day in their respective communities.

With these founding organizations became unable to carry on actively these rites, The American Legion pledged to help perpetuate the annual observance of Memorial Day. Although it began as a day to commemorate the dead of all wars, Memorial Day has since become an appropriate occasion for the decoration of graves of family and friends.

In urging the widest possible participation by county residents in the Memorial Day rites, Clary referred to the following excerpt from General Logan's original order for the observance of Memorial Day: "Let no . . . avarice or neglect, no ravages of time, testify to the present or coming generations that we have forgotten as a people the cost of a free and undivided republic."

Clary reminded that the observance of Memorial Day should include the display of the American Flag by every home and business.

MESQUITE WOOD—

About a year ago, Micky McDonald came up with the idea of chopping up mesquite and sacking it for barbecuing purposes. Every old head in West Texas will tell you that there's no better material—including the much publicized charcoal—for outdoor cooking than mesquite. It burns hotter, longer, cleaner, and makes more coals. When it has burned out, all that is left is a clean, white ash that could be dumped on the front lawn without making any unsightly mess.

When Mick first came up with the idea of cutting mesquite, a good many folk around Rankin took a dim view of the deal. It won't amount to anything was the general consensus of opinion.

Well, maybe it won't. But this week, Mickey has been in the process of sitting up his third sawing crew—this one in Rankin after having started operations in Stanton. His new business is getting more orders than they can fill—even locally—and now a concern on the West Coast is offering them a very large quantity deal.

After most of us sat around these parts for years and cursed the mesquite as a nuisance, it appears to me that someone finally had an idea. And it's going to pay off.

I wonder if our attitude has not been wrong for too many years about the possibilities of this area. It's a lot easier to find people who will tell you that this or that idea won't work than it is to find one single person who believes that there is opportunity available.

Our whole attitude seems to be on the negative side. Take the farming. I can't say that I have found one person who has lived here for any length of time who thinks it will ever amount to

TWO PLUS TWO—

Any little first grader will tell you—with a perfectly straight

face—that two plus two equals four. Not too many will argue the point.

But consider these figures:
The USDA reports 3 million,
481 thousand farms in the U.S.

LBJ says farm income has risen 12 percent per farm the past three years.

The USDA says that 16 million families are living in poverty in rural USA.

The USDA says that one-third

of these are farmers.

One-third of 16 million comes
to 5 million, 333 thousand.

That's an even 1 million, 852 thousand more poor families on farms than there are farms, according to USDA.

It's also more than the number of farms—plus—the average number of farm workers last year.

So how do you come up with more poverty-stricken farmers—
and farm workers—than there are

farms—PLUS—the 12 percent increase in farm income?

Do you still believe two plus
two equals four?

Or do you believe—as I do—
that figures can be made to represent just about any statistic
you want to produce, especially in an election year and when you want the Congress to spend another million or two in an effort to buy votes?

MESQUITE WOOD

It would be a fulfillment of justice
if the backyard chuck wagon cooks
across the land extracted Southwestern landowners from their age-long battle with mesquite brush.

Mesquite has long been a trouble
maker for those who would ranch
the land . . . but it makes wonderful firewood . . . hot, fragrant and clean.
Old-time cooks, chuckwagon or otherwise, have known this for generations. For some reason, the backyard cook is just now finding this substitute for charcoal to be the inside
tip to better steak flavor.

With Old Dan's Mesquite Chips, Micky McDonald, originator of the product, has said that he believes that they are now offering the most nearly perfect wood suitable for the backyard barbecue. "We have experimented with size, age, and condition and find that the Old Dan wood is the answer."

With a nation full of backyard barbecue bits, the demand for Old Dan's Mesquite Chips is gaining fast and with every sack put into the barbecue pit—its user gets a delightful result and there's one bit less of pesky mesquite on the land.

"We can't help it if it's better than charcoal," McDonald said.

4-H Clubs build a stronger America because 4-H is focused on helping boys and girls become more useful and responsible citizens through participation in 4-H Club activities. 4-H members learn the basic principles of economics as they apply to our society.

Three 4-H Adult Leaders from Upton County will attend the District Six 4-H Leader Workshop sponsored by the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation. Each 4-H adult leader will attend the general assemblies and then join different work groups taught by specialists from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A and M University.

The three adult leaders selected for this honor and the work group they will attend are: Mrs. Tex Collins, Food and Nutrition; Mrs. Leslie McFadden, Horse; and Mr. D. L. Trowbridge, Sheep and Goat.

Each adult leader attending will learn how to become better 4-H adult leaders so that they can provide boys and girls with the kind of experiences that will help them mature into the kind of citizens of which we can all be proud.

These adult leaders will also have a great challenge to teach the other 4-H adult leaders in Upton County, how to become more effective leaders when they return home. They will assist the County Home Demonstration Agent and Mr. W. M. Day, County Agricultural Agent, with making and carrying out a plan for expanding 4-H Club work in the county, including a 4-H adult leader development plan that will provide better opportunities for boys and girls.

Esther Fletcher Gets PR Post in School

The huge San Antonio Independent School District will get a part-time public information officer starting next September, with veteran journalism instructor Mrs. Esther Fletcher named to fill the new post, Supt. Oscar E. Miller has announced.

Mrs. Fletcher is the former Esther Clark of Rankin and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Linton Clark.

Mrs. Fletcher, who now teaches journalism and English courses at Fox Tech High School will keep her current job and devote half of each school day to the new public relations post.

Miller noted the school district's increasing size warrants having someone in a public information capacity. He said Mrs. Fletcher also will publish the district's newspaper, "Our School" as well as coordinate stories for local news media representatives.

A journalism graduate from the University of Texas, Mrs. Fletcher has worked for newspapers in Pecos and for The Rankin News. She received her master's degree in English from Sul Ross.

She has taught at Fox Tech for the past five years.

Rules Tightened in State 4-H Show in Horse Competition

BY W. M. (DUB) DAY
County Agent, Upton County

It will be somewhat harder to enter the second annual State 4-H Horse Show to be held Aug. 20-21 at Texas A&M University than it was to compete in the first such event last year.

This year each horse must have won at least one point during county competition in the same class they participate in at the statewide show, according to L. D. Wythe, chairman of the show.

However, other rules from last year will still apply. Boys and girls who enter the show must be active participants in the 4-H, and the horse must be owned by them or their immediate family. Contestants must be at least 9 years old and not older than 21 before January 1, 1964.

Each member may enter only one horse and the 4-H Club of each county may enter only one participant for each ten members enrolled in its horse project. Also, the county agricultural agent must certify each 4-H Club member and the horse. Stallions are not allowed in the show regardless of their age.

Some of the halter classes include those for registered Quarter Horse mares and geldings, registered mares and geldings of any other breed, grade mares and geldings of two sizes, and a showmanship competition between the top two showmen in the other halter classes.

Performance classes will be: Western pleasure, reining, flag racing, pole bending, barrel racing, and keyhole racing. Contestants are reminded that entries and entry fee must be at Texas A&M by August 5.

For more information on the specific class requirements and procedures for entering the State 4-H Horse Show, contact your local county agricultural agent or the Animal Husbandry Depart-

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS

RAW MATERIALS

... direct step in industrial development

Many industries locate near the raw materials used by them and are seen throughout the WTU service area. One example, pictured above, is the carbon black plant of United Carbon Company at Shamrock.

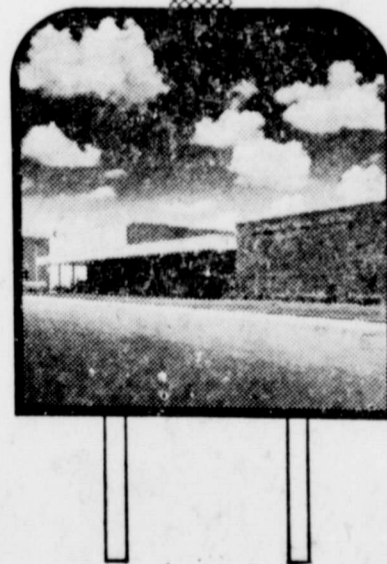

This flourishing petrochemical plant has become an important addition to the economy of this Texas Panhandle town. Such development anywhere creates new jobs, brings more payrolls, and adds many other advantages such as helping to provide new schools like the one pictured left.

Again, here is a PATTERN FOR PROGRESS.

In Texas the annual value of raw materials produced is $700 per capita, while the value added by manufacture is only $600. Contrast this with the highly industrialized state of Ohio. There the annual value of raw materials produced is $125 per capita, while the value added by manufacture is $1330.

Thus, as these figures show, additional processing of raw materials is the most direct way to sound industrial development. Communities seeking new industry will find that an assessment of local raw materials is the vital first step.

WTU is proud to be a part of your community
