One hears this question pretty often, but a couple of answers that occur to me might offer a partially satisfactory answer.

In the first place, doctors can't say flatly that smoking always causes lung cancer because there are too many persons living who have smoked for half a century or more with no signs of the dread disease. Too many factors must be considered by the researchers before they know how big a chance smokers are taking. They do know that there is a close link between smoking and lung cancer, but they can't, and maybe never will be able to say, that if you smoke, you will have

No one will argue with the established fact that smoking does precisely no good for one's health. The bad effects of tobacco have been known for years, so why should the medical associations that perform the research be so quick to tell people to stop smoking. They have been telling folks not to for years with no significant results.

Then there was the boss who came to work one day and found this note on his secretary's desk:

Personally, I view trading stamps without much enthusiasm. But the freedom that allows businessmen to decide whether his firm will give trading stamps is something I hold much higher than some state representative who seeks to kill this privilege.

The proposed bill will surely be thrown out, (and maybe they'll throw its sponsor out at the same time) but suppose it were to be passed. What would stand between government eliminating all other forms of competition that merchants with initiative cook up to try to attract business.

Exchange Student Tells Lions Of Native Land

"Finland is a small country near Russia. You may remember it as the only country that has completely paid its war debt to the United States."

These were the words of Pia Nasman, a foreign exchange student currently studying in Dimmitt High School. She was telling Friona Lions of her homeland.

The attractive 18-year-old has already graduated from her Finland high school. She will enter the university in Helsenki after her visit to the United States is finished this Pia came to Dimmitt through the American Field Service, which Friona has petitioned for an exchange student for next school year.

She was subjected to rigid tests in her homeland before being selected to represent her country in an exchange program that began after World War L She was selected mostly on the strength of a high score she made on an English test. Languages are an important part of a student's training in Finland and Pia studied English, German and Swedish among others before graduating.

The Nasman family is termed "average" by Pia. They live on an island near Helsenki and own neither an automobile nor a television.

"We have few cars in Finland, and I don't know how I can stand walking everywhere after being over here where you drive even if the trip is only across the street," she said

Pia says the American and Finnish school systems vary greatly. In Finland four grades are in elementary school and eight in high school. After finishing grade school, the student takes a test to determine if he is suited for further education. If he passes the test, he may continue in elementary school for a while then enter a trade school or begin working.

Pia estimates that about 30-50 per cent qualify for high school. She says the greatest differences between schools here and those in Finland are the amount of time given to specific courses and the amount of respect shown teachers. She also said Finnish schools issue much more home work than she has seen students doing here.

"In Finland, we take three or four years to learn such as physics and chemistry that American students have only one or two terms to learn," she said. Finland schools do not allow students to choose the courses they will study. There is no typing, band, shorthand, physical education, etc. When the student reaches the university. he studies only his major subjects.

Sports are not considered as important in her homeland as here, Pia says. She said she was amazed when she attended the first pep rally before a Dimmitt football game.

"Fewer people attend ball games in Finland, and those that go are much quieter than they are here," she said. "But I really like football as it is played here, much better than the rugby they play in Finland."

Finland is well aware of her powerful neighbor and makes every effort not to provoke a Russian invasion. One of Finland's seven political parties is Communist and communist infiltration in government is feared.

Pia has seen Russian people and thinks if all were like the ones she has seen, the Communists will be overthrown in Russia. Pia says she likes this country well, but that she will be ready to go back to Finland when her time is finished here.

"I have a little brother I have fought with since he was born and sometimes I do get a little homesick," she said.

The guest speaker was accompanied to the Lions Club meeting by a girl who lives in Pia's foster home, Ruby Clingingsmith.

School superintendent Alton Farr, who was in charge of the program, told the Lions that Friona has applied for either a boy or a girl student for the next school term through the American Field Service.

A run on the tax-assessor's office in Farwell and the Ethridge-Spring Agency in Friona during the final two days of January, pushed the total number of poll tax receipts issued 17-3tc in Parmer County near the 2,100 mark.

> As of Wednesday morning, the total number of receipts and exemptions issued numbered 2,075, a record high for an off-election year.

It could run higher, depending on the number of applications blanks filled out in Bovina and Friona at the last minute, says Mrs. Bill Moss of the taxassessor's office.

At the Farwell office, there were 195 receipts issued Tues- to get awful busy with important day, the final day for paying things they have put off until. the taxes, and 139 were sold Monday.

Probably the big reason for the high number of poll tax receipts was the special senate election slated for April 4. Also, there are local city and school elections scheduled.

The number sold this year is lower than last year's record high of 2,745, but last year was a presidential year.

Vern's Views--Dakota, it doesn't concern Texans much. Well, we have laws introduced into the Texas House that are just as stupid.

A current example is measure that would make it illegal for all except certain types of businesses to stay open on Sunday

Does anything need to be said to point out or make clearer the stupidity of asking the people of Texas to let some representative decide what they can buy on Sunday.

The measure as it now stands, would allow such items as food, drugs and automobiles to be sold on Sunday, but dry goods, hardware and other items. couldn't be sold.

Foods and drugs could be called essential but what puts automobiles in this class. dare say, the small amounts of dry goods and hardware that are sold on Sunday wouldn't be offensive to the most religious individuals.

What about the drug stores and grocery stores that stay open on Sunday that have more inside their doors than the items the bill's sponsor thinks would be alright to sell on Sunday.

Guess they would have to install some kind of barrier around whatever the legislature decides should be sold only on

Near the end of this legislative session, they are going the last minute. The poor legislators will have to attend allnight sessions in order to pass important laws.

When that time comes, let's remember such foolish measures as the one mentioned above that took up so much of their time and be mighty stingy with our sympathy.

Squaws Jump--

district play Feb. 7 and 10 with Tulia and Canyon respectively. Tulia is the last barrier between the Squaws and a portion of the district crown. Squaw coach Baker Duggins predicts that the Tulia game could be the "toughest of the season."

The coach made it plain that he isn't looking past either Tulia or Canvon toward an eventual playoff with Dimmitt.

"Either one of those teams could beat us if we have an off night," he said.

In other activity for the cantile Co. Merchandise worth sheriff's department, four persons were arrested and convicted last week on charges of misdemeanor thefts.

Walter Washington, 46-yearold Negro, was arrested and charged with a theft which occurred several months ago. He allegedly stole tools and gasoline from a tractor, truck and combine at the H. H. Briggs farm near Lazbuddie.

Washington pled guilty in county court Friday, was fined $75 and court costs, and sentenced to five days in jail by Judge Loyde Brewer.

Also arrested and convicted of stealing batteries were three brothers from Texico. The three men were Juan Dominguez 25, Gibino Dominguez 18, and Victor Dominguez 17.

The batteries were taken from the farms of Ronny Howard and Gilbert Watkins southeast of Farwell. Howard discovered a battery missing from his irrigation well Friday afternoon after helping the three fellows pull the automobile in which they were riding out of a mudhole on his farm.

He reported the incident to Sheriff Lovelace, who made the arrests a short time later.

The three entered pleas of guilty and were tried by Judge Brewer Saturday morning. They were each fined $25 and sentenced to five days in jail.

New License Plate Issued For 1961

Texans will notice a newly designed license plate for 1961. A different style of letters and numerals have been used to make the plate more readable from a distance. Black letters and numerals on a white background is the color scheme for 1961.

A new numbering system will be used for some classifications such as trailers, truck tractors and buses. These classifications will have a one-letter prefix with from two-to-five digit numerals. For example: A trailer number could be A-10 or A-12345. The numbering system for other classifications will remain the same as 1960. The change in the system was brought about by the ever increasing number of registered vehicles in Texas. The Texas Highway Department estimated that vehicle registration in Texas for 1960 will total 4,800,000. This places Texas third in the nation in registered vehicles following California and New York.

"Texas should reach the seven-million mark by the end of this decade," Greer said. "There are more vehicles in Texas today than there were Texans in 1920 and the percent of increase in motor vehicles in Texas in the last four decades is twenty times the per cent of increase in population. There are two Texans for every Texas-registered motor vehicle."

Greer stressed the importance of registering all automobiles and trucks in the county of the vehicle owner's residence.

ESOIL CONSERVATIONE DISTRICT NEWS

Farmers and ranchers in Parmer County hold the key to successful wildlife production in future years. This is true because nearly 100 per cent of our potential wildlife habitat is in private ownership or control. It is also true because all of our hunting is provided by rabbits and quails that are produced on farms and ranches.

Thus, our wildlife crop is produced and harvested on lands that are used for cultivation and livestock, Since wildlife is produced on lands used primarily for other purposes, the success of wildlife production in the future depends on how farmers and ranchers use and treat their land.

In the past 25 years, farmers and ranchers have made great progress in a nationwide soil and water conservation program. These farmers and ranchers follow well rounded conservation plans which often include specific wildlife improvement measures.

Fortunately, almost every practice that helps protect and improve soil and conserve water also improves food and and cover for wildlife. Improved grass on rangeland and BUREAU SUPPORTS, BUT in pastures, crop stubble, grass WOULD ALSO PERMIT THE waterways, windbreaks or shelterbelts and other vegetative practices which aid wildlife directly, are the foundation measures for soil and water

And, when land use and vegetative measures alone are not adequate to control erosion, small dams and other supplementary structures may have

Want to beautify your Farmstead? Of course, you do, but never get around to starting. Why don't you make 1961 the year you get this plan under way. Evergreen seedling trees are available through the Texas Forest Service for $1.50 per hundred.

Get your order off and get ready to set these trees in a tree bed to grow a year. Spend the next 12 months planning how you want the Home Place to look. When you get that done you algreens growing and ready to set out. Orders must be received

Some say it takes too long this way, but if you will stop and think Christmases are not so far apart anymore.

How many years does a farmer farm? That depends on the farmer, but if he misses a crop or part of a crop he wheat with nitrogen between now and March 1st. Unless you are sure you have plenty of nitrogen available. A good program to follow on wheat is to apply two-thirds of the needed nitrogen and all the needed phosphate (where phosphate is needed) in the fall and top dress with onethird nitrogen in February of the following spring. Do not top dress with phosphate. Phosphate should be placed in the soil mechanically.

What about your 1961 Grain to be built. These, in turn, usually provide water and cover for wildlife.

An important fact, often overlooked or discredited, is that the production of game is something which the private land owners or operators can accept or reject.

Because the farmer or rancher must first of all look to his land for a livelihood, his land use decision may, in fact, be adverse to wildlife increase. And, because sportsmen and other wildlife enthusiasts are primarily interested in maximum wildlife crops, these two interests may clash unless effective cooperation and understanding is obtained.

Sorghum Crop? Are you making plans to increase those vields over 1960? If so you are having your soil analyzed and fertilizer recommendations made. You will also be considering the proper placement of the plant food. Many of you should also be looking into narrow row seeding. Several farmers are going to use 26 inch to 30 inch rows in 1961. Some plan to stay with the two row to the lister ridge. The better plant spacing offered by narrow rows or double row seeding is paying off. Remember to keep the seeding rate at or very near what you used when seeding your standard 38 or 40 in rows. Where increased seeding rates have been used the benefit from better use of water and plant food through better plant spacing has been lost.

To date I have received soil analysis returns on 144 samples. If any of you would like to discuss your recommendations with me I have a copy of your report in my file if your land is in Parmer County.

Don't let the wet weather stop you from taking and sending in your samples. Mr. Jim Valentine who runs the Laboratory has provisions for drying them. Come by or see your fertilizer dealer for information on taking and sending off samples.

Interested cattle owners are invited to a meeting at the Friona State Bank Thursday night, February 2, at 7:45 p.m. This program is being held to discuss the possibility of asking the state of Texas to test cattle in Parmer County in order that the county can be declared a modified certified Brucellosis
