Jr.-Sr. Banquet is Scheduled Saturday

One of the major social events of the year—or so some will tell you—is to be staged Saturday night, May 1. On that date, at the Rankin Park Building, the annual Junior-Senior Banquet is to be held. It's all top drawer and fully formal.

Banquet time is scheduled for 7:30 with the dance to be held from 9:00 until 12:00. Parents are invited to attend the dance and visit.

This event is for members of the Junior and Senior Classes, the faculty members and the school administration. It is a school sponsored activity, therefore; the dance will be open only to students of Rankin High School and their dates, and invited guests.

The program for the evening calls for the invocation by Jerry Lacy, the welcome by Larry Whiteside and the reply by senior Roy Winters. "The Wayward Wind" is to be rendered by the duo of Whiteside and Bobby Phillips. The Junior Class Prophecy is to be read by Martha Love while the Senior Will will be revealed by Gayla Wilson.

The Junior girls will then entertain with "Love is a Many Splendored Thing". An intermission will follow after which "The Sonics" will play for the dance.

Senior Class officers for the class of '65 are Roy Winters as president; James Scarborough, Vice-president; Barbara Hutchens, secretary-treasurer; and Gayla Wilson and Ronnie Thorn, student council representatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Vergil Dobbs are sponsors of the class. Class colors and Royal purple and white, their flower is orchid and their song is "Deep Purple".

Class motto is "Success will come to those who strive the most to attain it."

President of the Junior Class is Larry Whiteside with Jerry Lacy as vice-president. Secretary-treasurer is Bobby Phillips and Martha Love and Terry Gray are student council representatives.

Mr. John Jones, Mr. Melvin Wimberley and Mrs. Jean Shafer are class sponsors. Class colors are blue and white with the Bluebonnet as the class flower and "Moon River" as the class song.

The junior motto is "To thine own self be true"

Among items attended to at the last meeting of the Board of Trustees for Rankin Independent School District was the acceptance of the resignations of five school employees.

Resignations accepted included Bill Shafer, Guidance-Social Studies teacher, completing his second year in Rankin High School; his wife, Mrs. Jean Shafer, High School Homemaking teacher, also competing her second year in the system;

Clifford Wilson, High School English teacher and assistant coach, completing his fifth year in Rankin; Mrs. W. I. Shoemaker, 1st Grade teacher, completing her ninth year in the system; and

Mrs. Vernal Steele, Library assistant and secretary, completing her first year in that capacity.

THIS WEEK—

As some wag has pointed out, it may have been an oversight but we have something like 306 special weekly observances per year in the United States and only 52 weeks in which to observe them.

There's a week for about anything you can name from "Miss Soda Pop Top Week" to "Be Kind to Mothers-in-Law Week" I have given a good bit of thought about writing my Congressman to find out just why there's no "Be Kind to Newspaper Editors and Rich Ranchers Week" but have never got up enough steam to do so.

Anyway, as announced last week, April 25 to May 1 is Library Week in Texas and all citizens have been called upon to take stock of their library facilities.

And, by golly, when you stop and think about it, it would be hard to find a place any better supplied along this line than is Rankin. Oh, you might find a place with larger buildings and more books on the shelves, but I doubt that you'd find one that offers more per person than is done right here in Rankin with three school libraries and one public library. And none of these are of the hand-me-down variety either. They are all modern, have well qualified people working in them and they are used. The latter point is, perhaps, the most important.

We adults, with not so much time, probably don't make the use of these facilities that we should but the younger generation—that crowd that is supposed to be going to the dogs—very likely reads more than any group of American ever have. School records indicate almost yearly increases in the use of their volumes and the County Library reports a high number of youth users.

All in all, I'd say that Library Week is well worth observing if for no other reason than to consider the above fact that students have a great deal more on their minds than baseball, a date and a movie. They have a thirst for knowledge and they quench it at body of mighty Texas Legislature, with a truly out-of-brainpower pro-are going to permit Texas to vote on a amendment that roved, extent the e for the governor our years. Many of arguments are being its passage that when the terms of s and certain others from two to four

Now I can certainly understand an office holder's desire to have his elected term run as long as possible. It cuts down on his worry about being returned to office. It cuts down on the expense of seeking office. And, if the office holder is so inclined, it permits him to be a little more withdrawn from the public—except on election years. I have heard it said by those who visit in courthouses over the state, that you can tell which office holder is up for election next by the manner in which they receive the public.

But I can't argue with the office holder's desire for longer terms. If I was in his shoes, I'd want longer terms, too.

But the idea has not worked and it will not work if applied to the governor or any other office holders. One of the prime reasons given for extending terms the first time was that it would attract a better quality person to seek the office. I don't think that even needs any further comment. In a vast majority of cases, the same people are either still in office or still trying to get in.

The people of Texas have given their office holders about everything they have asked for. To agree to extending the length of the term for the governor would only be one step along the path that very possibly could have no end. Already certain state officials are talking about six-year terms. And why not? If four-year terms are good, six or eight or ten or lifetime terms ought to be better.

We shouldn't give up any further control of our public office holders. We have already given up too much.

Sometime in the future, we are all going to have an opportunity to vote on this matter. Right now is a good time to get ready for defeating the plan.

Placings Given for Lubbock Contesters

Rankin's entries in the regional meets held last week in Lubbock were close to placings but failed to make the state finals.

With the first two placings — in most events—going to state, the Rankin crew had three 3rd places. Larry Whiteside was 3rd in Boys Persuasive Speaking and in the high jump and Roy Winters was 3rd in the broad jump. Gary Heuchins was 5th for the mile run. Others participating included Tom Gossett in the 880 yard run and Harvy Helmers in shorthand.

The report was good for the Tops Club when they met April 22. Only one gainer was listed. Barbara McSpadden was the best loser of the week.

The business meeting was cut short since everyone was anxious to sample the low calorie meal prepared by the Drag Strippers as a penalty for losing the last weight reducing contest. The meal was enjoyed by all.

Next meeting will be held at 6:00 p.m. on April 29. Everyone with a weight problem has an invitation to visit the Tops Club.

PASTOR'S HOME IS SETTING FOR JOHNSON-ARMSTRONG WEDDING

The marriage of Diana Kay Johnson of Midland, Star Rt., and Vernon N. Armstrong, Jr. of Webb Air Force Base, in Big Spring took place recently in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Ray Allen, Midland. The newly weds now are at home at the Big Spring Mobile Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Johnson of Star Route B, Midland, are parents of the bride, a graduate of Rankin High School and a licensed vocational nurse at Parkview General Hospital.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon N. Armstrong, Sr., of Seminole, Oklahoma. He was graduated from Varnum High School in Seminole.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white lace suit and a pillbox hat with brief veil. She carried a bridal bouquet.

Attendants to the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harmon of Midland, the bride's brother-in-law and sister. Mrs. Harmon was attired in a light blue suit and pink orchid corsage.

A wedding dinner at the Blue Star Inn followed the ceremony.

The Rev. Mr. Allen, an Assembly of God minister, officiated at the 7 p.m. double ring ceremony.

To unfreeze, thaw in the refrigerator and use as soon as possible.

Varieties that can be frozen successfully are: Brick, Cheddar, Edam, Gouda, Muenster, Port du Salut, Swiss Provolone, Mozzarella and Camembert.

Even these varieties, however, sometimes undergo a change in body and texture. But their quality will still be good.

Salvation Army Says Funds Lagging

A Salvation Army representative was in Rankin last week and said that the drive for funds to operate here was behind what it was a year ago. He reported that a number of cards had not been turned in by workers and asked that they make their contacts and report the results to Johnnie Hurst, cashier for the fund drive, at First State Bank.

The drive for funds, most of which are used in Rankin, was started about two months ago. The representative said that additional money was needed for the Rankin operation now. He asked that those who would make donations, please do so by sending them to Mr. Hurst at the bank.

All funds spent locally is done so under the direction of a community committee composed of local citizens. Rev. Billy White is chairman of this group in Rankin.

OUTGOING District 2-T-3 Lions Club Governor Eldon Lawrence of Ysleta, extends best wishes to the new District President Harry Ingle of Crane at the Fort Stockton meeting last week-end. Rankin Lions Club was represented at the annual session.

Lions Clubs of District 2-T-3, 2550 strong, concluded a successful week-end convention in Fort Stockton by electing Harry Ingle of Crane District Governor to succeed Eldon Lawrence of Ysleta, whose term will end in July.

Earlier Miss Sheryl Kay Scott of Ysleta had been chosen from a field of 21 attractive high school age candidates from all over the district to reign as Queen for the coming year. She succeeds Serri Scott of Odessa on (relation) in the position, and will complete for title of Texas Queen later in the spring.

The new District Governor is

He also is active in many bodies of the Masonic order and in professional groups related to the petroleum industry.

El Paso was chosen as the next convention site, and J. M. Lipham of Kermit was re-elected a director of the Texas Lions Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville in concluding business of the convention.

When you buy fresh chilled frozen poultry, if you intend to keep it in the freezer, be sure the wrapper is tight and there are no tears.

Poultry that's exposed to air will spoil quickly, may turn rancid and lose off flavors, say experts.

Be sure to repack the poultry in plastic bags, thighs, breasts or whole birds together, or in packages larger or smaller than you use a moisture-resistant wrapping material. There are also special freezer wraps available at most stores.

When wrapping close to the poultry, force the air out. Then wrap upward and over until the package is tight.

FREEZE CHEESE

Cheese can be frozen successfully.

The secret is in the variety you choose and the size of the pieces you freeze. If the chunks are not over a pound in weight or an inch in thickness, some cheeses may be stored in the freezer for as long as six months.

Proper handling and storage is, of course, essential. Cheese should be frozen quickly at 0 degrees F. or lower. Wrap it carefully in foil or other moisture-proof freezer paper. Press paper tightly against the cheese to force out the air and prevent evaporation. Freeze

Proper Spraying is Necessary for Good Fruit, Nut Crops

BY W. M. (DUB) DAY
County Agent, Upton County

The following is the 1965 control recommendations for insects on fruits and nuts. Since the revision of L-245 has not been completed, we felt this information should be made available in advance of the growing season. Additional copies may be obtained through the Extension Entomology Office, College Station.

Insect control is important in the production of fruit and nuts. Health and vigor of trees and quality of fruit depend on well-planned and well-executed control program. Losses due to insects can be reduced by carrying through a spray program and diligently following good orchard sanitation practices.

WHEN AND HOW TO SPRAY

Proper timing of spray applications is essential to prevent insects from becoming established and causing extensive injury. The amount of spray required depends upon the size of the tree. Thorough coverage is necessary to obtain satisfactory control.

SPRAYING EQUIPMENT

Adequate spraying equipment is essential to effectively control insects. Sprayers that will maintain a pressure of 300 to 400 pounds per square inch are recommended for peach trees and others of similar size. For pecan and the other tall trees, 400 to 700 lbs. pressure per square inch are needed.

When only a few trees are to effectively be sprayed, smaller power or hand sprayers can be used if close attention is given to thoroughness of coverage.

PRECAUTIONS ON THE USE OF INSECTICIDES

Correct materials must be selected for the most effective and safe and economical control. All materials recommended are poisonous, but they present little or no hazard if proper precautions are observed. Comply with the manufacturers' directions for the handling of insecticides.

Residues—Tolerance of insecticidal residues on fruit crops have been established by the Food and Drug Administration. Due to these regulations, certain insecticides should not be applied too near harvest. Refer to the spray schedule for information on the number of days that should elapse from last application to harvest.

School Libraries Up Circulation

A REPORT from Rankin Schools for Library Week.

A fact widely recognized both by professional educators and by the lay public is that good library facilities in a community contribute immeasurably to the intellectual and social well-being of the community. This recognition takes the form of an annual tribute to the nation's libraries in the observance of National Library Week, which occurs this week. Governor Connally has proclaimed this same week, State Library Week, and all library observances in the state will serve a dual purpose this year by demonstrating both the importance and the relationship of the nation's libraries.

Rankin is fortunate in having two fine library systems, the Upton County Library and the three libraries of the Rankin Public Schools. The three libraries in the system of the Rankin Public Schools are administered by Mrs. Joyce Clark, head librarian. Mrs. Clark, who has a master's degree with a major in library science, has wide experience in library work, having directed library facilities from elementary school through college level. Mrs. Clark's major position is in the high school library, but she supervises the two other libraries in the system with the assistance of Mrs. Vernell Steele.

Much progress is evident in the school libraries during the past year. This progress is most clearly demonstrated in the number of books circulated. In the high school library this year, the circulation has been 2254 volumes through April 21st, almost double last year's circulation figure of 1198. In the junior high school, circulation has increased by more than 2000 volumes, from 4546 last year to 6562 this year. The elementary school library noted an increased circulation of more than 1000 volumes over last year's circulation of 2485 to 3509 this year. Total circulation figures for the last two years show 8229 volumes circulated in 1963-64, and 12,325 circulated in 1964-1965.

All three libraries in the system have increased the number of books available for use. The total number of books in the system in May, 1964, was 5197. This number has been increased this year to 5878, through the acquisition of 681 new books. The reference facilities of the libraries have also been improved by the purchase of eight new encyclopedias, which have been distributed throughout the system. Also notable is the fact that there have been 12,814 uses of magazine materials this year, and 8178 uses of reference materials. The school libraries are thus seen to be capable of serving almost every need of students for reading and research.

Rankin is justifiably proud of its libraries. During National Library Week, every citizen should give thought to the important educational function of his libraries. And throughout the year, he should strive to improve his libraries while making the widest possible use of them.

McGill Attends DC Air Society Meet

WASHINGTON, D. S.— Cadet Emmett B. McGill, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McGill of Rankin, represented his Arnold Air Society Squadron at the society's 17th Annual National Conclave in Washington, D. C.

Cadet McGill, a student at Texas Christian University, is one of more than 6,000 members of the honorary military society for outstanding U. S. Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps cadets.

The 21-year-old student met with other cadets from more than 170 colleges and universities to discuss Arnold Air Society aims and policies for the coming year. The society, established in 1947, Power, retired commander of the Strategic Air Command and General Bernard A. Schriever, commander of the Air Force Systems Command.

WE SALUTE -

PUBLIC LIBRARY WEEK

All down through the ages, man has sought knowledge. This quest has been the very backbone of our astounding society as we know it today. And never, in all these ages, has man had access to as much stored knowledge as we enjoy today in our Public Libraries. It is most fitting that we recognize them this week.
