Area Ranches to get Scrapies Inspection

The State Livestock Sanitary Commission and the US Department of Agriculture, combined, are scheduling visits to ranchers in Upton County for the purpose of inspecting flocks for the presence of scrapies, according to County Agent Dub Day.

The purpose of freeing the state of Texas of this dread disease is to relax the requirements of out-of-state shipment of Texas bred and raised sheep.

"Your cooperation in finding Upton County scrapies free will not only be advantagous to you, but to the sheep industry of Upton County as well," the agent voters turned down the issue the Rankin hospital will be enlarged and improved to the tune of some $244.000-maybe even more. Plans are well along, having already been revised slightly in order to meet with state approval and another meeting with the architect is planned by Rankin Hospital board later this week.

Plans Move Ahead for Hospital Remodeling Work

Board president Grimm Taylor said that the original plans would generally be followed with only mirror changes. Hospital administrator Leon Feuge said that he felt the board would want to stretch their money as far as possible, adding as much space as they could and getting as much new equipment as they could. Some $200,00 is earmarked for expansion and $44,000 for equipment.

Present plans call for the eleven-bed hospital to be expanded to some 20-bed capacity with wards. Most of the new addition will be made on the West side with added features being extended around the entire West and North portion of the present building. A new emergency entrance will be located on th north end of the building with a paved access coming in either off Elizabeth Street, from the West side or running complete around the hospital. Overa' floor space will be approximately doubled-or better.

Along with enlarged office space and working quarters, a feature of the new construction will be a chapel for the use of families who have suffered the loss of someone in death. Also, an outside patio will be located in the inside center of the arrangement for the benefit of wheel chair patients and others who might be in need of outside sunshine and relaxation.

A nurses quarters, originally proposed, has been dropped from board. Actually, this procedure was to have been followed last year by the Rankin School but on request of the school, the judge waived his rights in favor of the district's holding the election in the same manner as in the past.

This year, however, when the school decided to give notice of the election by posting only, it was found that the notices so posted contained the stipulation that the county judge oversee the election. Since the notices were already up and since Rankin Schools were under 500 scholastics as of the current census, it was decided to go ahead with the new procedure. Election officials, time and place of voting etc. are set forth in the posted

Although students actually enrolled in Rankin Schools has not been below 500 since the 1953-54 term-with current student at 557—these figures are not the

the census, only students residing within the district are considered. Rankin has a number of transferrs from other districtsnotably in the Midkiff area, and these do not count for census enumeration.

According to the 1965-66 census, Rankin Schools is credited with 478. For the 1966-67, the figure is reported to be 512, thus, it is assumed, the election procedure is to revert to the former method of the school overseeing the entire balloting next year.

In connection with the coming trustee election, County Judge Allen Moore said this week that he has had I candidate file for places on the ballot. Under the current procedure, five people may petition the judge to have a person's name placed on the ballot as a candidate for the school board; however that person must then be contacted and agree to serve if elected before his name will be certified.

McCamey, Si; Rankin, No; Bonds Carry Anyhow

In a rather odd election in that there appeared to be little interest one way or another, Upton County voters passed the $594,000 hospital bond vote last Saturday by better than two to one. Mc-Camey heavily favored the proposition while Rankin turned it down. Total vote was 473 for and 221 against. Rankin and Midkiff said "No" to the proposal 106 to 73 while McCamey boxes put it over big. 394 for and 121 against. Nine non-paid poll tax votes were cast in the McCamey voting with 8 for and 1 against. Absentee voting favored the bond issue 6 for and 4 against. The new voting box, 7, had no votes cast due to the fact that there were no property owners living in the voting precinct.

Following is a vote-by-box tally of the results:

Box 1: 47 for and 58 against; Box 2, 24 for and 28 against: Box 3, 2 for and 10 against; Box 4 184 paid poll for-7 non paid poll for and 60 paid poll against and 1 non-paid poll against; Box 5. 40 pail poll for and 1 non-paid poll for, 16 against; Box 6, 162 for and 44 against.

Equipment wise, a new x-ray machine and laboratory will be installed along with a new lightroom. Oxygen will be piped into the rooms, new beds will be purchased and a new suction machine, used in major surgery, will be sought. Other new equipment will depend on funds available.

No starting date for construction is yet in sight. First action will be the selling of the bonds. an undertaking which will be handled by a firm dealing with such matters. In the past, Upton County has had little trouble finding buyers due to their excellent repayment record. Once the bonds are sold, bids will be taken on the construction. Some six months is estimated as the time required for this phase. Administrator Feuge said that he did not expect the hospital to be closed for more than a week-if at all-during the construction and remodeling. The new addition would be built first then occupied while the older part was undergoing remodeling.

Feuge also said that he did not anticipate the employment of any new help in operating the enlarged hospital. "At the present, it looks to me like we can go along with about the same crew we now have," he said.

One question that has come up and which may get further attention is the requirement that hospitals have a minimum of 25 beds in order to qualify for medicare patient treatment. It is this stipulation-which might be changed at some later date, that has raised the question of whether or not Rankin Hospital might not want to apply for available Federal funds to go with their bond money and carry out the improvements to the extent that the 25-bed qualification could be

In McCamey, where $350,000 is to be spent on a new hospital, plans have been under consideration for almost two years. All that is needed is for the bonds to be sold and contracts awarded.

A LETTER-

On open letter to the Hon. Senator William J. Fullbright:

Dear sir,

Ya dadblamed nut . . . and so's Wayne Morris, double.

WHAT ELSE-

Now, there you are. Saturday's hospital bond election proves once again what many have said for a long time about Upton County politics: like the weather, only a newcomer will try to predict it in advance. I'd have wagered my putting ball that that thing would have not carried by more than 30 votes and frankly, I did not believe it had much of a chance anyway,

Now the vote has been taken and the issue has been decided very substantially in favor of the hospital improvements. Let us each put aside our pre-election feelings on the matter and get to the business at hand. We are now in a position of having the best hospital facilities of any county our size in Texas and we ought to take full advantage of the situation.

The Rankin board is said to be considering looking into the possibility of going a bit beyond their original plans by applying for some available Federal money. This would enable them to made alterations to the extent that Rankin Hospital would be qualified to handle medi-care patients. It seems to me that this is a good idea since medicare, like social security of which it is a part, is very likely here to stay and will be expanded. There is no reason for Rankin Hospital not being fully qualified.

BOARDS, CANDIDATES, ETC.

In April, three members will be elected to the school board. Between now and then it may be that some of the candidates will call on you to discuss the election and their race. Talk to them. Find out their views.

And once they are elected, continue to keep in contact with them. Most board members, as well as regular office holder want to carry out policies that they feel are approved by a majority of the folk they represent. That's their job.

But, they should not have to try and guess what people want. They ought to have as wide a contact as possible with their constituents. Let any elected office holder limit his contact to a select few and you can bet that he will be out of step-sooner or later-with the majority of his people.

There again, however, it is as much the duty of the citizen to give his board member the benefit of his thinking as it is for the board member to have to try and fish out the trend. With seven men on the school board, surely there is one or more almost all of us can talk with. It would be unlikely that we would all select the same person but we should let our feelings on topics related to the school be known.

And knocking it about over the coffee tables in town is not the proper place-nor do I agree with the school policy that patrons of the district ought to meet with the board when they want to discuss school business. Nuts. What is a board member for if not to represent and why have a representative that has to be approached like a high priest in the inner sanctum?

It's not at all unusual to hear a topic discussed about town and upon mentioning it to a school board member, find that he does not know anything about the matter. As far as he knows and can hear, everything is coming up roses. So if your pet complaint is not getting any action at the schools, the county, the city, the state or in Washington, ask yourself: have you really told the right person? Or do you just knock it around among your friends and people who you believe will agree with you? Such actions hardly ever get results.

WTU Employees Win Driving Award

For the sixth consecutive year the employees of West Texas Utilities Company have won the coveted Bureau of Safety Motor Vehicle Accident Prevention Contest awarded annually to the electric utility company having the lowest accident frequency rate. This is unprecedented, for no other competing company has approached the record of WTU.

In 1965 WTU employees drive 338 motor vehicles a total of 5,-377,392 miles for a record of 3.16 chargeable accidents per 1,000,000 miles. This was a substantial reduction from its 1964 rate of 4.63. The average rate for all conststants was 6.63, and the estimated rate for all electric utility companies is 10.51.

Lyle A. Westrom, Bureau vice president, said in a letter to R. W. Hardy, WTU president: "We offer our warmest congratulations to you and your employees for this remarkable safety achievement and wish you continued success in the future.

"We have been pleased that your employees were not satisfied with being in first place for so long, but have actually made a sizeable reduction in an already excellent driving record."

Roff Hardy expressed his appreciation to Company employees for their safe driving habits and their concern for the public's safety and welfare in the operation of WTU vehicles.

pay increases for the principals. Elementary principal Mike Hughes was increased in salary by $750 per year. Junior High Principal W. E. Stephens received a $193-per-year increase and High School Principal A. C. Copeland was increased by $650. This put all three at the same salary-$9500 per year.

As explained by Supt. Hood, the increases were made in an effort to get the salaries of the principals more nearly in line with the scale used in determining classroom teacher salaries in the Rankin district which is set at $1000 per year above the state minimum. Salaries for the three principals are still below this average for the state level-plus the $100 above pay-according to Mr. Hood.
