NUMBER TWENTY—

The Kid Rodeo is twenty? It doesn't seem possible.

There are people running around loose here in Rankin who rode in some of those first ones and now they have their own kids entered this year. I have pictures of some of these "elders" of the rodeo when they looked like they were all hat and ears in their western get-ups. And I guess there are others here who have participated for five, six or even ten years now.

The Upton show is getting on in years and actually is one of the granddads in the kid rodeo business and one of the few that is not under the thumb of the AJRA—not that there's anything particularly wrong with the American Junior Rodeo Association, but still, if you're going to have an all-kid rodeo, it's good that there's still one around that can be run strictly on a local basis.

Be all that as it may, comes Friday and Saturday nights, all who like rodeoing will want to be on the front row when the "kids" put on a top rate show.

And, oh, yes . . . if you're a visitor in Rankin, a big welcome, pardner. (That's what all us Westerners say to one another.)

A GIFT—

It looks like we folk in this area are finally going to get a break down in Austin. A college has been approved and will be located between Odessa and Midland.

Well, what did you expect? If it had been approved for Upton (Continued to Next Page) majority of people in this part of state felt we needed the school—then these office holders could have done no less than carry the ball. The fact that they scored a touchdown is just a part of the game.

But don't expect these boys to let us forget that they were in office when the school was approved. They won't. As for getting the college, let's hope now that we can pay for it.

LINE UP—

Do you ever get the feeling that everyone is getting something in the way of Federal aid except you? Well, maybe you are not paying attention—maybe you qualify and just don't know about it.

Recently a book has come to hand called "Catalogue of Federal Domestic Assistance" and I guarantee you that it offers a variety fully equal to any mail order catalogue put out today.

Containing 551 pages—printed on both sides, there are between 1100 and 1200 programs listed under which individuals or groups can get "domestic" federal assistance.

Starting off with "Agricultural Research," it goes all the way to "Water Resources Planning" and has such goodies as "Fertilizer and Munitions Development", "International Cooperative Science Activities", "Sale of Federal Personal Property", "Protection of Voting Rights," "Sport Fish Management", "Radiological Health", and "Air Pollution—Training and Fellowships".

That's just to mention a handful—and that last one intrigues me. I wonder how you go about getting trained for air pollution—to say nothing of having "fellowship" with the stuff.

But what the heck, it's only money.

Incidentally, if you want to get in on any of this assistance, feel free to come right on down and look up something that you can work into your schedule. Personally, I think I'll go for this one entitled, "Follow Through." If there's any one thing that I'm having trouble with, it's my follow through on my golf swing and since I've tried everything else, I don't think even a Federal assistance program could foul it up much more.

Upton 4-H All-Kid Rodeo Now Twenty Years Old

Some of the kids who helped start and participated in the first few All-Kid 4-H Rodeos are no longer kids. Friday will mark the twentieth year in a row for the event.

Started more or less to give a few of the local boys something to do during the summer, the first rodeo was financed by passing the hat up and down Main Street. Now, with big gate receipts and numerous entries, the Upton All-Kid rodeo has taken on the airs of big business and now has its own rodeo arena. Last year, new grandstands were added and this year a new concession stand will be put into operation for the first time.

Some of the early-day concession stands were operated out of the back of a pickup with a tub filled with ice and soft drinks perched on the tail gate. Sandwiches, if you could get them, were donated by mothers of the 4-H members and once in a while someone would bake a cake or a pie.

This year you can step up to the new concession stand and be served with a hot dog and all the trimmings by a staff consisting of a half-dozen or more trying to keep from being swamped during rush periods.

Primarily, the first rodeos were just for the local talent but the fame of the show soon spread and Friday will see contestants from all over West Texas and Eastern New Mexico. Some of the more recent shows have had entries from as far away as Fort Worth. Needless to say, the local talent has a hard time winning their own show anymore; however, as long as the crowds come and the contestants enter, the 4-H Club and their supporters will have wide grins for proceeds go a long way toward enabling the operation of a county-wide program of Club work that has had many successes—aside from building a "kid" rodeo into the big time.

And the end is not in sight. Youth rodeos are becoming more popular each year and with twenty years experience, the Upton 4-H Club is looking forward to another twenty year's growth.

THE PARADE has always been a highlight of the All-Kid Rodeo and Friday's promises to be the biggest ever. Above, two cowboys (?) do a bit of fancy riding on a fast steed in a past parade.

Methodist Changes Made for Pastors

Larry Bailey, pastor of the Rankin Methodist Church for the past two years, moved his family Wednesday to San Juan—in the lower Rio Grand Valley—to take up duties as pastor of the church there. His assignment was announced recently by the Methodist Conference Cabinet following their recent session in which pastors are assigned throughout Texas.

Rev. and Mrs. Bailey here to Rankin in August, 1967 and since that time, have celebrated their recent birth of a daughter.

Replacing Bailey here will be Rev. Gordon Miller who comes to Rankin from San Antonio where he was an associate pastor in an Alamo City church.

Another former pastor well-known to many in Rankin who will be changing churches is Rev. Lynn McAden. McAden had been at Carrizo Springs for a number of years and will move to Pharr.

Rev. Miller and his family is expected in Rankin Thursday.

During his career, he has worked at Frederick and Altus, Oklahoma; Wellington, Kansas, and Crowell, Sweetwater, San Angelo, Hamlin, Slaton and Southland, Texas, coming to Rankin from the latter location.

Bell says he had a funny feeling when he received the bulletin putting his job up for bids—that meant the end of 47 years of railroad work. But he says he's going to hang onto his railroad pocket watch and not worry about whether it's daylight saving time or not.

He also states that he wishes to express his appreciation to his many friends and customers for the very pleasant relationship he has enjoyed.

Over the years, he and Mrs. Bell have made a number of extensive trips from coast to coast and across Canada, but, he says, there are lots of places in Texas they want to see and are looking forward to doing some traveling by both auto and the remaining passenger trains. He and his wife hold lifetime passes on the Santa Fe.

As for plans for the future, they plan to maintain their home in Rankin—for awhile at least.

Vandals Hit Rankin Baseball Concessions

Vandals have apparently moved their attention to the concession stands at the baseball fields.

League officials said that both the Little League and the Pony League stands have been broken into recently and that one of the stands had had a large hole cut in the door. Another was entered by using a heavy prize to break a large bolt holding the door.

In Little League play, still led by the Yankees, the Cardinals got a measure of satisfaction as they handed the front runners their only loss of the season.

Upcoming play sees the Cards try the Yanks again Thursday in the first game with the Dodgers and Giants in the nightcap.

Monday, June 9, it will be the Giants vs. Yankees and Dodgers vs. Cardinals.
