SERVING THE INTERESTS OF RANKIN AND UPTON COUNTY

XXXIII—NUMBER 45

RANKIN (79778), UPTON COUNTY, TEXAS

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1969

Eddie Chiles to be featured speaker --

Rankin to host Concho Valley boy scout meet

At 7:30 p.m. Thursday, November 20, Rankin will host the awards banquet of the Concho Valley Boy Scouts. The meeting will be held at the elementary school cafeteria and upwards to two hundred scouts and adult workers are expected to be on hand.

Awards earned by boys in the troops within the association will be presented during the meeting and adults who have provided outstanding leadership will be honored.

The Concho Valley Council is composed of Troops from San Angelo on the east to Fort Stockton on the west to Del Rio in the south. Some 1500 boys are involved in the scouting work. Tickets to the affair are $2.25 and $2.75 and have been sold by the various troops involved.

Speaker for the evening will be Mr. H. E. (Eddie) Chiles, president and chairman of the board of The Western Company, West-ern, which now has head offices in Fort Worth, has operated out of Rankin since 1958 and Mr. Chiles has been a Rankin visitor on several occasions.

Born in 1916 at Itasca, Texas, he attended Itasca High School, Wentworth Military Academy and the University of Oklahoma, Norman, Oklahoma.

After graduating from the Uni-versity he worked for Reed Roller Bit Company, Houston, as a Petroleum Engineer, and then organized and founded The West-ern Company, in 1939, an oil well service company in Teagraves.

Beginning with one station and two trucks, the company now provides well services in acidizing, fracturing, logging, perforating, cementing and research. The com-pany now employs over 700 peop-ple and provides services from over 40 key locatings in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas and Louisiana.

Mr. Chiles is active in civic and professional organizations. He is a member of the API, AIME, Fort Worth Assn. of Petroleum Landmen, and the American Man-agement Assn. He is a director of the Mid-Continent Oil & Gas As-sociation, the Fort Worth Cham-ber of Commerce and Texas Law Enforcement and Youth Develop-ment Foundation. He is a past president of the Young Presidents Organization and a member of the Chief Executives Forum. In 1953 he was named Engineer of the Year, Permian Basin Chapter of the Society of Professional En-gineers.

Thanksgiving services planned

A community Thanksgiving ser-vice will be held at the First Methodist Church in Rankin on Sunday, November 23. Time will be at 7:00 p.m.

Bringing the Thanksgiving mes-sage will be Rev. J. C. Tankers-ley, pastor of the Rankin First Baptist Church. A choir, compos-ed of singers from the various churches in Rankin, will assist with the music.

Rev. Gordon Miller of the Me-thodist Church stressed that this is a community-wide program and that everyone is welcome to at-tend as well as participate in the choir if they so desire.

Those wishing to sing with the choir are asked to contact either Mr. Tommy Owens or Mr. Ron-nie Nowlin.

Develop into new industry for Rankin —

Time fiberglass business is busy place for sand tanks used in oil frack-ing, cowling for airplanes and had a good time in general.

"You can make just about any-thing with fiberglass," J. C. Sur-ber said. "It's very simple and you don't need a great deal of e-quipment. There's no limit to the uses that can be made of it."

Although it's still just a part-time business with the Surbers, they're reaching the point where part-time is taking a lot of time.

"We may make a deal to built 1000 of those gas tanks, J. C. told the News and that could turn into a pretty fair-sized job for someone.

J. C. Surber and son, Rex, display some of the products that have been made of fiberglass. He holds a gas tank for a pick-up while Rex has a wheel cowling for an airplane. A truck fender leans against the doorway.

The part-time business is now located in the Hogan Building on Main Street, having moved into larger quarters shortly after get-ting underway in their manufac-turing process.

Final football game of '69 upsets devils; changes made in schedule for 1970 season

Let the record show that the Sanderson Eagles are back on the win track in their series of long standing with the Rankin Red Devils. Last Friday night the visitors from the border city put on a determined effort and, assisted by fumbles and penal-ties on the part of their hosts, gained a 26-21 victory.

This marked only the fourth win for Sanderson over Rankin in the sixteen year series that began in 1952. It was the first time for the Eagles to score in five years.

As stated in several quarters, the Sanderson Eagle appears to be regaining some of its former talents on the gridiron and may well be a team to watch in the upcoming years.

Friday night's affair marked the end of the football season for the Red Devils and—for several opponents of long standing—1969 has also been their final meeting, at least for the time being. The 1970 schedule for Rankin has dropped Coahoma, Big Lake and Wall. In their places will be Eldo-rado, Wink and Stanton— all to be non-conference games. In dis-trict play, the same six teams will again compete next year.

Rankin has previously played all three of the newcomers, hav-

RHS band to Odessa for marching contest

That good ole Red Devil Band will get their first taste of com-petition Saturday when they en-ter the UIL Marching Contest in Odessa.

Departing Rankin at 8:00 a.m., Rankin will march at 10:48 at the W. T. Barrett Stadium. The group expects to be back home at a-bout 2 p.m.

Saturday's competition will be for Class A, B and Junior High Bands. Rankin will enter only the high school aggregation.

Also, at about 1:30 Saturday, the twirlers of the band will compete in solo performances.

Annual tournament cancelled by school

There will be no basketball to-urnament in Rankin this year. The annual affair, which has been played in December for the past thirteen years, was cancelled by approval of the school board when it was determined that suitable

The Rankin (Tex.) News—

moaning and groaning been hearing lately is mortification of the
gent in the country
pronouncements by Agnew. For the
in a good while, the ident majority has a
who is neither a radiant and who is saying the things that ought to said a long time ago.
ions from the liberals, ers and the pinkos is ical. They are saying ought to be hushed statements are design-the nation. Now that's y it's alright for the
and his ilk to make ents they wish in support of the liberal cause, the Reds or what have you, but, at the same time, it's bloody murder for anyone else to expouse opposing views. How warp-sided can you get?

Agnew has also said that the TV news commentators and some of the press have been guilty of slanting the news. Well, heck, I thought everybody knew that and I fail to see what all the yelling is about. He told it like it is.

Naturally the affected parties are now saying that Spiro is, in reality, calling for government censorship. He did nothing of the kind. In fact, he made no suggestions as to the remedy. And well he might not for there is no need for any sort of controls or actions.

The public is not as dumb as many of those guilty of news slanting are prone to believe.
As a whole, they haven't fooled too many folk for a good while.
It's the old story of giving them enough rope and let them hang themselves. They've done a pretty good job up to now and unless some changes are forthcoming, will only succeed in finishing the job to the point that a lot of people won't believe a news commentator when he gives the time of day.

I suppose it's natural but—in the newspaper field at least—the political leanings of the owners or controlling interests of the publication are reflected in their analysis of the news and in much of their straight reporting. Each day I get three daily newspapers and once a week, a dozen or so weeklies—plus a half dozen magazines. In their editorial policy—those that have one—can be found the leanings of their controlling powers.

The Angelo Standard Times is usually pro-Democratic and will generally go along with the liberals. The Odessa American is a hard right publication and makes no bones about it. The Fort Worth Star Telegram is—as a rule—more in line with what seems to me to be the thinking of a majority of Texas residents.

The Rankin News is—generally, confused.

All, under given circumstances, will do a little side-switching, depending on how their particular self-interest is involved. In other words, the liberals will be more conservative when it fits their cause and the conservatives have been known to sound pretty liberal in certain instances. But, as a general rule, all will pretty well follow a given "party line" and the reader need only understand the circumstances in order to get the real meaning and motive of stands taken by any specific publication.

As for Agnew, all he's done is to bring the mess out in the open and I say hoorah for him. It's about time someone had a few words of rebuttal to all the bunk that has been fed out since we started letting "commentators" do our thinking for us.

I think they're going to have to change their approach.

about it but haven't had time.

How comes all these people around the country are going into banks and making cash withdrawals of $10,000 to $30,000 and are not even depositors? Why, heck, sometimes a check of mine for $2.98 gets marked "Insufficient funds". It just don't seem fair.

Of course it could be something in the way these chaps making the withdrawals are going about it—using guns, bombs and stuff like that. But, at the same time, if they can be rude about it and get big hunks of money handed to them, it looks to me like anyone ought to be able to go up to the window and in a nice way ask for a ten or twenty without a big thing being made of it.

But then, high finance has always been over my head.

I'll say one thing for these guys with the guns: they're getting their hands on more money than the average newspaper editor makes in a month — what with high taxes and all, you know.

City posts reward with arson posters

On instruction of the Mayor and City Council, City Secretary Vacie Workman this week placed an order for posters to be printed indicating that The City of Rankin is offering a reward of $250 for the arrest and conviction of anyone guilty of arson in Rankin. The crackdown on fire-bugs is a requirement that must be met in order to get better fire insurance rates in Rankin. Printing and distribution of the posters is a "plus" item in figuring the key rate and actually deducts from the cost of fire insurance here.

The posters read: "NOTICE. A reward of Two Hundred Fifty and No/100 ($250.00) Dollars will be paid by the City of Rankin, for the arrest and conviction of any party or parties found guilty of arson within the corporate limits of the said City of Rankin."

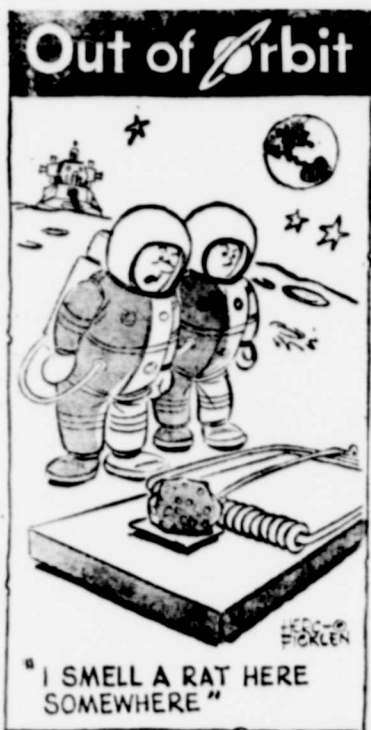

Signatures appearing will be those of the Mayor and the City Secretary.

Other means by which the key rate may be lowered in Rankin include inspections made by the fire department, regular fire drills and instruction for the firemen and the attendance of certain members of the department at approved state schools of instruction.

Other credits are given on the equipment available for fire fighting, the water reserve system, etc.

A news item earlier this year explained the efforts of the Rankin Volunteer Fire Department in meeting their requirements.

Game wardens hit hard at violators of Texas game laws

AUSTIN — Texas Parks and Wildlife Department game management officers cleared 1,814 cases from the books in September. Of these, 1,574 convictions were obtained.

The most numerous of the violations were those involving fishing with 653 convictions. Of these, 533 were for fishing without a license.

There were 375 water safety convictions of which 279 were for failure to have a U. S. Coast Guard approved life saving device for each yerson on board.

Hunting violation convictions of

The Rankin (Tex.) Nov. 20, 1970

296 were obtained; con fishing, 49; and trappan lation, one.

For the fiscal year 1969 Department cleared 19,30 and received $371,000.57 and court costs.

In September the total to the State treasury from and fish violations was $2,000.

it. After 25 years a wife becomes an indispensable woman. A wise husband then begins to treat her as a member of the family. He even quits insisting that she salute him whenever he comes into the room.

A mature wife has a lot of advantages over the young flighty bride. She may not look as glossy but she doesn't demand to be taken out every other night. The buttons she sews stay on longer. When she occasionally has to carry out the garbage she doesn't make a federal case out of it. She no longer yells about going home to mother if you overdo anything. Her biggest threat is: 'I'll tell your doctor on you.'

The meals she fixes don't taste like a misprint of an Armenian cook book. The old girl knows which dishes make you happy and which give you heartburn. She no longer whines, "you never listen to me." Instead, now and then, she'll even listen to you.

Yes, it takes a lot of time, trouble and understanding for a husband to take a fiberty-giberty young bride and turn her into man's greatest masterpiece. A perfect wife—nobly planned.

But in what more rewarding manner can a fellow spend his years?

HINTS for the HOMEMAKER

By Mrs. Louie S. Jeffers, County Home Demo. Agent

CHRISTMAS CLEANING —

Do your Christmas cleaning early. It helps to eliminate that last minute frenzy.

Prepare your home for the holidays at a leisurely pace—not with a last-minute crash program that will leave you limp and unable to enjoy the festivities. If you start early, proceed systematically, it won't seem like work at all; in fact, it will be fun to see all the holiday things again.

A good place to start is the linen closet. Check the holiday towel supply. Are holly-sprigged guests towels and dishtowels in good condition? They probably look dull and dusty after a year "on the shelf" so toss them into the washer to freshen them up. Terrycloth items need only to be folded when dry; however, any linen towels will need some ironing while still damp.

Undoubtedly, there will be overnight guests during the holidays—possibly unexpected guests—so be ready! Make sure that the sheet and pillow case situation is well in hand. Now's the time to weed out torn, frayed linens — which make fine dusting and polishing cloths, so save them for this purpose.

Now look over tablecloths and napkins. They were probably laundered before being put away last year but another quick sudsing will bring out their beauty. It's not a bad idea to stock up on extra napkins in red or green to harmonize with holiday prints.

Have you several pretty aprons for use by the extra help you'll have in the kitchen? Don't risk splashes and splatters on guests' holiday best, or your own for that matter!

Now, on to kitchen cabinets. Those gaily-patterned Christmas dishes and platters, Tom and Jerry cups, crystal goblets, and wine glasses inevitably have a coating of dust (it happens in the best of households), so bring out their sparkle again in a dishpan full of hot suds or a run through the dishwasher.

With all the accessories ready, remember that your home itself will be the background for this holiday sparkle. If it isn't immaculate, the tinsely glitter is dulled. Look your house over with a critical eye. Check those little things you've been neglecting unintentionally—perhaps picture and mirror frames are grimy, or a bookcase and its contents need cleaning. Are windows clear and brilliant as they should be?

Take care of these things before those last few hectic days, then you'll be able to enjoy Christmas with the serene spirit which this holiday deserves.

Coach looking for weight equipment

Coach George Boal this week issued a call for donations of weight lifting equipment, to be used in the school's program for athletes in junior high and high school. The equipment, if donated, will not be returned.

"If anyone has any items of this nature they're not using, we could certainly make good use of it," Boal said.

"We want to strengthen our boys—put some muscle and add some weight to them—as well as increase their agility," the coach explained.

Anyone having such equipment they wish to donate are asked to call either Coach Boal or the high school.

Tournament --

competition was not available for the coming affair.

"We had too many B teams entered," said Superintendent H. G. Adams.

"We had A teams from Big Lake, McCamey and Ozona and people like that don't want to have to play a B team from a small class B school," he pointed out.

The tournament had also been a financial drain to the athletic program over the past years, the superintendent explained.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Coleman of Comanche and Rockport visited Tuesday with Mrs. Bill Nix. She is the former Nelle Copeland, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Kenney Copeland, former Rankin residents, and the granddaughter of the late I. G. Yates.

RSH grad named to 69-70 Who's Who

Mr. H. Pettus Randall, publi- sher of "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges" in a recent letter to Bobby Glen Phil- lips, a student at Sul Ross, in- formed him of his selection for inclusion in the 1969-70 edition of the national publication. Phillips is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Phillips of the Midkiff area.

A 1966 graduate of Rankin High School, he is married to the former Fran Craighton and has enrolled in Sul Ross for the sum- mer semester to begin work on a Master's Degree.

The selection for listing in Who's Who is conferred annually upon outstanding student leaders from approximately 1000 colleges and universities in the United States. In selecting candidates, campus nominating committees are in- structed to choose those students whose academic standing, serv- ice to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities, and further potential are decidedly a- bove average.

Magazine features article on workshop
held in local schools

"Hillyard Floor-O-Scope", a publication with national distribu- tion, featured an article in their November issue on the Rankin Schools, the custodial staff and a recent workshop held here.

The article covered four pages in the magazine and contained a number of pictures made during the workshop, with many of the local people featured.

The two-day workshop was held July 10 and 11 and saw attend- ance from a number of West Texas schools in this area as well as personnel from hospitals, nurs- ing homes, churches, commercial buildings, and civic officials.

A representative of the Hillyard Company was in Rankin Monday and passed out complimentary copies of the publication.

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again in a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead. To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth away, reserved in heaven for you, who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the time.
