Red Devils Are Bi-District Champs

During much of the current season fans of the Rankin Red Devils have been impressed with the performance of the reserves when they have been called into the games, either to fill in for a sidelined regular or in an effort to hold down the scores in some of the games. Last Friday in the Bi-District encounter with Plains, Coach Turner and his staff had to use reserves and starters in a "patched up" line-up with some five starters either entirely out of action or seeing only limited duty.

And once again the Rankin squad proved that they do have depth as they moved the ball for

Film Showing to be at Park Building

Announcement was made this week to the effect that a film on cancer and various other diseases will be shown Friday, November 30 at the Rankin Park Building. Time will be at 10 a.m.

These showings are free to the public and all interested persons are invited to attend.

good yardage while shutting off the Cowboys numerous times inside scoring territory. Actually, the 18-16 score was little indication of how thoroughly the hard-hitting Red Devils dominated the contest as they came up with an outstanding team effort — not, perhaps, as polished as have been their previous outings but as noted by one fan, "when you roll up as many yards as they did and shut down the opposition, you must be doing something right."

And so it was. And with their win over Plains, the 1973 Red Devils became the first Rankin football team to advance to regional play since the team of 1955.

Holliday Big and Talented

When the Red Devils meet the Holliday Eagles in Snyder at 7:30 p.m. Friday for their regional game, it will be a match-up of a quick, small bunch against a big but somewhat slower power-type team. Holliday will be the largest team in size faced thus far by Rankin. They operate out of the Wishbone on offense and feature power in their fullback slot. They boast a number of players in the 200-pound and over area and have some very strong defensive linemen. If they have a weakness it would possibly be their lack of anyone with outstanding speed.

playing in Class B, put it on a Robert Lee eleven 40-21. At the regional level—which, at that time was as high as Class B was played, they lost to Rochester.

Booster Club Moves Date for Meeting

Rankin Booster Club has announced that this week's meeting is to be held on Tuesday, November 29, time and place to be the same as usual.

This change is being made in order to avoid a conflict with a girls basketball game.

Practically since the start of the season they have been rated as the No. 1 or 2 Class A team in Texas. One interesting note is that the Harris Power Rating has them pegged at 118 this week —

A pep rally will be held at 2:15 Friday afternoon in the gym. The Red Devils will leave for Snyder immediately following.

"It would sure help our boys to have a good turnout for this pep rally," Supt. A. C. Copeland said Wednesday in urging everyone who can possibly do so to be on hand.

WHAT GIVES —

For about the third or fourth time now vandalism and theft of property from the Girl Scout Hut over by the Elementary School has been reported. There have even been indications that an attempt has been made to burn it down.

There's something wrong here, folks. Somebody evidently has a kid or kids with a serious problem, one that goes beyond the natural inclination of youngsters to get into a little mischief for most of this damage has, apparently, been the work of the same person or persons and they would appear to have this thing about doing harm to the Girl Scout hut.

Maybe it is someone who is at the stage of not liking little girls and who will grow out of it later on—maybe not. In any case, this damage is entirely uncalled for and is an added expense and extra maintenance work for those who try to keep the building up and the Girl Scout program in

Naturally, this handistruction and theft has ted to the law, and e made investigations ing of this nature is ossible to stop unless happens to catch the y in the act and that aster said than done.
I don't think anyone is ack any heads" over
r. It simply needs to be stopped. For that reason, the folk who are working with the Girl Scouts are asking for a little help from the public. If any resident has any information that would help determine who is responsible for this vandalism, they are being asked to contact any one of the Scout workers. In my opinion, this would not be "ratting" on anyone, on the contrary, it could be that it would be doing the guilty party or parties a favor for I'm entirely serious when I say that they need help. It's not like Rankin's young people to do damage time after time to a place that is in more or less public use.

Let's see if we can't get it stopped and do everyone a favor at the same time.

HERE WE GO--

After about six months of talk about an energy crisis, we are apparently seeing the first active steps taken to do something other than just talk about it. Hopefully at least some of the measures announced this week by President Nixon will work and that some fuel will actually be saved.

However, like all bureaucratic plans which look pretty on paper, there are areas such as ours here in West Texas where the citizen is going to have to give up more than will those living in other parts of the country. One of the most obvious examples can be seen in the 50 mile speed limit.
In most of the Eastern states, a 50 mile drive is considered a trip away from home and a reduced speed limit would mean very little in time to these folk.

Out here in West Texas, 50 miles is almost a coffee-break drive and is generally made in a good bit less than the approximately one hour and ten minutes it will take to drive at 50 miles an hour. Further, much of the oil and gas that we're trying to increase the production of comes from this area and a 50 mile an hour speed limit is going to go a long way toward slowing down that production. There are only 24 hours in a day—the government planners haven't been able to change that as yet—and time is an important factor to practically all phases of work in the oil patch. A drilling crew out of Odessa going to a site over a 100 miles away, as many do, or a Halliburton mechanic on his way to fix a broken piece of equipment in Sonora, are not going to get much work done while put-tering along at 50 miles an hour trying to get there.

School children who already put in long hours riding buses to and from school will now have to spend even more time on the road. A rancher will use up a good part of his day going from one ranch to another. A pumper who may have to drive over 300 miles a day to see about all his wells is going to miss some for the simple reason that he could not get there. A salesman will not be able to see a customer and deliveries of goods and products will be even slower than they are now. I'd venture to say that the job of a Highway Patrolman is going to be a busy one in West Texas. It's not that the folk here won't co-operate, it just that you can't get to some places out in West Texas at 50 mph.

There is some good however.
If everyone is forced to drive at 50 miles an hour, the U. S. Mail will get delivered twice as fast as at the present.

* Dedicated to the proposition that '73 is the "Year of the Red Devils."

DEVILS MADE 'EM DO IT —

So what do you say about a game like last Fridays? Frankly, I see little need to rehash it at all for from the size of the crowd yelling for the Red Devils, it was apparent that everyone who was the least bit interested was there to see it in person. I don't think there's ever been a bigger gathering of current fans, ex-Rankinites and former RHS students at any one time in the 21 years I've been following the team than there were at Andrews Friday.

People who had been away for Thanksgiving to far places in Texas and Oklahoma came back just to see the game. Hunters from trips in New Mexico and other far-out places were then — some went back to their hunting that night. And there were college students from all over the place. Support is one commodity that is not in short demand as far as the Red Devils are concerned.

As for the game — and frankly I thought it was a little one-sided in Rankin's favor — it was all anyone could ask for with excitement enough for almost an entire season. Many paragraphs could be written about the play of the Red Devils, and I thought the Cowboys gave it a good effort, too. They were just up against a more hard-nosed ball club than they had apparently been accustomed to playing and things got a little more physical than they may have liked. At any rate I hope I never see a Rankin team run off the field with their tails between their legs after a game, as we all saw last Friday. It's one thing to get whipped, but when you duck your head and refuse to even extend a hand to your opponent, that's something else. At least two of the Cowboys were men enough to stick around — and one of them, their No. 8, probably had every right to depart the area immediately if anyone did for he had been thoroughly "massaged" all night by the Red Devils; still, he stuck around to the end and that marks him as a competitor of the first class.

I'm not belittling the Plains team for, certainly, they felt bad about not winning; but if you will recall, every Rankin player remained on the field last year until Plains was awarded their trophy. I think they owed us that same courtesy. It just makes you a little more proud of Rankin teams and the way they represent their school and community.

THE BIGGIES —

And now comes the big, bad Holliday team, undefeated and ranked at the top of the list in Texas Class A football most of the year on everybody's poll — except 4th & 10's but then, to quote the Red Devil coaching staff, "we're prejudice — we think our boys can beat anybody."

Naturally, no one can deny the fact that the Holliday team is a good one for they have the record to prove it. They are big and they are talented and experienced and they are certainly worthy of being considered top contenders or they wouldn't be playing Rankin Friday night — there being only 16 teams left out of almost 300 that started the season.

On the other hand, teams with fancy records have not exactly impressed the Red Devils so far this year considering their last two opponents had lost only one game between them — until they met up with a bunch of tough cookies who wear the Maroon and White. Nor has size been any great factor. The Devils have been pretty well bested in this department all year and have apparently found that the bigger they are, the more places there are to hit them — and you can get more people in on the action — another trade mark of the RHS wrecking crew.

Sooner or later the Red Devils knew they were going to have to take on some of the highly-rated elevens and it would seem to me, that right now is as good a time as any to see how they respond to a little aggressive-type football. Holliday may win the ball game; they haven't yet; and to the Red Devils I think I know the sentiments of their fans well enough to say that we're behind you, win or lose—if you win, certainly we will all rejoice with you for you will have probably eliminated one of the best. If you lose, keep your head up and don't make any excuses. You won't have to—not to us, your fans, for we know you will have given it your best shot and that you will have played the game with all the spirit, sportsmanship and courage that it demands.

Other events of the months included nature hikes, learning songs and the memorizing of the Brownie Promise.

And as one further note, I would quote Walter Hagen, a pro golfer—naturally—of some years past who was also a philosopher of sorts (you've either got to be a philosopher or nut to play golf) who said in commenting on the game of life "don't forget to smell the flowers." In his case, he was saying, have some fun—don't get up tight about it. Enjoy the game; that's why you're playing it in the first place.

PICKINGS --

Naturally, at this point, 4th & 10 is going all the way with the Red Devils and as for who wins or loses any of the other games is of little importance since you have to win 'em all to get to the top of the mountain. It would be sorta nice if Eldorado and Rankin could meet again somewhere down the line, but it really does not matter. We probably all learned a lesson last year that you take them Friday by Friday and you don't look ahead.

I believe Rankin can put three touchdowns on the boards against the Holliday Eagles. Holliday is, indeed, going to have to really be No. 1 to score more than twice unless they are some powerful. A score of about 18-16 in favor of Rankin seems to be the right pick.

And get ready, fans. You are going to see them Eagle feathers fly Friday night. It's reported in Rankin that the Eagles are not impressed by the Red Devils and plan to polish us off in short order. That may change.

One final note: it has been learned that of the first 5 wins chalked up this season by Holliday—those five teams only won one game each all season. That sorta reminds you of the 9-0 record of Balmorhea.

Coach Turner reported Wednesday that all of the starters would be ready for duty Friday night, including Cole, Copeland, Mathews, Plagens and Lindsey. These were among those who saw either limited or slowed action against Plains last week.

one point less than the 119 held by Rankin last year the Red Devils were rated No. 2 team in Texas by before they fell to Plains. has made Holliday a 12 favorite over Rankin for encounter.

For the Red Devils, a new situation. Most of this year they have had that had them outmaneuvered and often had the better of their last two opponents and Balmorhea had lost game out of their last 19 outings—until they Red Devils.

Coach Turner probably game in prospective Red Devils today when he said that "we respect the fact that they are a ball club, but our boys are convinced that they can't be beaten. We're actually without a little respect for themselves and they're going to show us that they're whatever."

In practice sessions the Rankin squad has to be loose and not awed in least by the fact that they are the underdogs. Several boys who have been injured were looking for a proved and workouts were ed. Coach Turner also in that the Red Devils were planning any special tactic Friday's game but would pretty much to what they tried to do all year—give the best shot and try to get points on the boards to win game.

And if optimism is then the Red Devils are in fine shape in that for their fans were in this week and the most comment heard all been. "Man, I wish Friday would hurry up and And it will—eventually.
