THIRTY-NINTH YEAR

SUDAN, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS WEDNESDAY, MAY 29, 1963

WOODWORK BY DALTON

IF YOU THINK prices of sugar are high, just wait until after Aug. 24 and you renew your auto liability insurance. The legislature once more has tacked on more compulsory insurance, and apparently it is a race with the federal social security agency to see who can get away with the most increases before the people finally openly revolt.

Rep. Bob Fairchild of Center, who surely must make more money than I do, sponsored a bill to raise the bodily injury insurance or security requirements under the driver financial responsibility law from $5,000 for one person and $10,000 for two or more to double those amounts.

Incredible as it seems, the bill passed both houses. Twelve senators recorded "no" votes after it was passed by voice vote. In the house, it was close, 68-67, with speaker Byron Tunnell breaking the tie.

No one will ever have to remind me not to vote for Tunnell or Fairchild or anyone else I find who approved the measure. I do not know how Sen. Andy Rogers or Rep. Billy Clayton voted on the bill.

Argument for the bill was that court judgments in personal injury cases often exceed $5,000. They sometimes exceed $25,000 too, I expect, so look for more increases two years from now if they can muster enough idiots to vote for it.

Argument against the bill, voiced by Rep. Eligio de la Garza of McAllen, was that 35 per cent of the drivers cannot afford to carry liability insurance at present rates. So, he said, there will be even more uninsured motorists on the highways after the Fairchild law takes effect.

Estimates are that the average driver will pay about $5 more a year in premiums. That isn't much, except that it's added on top of a premium already far too high, and one which is likely to go on up.

We do pay a lot for sugar, but at least we get something sweet out of it.

HISTORICAL EVENT — The Hood Hotel was recognized last Friday by the Texas Historical Survey Committee as one of the state's landmarks, when Mrs. S. D. Hay, left, presented a plaque to Mrs. R. S. Gatewood, who in turn presented it to Mrs. Alton Hood, second from left. The plaque went to the hotel in recognition that it is the earliest Sudan structure still in use. Mrs. Gatewood is president of the 1935 Study Club whose efforts brought the hotel to the state group's attention. Just behind Mrs. Gatewood is Mrs. Joe West, and to her right is Mrs. Joe Foster. Inset shows a closer view of the plaque, which will occupy a permanent place at the hotel. About 25 persons attended Friday's ceremony, including Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Kelly of Earth. Kelly is chairman of the Lamb County Historical Survey Committee. (Beacon-News Photo)

McAdams' No-Hitter Hands Braves First Loss

Royce McAdams of the Amherst Cubs pitched a no-hitter against the league-leading Amherst Braves Monday night as the Cubs walloped the previously unbested Braves 11-1 and moved into a tie with the Braves for first place.

In other Intercity Little League action last week, the Sudan Dodgers moved up with two wins, 19-4 over the Sudan Angels and 7-3 over the Sudan Cards Monday night. The rampaging Cubs racked up the Cards earlier, 21-1.

McAdams struck out 15 batters Monday night, but lost his shut-out when he walked David Hiem of the Braves and Hiem scored on two errors. Braves pitcher Pat Duffy gave up six hits, including doubles by the Cubs' Darrell Mootes and Rodney Maxfield.

The Dodgers' 7-3 win over the Cards, who had beaten the Dodgers earlier this season, was behind the pitching of Damon Provence. For the Cards, Dusty Rudd pitched four innings and Ramon Salinas two.

Public Meet Set Thursday On Integration, Finances

Taxpayers in the Sudan School District Thursday night will get a final chance to voice their opinions before some kind of action is taken by the school board on the issues of possible integration, finances, and problems related to both.

A public meeting has been called for 8 p. m. Thursday at the school cafeteria. School board president Lee Roy Fisher said he hopes for a good turnout, "because we really would like to discuss this thing openly with everyone concerned, and we want to try to answer any questions anyone has, and to consider any suggestions anyone has regarding any angles or alternatives to the problems facing the school district."

The financial problem is an old one, as the school district is winding up the year approximately $30,000 in the red, and the present tax rate of $1.50 will just take care of the budgeted expenses for coming years, leaving nothing to pay off the deficit. An earlier attempt to provide an answer to that problem fell flat when voters in the district rejected a proposal (Senate Bill 116) which would permit the district to levy a maintenance tax with a maximum ceiling of $1.50 per $100 valuation, with the interest and sinking fund added to that. The board had planned to levy a tax of about $1.60 total, but the vote killed that.

Thursday night's discussion is expected to include the possibility of calling another election on Senate Bill 116, rather than accept the less desirable alternative of raising valuations across the board.

The integration problem was brought to a crisis by a recent visit of the accreditation committee of the Texas Education Agency. The committee recommended that the schools either be integrated—at least in the upper grades—or a new school be built for Negro students.

DYANNE CURRY NAMED HEAD MAJORETTE

Dyanne Curry has been named head majorette of the Sudan Hornet band for the coming year. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Curry, she will be a member of the Sudan Senior class.

Other majorettes named were Kathy Minyard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Minyard and Vickie Masten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Masten.

Miss Grain Sorghum of the Nation, Sandra Sue Stargel from Memphis, Texas, welcomes grain sorghum seed from Argentina. In past years seed has been exported by the U. S. for planting in Argentina. During the 1963 season, the active demand for certain varieties prompted the shipment of top quality Argentine produced seed to the U. S. This seed was recently harvested and quickly sent to Lubbock, Texas. After grading, treating and re-bagging it has been moved into the distribution channels. Although the seed is grown in Argentina it is genetically the same as that produced in the United States. Look for the tag "Grown in Argentina," in your shipment this year. It is an example of greater agricultural cooperation between American countries.

Miss Stargel is a Freshman at Texas Tech in Lubbock, Texas.

ATTEST: Ernest L. Owens, District Clerk Lamb County, Texas

Spring and summer months always bring a rash of boating accidents. Tragedy accompanies many of them. Others are just plain fun. Some are downright stupid! Accidents happen to large and small boats alike. Size doesn't seem to matter. For instance on a Central Texas lake very recently a party of four were in a fast boat, having a wonderful time. The boat had lots of power in its outboard and the driver was "showing off" how he could take a short turn. He made the turn, all right. But it was "over." As he whipped the boat around, the back end went down too far. He picked up so much water the boat was swamped before he knew what had happened. Fortunately another boat was nearby and rescued the four passengers. But they lost a lot of equipment. One night I was loading my boat on the trailer. I had set the brakes on the car, but the ramp was wet and slick. When I started winching the boat onto the trailer the whole outfit—car, trailer and boat—started sliding back into the water. And it didn't stop! Boat, automobile and everything went into the water. The boat floated away but later was recovered. The trailer hitch broke loose and the car settled down stop the trailer. It was a weird looking sight, with twin beams from the burning headlights shining from the water. It was costly and it taught me a lesson. Now when I am loading a boat I always scotch the wheels of the automobile. Up on Lake-o-Pines in East Texas recently three fishermen loaded their gear into a brand new 14-foot cartop boat which they had hauled 300 miles. The boat weighed 90 pounds. But 500 pounds of manpower got into the boat. When the motor started up, the front end scooped up water so fast it almost swamped the boat. The man up front got in the middle seat and that helped some. But the boat generally was so unsteady they didn't enjoy their fishing too much. They learned this lesson: a cartop boat is fine, but don't sacrifice safety for convenience and weight. Two men can handle a 125 or 150 pound cartop boat almost as easily as a 90 pound boat. And the larger boat offers more comfort and more safety. It also is a good idea to "keep your head" in a boat. Another fellow I know was standing up while fishing out of a boat that was absolutely safe. The wind blew it against a tree with a resulting bump. For some reason he jumped straight up... and into water well over his head. He held onto his rod and reel and climbed back into the boat without ever stopping movement, giving his two fishing buddies the biggest laugh of the day. But it taught all three a good lesson. Another real danger in boating is going too fast in water where there might be some obstruction beneath the surface. In some of the larger lakes, like Buchanan, there are huge rocks, some of them just under the water line. If you hit one of these rocks or an old log going too fast, you are certain to have trouble. Despite all warnings, however, most of us still will be careless. Before the summer season is over there will be too many names in the obituary columns as the result of boating accidents. So let me repeat: Be sure of your boat before you go onto the water; take stringers waters easily and be sure you have approved life preservers. Preferably they should be worn, but at least they should be handy enough for every person to grab one in the event of an accident. Don't stand up in a boat unless you absolutely have to. And above all—don't ride in any boat that is overpowered or overloaded. Both are dangerous!

New Luminous Road Safety Aid

CHICAGO — Lovely Christine Bradley — Miss U. S. Saf-Sign demonstrates eye-catching signs which could prevent highway accidents and even loss of life to motorists. The sign is a corrugated board, printed in black and luminous red, and folds flat into 15 by 14 inch size for easy storage in the trunk of the car. When trouble strikes on the highway, Saf-Sign is quickly and easily assembled into a pyramid, points out V. J. Giesler, president of V. J. Giesler Co., which manufactures Saf-Sign here. The messages on its three sides — "Car Stalled," "Please Help," and a pictorial warning showing a luminous red octagon framed in black with a large black bull's eye — can be seen by oncoming motorists as far away as 200 feet.

FORMER SUDAN MAN CATCHES TOP FISH

All told, he caught that day in three hours, 45 minutes, seven ling weighing a total of 153 pounds, plus a 13-pound jack-fish and 64 trout. The record catch of the season was topic of a feature story in the May 19 issue of the Waco Herald-Tribune.

Speedway Excitement — At Home

There's a new boom on the hobby market that's bringing a thrill-a-second into thousands of American homes.

It's a craze for table-top automobile speedways. These miniature Le Mans type racing roads use realistic models of sports cars, stock cars and jacked up racing cars which whiz around a slotted track driven by remote control.

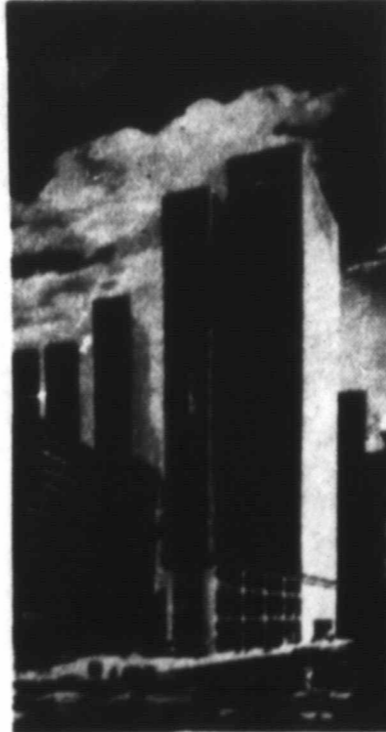

Speed-happy auto fans can whip their streamlined chariots over hairpin turns, and zoom down straightaways like Barney Oldfield and Sterling Moss for hours on end — all in the comfort and safety of their own living rooms.

Even know of a group of electronics engineers who gather in each others' homes every weekend for parlor auto racing competitions that chase away their work-week tensions.

There are also model monorail systems for more futuristic speed demons. And people with a soft spot for the past get similar enjoyment from fast model trains.

Many living room raceway fans will want to make decorative models of their favorite cars for mantle-pieces and bookshelves. Easy-to-assemble kits make it possible to construct scores of different scale model autos from plastic or wooden parts.

4-H MEMBERS FOCUS ON CITIZENSHIP
Spur Drive For Informed Young Citizens
In an open letter to 4-H Club members throughout the nation, President Kennedy said, "Today, a citizenry of all ages — informed and in action — is more important than ever to the strength and welfare of our nation."
And to be well informed and active citizens of the U. S. is the prime objective of 2.3 million 4-H Club boys and girls. Their theme for the year, "Citizenship in Action" was launched last November during the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago.
Nearly an entire day was given to a general discussion of what constitutes citizenship in this age of cold wars, exploration of outer space, communication satellites and the like.
Being well informed on social, political and economic issues was the foremost qualification for citizenship stated during the session. Education, understanding and a willingness to assume responsibility also were considered prime requisites for intelligent and effective citizenship.
The two young people shown in the photograph are examples of vigorous, purposeful American citizens. Jacky Strickland, 20, is a student at the University of Florida and 1962 winner of a national 4-H leadership award. Miss Emily Jean Thomas, 19, is a national winner of the 4-H achievement award and a student at Radford College, Virginia. Both received $400 scholarships.
These 4-H Club members have a long record of initiative, service and dependability. They are well informed citizens active in their communities and public affairs. They have thousands of county, state, national and international products of 4-H training and environment.
At a recent 4-H meeting, citizenship was defined as the "attending process of education, this concept lies in the clubs doing a method applied to all 4-H projects and activities. During a 4-H Club membership that could span as much as 10 years, members steadily add to their knowledge and improve their skills.
Along the way, individual enterprise is recognized and rewarded. Educational trips, special training courses and college scholarships are among the awards.
These 4-H extras have been provided for more than four decades by leading business firms through arrangements made with the National 4-H Service Committee and the Cooperative Extension Service. This year nearly $150,000 in scholarships will be awarded to county, state, national and former 4-H Club members by some 50 donors. Among these private business and educational enterprises are Ford Motor Co. Fund, International Harvester Co., Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. Inc., Standard Brands Incorporated, Kellogg-McCormick Corp., Coats & Clark Inc., Oliver Corporation, Curtin Company, Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc., Westinghouse Educational Foundation, Hercules Powder Co., Allied Chemical Corp., Arcadian Products Dept., General Foods Corporation, Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Top Fashion — Tiny Price

Understatement, that symbol of fashion elegance, has an added virtue when linked to a price tag. Voilà! Fresh-as-spring Paris fashions now rate extra raves for their low-keyed cost.

One of the most beautiful examples is this soft focus suit from the spring collection of Claude Riviere. Mme. Riviere's belief in uncluttered, understated clothes that rely on line, fit and fabric for their elegance is what makes her fashions so wearable, anywhere in the world. Here she interprets the over-boussé look with gentle shaping in fashion's number one fabric and there's no fooling about "the linen look." This one's the nonpareil original, 100% pure imported Irish Moygashel linen, fully lined in matching crepe. More fashion highlights: the narrower set-in sleeves, the hand-bound buttonholes, the touch of navy with watermelon red or brown with beige.

Wearing the famous Faubourg St. Honoré label to herald its design source, the suit was manufactured in the U.S.A. to meet Sears and Mme. Riviere's exacting standards for fit and workmanship. Like the other suits, dresses, coats and accessories in Claude Riviere's collection, this fashion is exclusive in the U.S.A. with Sears, Roebuck and Co. Its price? Under $30!

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By VERN SANFORD

Each year many Texans, and others too, like to visit the Big Bend National Park in West Texas.

An even greater number will go there this year because more facilities now are available and there are new roads.

One road goes into the mysterious Santa Elena Canyon of the Rio Grande. Another basin road ties the canyon into the little town of Presidio... another gateway into Mexico.

Big Bend National Park is a mighty expanse, covering more than 700,000 acres of mountains and deserts. Altitude ranges from 2,000 to nearly 8,000 feet on rugged peaks.

It is touched for more than 100 miles by the Rio Grande River. Just across the river is Mexico... the land of mahana.

Although there is considerable snow in the Big Bend Park in the winter, it is even more glamorous in the spring. Then the whole desert explodes with beautiful blooming

May is the month when wild flowers are in greatest profusion. Then too the weather is not too steaming for comfortable travel or for exploration among the wilds of the vast area.

You approach Big Bend National Park across a desert, with rugged mountains in the background.

Nature hasn't been too kind to this country. In fact it frequently is referred to as Creation's scrap pile because of the deep arroyos, exposed layers of clay and rock and the mountains pushing skyward.

The Rio Grande River makes three tremendous cuts or gorges as it meanders between the two countries. These canyon walls, some of them more than 1,000 feet straight up, represent the erosion of centuries.

Big Bend National Park is reached over U. S. Highway 90, which links San Antonio and El Paso. It is 410 miles from San Antonio, 323 miles from El Paso.

Alpine is the nearest town of any size, and it is 81 miles away.

Marathon is the southern entrance to the park, a distance of 39 miles from the highway to the park entrance near Persimmon Gap, and 70 miles from the park headquarters.

There are many trails, foot and horseback, within the park. Most of them start at Panther Junction, park headquarters.

Panther Junction provides a wonderful view of the basin area from an altitude of 5,800 feet. Here also will be found cottages for rent, a store, restaurant and campground.

Also at Panther Junction is a trailer park. However, trailers cannot make the drive into the Basin area, because of the elevation of the roads.

One of the most interesting side trips is the Lost Mine trail along Lost Mine Ridge. This 14-mile round trip affords a magnificent panorama of the vastness of this great country.

There are picnic sites and campsites available in other places in the park, offering facilities for those who want to spend the night out in the open.

Near Boquillas Canyon, 35 miles from the Basin and close to the eastern boundary of the Park, is Rio Grande Village. Here is an irrigated desert area and campsites, with boats and horses for rent to those who want to explore farther.

Information on the Big Bend National Park may be obtained by writing the Chamber of Commerce at Alpine. If you've never been there, plan a trip this year for your family outing.

by Margie Blake, Carnation Teen Committee

No one's happy when she's hippy, and if you've acquired that hip-happy look from long winter afternoons of inactivity and indulgence, now is the time to start the battle of the bulge. Summer is coming and last year's bathing suit surrounding this winter's extra pounds will make you the neighborhood beach bink, while buying sport clothes one size larger is definitely demoralizing.

So you know all this. You're already on that diet your mother uses, approved by your family doctor, and you're even getting up five minutes early to exercise so that you can firm up the flesh as you peel off the pounds. And you still haven't eliminated an inch because this is the partying time of year and you don't want to win first prize for giving out with the largest number of No-Thank-You's in the smallest amount of time.

You can still be a demon dieter and still keep it a secret if you keep one thing in mind. No one will notice you're exercising won't-power if YOU DON'T TELL THEM. Guys and gals gather for fun, not to count the number of calories, cake and canapes you—or anyone else—eats.

So accept the first glass of soda or punch, take one sip and put it down. When you're Partyburgers are low-calorie hamburgers with a clever assortment of ingredients blended together by evaporated milk which keeps the ground beef juicy and prevents crumbling. Have a Lazy Susan full of hot and cold toppings: hot sauerkraut, baked beans, cold relish, tomatoes, etc. Add a salad for after and fruit for dessert and you'll have a pretty menu.

To make six servings of Partyburgers, combine 1/2 cup (small can) undiluted Carnation evaporated milk, 1 egg, 1 1/2 pounds lean ground beef, 1/4 cup fine cracker crumbs, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/4 cup finely chopped onion, and 1/4 cup finely chopped green pepper. Blend together until well mixed. Form meat mixture into 12 thin patties (about 1/2 cup each). Place each patty on hamburger bun half, covering completely. Place Partyburgers on broiler pan. Broil 5 to 7 minutes (or to taste).

The Carnation Teen Committee, made up of teens in schools across the country, makes suggestions for this column. If you have an idea, or want a Teen Party Idea Booklet, write to CTC, 194 E. 38th Street, New York 16, N. Y.

All About Dogs

Feeding The Mature Dog
Dog owners take great care in feeding puppies the proper diet. As a dog matures his dietary needs change but there are still basic principles of feeding which must be followed to keep him in the best of health.

Most important in feeding mature dogs is that the food be completely nutritious and that it be served in proper amounts.

An inadequate or deficient diet for an adult dog not only causes poor body condition and rough hair coat, but also lowers the body's resistance to bacterial disease.

Experts at the Purina Dog Care Center recommend this general rule for feeding a dry ration to grown dogs: one-half ounce of dog food per pound of body weight per day.

Following this rule, a 32-pound dog would get 16 ounces of dry dog food daily. However, it should be emphasized that dogs vary widely in their food requirements depending on age, size, activity and other factors.

Once-a-day feeding is sufficient for adult dogs. It is generally desirable to feed about the same time, usually in the evening since this may tend to keep the dog quieter during the night.

Chicken and cheese combine to make a delicious and colorful baked dish. This easy recipe is from Lea & Perrins' new recipe book, the "Be Original" Cook Book.

Kittens to Cats

by H. JACK MIDDLETON

Keeping Puss Groomed

Puss makes instinctive efforts to keep herself groomed. Every time she licks her paws and rubs them over her face and body, she's proudly applying her feline makeup.

Just the same, she can use some grooming help from you. You should begin grooming puss from the time she's a little kitten. You'll be getting her accustomed to a daily routine of combing and brushing.

At the Purina Cat Care Center in St. Louis, Mo., we recommend using different kinds of equipment for the long-haired and short-haired cats.

A strong steel comb and stiff bristle brush should be used if your cat is long-haired. The comb is used to prevent and remove hair tangles. The brush, applied with long firm strokes from head to tail, will keep loose hairs to a minimum, protect furniture and clothing, and prevent puss from swallowing too many hairs—which could cause formation of a hair ball in the stomach.

For short-haired cats, use combs and brushes made of rubber or plastic. If your short-haired pet protests against being stroked, stroke her firmly with the moistened palms of your hand instead, or use a piece of silk or chambray leather.

Cats should be bathed only on the rare occasions when they have managed to get into tar or some other toxic substance. Cats usually keep themselves clean, and baths tend to dry out their coats and remove natural oils.

A very dusty cat can be cleaned with a damp towel. If a bath is absolutely necessary, use only warm water and mild unperfumed soap. Rinse puss thoroughly, rub her well with a warm towel, and keep her in a warm draft-free room until she is completely dry.

Mrs. Testerman Shower Honoree

Mrs. Harold Testerman was the honoree for a Pink & Blue shower held Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. E. E. Crow.

Highlight of party decorations was a Ming tree bearing baby cupid. Pink and white were used for the party color scheme and both the registering and serving tables were covered with pink cloths.

Mrs. Dorman Chester presided at the punch service and Mrs. Billy Mack Templeton registered the guests.

The hostess gift to Mrs. Testerman was assorted items including a car bed, diaper pail, and bath tub.

Hostesses were Mesdames Crow, Chester, Ed Williams, W. V. Terry, Gilbert Masten, J. E. Davidson, Joe Ross, L. F. Meeks, Doyk Tom-ll, R. W. Bowman, L. L. Olds, H. H. Olds, J. W. Olds, J. B. Bottoms, Leola Clark and Linda Hartin.

CARRIERS TO DISTRIBUTE LIVESTOCK SURVEY CARDS

Postmaster Ken Minyard this week reminded rural patrons of the Sudan Post Office to be on the lookout for June Livestock Survey cards. Next week, mail carriers will leave survey cards in a sample of boxes along their routes.

"USDA bases livestock and poultry estimates on replies to this survey," Minyard explained. "It is important for everyone who gets a card to fill it out and return it to the carrier. This way, USDA gets a representative sample of the area's livestock and poultry holdings."

Carriers assisting with the survey are: Earl B. Hutchinson, Route 1; A. A. Shuttleworth, Route 2; Ruth Williams, Star Route.

SIGHTS TO SEE IN TEXAS

There's plenty to see in Texas, wherever you may roam on a holiday jaunt or on a vacation trip. Clockwise from the lower left hand corner, some of the impressive sights to see in Texas are: The Big Bend, some of the most striking scenery in the state; Guadalupe Peak, highest point in Texas at 8,751 feet; the Palo Duro Canyon, camping grounds for Indian tribes in frontier days; East Texas oil fields, biggest of them all; the 570-foot San Jacinto Monument, commemorating decisive battle of Texas history; Gulf Coast Beaches, some of the finest in the world; the Alamo, "Cradle of Texas Liberty," and in the center of the state, Texas Longhorn Cavern, biggest cave in the state and third largest in the world, one of Texas' most spectacular natural wonders. Sightseeing is fun in Texas.

GINNERS RECEIVE "MIKE" TESTING APPLICATIONS

First step in providing cotton farmers with the new "mike" testing service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture has been taken by the Lubbock Cotton Clipping Office.

Instructions for applying for this marketing service were mailed to 381 ginners in this territory, according to W. K. Palmer of the Lubbock office.

Also, a booklet of questions and answers about "mike" testing, pictures of the scientific instrument—the micronaire—and how it operates, have been sent to ginners to help them explain the service to their customers.

"Ginners are the key people in making the "mike" testing service available to cotton farmers," Palmer emphasized, "because it's up to them to apply for it and to handle the fee of 8 cents per sample."

HUMAN CLOCK: Coal mine research supports Princeton theory that body rhythms of sugar, gland, temperature, night-day, other levels must be simulated on space trips. TRANSPLANT KEY: Human organ grafting "takes" for much longer periods, thanks to use of chemical amethopterin in complex process. PAIN FLUID: New York volunteers who submitted arms to pinching, crushing, heat and electricity may ease suffering of millions. Their sores produced "pain substance" being studied for anti-pain effect. LONG SLEEP: Research in artificial hibernation, first developed for extremely ill, is spurred by aeromedics trying to reduce space traveler's body needs. Cooling "pulse mattress" being tried with drug combination. NATURAL ENEMIES: Over half-million weedy acres in West cleared by imported beetles.

SUCCESSFUL FAILURE: Birth control chemical rejected by company for human use is effectively birth-controlling bird pests. NTH DEGREE: Chemistry of nerves and muscles is advanced with device which measures temperatures in millionths of a degree. "SAFE" TUMORS: Some fish in every trout hatchery in U.S. have cancer, but survey shows no human hazard. MORE OR LESS: There may be more livestock in underdeveloped nations as result of chemical which keeps stored sperm cells alive for long periods without refrigeration. Another substance causes pregnant sheep to resorb its fetus. FACE THERAPY: Criminal habituality is allegedly reversed by Midwest plastic surgeon who has straightened face deformities of 1,300 convicts.

CREATURES OF DISTINCTION: Individuality is not exclusive human trait. Texas scientists find testolera, occasional imbibers and full-time drunks among chicks offered beer; finicky eaters, gluttons, athletic types and lazy softies among rats in similar tests. ROSY ROSES: Florists are dusting tranquilizers on plants to retard growth in timing sales for Easter and other holidays. BUGGED SCHEDULE: Germless apartment at U. of Illinois not ready as reported in last month's "Soundings". Construction problems delaying occupancy by two years.

Scripture: Acts 4:12; St. John 3:16; 19:30; 17:4; Titus 3:3-8.

The good news of the gospel of the Jesus Christ is so wonderful and so joyful that it spills over from a full heart into the lives of others. Sometimes we wonder how to tell it, how to witness, how to make known this wonderful news of Eternal Life, must tell it over and over again that Jesus may be revealed to those who are lost and dying without Jesus Christ.

Jesus Saves! This is the secret, which is truly secret only from those who will not believe God. God's Word says that He gave His only begotten Son that whoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have Eternal Life.

Jesus has already paid all the price of death (which sin causes) and shed His blood for your sins and mine. "It is finished"—God's plan for man's salvation from sin, death and hell, had all requirements fulfilled in Christ. Our faith to believe it, God's grace to provide a way and His mercy to receive us, is the way into life eternal. But we must believe with more than our mind—we must believe with our mind, our will (our soul), and with all our strength.

Christ, the Risen, ever-living Lord, is now sitting at the right hand of God, making intercession for you and me. And His Promise is to Return for us who believe and love Him! This is our Blessed Hope—the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ (Titus 2:13).

Will you believe God? Will you accept Jesus as Your Saviour and Lord? Since you then have Eternal Life through your acceptance of Jesus, will you seek to follow God, guided by His Word, the Bible, and by His Spirit? Will you, since you are with Christ to inherit the Kingdom, practice in good works what you learn through the blessing of the Holy Ghost in prayer worship and fellowship, and from God's Word? Will you study to show yourself approved unto God, that you may become more like Jesus.

Jesus Saves! Take Him now, for He is yours when you are His! Jesus Saves! This is the way, the only way, into abundant, eternal life. This is our message of Life, Love and Joy!

Every dollar in our possession represents a trust committed to us by our Heavenly Father.

Not all of us can be brilliant, but any of us can be faithful.

Newest, Coolest Spring Delight

Spring is a bright, bustling season—time for Whipped Banana Orange Pudding, a new taste treat developed by the home economists of Carnation Company. It's so easy, so good, and so inexpensive. The secret is Carnation, the milk you can whip like cream, and it costs only one half as much.

Carnation Evaporated Milk has been an important ingredient in America's cooking and baking since before 1903. This spring Carnation Company is introducing a new can label in full color featuring spectacular new illustrated recipes. Use nutritious evaporated milk as it comes from the can or diluted equally with water whenever recipes call for milk. It's fine for cream soups, casseroles, puddings, over cereals and in your coffee, too!

WHIPPED BANANA ORANGE PUDDING (Makes 6 to 8 servings)

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatine
- 1 package (3 1/2 ounces) vanilla pudding and pie filling mix
- 1 large can (1 1/2 cups) undiluted evaporated milk
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1/2 teaspoon grated orange peel
- 2 tablespoons orange juice
- 1 medium banana (all yellow), sliced
- 1 cup angel food or other cake squares

Combine gelatine, pudding mix, 1 cup of the evaporated milk and water in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to boil. Cool, stir in 1/2 cup orange juice and orange peel. Chill until mixture mounds from spoon. Chill remaining 1/2 cup milk in refrigerator tray until soft ice crystals form around edges (10 to 15 minutes). Whip until stiff (about 5 minutes). Add 2 tablespoons orange juice; whip very stiff (about 2 minutes). Whip pudding until smooth. Fold in banana and whipped milk. Layer pudding and cake in a 1 1/2 quart mold or bowl. Chill until firm, about 2 hours.

Each day we turn another page. While years are adding to our age We're making history every day Through deeds and acts that we display. Each day we write a little more. Just adding to the day before. I wonder if it all will be, An interesting history.

Facts about PHARMACY...

PHARMACISTS ARE EXPERTS IN THE SCIENCE OF DRUGS

Every pharmacist is required by his state to spend years studying drugs and their effects, in addition to passing many rigid examinations. Then, and only then, is he qualified to dispense medicine to you.
