WOODWORK

BY DALTON

RECENTLY we started receiving, totally unsolicited, weekly copies of the Diboll Free Press, an offset paper which, I expect, simply got a list of offset papers in the state and started mailing them out, so they could brag silently.

Well, they surely have something to brag about. It is by far the neatest, cleanest offset paper I have ever seen. (Offset, incidentally, is the relatively new process of printing by taking pictures of the entire newspaper page, rather than "setting up" the type in hot metal).

Diboll, which I accidentally knew is close to Lufkin, normally prints a top-notch, eight-page paper. Their presswork makes us and even the Farwell and Friona papers and the Littlefield papers with all their high-powered equipment look sick. (Amarillo, too, ma'am, and I hope you are feeling better after your operation).

And we read somewhere that they use a sheet-fed printing press, which we use here, but which the bigger offset papers usually smear at.

If I find out their press is just like our Harris, I'll kill myself.

CLOTHING items and new can will cost you a little bit more as of July 1. At that time, the extended state sales tax law goes into effect, and all outer clothing now exempt will become taxable.

Texas Press Assn. comments that some smart shoppers will take advantage of the last days of June to stock up on clothing for the family, and that buying of school clothing may take place earlier than usual.

As for autos, the state on July 1 will start charging two per cent sales tax, instead of the customary one and a half per cent. So, if you buy a car costing $3,000, you will pay a state tax of $60, where it would cost you $45 now. If you trade in an old car, the salesman will deduct the trade-in amount from the total, then figure the tax on the difference.

The only advantage I can see is that is that you may finally be able to get some idea of how much they are giving you for the old car.

Double Wedding Vows Read

A double wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Shirley Ann Matthews and Deward Roy Bullard; and Shirley Marie Bullard and Charles David Buchanan was held June 8 at the Lawrence Street Church of Christ in Anton at 8 p. m.

Parents of the two couples are Mr. and Mrs. Clay Matthews of Sudan, J. D. Bullard of Anton, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Buchanan and J. D. Bullard, Anton.

Performing the double ring rites was Bill Talley. Baskets of white glads and blue carnations flanked with candle-bra bearing tapers formed the setting for the ceremony. Other decoration highlights included blue tapers in the windows. "Always", "Because" and "I Love You Truly" were vocal selections sung by the Broadway Church of Christ choir.

Miss Matthews was given in marriage by her father, Clay Matthews, while J. D. Bullard gave his daughter, Shirley, in marriage.

The brides wore identical floor length gowns of lace over satin. Sequin trim accented the fitted bodice featuring a low neckline.

They carried bouquets of white carnations with blue streamers

Baptist Youth Revival Set

Singing, preaching, praying, fun and fellowship are on the list of activities to begin June 26, when the young people and intermediates of the First Baptist Church of Sudan will direct a youth-led revival. Jack Wright, a student at Wayland College, will do the preaching, and Travis Peterson, a Tech student, will lead the singing.

An around-the-clock prayer meeting Wednesday night will highlight the prayer services. Afterglow services will be held each night after the preaching to provide the fun and fellowship. Choir practice will begin at 7:15 and preaching at 7:45.

The revival, which lasts through the 30, is one led by the young people for everyone.

The youth announcement invites you to be there.

Among those attending from Sudan was Mrs. W. O. Wright grandmother of Mrs. Bullard.

AN EDITORIAL:

School Tax Is A Bargain!

If you are a voter in the Sudan school district, and remembered to pay your poll tax, you should go to the polls sometime Saturday and vote in favor of the adoption of Senate Bill 116 for the Sudan schools.

The big majority of all Texas schools already are operating under SB 116, which permits school boards at their discretion to levy a maintenance tax up to $1.50, with the bond retirement levy to be added on to that. Sudan now operates under the old plan which limits the total figure of both levies to $1.50, and with the increased costs of operation, it takes all of that to operate the schools.

The school can operate on this amount, but can't pay off any more of the old debt, which amounts to about $30,000, and also needs funds to make improvements and do remodeling which the state accreditation committee says it must do.

The school therefore must have additional revenue in a quantity greater than can be expected from normal increase in evaluations in the district.

One local taxpayer recently commented that he never minded paying school taxes "because the school tax dollar you spend is the best bargain you'll ever get." We can't say it any better than that.

Another point to consider is that the money is going to be raised one way or another, regardless, and a blanket hike in evaluations would actually cost the taxpayers more than a total tax rate of $1.75, which is anticipated if the measure passes Saturday.

If taxes are raised to a total of $1.75, this means a person with a home valued at $10,000 would be paying $6.25 more per year in taxes. And most homes here are valued at less than that for tax purposes.

It's a small price to pay for the education of our children, and we believe that the taxpayers and the schools will best be served by passage of Senate Bill 116 Saturday.

School Election Set Saturday

For the second time this year, voters in the Sudan Independent School District will go to the polls Saturday and express their opinions in favor of or against a proposed school financing measure which will in effect raise school taxes by as much as 25 cents per $100 valuation, if approved.

Last February, voters turned down the proposal by a vote of 105 to 78. However, a new petition was circulated and another election called, after it was explained to patrons at an open meeting that the passage of the school's money problems" and, according to the school board, would cost taxpayers less than the alternatives.

By this, the board indicated it would request a raise of evaluations throughout the district, or raise the percentage of evaluations on which taxes are collected, if Saturday's proposal is turned down. Such a raise in evaluations could be ordered by the equalization board without a public vote.

The Band Parents organization met Thursday and voted to award a graduating Senior a $150 scholarship.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayman Gordon and family returned recently from a trip to the coast and visits to Corpus Christi and Galveston.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Curry and Dyann visited Sunday with his brother, Bob Curry, who is confined to a hospital in Lubbock. While there they visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Deament and Mrs. Ed Swalley.

New Addressing Plan Speeds Mail Service

This community's five-digit ZIP Code is 79371, Postmaster Ken Minyard announced this week.

"Everyone in Sudan will use this ZIP Code on all their correspondence to speed mail deliveries and reduce the chance of mis-sent mail," the postmaster said.

ZIP Code, the Post Office Department's revolutionary new system of improved mail dispatch and delivery, goes into effect nationally on July 1.

The postmaster stressed the importance of all citizens learning their own ZIP Code and using it in their return addresses on all correspondence. In answering mail, he said, ZIP Codes taken from return addresses on incoming mail should be used.

"The ZIP Code is literally the last word in Mail addressing," he said. "It should follow the city and state in addresses."

He cited this example of the proper use of ZIP Code:

Ken Minyard, Postmaster
U. S. Post Office
Sudan, Texas, 79371

The new ZIP Code plan for the first time will permit the Post Office Department to short-cut repeated address reading.

"The address on mail must often be read as many as eight or ten times by postal employees, to get it to the proper destination," the postmaster said. "Each handling slows the process of mail dispatch and adds to the opportunity for human error."

"With ZIP Code, a clerk needs only to glance at the code to know immediately to what national area, state and post office the letter is destined, and to speed it on its way, cutting up to 24 hours off the time between deposit and delivery."

CARDS RIP CUBS, 11-2

The Sudan Cardinals upset the strong Amherst Cubs 11-2 Monday night to tighten up the standings in the Intercity Little League. The loss by the Cubs to the Cards gave the Amherst team a 9-3 record while the Sudan Dodgers moved up close by winning a pair and now has a record of 8 and 4. The Braves and Cards stand at 6-5 each, and have a game to playoff against each other, as last Thursday's game wound up 7-7 at the end of the allotted time, and will be given a "sudden death" playoff when the two teams meet again. The hapless Sudan Angels stayed in the cellar with no wins and 12 losses.

Green Underwood pitched a superb one-hitter for the Cards in their shellacking of the Cubs Monday. Also for the Cards, Jerry Bellar had two singles and a double and Dusty Rudd and Phelps Blume each had two singles. Underwood struck out 13 batters.

The Angels were walloped by the Cubs 27-1 last Thursday as Robinson of the Cubs had everything under control. The Angels, with James Sloan pitching, made a better showing in losing 18-11 to the Dodgers Monday and 9-5 to the Cards last Friday. In the Dodgers' game, Damon Provence hit two home runs for the Cards.

The Red team from Sudan will host Amherst at 1:30 Saturday. In non-conference action the ambitious Reds will take on the Sudan minor league team at the Co-Op Gin field at 5 p. m. Friday. Fieldton goes to Amherst Monday, and the Reds play the Blues next Tuesday.

The Reds remained unbeaten with a 14-10 win over Fieldton Tuesday, as Brent Whiteaker went the distance for the winners. Fieldton's Max Carney hit a home run, and for the Reds, Larry Baker hit two home runs, and solo homers were clouted by Reagan Baker, Whiteaker, Pete Garza and Kevin May.

Construction Committee

SEOUL, KOREA. — Every movable, salvageable, usable scrap of lumber is utilized, in Korea, for projects sponsored by the joint efforts of The American-Korean Foundation and the Armed Forces Assistance to Korea programs.

The "committee" above, including military, civilian, and canine personnel, are shown inspecting a recently assembled lot of salvage lumber donated by AFAK to The American Korean Foundation to be used for 4-H Club structures including improved hog pens and shelters.

For the farm youth of Korea, the 4-H Club program is a way of life, and today much of Korea's food comes from stock and seed, as well as technical training given young Koreans under programs initiated and sponsored by the Foundation. Just as American G.I.'s in Korea have always helped Korean orphans, they have also rendered voluntary and invaluable service to the Foundation in its 4-H Club activities.

SECRET OF HIS SUCCESS?

Fifteen years have passed since Nellie Fox, powerful little second baseman of the Chicago White Sox, sauntered up to the plate and punched out his first major league hit for the old Philadelphia A's. When a reporter recently asked him where he gets all his bounce, Fox said some athletes prefer candy or a sandwich before a game but he likes Peter Pan peanut butter for a quick energy lift. Fox and his guest Darel Glasier, 7, are perched on the edge of the White Sox dugout watching the visiting team practice before a night game. The veteran baseball star has already delivered more than 2,400 hits in his colorful major league career.

'Tailgating' Fatal

"Tailgating" — following too closely — causes more fatal automobile accidents than any other violation of traffic rules, the New York City Police Department reports.

When following another car remember to keep your distance.

BRING BACK THE BOBBER

Some fishermen like to think they're "outgrown" the bobber.

But this traditional symbol of barefoot lads has as much significance in the tackle boxes of experts as it does hitched to the rane pole of a beginner, say the fishing authorities at Mercury outboards.

They point out that a bobber can be extremely valuable to even the most proficient caster under certain conditions. Though it's a simple, inexpensive accessory it extends the versatility of spinning and casting rigs when conventional techniques prove unequal to the task at hand.

A small transparent float can be used to convert a spinning rig for fly casting when fish are rising to the surface. Although not as satisfactory as a flyrod, this modified outfit gets you back into business during the feverish action of a "hatch."

When drift fishing over weed beds the use of a bobber allows you to keep your bait or light lure at the proper depth without continually "hanging up." It is also handy for slow trolling in shallow waters. You can fish with a long line, far back from any disturbance the boat makes. And it prevents the lure from sinking too deeply into the snags.

For many situations, repeat the Mercury folks, the bobber is indispensable. It definitely belongs among the array of equipment possessed by every angler.

Instead of thinking you've outgrown it, use it. Bobbers have often "saved the day."

Char-Broil Icelandic Fish Steaks

There's something new and deliciously different cooking on barbecue grills across the country this summer—char-broiled Icelandic or Fresher brand fish steaks. These scrumptious-tasting fish steaks can be char-broiled over hot coals right on your barbecue grill. If you haven't tried these yet, you'll want to have them soon. They're tender, juicy and flavorful and the perfect answer for menu variety the whole summer long. Keep them in mind for Friday night barbecues, too.

Today, no matter where you live, you can serve the best fish the ocean has to offer—wonderful fish from the cold waters which surround Iceland. These fish have a fresher, more delicate flavor because they are caught in the world's richest feeding grounds. Within hours after the catch, they are filleted and flash-frozen to retain the "caught today" taste.

Preparing Char-Broil Icelandic Fish Steaks is a cinch. Just sprinkle salt and pepper on Icelandic or Fresher brand frozen fish steaks. Don't thaw them. Brush with melted butter and lemon juice. Char-broil over red hot coals for about five minutes on one side, then for about four more on the other side. Serve immediately with lemon wedges.

Round out the meal with toasted buns, corn on the cob, onion-and-tomato salad, and either watermelon or cherry pie ala mode for dessert.

GENERAL TELEPHONE TOWNS ON THE MOVE

How Community Spirit Built Perryton

Population figures more than double 30 new industries added—all since 1950! That is the miraculous record of Perryton in the Texas Panhandle wheat growing area.

When oil was discovered in the early 50's, an aggressive, long-range program was launched by the Chamber of Commerce. An 84-acre industrial tract was secured and platted, its streets were paved and a railroad spur was built.

So successful was this community development that today a second industrial tract has been acquired and platted Perryton, former population 4417, is now known as The Oil Center of the Anadarko Basin, with 9400 citizens. It is another reason we say big things are happening in General Telephone towns.

These towns are on the move. Community improvements are under way, local resources are being developed, new businesses, new industries are coming in. If your town seeks additional information about expansion perhaps we can help. Just write our Community Development Department, Box 1001, San Angelo, Texas.

Scripture: St. Matthew 16:2-26; 18: 10-20; St. John 3: 16; Ephesians 5: 25-30.

What is a (the) Church? This question "sticks" in my mind as I start to write and I have recently heard it discussed. The discussion very likely started me thinking on "what is the church," but my thinking was not along the same vein, or ideas, of the discourse. My idea was "as I stand before God, what is the Church of Jesus Christ, my Redeemer, Savior and Lord?" The Church which God's word says that Christ might "present it to Himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle..." So, what is the church?

Asking God, trying to leave off my "self", I look in His word with a searching spirit and a firm belief in the Holy Spirit's guidance. Why do I want to know, or to write about the church? To convince you in thinking as I think, or for argument's sake?

I pray God for neither reason, but to help both you and me to understand that all who believe in Jesus Christ, confessing Him as Savior and Lord before men, pledging first allegiance to follow Him daily, are God's children! For God said "whosoever" believeth in Him!

What is the Church of Jesus Christ? The one verse of scripture, I believe, tells us the simplest form of Christ's Church. "For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them." Jesus said it. If Jesus is there and two or three of His children are there for love and adoration of Him—this is the Church of Jesus Christ by whatever denominational name you or I may call it!

Only Christ Himself can save us from the penalty and results of our sin! Only Christ can give us eternal life! And Only Christ who loves us, seeks us (imagine that!), rejoices throughout heaven when even one of us is found—only through His blood and righteousness can the church become the church which Christ will present to Himself "holy and without blemish."

Since it is not our Father's will that any perish, and Christ died, arose from death and ascended into heaven to reveal God's love for you and me and to give us eternal life, will you believe Him? Why not choose to live and not die? Why not choose Jesus, go His way, and share in His inheritance of the eternal Kingdom as God's child?

Is there anything worth losing your soul, your chance to live forever in the light and love and delight of our maker and Father's presence?

Don't try to "fix" everything up yourself before you take Jesus—You cannot do it! Just come to Jesus as you are (He knows you!) asking His forgiveness and help and He will give you the gift of life He has already bought for you! Jesus Saves! He wants you, He seeks you, He has all power, but you must make your choice—will you choose Jesus?

The time you have to make a choice is Now! Oh, how much God loves you, and is calling you to Only Trust Him Now! Jesus will Save you into life, for He has given me joy and peace, forgiveness and life, and He will do the same for you!

"For whosoever will save his life shall lose it and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it."

Let the word of God dwell in you richly. —(Col. 3:16).

How wonderful it is to know that the word of God dwells within us; that we are guided, if we but listen, to speak only words of love, understanding and kindness.

by ALICE CARTER

It looked like a shot in the dark at first, but a little bit of derring-do on the part of one dinnerware manufacturer has apparently resulted in a dead center bullseye.

The venture — a transfer of part of the firm's production of heavy duty melamine ware from institutional to consumer sales — has added three attractive dinnerware patterns to counters across the country. Boonton Molding Company of Boonton, N. J., made the move 15 months ago. The company felt the "pluses" — extra sturdiness and break resistance — which attract restaurants and hotels to heavy-duty institutional melamine might hold a special appeal for certain groups of consumers.

The certain groups — families with small children and individuals on the move across the country this summer are included — were quick to show interest in the table settings.

Boonton introduced the first of its new patterns, "New Amsterdam," last year. This year, "Williamsburg" and "Monticello" patterns were introduced. Early American styling is featured in each instance.

This marketing experience has been an interesting one. And not only interesting for the manufacturer. This writer applauds a brave move into uncharted areas. This, too, smacks of early American styling.

SHORT AND SWEET

The federal government has more than 3 billion secret documents — just about enough to keep all the nation's sewing circles in gossip for some years to come.

The cost of fringe benefits keeps rising sharply. They now represent 25% of the average payroll; have jumped 33% over 1952 levels.

There are now more than 19 million dairy cows in the U. S. — about one cow for each nine Americans. Not a single steam locomotive has been built for American railroads since 1963.

An Illinois agriculturalist claims that growing corn subjected to music produces more bushels per acre than that which is silently grown. Does this mean that only rock-and-roll farm hands will now be in demand?

FIRST STOP FOR N. Y. VISITORS

A lot of history has happened in Times Square since its most famous landmark, Times Tower, reached skyward in 1904. The view (1) looking south along Broadway from 41st Street shows the steel frame being covered with its sheath of terra cotta and pink granite. By the mid-thirties (2) its famed electric news bulletin girdled the building and flashed up-to-the minute headlines; trolley cars still trundled through the Square and a jaywalker could diagonally cross at his own risk. The largest crowd ever assembled (3) along the Great White Way gathered on VJ Day to herald the news of Japan's surrender. August 14, 1945 and the Tower and neighborhood will have a new look (4) when it becomes Allied Chemical's showcase for chemistry, later in 1964, as shown in the architect's model.

Super-Salesman for Progress

President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico is an outstanding example of a new trend in national chief executives — the super-salesman. His recent "sales" trips abroad have contributed greatly to the expansion of Mexico's economy, and have also been of real value to the United States.

Traveling all over the world, the Mexican President has shown other Latin American countries how they can help themselves, as suggested by President Kennedy in his Alliance for Progress program. One earlier and dramatic, self-help project, pictured above, is world-famous University of Mexico, built entirely with Mexican funds. Lopez Mateos has just visited France, Yugoslavia, Poland, Holland and West Germany — all rebuilt with billions in American foreign aid. President Kennedy believes these countries now can help finance the industrial progress of Latin American nations.

Foreign affairs experts report that President Lopez Mateos, is helping achieve President Kennedy's hope for all Latin America by attracting investment capital from Western European governments and private investors. Last year his trip to Japan resulted in $500,000,000 in trade credits for Mexico.

Success in these "selling" trips is a key factor in maintaining Mexico's economic growth rate — one of the highest in the world. Although American capital has played a vital role — with total U.S. private investment in Mexico now $15 billion — Mexico has taken the lead in showing other Latin American nations how to help themselves without total dependence on Uncle Sam.

Pert and Pretty

THIS princess dress with button-trimmed front panel and gathered skirt is designed to give your little lady a fashionable well-groomed look. A removable white collar sets off the pert bow at neckline and, down the back, a long Talon Zephyr, the nylon coil zipper, assures a trim fit. Experienced seamstresses press, as they sew, for a custom-made look. Each seam is carefully pressed as the garment takes shape and the zipper is always covered with a press cloth to protect the nylon coils from excessive heat. It's Butterick pattern #2683, in sizes 7 to 14.

Little girls, too, can be wrapped in high fashion. Big new wrap skirts, just like Mother's — made of popular machine-washable fabrics, madras, ta-tisks, and prints.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By VERN SANFORD

Next season's quail crop is determined, to a great extent, by the amount of work done early in the spring to provide adequate plant cover and feeds.

So says Edward L. Koziky, director of conservation for the Nilo Farms, owned by Olin Mathieson.

Nilo Farms are in Illinois. But the thing that makes his statement news in Texas, is that Koziky was talking in Texas.

Koziky recently was on the program of the American Game Breeders Association in Dallas. This association is composed of the producers of birds, such as quail and pheasant, mostly for shooting resorts. It is a nation-wide organization.

Naturally a shooting resort must have good cover for the birds that are to be released in advance of the hunters.

Good cover also is important to the landowner who has a few flocks of birds on his place. This is true regardless of whether he lives in East Texas or West Texas.

Quite a number of youth groups have been building cover areas during the past year. Most of them are working with Joe Davidson, who directs the current program for the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

"Proper cover can spell the difference between financial success or failure of a preserve and can add immeasurably to the overall quality of field shooting," Koziky told the Dallas meeting.

"The local conservancy agent would be sought for technical advice on soil classification and conservation practices. A soil classification and land quality map is a must. The local county extension specialist can be of immense assistance in advising you of plants best adapted for a particular area or purpose. Also, the farm crop specialist at the state agricultural college or university may provide the answer to many difficult problems," said Koziky.

What he told the professional game breeders also might be applied to landowners in every part of the state, and to local sportsmen's units.

Many times the landowner himself is not especially interested in shooting on his own place. In fact shooters have been a source of trouble to him.

In these changing times, however, when sportsmen are learning they must pay for privileges of hunting on land belonging to others, the landowner's attitude is changing. He sees a profit, so he is willing to do something about it.

During the past season there probably were more gates opened with $5 bills for a key than at any other time in Texas history. The number will increase this year.

Generally this is the fee for day hunting of quail in Texas. In some areas it is slightly more; some, less. A few shooting resorts are building up season fees. Such fees cover not only a bag of birds from the resort, but also native birds in nearby pastures and fields.

In a number of places small groups have gotten together to supply the landowner with proper cover plants and to pay for hatchery-raised quail for planting.

These groups can get information from the Game and Fish Commission in Austin, or from local game wardens and biologists. Trained personnel will be a great help in developing many areas for future bird hunting.

Many landowners, particularly in the North Plains where millions of acres of land have been turned under, are planting cover plots with protective fences around them.

Birds are released around these plots where cover, food and water are available. As a result when weather conditions are not too unfavorable there is a bird crop in the fall.

A fine example of planting these plots is on the King Ranch, south of Kingsville. Here certain acreage has been made available to bird-dog clubs.

Generally, the entire area is excellent habitat, but additional work has been done. There are numerous plots on the ranch where fences keep livestock out. Behind these fences cover and food are protected. As a result the area is very productive of birds, again subject to weather conditions.

If you want to hunt birds this fall, you might consider some of these practices. If they are good enough for resort owners who are members of the North American Game Breeders & Shooting Preserve Association, they might be good enough for others, too.

The G. S. Walker family of Amarillo visited relatives here Sunday including the Ted Walkers and the Tray Gastons.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Price and family of Lubbock visited during the weekend with their parents, the Tray Gastons and the L. B. Prices.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Christal and family of Amarillo visited during the weekend in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Olds.

Among visitors at the First Methodist Church Sunday morning were Mrs. G. S. Walker of Amarillo; Mrs. Joe H. Price of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Warren McDonald of Irvin; Mrs. C. M. Reed of Tahoka.
