WOODWORK
BY DALTON

PRACTICALLY every day, the newspaper receives in its mailbox a pound or two of junk mail. By this, we mean not only the advertisements for various things which every citizen receives totally unsolicited, but also in our case, a whole bunch of stuff from people wanting free publicity.

Some of it is worthwhile stuff, and we use it. Some we are even glad to get, because we consider it of general interest and good reading. But most we file in the trash can, as a simple outright attempt to get advertising for a product without paying for it. A good percentage of it never even gets opened.

Just for fun, I gathered up a handful of stuff which has been lying around unopened for various lengths of time. And found a package of "Science Sketches," one of the better releases which we use often, although there usually is a product name in each one. One of them, for example, reports that a huge grizzly bear at Yellowstone has been equipped with an electronic watch and transmitter to determine if he sleeps straight through the winter. It doesn't say what happened to the guy who put the watch on the grizzly. Sort of like putting a bell on a tiger.

A marketing news release from the Agriculture office in Lubbock. It mentioned that the dry summer caused a very short dryland cotton crop in the area, which is hardly news. A blurb on the legal aspects of back seat driving, from the State Bar Assn.

A story from the State Dept. of Health warning against the winter danger from carbon monoxide—how you flirt with death to drive around in a car with all windows and vents tightly closed. Most of our cars have enough cracks around the doors there is little danger here. The biggest

Rodney Cate To Join Brittain Pharmacy

Rodney M. Cate, 22, who was valedictorian of the 1960 Sudan High School graduating class, has completed work on his degree of bachelor of science in pharmacy at the University of Texas and will join the staff of Brittain Pharmacy in Littlefield beginning Feb. 1.

Cate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Cate, was president of the Student Council at Sudan High School. He attended Texas Tech two years, then entered the University of Texas in 1962, to complete his course of study as a pharmacist. At the university, his scholastic record placed him on the dean's honor roll in 1963 and 1964.

He is a member of Phi Delta Chi Pharmaceutical Professional Fraternity and Rho Chi honorary scholastic society.

A lifetime resident of Lamb County, he was married Dec. 31, 1961, to the former Patricia Weaver of Littlefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weaver. Beginning Feb. 1 the couple will live at 120 E. 13th St. in Littlefield.

piece of pasteboard, about 10 inches long and 6 inches wide. Some suspicion here that the package had been opened previously.

A package of recipes, each one of which specified some particular brand of something or other in the ingredients.

An obscene letter from the Department of Internal Revenue.

Every day's mail brings a lot of stuff like that in addition to some other things more welcome.

Farwell Shellacks Sudan By 104-62

Farwell clobbered Sudan Hornets 104-62 in a 5-A basketball game at Farwell Tuesday night. Jerry Childs hit 26 for the winners and Cowboy Baker staked in 37 for the Hornets.

Sudan won the girls game, 37-30. Tanya Fox hit 14 for the Hornets and Becky Strain scored 12 for Farwell.

Last Friday night Hale Center teams beat Sudan, with the boys taking a 63-53 win, despite Corley Baker's 25 points, and the girls beating Sudan 49-34. Vicki Mastan led Sudan with 13 points.

THE PILGRIM PATHS

Devotional

Would you picture with me the paths of righteousness? These paths in my picture are interwoven, intricate, and winding around throughout the world. We can find their way in these paths without a guide. "He leadeth me". Herein lies the secret of calm and joyful assurance. The Lord Jesus knows the way through the wilderness or desert, for He has been this way. And with Him leading me, I will find my way by these paths, which go everywhere throughout the world, into the straight and narrow way that leads over upward to God and my eternal Home. He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness - why? For His name's sake. I do not have to depend on myself or on my righteousness to find the way. But Jesus, because I am His (for He is mine!) will lead me for "His name's sake". He is righteous, merciful and loving, and He is the Good Shepherd who leads His own sheep. His name must not be dishonored, but given the glory due His name; therefore I am assured that He leadeth me! For I am a child in the family of God. But once I looked down the path - far ahead, going every place round about, and I could not tell where to take my next step. Then up the narrow path I saw a light shine forth; the light some other Christian had left to guide me (or you) on my way. Still going on, I stopped to eat and rest by the still water. Suddenly I saw something that glittered out among the trees of the wilderness, and I left the path to seek the glittering object. As I reached it, and looked closely at it, I saw it for what it was; and then I realized I had lost my way from the righteous paths. I turned my back on the glittering object, repentant and humbly seeking, when I felt the guiding hand clasp mine and lift me back up into the path.

Yes, He leadeth me. Jesus, the Shepherd, leads me in these pilgrim paths throughout this world, ever going before me. If I had looked up before I wandered off the pathway, I would have seen His loving hand held out to guide and lead me on.

Do you know this Shepherd? How is it with you and Jesus? Are you trying to find your way by your righteousness - or, are you being guided by Jesus (who loved you enough to die for you) "for His name's sake". Do you know the joy of belonging to Jesus and claiming His name, and His promises?

Don't miss this joy - for Jesus is the Way!

"He leadeth me, He leadeth me, By His own hand, He leadeth me; His faithful follower I would be For by His hand He leadeth me!"

WMU PRESENTS STEWARDSHIP PROGRAM

SCIENCE SKETCHES

WHOLE BLOOD has been transfused into monkeys, after being frozen and thawed, with no adverse effects. The University of Michigan medical school hopes the experiment may help in developing frozen storage of human blood for indefinite periods.

HARDENED STEEL can be cracked by molecules of hydrogen gas, reports Alloy Rods Company, York, Pa. If present in appreciable amounts around a welding arc, atoms of hydrogen diffuse through pores in the metal, then unite to form molecular hydrogen. Since hardened steel cannot stretch to accommodate the pressure, it will crack if enough gas accumulates.

THE COMMON COLD costs the U.S. $5 billion annually in lost wages, lost production and medical expenses, reports the American Medical Assn. More than 150 million work days are lost each year and more than 20 million people have colds on any winter's day.
