FORTIETH YEAR

NUMBER 49

WOODWORK BY DALTON

"LET ME TELL YOU about my operation..." This is an opening sentence practically guaranteed to break up any conversational gathering. Consequently, I'm not going to tell you about my operation, although I did have one, other than to deny one fellow's jeering remark that it probably was brain surgery (intimating that they were searching for a brain).

Actually it was less a lobotomy than a "low bottomy", but the entire experience did get me to thinking about hospitals, since I was in one of them for a week.

Going to a hospital is a sticky experience. First the nurse sticks you with a needle. Then the doctor sticks you with a knife. And finally the business office sticks you with a pencil.

Truthfully though, I can't complain about the prices, at least not at the hospital where I was. I'm not supposed to say which hospital I was in, since hospitals, as part of the medical profession which considers it totally uncouth to advertise their services, especially in any planned, paid-for program.

I will say that the hospital I was in is one of the best in Amherst, and even offers many advantages over hospitals in larger area cities. Of course, it's irrefutable that most of those other hospitals have an advantage in physical facilities, but the Amherst institution is definitely working toward changing that situation, and in this admittedly (and proudly) small-town hospital a patient can be sure of one thing: he is more than just a name on a chart to the doctors and nurses. When you suffer, they suffer, and when you feel good, they feel good, and you can tell it isn't pretense.

At many of the larger hospitals, necessity demands a high degree of organization and "strictly business" performance that pretty well eliminates the human element.

To most of us living in smaller towns, it is more important to be treated like human beings than it is to have a private bath in every room, although the latter is desirable.

The time is coming, and soon, when the people of this area may be called on to pitch in and help this facility at Amherst, in some financial way which hasn't yet been decided. When it does, I believe there will be a good response. And if the people do respond, I think the main reason will be because of the difference in attitude between all the personnel of this hospital and some of the others. The difference might be expressed in this way:

Suppose you are Mary Jones and you hurt your leg in a car wreck. One doctor may examine you and without ever saying a word to you personally, tell the nurse something like: "This is an apparent fracture of the left lower femur. Prepare the patient for surgery at 10:37 a.m. Inject 10 cc's of neosulphadiazol." (Or some such. Doctors all have one heck of a big vocabulary, and want everybody to know it.)

But you don't feel like you're a left lower femur. You feel like you're Mary Jones, and you hurt, and the other doctor gives you the feeling that he realizes this, and is anxious to help you.

Hospital Remodeling Plans Discussed

Two Amherst men and one from Sudan were elected to the board of directors of South Plains Hospital and Clinic, Amherst, at the annual meeting of stockholders last Saturday in Amherst school auditorium. Another Amherst man was appointed to the board in a subsequent meeting of the governing group after the resignation of a longtime board member.

About 115 persons were present at the meeting when stockholders nominated and elected Joe B. Markham of Sudan and Charles Hinds and Benny Harmon, both of Amherst, to the board posts formerly held by L. A. Conway and Harry Brantley of Amherst and Coleman Terrell of Sudan. Terms of seats on the seven-man board are for three years. Good participation was made by the group in an open discussion of present conditions of the hospital plant and future plans for remodeling. Dr. J. W. Chastwell also gave an appraisal of the hospital conditions and gave his viewpoint of the needs of the facility.

It was announced that Amherst Garden Club would supervise landscaping of the front lawn as a club project.

Following the general meeting, the board met, elected officers, accepted the resignation of T. W. Hackler of Otton and appointed Gene Campbell of Amherst to fill Hackler's unexpired term. Hackler had been a member of the board for 12 years.

The board elected Bob Clayton of Amherst as president, Hinds as vice president, and Markham as secretary-treasurer. Holdover members of the board are Bob Boone of Springlake, J. A.

Steeley of Littlefield, and Clayton who has been serving as temporary administrator for the hospital and clinic since the recent death of Administrator Norman Snyder.

The board is scheduled to meet tonight (Thursday) to review applications for the post of administrator, and Clayton said about 15 had been received.

"Tonight's meeting does not necessarily mean that a new administrator will be named immediately," Clayton said. "All applications will be thoroughly screened and the most promising applicants interviewed before we will name an administrator."

Efforts to attract another resident physician to the hospital-clinic also are being continued, it was reported.

Devotional

BY HAZEL HOUSE

"OUR GOD IS MERCIFUL - AND HEARS OUR PRAYERS."

Why? Why does God let such a terrible thing happen to me? Why does He not answer my prayer? Many persons sometimes talk like this.

In our sacred Scripture, Zechariah was telling the people why their prayers were not answered. He told them what the Lord said to do: Exercise judgment, show mercy and compassion every man to his brother; do not oppress the widow, the orphan, the stranger or the poor and to one should in the heart breathe out against his brother.

But the people of Israel would not listen. So there came a great wrath from God and He said to His people that as they would not hear His cry, neither would He hear their cry. And God punished His people Israel, by scattering them throughout all the nations. But, even though Israel departed from Him God will not fail to remember them and bless them in the latter days.

Much like some of our modern worship services, the people of Israel in their fasting and mourning, and in their feasts together, had let their observance become a mere ceremony, which was more for themselves than for the glory and worship of God.

These services were evidently extra-biblical and formal, but futile. Yet God sent a messenger to warn them, then to tell them they should have heard the prophets when Jerusalem was in prosperity.

Do you feel that your prayers are not being answered? But are you in a place where you can hear, or where God can answer? Meditate on how you appear before God. Do you worship and serve because you love Him in return for His love for you? Do you enter into the worship service in the church sanctuaries prayerfully, joyously, in love with Jesus, desiring and expecting to experience the awareness of His presence? Or do you sim-

Good news that Jesus Saves? We do reveal something in our words and deeds, so can the world see Jesus in you?

God will remember His chosen people Israel, and hear their prayers, for they will return unto Him!

What does God require of His child? He does not say in His Word that forms of worship are wrong (In fact, it is right because it is the most beautiful way man can think and do, his best way, to proclaim to God the love man feels in return for His unearned grace, forgiveness, watch care, eternal love and eternal life) but He says the forms alone are not for His glory, but "for yourselves". So, God does not require but this:

"The Lord is high unto them that are of a broken heart; and saveth such as be of a contrite spirit." (Psalms 34: 18). "The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit; a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise." (Psalms 51: 17) Yes, God hears and answers prayer, and leads His own child to a peace of understanding the answer.

METHODIST MESSENGER
VOLUME 4 FEBRUARY 2, 1968
FROM THE LIFE OF RILEY

Have you done any preaching lately? Strongly enough enough to inspire, prepare and proceed with a program. Often it is hindered by personality, illustrations, or lack of confidence on the part of the preacher. God has given, the minister speaks everyone listens (including the preacher).

I was inspired and challenged by Dr. Egan Estelle last week at Cate Canyon when he gave the outline of the Art of Modification which I used Sunday and pray many of you are using now.
The 5 P's of modification are:
Prepare: Read a scripture, poem or hymn.
Practice: Select a verse and draw a mental picture of what you see.
Preach: Think—the original purpose—the purpose for me today to apply to my life.
Practice: One specific thing which will make you today a stronger Christian.
Pray: Talk to God as a friend. Admire, confide, petition.
Concern yourself with others and God will bless them and strengthen you. Let us ponder a bit with God each day!

ril 11, at the Methodist Church in Sudan. We invite any interested singer to come for their practice this Thursday, Feb. 4

THE BOARD OF ABSENTEES
1. The Board of Absentees will meet each time the services of the Church meet. At this meeting we will discuss ways of increasing the attendance as far as possible. We will see that there is an enthusiasm for increased attendance.
2. The Board of Absentees will discuss ways to weaken the preaching of the Word.
3. The Board of Absentees will discuss ways of decreasing any revival efforts of the Church.
4. Your Board of Absentees is composed of the following members: Mr. Earl Unsworth, Mrs. U. R. Loy, Mrs. Sleep Lott,
