WOODWORK

BY DALTON

IF YOU EARN more than $4,800 a year on a salary, you will feel the bite of new social security taxes to pay for medicare. The more you make over that figure, up to an annual salary of $6,600 a year, the more you will feel the bite.

This year, if you made $6,600, you paid a social security tax of $174, and your employer matched that figure. In 1966, each one's share will jump more than $100, up to $277 a year.

Sound like a big increase, to pay a hundred bucks more next year for social security? It is, but consider that under the present schedule of galloping socialism, the social security tax for a person earning $6,600 a year will advance annually to a high of $372.90 in 1967.

It will be that high if no new giveaway programs are initiated. If legal care, auto care, grocery care, and cat care are passed, it may be a lot higher.

Tomato crops in California and cucumber crops in Texas are rotting in the fields because the producers can't get workers. It is because the bracero program was scuttled? Only partly. There are plenty of workers around, but they have found that it's easier to live off welfare than to work. And when the law is broken will have to shut the bill.

It does seem that I'm always running down the social security program. Actually, the program is good, but has been allowed to go wild. The unfortunate thing about the program is that for every honestly deserving person who is helped, who can't get aid from any other source, there are two free-loaders on the rolls.

SOME OF THE changes on television programming next season will interest watchers. The networks list 23 new programs on their fall schedules, none of which has drawn raves from syndicated and wire service previewers. Most of those given an advance look at the programs say the plots are all about the same, and some are ridiculous.

In addition to the new shows, a lot of the old ones will undergo noticeable changes. The Lucy Show will move to Hollywood and lose its family background, and carry on without Vivian Vance.

Hazel will lose her employers, who will be conveniently shipped off to the Middle East, and she will join the household of her employer's younger brother and his wife.

Amos Burke will quit the police department for the Secret Service, and get more serious. Apparently, neither TV nor medical science has discovered a way to stamp out Jack Paar and Johnny Carson, however.

FFA NEWS

The Sudan FFA Chapter will hold its first meeting of the school term on Monday, August 30 at 8 p. m.

Don Ham, sponsor, said that the meeting would be held in the agriculture building and urged all members to attend. He also issued an invitation to all freshman boys, who intend to become FFA members, to attend the meeting.

South Plains Hospital To Hold Open House

Doyle Lamb, administrator of the South Plains Hospital and Clinic in Amherst announced this week that the hospital remodeling project at the hospital has been completed and invites the public to come to the Open House this Sunday to see the new facilities that have been added to the hospital.

Some new facilities that have been added include a new telephone system with a telephone in every patients room, a new voice intercom whereby the nurse on duty can talk directly to the patient in his room from the nurses station, new patient room furniture and private bathroom facilities in all but four rooms.

On the second floor, a new waiting room has been added with a prayer chapel that will be maintained by the Amherst

Ministerial Alliance. Also on the second floor is situated an isolation unit directly across the hall from the nurses station. An intensive care room has been added and is directly behind the nurses station.

Another new addition to the hospital is a physical therapy department located on the second floor. Also a new hot pack system has been added to help keep the patients meals warmer.

The remodeled hospital will have fifty beds, with a large number of the beds in private rooms. Lamb said that the hospital employs 36 full time and 4 part-time employees.

Virginia Grisham, director of nurses said that 11 nurses will be on duty 24 hours of the day. Other than the regular employees of the hospital, there is also a group of volunteer auxiliary workers that help in patient care.

Shower Honors Bride-Elect

Miss Linda Williams, bride-elect of Michael Sherman, was honored with a bridal shower at the Sudan Community Center Friday, August 20.

The serving table was laid with a lace tablecloth centered with an arrangement of white and yellow chrysanthemums.

Miss Kathy Barnett presided at the serving table, with Joyce Williams, sister of the honoree, registering the guests.

The hostess gift included an electric mixer.

Hostesses for the event were Mesdames Thelma Vinson, Alma Rudd, Mildred Lance, Gwen West, Esther Meeks, Floy Arnold, Louise Parrish, Emma Turner, Louise Bullock, Libby Mudgett, Ruth Baker, Ollie White, Lois Blair, Jean Harvey, Rhoda Minyard, Oleta Reese, Hazel Savage, Winona Dudgeon, Joann Poed, Evelyn Ritchie, Alma Burnett, Hazel House, Neta Bush

LOCAL BOY RETURNS AS FOOTBALL COACH

The coaching staff at Sudan Public Schools has been completed this week with the addition of T. P. Wingo Jr. who is a 1956 graduate of Sudan High School. Wingo graduated from Texas Tech in 1965 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Geology.

Wingo will be an assistant varsity coach and will be the head junior high coach, assisted by Jim Cain. He will also teach mathematics.

During his senior year at Sudan High School, Wingo made all district center in football and basketball. He is a member of the First Methodist Church in Sudan.

Coaches Jim Cain and Norman Nelson, who are also new to Sudan this season, said that they were very happy to have Wingo on the Sudan coaching staff.

The Sudan Hornets will meet the Malou in a scrimmage game Thursday night at 7:30 p. m. in Masten stadium. This will give the resident of Sudan a chance to view the prospects of the Sudan team before season play actually begins on Sept. 3 against Plains.

Coach Cain reported that 27 boys have been participating in practice sessions this week and that they are improving with each workout and are looking forward for the season to start.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED - Mr. and Mrs. Gavin Hayes announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Nancy to Curtis Archer, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Archer of Bula. The wedding ceremony will be held on September 6 at 5:30 p. m. at the Sudan Church of Christ. Miss Hayes is a 1965 graduate of Sudan High School and Archer is a graduate of Bula High School.

Nursing Home To Open In Amherst

E. F. Ray, administrator of Amherst Manor, the new nursing home in Amherst announced this week that they will have a joint open house with South Plains Hospital and Clinic so that public can see the new home for people who require special nursing care.

Amherst Manor is located at Seventh and Main, across from the hospital in Amherst.

The home will house 30 beds, all equipped with a nurse calling system. The home is also equipped with the latest nursing equipment. Ray said that he hopes the residents will feel that the Amherst Manor is a "home away from home".

Elizabeth Ray, wife of E. F. Ray is the director of nurses at the Amherst Manor. She plans to teach a Geriatric course, involving the care for the elderly, to the nurses to be employed by the nursing home.

Persons presently employed by Amherst Manor are Billie

July 25, in the high school auditorium. Each year the grade school graduating class presents a program to the community by doing so, each member has an opportunity to take part in the program. The program this year shows, representative scenes of rural life, such as, the charming wild turkey, the law brigade, the cattle, the rural minutemen, and Farmer John. Very colorful costumes and stage settings add much to the scenes. After the program the prom-the graduates and their families will be presented by Mr. J. C. Hamilton. Mr. Biggers will welcome the group into high school.

This class has been very active all year in school activities. In the fall program, it presented a one-act play and a group of Christmas carols.

Perhaps the most outstanding achievement made was that of winning the most number of points in Interscholastic League work. First places in Tennis singles, essay and music memory, second place in tennis doubles, arithmetic and boy's determination. Other events which gave good showings were volleyball, baseball and track.

Twenty-two students will be awarded diplomas of honor, being recognized in fifteen different fields of work.

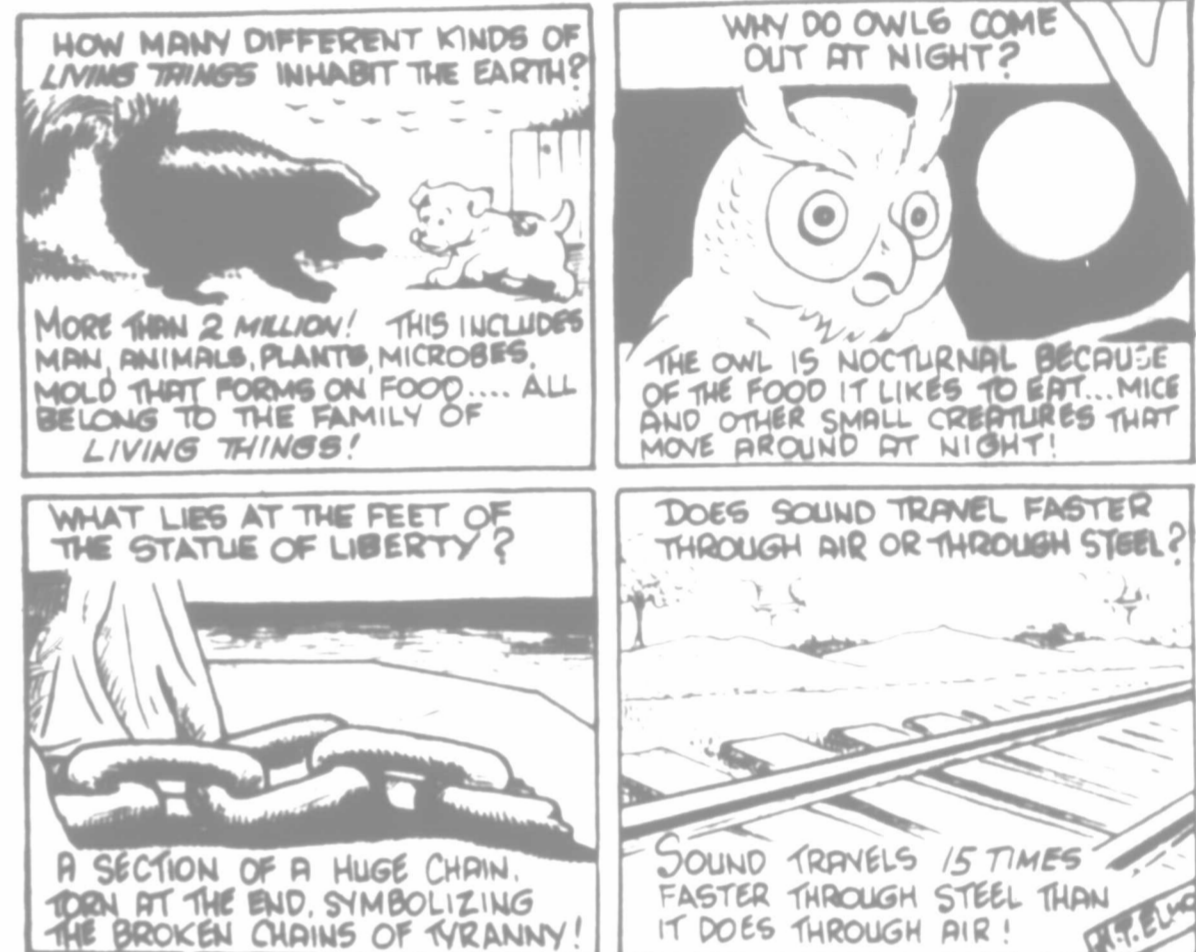

Members of the class are: Noda Frances Bridges, Taylor Benton, Otis Beauchamp, Isaac

First trip down the slide and, whamo! A skinned elbow! Minor accidents don't always happen in parks. They can happen while riding a bike, playing in the backyard, or jumping rope. Those grinning, dimpled faces can soon be restored if a can of B.F.I., the up-to-the-minute first aid preparation is always on hand.

This highly absorbent antiseptic powder dries lesions, promotes healing and protects wounds. B.F.I. also relieves the itching, chafing and irritation that accompany prickly heat, sunburn and mosquito bites.

Keep a can in the medicine chest. Also remember to keep a can in the glove compartment of your car so you'll be ready for those little mishaps away from home.

One of America's rarest coins commemorates itself as a symbol of the biggest gold rush in our history.

It is the 1848 Quarter Eagle (a $2.50 gold piece) with the letters "CAL" stamped on the reverse side.

"CAL" designates California, and the coin is made of the first gold to reach the Eastern seaboard from that state. This touched off the gold rush.

The 1848 Quarter Eagle with CAL represents a colorful chapter in American history, and is one of the 50 most wanted U.S. coins from a collector's standpoint," notes Richard S. Yeoman, one of the nation's top numismatic authorities.

Around 100 specimens from an original quantity of 1,389 are known to be in existence today, and each commands an auction price of about $7,500 in uncirculated condition.

The story of this coin begins with a far-sighted military governor of California, Col. R. B. Mason, continues Yeoman, who is Vice President of the Coin Division at Whitman Publishing Company, Racine, Wis.

Word on discovery of gold in California was slow to reach the populous East coast, because of communications problems. And information that did filter through was greeted with skepticism.

Col. Mason decided the U.S. War Office must have undeniable proof that gold did exist in California, says Yeoman, whose firm is the country's leading numismatic publisher.

Mason commissioned a staff officer to personally carry a quantity of gold to Washington D. C. in a tea caddy. Advance messages convinced President James K. Polk to authenticate the great discovery in his inaugural address of 1848, and the gold rush was on.

Secretary of War W. L. Marcy ordered that a portion of the California gold be used to make a coin with a distinguishing mark, and the 1848 Quarter Eagle with CAL was born.

Two Win Bicycles In Subscription Contest

Two more bicycles were awarded and another one earned in the subscription contest for Sudan Texaco-News.

Parmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Parmer turned in the required 25 subscriptions on Thursday of last week. Paul Gage, son of Mr. and Mrs. Skinny Gage, and Danny Parher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Cardwell, both turned in their subscriptions during the weekend.

Gage was awarded his bicycle but shipment was delayed on the other bicycle. The bicycles are provided through an arrangement with Bulloch Variety.

Five bicycles have been won in the contest with several youth still working toward obtaining one.

Those who are still entered in the contest include Tommye Head, Mary Griffith, Condo Haman, Odetta Vasquez, Dennis, Robert Williams, Johnnie Thomas, Doris Gaves.

The contest will continue through September 14. Subscription rates are $2.50 in-county and $3.00 elsewhere.

Any boy or girl may enter the contest. Registration forms are available at the news office.

LAMB COUNTY OIL AND GAS ROUNDUP

Lamb County's producers and royalty owners are producing some $5.2 million in crude oil and natural gas a year, according to statistics released by Texas M&G-Continental Oil & Gas Association this week.

Ranking 11th among Texas' oil and gas producing counties, Lamb County in 1963 received some $5.1 million from well-head sales of oil and an estimated $17,000 from natural gas. County production of oil was approximately 1.7 million barrels; natural gas, 998 million cubic feet.

Parmer, ranchers and other mineral owners share in a $647,000 distribution of oil and gas royalty payments annually.

The Association based its annual study of this county's oil and gas output on statistics compiled by the U. S. Bureau of Mines for 1963. Production data for 1964 would be approximately the same.

Statewide, Texas oil and gas wells produced an estimated $3.6 billion in income: $2.9 billion from oil, $730 million from gas.

Data from the Texas Employment Commission indicate direct employment in oil and gas industry jobs for more than 105 Lamb County citizens with a payroll of approximately $568,000 a year. Because oil operations require such a large number of service contractors and supply firms, which are not included in this figure, direct employment figures are only part of the story of local economic impact.

JOHN PORTER

An important indicator of activity is the amount expended on drilling of wildcat wells seeking new fields and those wells drilled to develop fields already located. The Association estimates that in 1964 approximately $313,000 was risked by Texas oil and gas operators on drilling ventures in Lamb County. About 75 per cent of this expenditure, or $235,000, went into dry holes.

A tabulation by the Oil and Gas Journal shows four wells were drilled in the county in 1964; one oil and three dry holes. A total of 23,000 feet of hole were drilled—12,000 for development wells and 11,000 for wildcats.

In addition to local school and county property taxes by oil and gas operators, taxes on production from Lamb County flowed into the State Treasury at the rate of about $241,000 a year.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has a program to help cotton producers in foreign countries by paying farmers to reduce acreage. Now is the U.S. the only country to find this such program sometimes helpful.

Supportive of the USDA's efforts to reduce cotton production in recent years is the Brazilian government's program to limit coffee production. The government agency that controls the marketing of Brazilian coffee and supports prices to coffee producers set one and a half years ago to bring them back to normal when they began paying coffee producers to eradicate coffee trees.

And some coffee farmers cooperated. The number of coffee trees eradicated since June, 1962 is reported to be at least one billion.

But, the current Brazilian coffee crop is estimated at 32 million bags, 13 percent above the 1956-60 average. Domestic consumption and exports are expected to total 24 million bags — leaving a net increase in Brazil's surplus stocks of at least 8 million bags!

Seems they forgot to include restrictions on coffee planting by producers not participating in the government program.

There is broad agreement that the build-up of the cotton surplus in this country to over 14 million bales in the last few years has been the result of low exports. And by the same token, increasing our sale of cotton to foreign countries is the most often proposed solution to the cotton carryover problem. In view of this, a recent address made in Lubbock by Read Dunn, Director of Foreign Trade for the National Cotton Council, is of more than passing interest. Mr. Dunn's own summary of the address follows.

"To expand U.S. cotton exports two things must be done: (1) Our cotton must be more competitive with other cotton, and (2) Cotton's share of the total textile market must be improved.

"As to the first, the competition from foreign cotton, we must find a way to fold the price umbrella that the U.S. has been holding over the rest of the world all these years which has enabled the foreign producers to market all they produce for export at just a few points below our price.

"The export surplus of foreign cotton, as we indicated, is not very large in relation to total fiber demand. In recent years, it has been holding up at the rate of about a quarter of a cent per pound a year. But the trend has been so constant. The immediate effect is considerable.

"This is primarily price competition and a constant will continue to be in the U.S. in the near future. The only way to get out of this is to improve our cotton.

"As indicated earlier, the competition in foreign production currently is coming mainly through yield improvements. This is being done primarily with more irrigation, better insect control, more fertilization, and improved cultural practices. All these are expensive — generally, these costs are greater than in the United States. In fact, the main advantage the foreign countries have on the U.S. in cotton production is lower labor costs, and everywhere the labor component is decreasing.

"Many producing areas of the world are already margined. Just last week, I read a U.S. Government report from Central America, stating the crop in El Salvador was expected to decline 20 percent. The reason given was the unremunerative price. I'm sure that situation can be repeated many places. This aspect of the problem is certainly not hopeless.

"The other part of the problem — keeping cotton's share in the total textile market — is a bigger problem, and more complicated. It is also quite a different problem. In this problem, price is a secondary factor in all areas except the rayon. This competition is largely quality and promotion.

"On the quality side, the greatest inroads have come from the easy-care properties of the synthetics — easy to wash, easy to dry, easy to keep pressed, and wrinkle free. Cotton has a good fighting chance in this area. Through research, cotton has made great strides in easy washing and drying and has retained most of cotton's great advantage of comfort as well. We know further research can produce further improvements.

"I am wearing today a new permanent crease, wrinkle-resistant, all-cotton seersucker suit that just came out of the laboratory last Friday. It looks very promising.

"The biggest gains by the synthetics have come through promotion. They have stimulated consumer demand not only to expand the volume, but to support a higher price. Increased sales of high unit prices have enabled everybody in the cloth — the producer, manufacturer, and retailer — to sell more at a higher price and a larger unit profit.

"There is no monopoly in the textile industry. Cotton can do the same thing with the Cotton Council International in Europe and Japan. We are convinced that we are on the right track. We have tested and proved promotion techniques.

"I think we have definitely helped hold back the invasion by the synthetics. We just haven't had the strength to stop it. We have been tremendously outnumbered.

"We are absolutely sure from these years of experience that cotton's position in the total textile market can be improved, and we feel sure we know how to do it. But we must get together and get organized.

"Up to now, the United States has been trying singlehandedly to hold back synthetic invasion around the world. All the cotton producers have been benefiting, but we have been the only ones paying. We are about to get some help.

"Last Friday, I attended the final session of the drafting committee which is putting the touches on the charter and organization of the principal cotton exporting countries to carry out more intensive research and promotion for cotton internationally. This is a joint effort to hold back this synthetic invasion. Countries accounting for about two-thirds of the free world's exports have tentatively agreed to put up a dollar a bale on their exports to Europe and Japan to get their effort started. We are hopeful others will join later. It is expected trade and industry in the consuming countries will come in to help at least to the same extent.

"We have the possibility in the near future of a total program initially of 10 to 12 million dollars — that's five times the size of the present CCI program. We should be able to build on that.

"Incidentally, the U.S. expects to finance its share through PL-480, just as at present. Most of the additional money will come from the other countries which have been benefiting but not paying up to now. "With such a concerted effort, cotton's position in the world market should certainly improve. The world market for cotton should grow.

"A larger world market for cotton will certainly improve the opportunity for U.S. cotton exports.

"Improvements in the U.S. price program will enable U.S. cotton to be more competitive and able to take advantage of the opportunity."

IF THERE WERE A MRS. PAUL BUNYAN she would have made good use of this giant RCA Whirlpool dishwasher. A part of the Whirlpool exhibit at the New York World's Fair, the giant dishwasher is a replica of the home model and shows the action of dual spray arms on some rather large dishes. Fair goers have the opportunity of walking into the middle of a dishwasher without getting wet. The Paul Bunyan dishwasher can be seen at the Whirlpool exhibit in the Better Living Center pavilion at the New York World's Fair.

The children have disappeared. You look for them and see a bush moving suspiciously in the yard. A tree seems to have grown another two arms, and what looks like a spear waves at you threateningly. While in the kitchen the table has become alive with hands and feet! What is it? It's African Safari time and mother is instructed to go away.

Every child becomes completely absorbed in his world of lions, tigers, elephants, and fierce head hunters. Probably even more so after a visit to the zoo.

Ellsworth Newcomb and Hugh Keamy have put together a wonderful group of stories in the Badger book African Adventures, for Whitman Publishing Company of Racine, Wisconsin.

They tell us that Africa is four times as big as the United States and its people speak seven hundred languages. Boys and girls of all ages will enjoy discovering Africa and reading the adventures of the men and women who have explored and developed this land.

We meet the young Scottish doctor, David Livingstone, with two ambitions: to map the huge, uncharted land and to end the slave trading. We discover the magnificent Victoria Falls with him and find out why Henry Stanley was sent to find Livingstone.

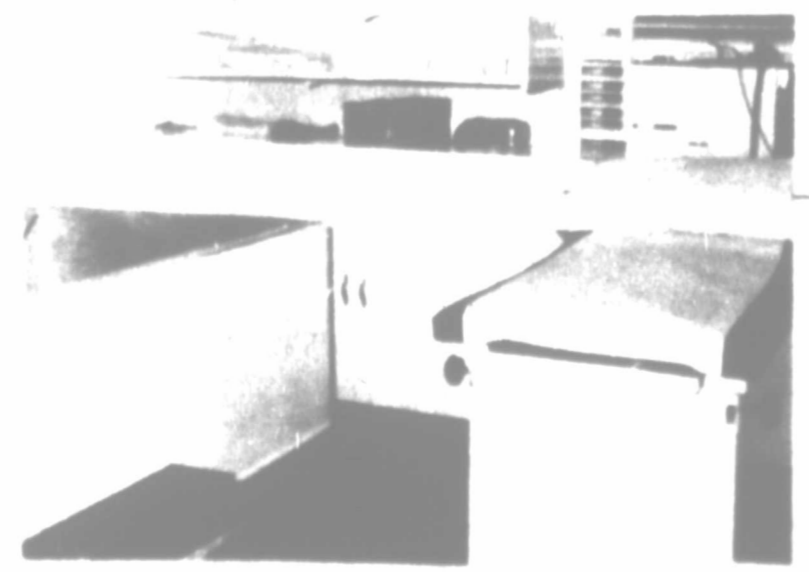

Dom Paul the Great is an exciting tale of a brave young man who took part in the Great Trek of the Boers of South Africa. The Boers were Dutch people trying to find new lands and independence from the British.

There is the story of Cecil Rhodes, the young invalid Englishman who founded the De Beers Mining Company and became the richest man in the world.

TPA Hires Ad Salesman For New Dallas Office

AUSTIN, Tex. — Employment of an additional salesman to the advertising sales staff of the Texas Press Association was announced today by TPA General Manager Vern Sanford.

He is Jack Rodecap of Dallas, for the past 10 years a salesman for the Texas Daily Press League. Rodecap is based at the new regional sales office in Dallas, located in Suite 1482 of the Baker Hotel.

"Jack brings with him an abundance of energy and an excellent know-how," said Sanford, "and we're looking forward to his working with us in the development of additional lineage for Texas newspapers."

A new era in Texas journalism started in 1947 when TPA established a full-time central office in Dallas. It was moved to the capital city the following year and will remain there.

Opening of the Dallas office is another step in the forward progress of TPA," said Winn Crossley, publisher of the Madisonville Meteor and president of the newspaper association. "Merchandising data will be assembled in the Dallas office for the convenience and guidance of potential newspaper advertisers."

"At either the regional office in Dallas or the central office in Austin, an advertiser or an agency may purchase space in one or all of the 686 dailies and weeklies in Texas," Crossley stated. "We will cooperate with national advertising representatives who have signed contracts with Texas newspapers by turning such orders over to them. Our one order-one check placement service makes it easier to publish display ads in Texas newspapers and encourages greater use of newspaper advertising."

Rodecap has a Bachelor of Journalism degree from Indiana University. A World War II veteran, he served three years of active duty in the South Pacific. He is 42 years of age, married and has three children.

Practically all of his newspaper experience has been in national advertising. Prior to his employment as national advertising salesman for TPA, he served as merchandising manager in the national advertising department of the Dallas Morning News and later in the special section and promotion department of the Dallas Times Herald.

Earlier Dallas employers included the Cochman Advertising Agency; the Southland Corporation; Accurate of Texas (printers finisher); and the Municipal Contractors Association. In the latter job, he was house organ editor.

Rodecap has employed Mrs. Eleanor Owens as his secretary. Previously she had been with Tracy-Locks in the media department; Whitley Employment Service as an interviewer; and Avon Products as city manager for Dallas.

Crossley said none of the 16-member Austin staff will be transferred to Dallas. Mrs. Yvonne Justice will remain as manager of the central office in Austin and Vern Sanford will continue as general manager of the Association.

"The central office in Austin will handle political, institutional and state advertising, as heretofore, with the Dallas office as an additional contact point for candidates and others desiring to carry their messages in Texas newspapers," Crossley added.

THE COMFORT

Jesus said:
"But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name..."

"All that the Father giveth me shall come to me, and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out."

"For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of Him that sent me."

"And this is the will of Him that sent me, that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on Him, may have everlasting life; and I will raise him up at the last day."

"Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me hath everlasting life."

"I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever..."

"Martha saith unto Him, I know that he (Lazarus) shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day."

"Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live..."

"When Jesus therefore saw her (Mary) weeping, and the Jews also weeping..."

"Jesus wept"

Do you believe in Jesus: that He is the Christ, Son of God, sent by the Father to die on cross to redeem us and save us from sin--and give us eternal life? There is no other way, no other name given whereby man can obtain eternal life. But Jesus said all man's debt for sin; He came to seek and to save sinners. So turn from your sin, from your way to Him

DOWN THE ROAD IN BERMUDA:

This young couple, the tiny motors of their Mopeds humming, head for a day of sight-seeing along the shorelines of Bermuda. The motorized bicycles (they're called auxiliary bikes in Bermuda) are available to tourists on a rental basis, and have become one of the most popular means of transportation. Note the baskets hanging from the rear of the bicycles... handy for straw hats, lunches or the packages bought on a shopping spree. And for those tourists who prefer the less energetic type of transportation, Bermuda also has the small British-size taxis. F.M.S.

give yourself to Him (just as you are!) and let Him do His work in You. Only believe, only trust Him and He will save you! Accept Him now. Can you claim these promises of Jesus, because He is your Savior? Believe Him, for He has all power, in heaven and in earth, and He can and will save you into everlasting life, to be forever with Him. If you Have Jesus, you know the Comforter.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
His companions fail not. They are new every morning. —(Lam. 3:22, 23)
Now is the time for fulfillment. It is the time for joy and for the life you want to live. We cannot get today's blessings from tomorrow. If we think only of tomorrow, we will not receive the blessings of the present. Let us claim our blessings, now, today.

Tips For The Ladies—

On Choosing Sunglasses

With summer sunshine—and summer glare—here, sunglasses time is upon us. Sunglasses should be chosen with as much care as regular glasses, since incorrect lenses offer no protection from the sun and can actually be dangerous.

So called bargain glasses not only fail to filter out harmful rays but often hinder normal vision because of their optical defects. It is important that your glasses protect your eyes from glare while filtering out invisible infrared and ultraviolet rays. Plastic lenses, for instance, afford no protection from infrared rays.

And, from a fashion point of view, you'll want to choose your sunglasses with as much care as any other accessory.

Here is a check list from Bausch & Lomb, makers of quality Ray-Ban sunglasses for women who want to flatter their appearance while protecting their eyes.

- Always "shelter" your eyes from excessive light. Make sure your glasses transmit no more than 35% of the light.
- In choosing the color of your lenses, avoid pastels or red, yellow, blue and orange shades; stick to the neutral gray and sage green shades.
- Avoid extremes in frame shapes. The design should flatter, not "bury" your face.
- Sunglasses with sturdy, simple frames should be selected for active, outdoor occasions. For dressier events, a high fashion design in flattering color is more appropriate.
- For a round, square or full face choose the "upward" frame shape. For an oval, slender or long face, the new squared designs are very suitable.
- For a really dramatic effect with your gayest swim suit, try the sophisticated extra-large designs or the big round eye style.
- The more elaborate your attire, the simpler your sunglasses design should be. On the other hand, if your hair style is very conservative, you can "perk it up" with a glamorous pair of high fashion glasses.
- Never wear sunglasses while driving at night.
- If you wear eyeglasses for distance vision, be sure to have your sunglasses ground to your prescription.

NEW NURSING HOME

...Miss Alice Moore, nurse aid; Mildred Ogerty, nurse aid; Audrie Long, dietitian; Howard Canal, orderly; Pearl Blanchard, LVN.

Services and accommodations of the Amherst Manor will include the following: Room, board, 24 hour nursing care, linen, and bedding, personal laundry (not dry cleaning), wheel chair, walkers, patient lifts, hospital beds (when needed). Other services will include such personal services as may be required for the health, safety, good grooming, and well-being of the resident.

Policies of the Amherst Manor are as follows:

1. All fees for one month's services and accommodations are payable in advance (except Vendor payments).
2. Refunds will be made for any unused portion of the month in the event the resident leaves the Home for any reason.
3. Residents or responsible party will provide for personal clothing and effects as needed or desired by the resident, including money, and also for physician fees, medications, and other treatments or aids as ordered by a physician.

4. A resident is not permitted to keep medications in his possession. A separate storage space will be provided in the dispensing room for medications.
5. Each resident must furnish his own toilet articles (except soap) and four or five changes of clothing suitable to his own needs. These are expected to be replaced after damage due to normal wear.
6. Residents clothing will be marked and listed on a form provided by the office.
7. The Home will not accept addicts or belligerent persons.
8. Residents may bring their own wheel chairs, walkers, TV sets, radio, chairs, pictures, and other personal effects provided they meet the approval of the management.
9. All residents will be charged the same rate regardless of their financial status.

Open House for the Amherst Manor will be conducted Sunday afternoon from 2 to 6 p. m. and will begin receiving residents Wednesday morning, Sept. 1.
