IT WAS reported last week that British scientists are working on a new radiation machine using isotopes which they hope will check certain types of cancer. It was even suggested that eventually the machine might cure some types of cancer.

Personally, we hear of some new avenue which researchers are pursuing to find the cause of and cure for cancer. Somewhere, somewhere, the answer surely will be found, as so many brilliant minds are working on the problem.

Wistfully hope so. It will be tremendous good news for all the world when a real blow is struck at this dread disease.

A DEMOLISHING company in Louisiana acquired a gallows that has never been used, when the company demolished the parish courthouse in Lafayette, La. The gallows was installed in 1927 just before the state of Louisiana abolished hanging as a form of execution. It has the traditional 15 steps leading to a sturdy platform, an overhead arm with fastener for rope, and a trap door.

It's for sale, says the company.

This would make the perfect gift for someone who is tired of this drab existence. Or for someone whose drab existence you are tired of.

THE SURE way to guarantee that the payment you're mailing into the big city finance company won't get there too soon is to ZIP code it. That way it'll give you an extra day to beat the check to the bank.

SUDAN WINS NO. 6

SUDAN BLANKS BOVINA, 33-0

HORNETS WIN NUMBER 6 - Shows in action shot taken during the Sudan-Bovina game Friday night. The Hornets won 33-0 for their sixth consecutive win of the season and the first conference game. They play O'Donnell here tomorrow night and will be looking for the victory No. 7.

The Sudan Hornets added the sixth straight victory of the season Friday night by winning their first conference game from the Bovina Mustangs, 33-0.

The strong Hornet defensive unit sparked by Eddy Boyles, Robin Davis, Ronnie Brown and Vann Seymore did a great job of holding the Mustangs scoreless. The defensive team has allowed only 14 points to be scored against them in six games.

The offense also did a good job in scoring 33 points and gaining 273 yards rushing.

Mike Bellar opened the ball game by kicking off to the Mustangs. In the first quarter Bovina moved the ball for more yards than Sudan but neither team was able to score.

The Hornets came roaring back

assisted by Donna Heard, Sheryl Roberts, Andrea Thomason, Nancy Patterson and Brenda Drake.

Inductees included Steve Martin, Dick Black, Tommy Leal, Monte Rogers, Frances Hanna, Junior students who were made active members were Andrea Thomason, Judy West, Linda Patterson, Nancy Lance, Donna Gaston, Sherry Withrow and Sherry Whiteaker.

A student must maintain at least a 90 grade average in order to become a member of the honor society.

Sponsor is Mrs. Beulah Williams.

Refreshments were served by Skyles Lane to members, parents and friends present.

to start the second half like they had a new lease on life. Midway of the third quarter, Jerry Bellar surprised Bovina and ran 28 yards for a touchdown. The conversion attempt failed leaving the score Sudan 12, Bovina 0.

The Mustangs then the ball and carried it to the Hornet 19, where they fumbled with Sudan recovering. In a series of downs the Hornets moved the ball to the Mustangs 31 where Bellar attempted a field goal which was partially blocked.

Upon receiving the ball, Bovina was unable to make the first down and were forced to punt. The Hornets took the ball and moved it downfield with Hill going over from the 11 for the 6 pointer. Bellar kicked the extra point, putting the Hornets out front, 19-0.

Another outstanding play of the third quarter was in the closing minutes when Steve Martin intercepted a Mustang pass on the 30 and ran to the 22 before being brought down and ending the quarter.

Upon changing ends of the field the Hornets moved to the 5 yard line where Larry Morgan fought his way across the goal line with Bellar adding the extra point.

The crowd watched a defensive battle until Morgan again found a hole in the Bovina line and ran 28 yards for the final TD. Bellar kicked the extra point and the final score read Sudan 33, Bovina 0.

Sudan is tied with Springlake for district but still remains as one of the three South Plains class A schools to be undefeated in season play.

The Hornets will play O'Donnell here Friday at 7:30 p. m. They have only four more games to play, with three of these being conference games. But the magic number in Sudan this week is "No. 7" with the theme song, "Beat O'Donnell".

Other extra activities at the ball game in Merton Stadium Friday night will include the "showing" of souvenir footballs before the game begins and the halftime show by the Sudan Hornet and Junior High Bands.

This is the second time for the conference to be held in Lubbock, site of the original conference in 1961. It is sponsored annually by the Cattle Feeders

WHAT POWER IS IN YOU??

Scripture: 1 John 2:1-2, 3:1-3, 4:4 1 Corinthians 3:16.

"Because greater is He that is in you, than he that is in the world."

What is wrong with us? Is there something wrong? Why do we not as Christians (the Church) have more effect on the world than we do? Why are so many of the lost not found for Christ? Are you looking, searching for those who are lost without hope?

In the days of Abraham, why did he leave his home, his family and friends and go into a strange country? Because His faith was in God, and when God spoke to him, Abraham went. Moses led the children of Israel out of bondage in Egypt, by faith in God's Almighty power to do what He said. There are many other persons who have lived by faith—but in what do we believe? Even more important, in whom do we believe?

What do you think about? Do you think about God, His mercy and His glory; do you think of His unfailing grace, His forgiveness and mercy toward man? What do you read? With whom do you spend your time? What and who are you? Who is he that is in you? What "power" really works within you?

I think that until the Christian believer gives God's Spirit "room" to operate within his heart, that he is powerless. If man never thinks (really thinks) about, prays or worships God, we know the Spirit of God is not abiding in him. But if man thinks, prays, and worships God, then fails to be obedient to what the Holy Spirit bids him to do, he is rejecting God's Spirit, and thus remains powerless and joyless. You may say, "But this obedience to the Holy Spirit many times looks foolish to others." Yes, yet even so when we are obedient to take one simple step, what may seem to us one little foolish action, we have done what Almighty God, our Father has said to do! And in this, through this willingness to let Him use us for His will and purpose, He does the work! Also, this is the way we begin to learn to walk by faith, to live by faith in Him, looking to Jesus.

So, what can we actually do?

First, we can turn away from ourselves, give ourselves to God, accepting Christ as our personal Savior; accepting His forgiveness and forgiving ourselves. Then start to think about what it means to be made a child of the Eternal God; to think of what it means to give our "self" to God as a member of His family here on earth and also in heaven.

We can think of the high cost of our forgiveness and salvation. God was in Jesus Christ, reconciling us to Himself. We can start to learn of God in Christ through prayer, reading His Word and coming in to worship with His other children—then going out into the world to be and act like God's child.

God has no physical body, now that Jesus Christ has given up His physical body to die for your sin and mine. God has no visible body on earth to use in His service work, except your body and mine! "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God."

So, as we once gave our mind, our attention, our devotion, our time and our works to the world, even more so because of God's great love for us, let us now give Him all of these, all of ourselves that He may use us together as one body—the Church of Jesus Christ—to do His will! Make room in your heart and life for God's Spirit to abide and work within you.

And what is God's will? Jesus said "And this is the will of Him that sent me, that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on Him may have everlasting life; and I will raise him up at the last day."

It is not the Father's will that any one of us be lost, but you and I must make our own choice. And now that I know Jesus Christ as my Savior and the only one who can save man from sin and MEXICO, EARLY 1930'S—For a number of years oil had been produced in the Mexico region of Central Texas. In 1932, the terms of the new production sharing law were 76,000 barrels a day, by 1932.

Three Hundred Years Wiser About Fire

One Sunday morning in September, 300 years ago, fire started in a bake shop in Pudding Lane, London. Five days later 13,000 homes and 87 churches, over almost 400 acres, lay in ashes.

Within two months of that holocaust, the first laws directed at fire prevention were enacted. The City Council of London ruled that all new homes had to be built of brick and stone, not timber and that, and that the trades of hawking, dyeing and soap boiling could not be carried on in house courtyards as before.

Fire prevention, as we know it, was born, while much has been done over these three centuries toward greater fire safety, there are 300,000 fires in homes each year in this country and almost 4,000 children die in fires.

A Nuclear-Powered Heart

The scientific and medical professions are posing their skills to develop a nuclear-powered artificial heart. A radio active capsule within the artificial heart will furnish the power for a tiny steam engine designed to actuate a blood pump.

This pioneering research subject is being conducted at the Children's Hospital Medical Center, Boston, Mass., and they plan to implant the heart in an animal later this year.

If these tests and the many to follow are successful, scientists believe that they can develop a heart unit that would be the size of a cantaloupe, would weigh about five pounds, could function within the rib cage for up to 10 years and could be a total heart replacement. The use of nuclear power could eliminate one major obstacle to the development of artificial hearts—the need to frequently replace the power source.

The research is being conducted jointly by Children's Hospital and Thermo-Electron Engineering Corp., of Waltham, Massachusetts.

The major technical problems in development of a nuclear-powered heart involve heat and radiation, says Dr. William F. Bernhard of Children's Hospital, the project medical director.

PLAN NOW FOR A DRESS-UP HALLOWEEN

New York NAPS For centuries, special costumes have been part of the Halloween spirit. Some English farmers, for example, used to don tattered garments and go from house to house collecting food for a village feast.

Their trick, if not treated, was often to plug up the stinging person's chimney!

The ragged clothes were worn in order not to arouse the envy of lurking evil spirits. To confuse these same malicious spooks, boys and girls sometimes swapped clothes when they went trick-or-treating.

In parts of Ireland, the Halloween procession was led by a man in a white robe and a horse's head! In other regions, the lads dressed as mummies and pretended to be messengers of a spirit called the Muck Olla.

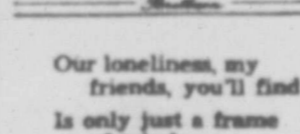

Thanks to the stern Puritan influence, Halloween fun and games were slow in coming to America. When they arrived with the waves of 19th century immigrants, they were accompanied by the new traditional ghosts and witches' costumes.

Today, youngsters have a spirited but not always spooky variety of costumes that range from Batman and Robin to Chipita Banana outfits! A colorful dress from South of the Border, sure to make any little girl a standout at Halloween parties, is inspired by the famous Chipita Banana symbol.

Chipita's skirt and sleeves bloom with yellow flowers on a red background, these colors are reversed on the bodice. The easy-to-sew dress can be quite economical, depending on the fabric used—its accompanying burlap hat is lively with red felt flowers and a big yellow felt banana.

There's more than one way to be bewitching on Halloween!

Geraniums From Seeds

You can grow geraniums from seeds for indoor flowering in winter or for bedding outdoors in spring. Here only the best seeds such as Floradale Fancy Mixed, a season of which is shown.

You can grow the geraniums for next year's bedding outdoors from seeds sown during winter months and it is fun for the results are quite unpredictable. You know in advance if you sow the geranium seeds from a reliable seedstore that all the plants will be identical except for the flower colors and the exact seed sowing will vary from plant to plant.

Geranium seeds are very fine if you scatter them over the top surface of a flower pot filled with 1/2 sand, 1/2 granulated peat moss and 1/2 good garden soil you can sprinkle over them a thin layer of sand to cover them with the palm of your hand then press gently to the soil.

Water after planting, and as often as is needed by wetting the planted soil in a container of water and allowing the moisture to permeate to the soil surface. Don't allow the soil to dry until after seeds have sprouted— from 2 to 3 weeks time of sowing.

The pot should be covered with a sheet of glass or lipped with a quarter inch and set in a shady place in a 40 degree temperature until seeds sprout. After that it moves plants to light.

As soon as seedlings are large enough to handle plant each in a 2 inch pot in a mixture of half granulated peat moss and half good garden soil. When larger pots as needed.

Four months are required from seed to flowering in time the planting of seeds according to your needs. Geranium seeds may be sown at any time of year and growing the plants from seeds is a real adventure.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING?
If You Think So, Then...

PREACHERS -- Should preach only one sermon a year

... we are all against sin anyway, so why harp on it?

TRAFFIC LIGHTS -- Should be turned off at dangerous intersections to save electricity. Everybody knows it's a dangerous spot and that should be sufficient.

TEACHERS -- No need to review lessons. Tell the children only once and they'll never forget.

HIGHWAY PATROLMEN -- Stop driving up and down, no need to caution drivers for they know the law and should obey.

MAIL ORDER FIRMS -- That send catalogues are wasting their money. Everyone knows what is sold at stores in town and of course they'll shop at home.

IF YOU ARE ONE of the foolish kind, like the Notre Dame Cathedral that has stood for six centuries but still rings the bell every day to let people know it is there, and if you believe in consistent, profitable advertising, then you will--

LABOR SURVEY CONDUCTED HERE

This area is one of 47 throughout the U.S. recently added to those sampled each month by the Bureau of the Census to measure the rates of employment and unemployment in the Nation, according to Director Francis H. Wilmer of the Bureau's Denver regional office.

The new local sampling area consists of Lamb County.

Monthly labor statistics are sampled by the Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics. Census interviewers call upon randomly selected households in taking the survey. By increasing the number of sample areas, the Bureau expects to provide improved labor force statistics.

Interviewers also obtain information on population characteristics and housing.

Interviewing in this area is starting during September and October.

A Giant-Sized Order

The novice investor may well feel like David facing Goliath as he contemplates beginning his own investment program for, to many, the caverns of "Wall Street" are formidable indeed, the prospects of tackling the stock market alone staggering, and the job of handling one's own investments a giant-sized order.

Despite these drawbacks, some 20 million people in this country are currently investing in the stock market and twice that many are expected by 1975. Many of these investors have faced the marketplace alone. Others—over 35 million in fact—have decided that although they want to invest their money, they do not have the time or sufficient knowledge and experience to do it by themselves.

Mutual funds employ full-time professional managers who invest your money, along with that of all the other investors in the fund, in a broad range of securities. These managers have the time, knowledge, and the tools at their disposal to handle a job that the average investor, involved in making a living for himself, could not do alone. By diversifying your investment they reduce the risk that would be involved if you had invested all of your money in one or only a few securities.

Mutual fund shareholders come from every walk of life and range from those who invest as little as $25 a month in an accumulation plan to large institutions who invest millions. Both, however, receive the exact same service and have invested in mutual funds for the same reason—a diversified list of securities managed by professionals.

According to the Investment Company Institute, national organization for the fund industry, mutual funds are the fastest growing investment medium in the United States. Their assets have grown from a little over $9 billion in 1956 to over $35 billion today.

WOODWORK BY DALTON

IT WAS reported last week that British scientists are working on a new radiation machine using neutron beams which they hope will check certain types of cancer. It was even suggested that eventually the machine might cure some types of cancer.

Periodically we hear of some new avenue which researchers are pursuing to find the cause of and cure for cancer. Someday, somewhere, the answer surely will be found, as so many brilliant minds are working on the problem.

We sincerely hope so. It will be tremendous good news for all the world when a real blow is struck at this dread disease.

A DEMOLISHING company in Louisiana acquired a gallows that has never been used, when the company demolished the parish courthouse in Lafayette, La. The gallows was installed in 1927 just before the state of Louisiana abolished hanging as a form of execution. It has the traditional 15 steps leading to a sturdy platform, an overhead arm with fastener or rope, and a trap door.

It's for sale, says the company.

This would make the perfect gift for someone who is tired of this drab existence. Or for someone whose drab existence you are tired of.

THE SURE WAY to guarantee that the payment you're mailing into the big city finance company won't get there too soon is to ZIP code it. That way it'll give you an extra day to beat the check to the bank.

The Sudan Hornets added the sixth straight victory of the season Friday night by winning their first conference game from the Bovina Mustangs, 33-0.

The strong Hornet defensive unit sparked by Eddy Boyles, Robin Davis, Ronnie Brown and Vann Seymore did a great job of holding the Mustangs scoreless. The defensive team has allowed only 14 points to be scored against them in six games.

The offense also did a good job in scoring 33 points and gaining 273 yards rushing.

Mike Bellar opened the ball game by kicking off to the Mustangs. In the first quarter Bovina moved the ball for more yards than Sudan but neither team was able to score.

assisted by Donna Heard, Sheryl Roberts, Andrea Thomason, Nancy Patterson and Brenda Drake.

Inductees included Steve Martin, Dick Black, Tommy Leal, Monte Rogers, Frances Hanna, Junior students who were made active members were Andrea Thomason, Judy West, Linda Patterson, Nancy Lance, Donna Gaston, Sherry Withrow and Sherry Whitesaker.

A student must maintain at least a 90 grade average in order to become a member of the honor society.

Sponsor is Mrs. Evelyn... Inductees were... during the ceremonies to start the second half like they had a new lease on life. Midway of the third quarter, Jerry Bellar surprised Bovina and ran 28 yards for a touchdown. The conversion attempt failed leaving the score Sudan 12, Bovina 0.

The Mustangs then the ball and carried it to the Hornet 19, where they fumbled with Sudan recovering. In a series of downs the Hornets moved the ball to the Mustangs 31 where Bellar attempted a field goal which was partially blocked.

Upon receiving the ball, Bovina was unable to make the first down and were forced to punt. The Hornets took the ball and moved it downfield with Hill going over from the 11 for the 6 pointer. Bellar kicked the extra point, putting the Hornets out front, 19-0.

Another outstanding play of the third quarter was in the closing minutes when Steve Martin intercepted a Mustang pass on the 30 and ran to the 22 before being brought down and ending the quarter.

Upon changing ends of the field the Hornets moved to the 5 yard line where Larry Morgan fought his way across the goal line with Bellar adding the extra point.

The crowd watched a defensive battle until Morgan again found a hole in the Bovina line and ran 28 yards for the final TD. Bellar kicked the extra point and the final score read Sudan 33, Bovina 0.

Sudan is tied with Springlake for district but still remains as one of the three South Plains class A schools to be undefeated in season play.

The Hornets will play O'Donnell here Friday at 7:30 p.m. They have only four more games to play, with three of these being conference games. But the magic number in Sudan this week is "No. 7" with the theme song, "Beat O'Donnell".

Other extra activities at the ball game in Mason Stadium Friday night will include the "showing" of souvenir footballs before the game begins and the halftime show by the Sudan Hornet and Junior High Bands.

WHAT POWER IS IN YOU??

Scripture: I John 2:1-2; 3:1-3; 4:4; I Corinthians 3:16.

"... Because greater is He that is in you, than he that is in the world."

What is wrong with us? Is there something wrong? Why do we not as Christians (the Church) have more effect on the world than we do? Why are so many of the lost not found for Christ? Are you looking, searching for those who are lost without hope?

In the days of Abraham, why did he leave his home, his family and friends and go into a strange country? Because His faith was in God, and when God spoke to him, Abraham went. Moses led the children of Israel out of bondage in Egypt, by faith in God's Almighty power to do what He said. There are many other persons who have lived by faith—but in what do we believe? Even more important, in whom do we believe?

What do you think about? Do you think about God, His majesty and His glory; do you think of His unfailing grace, His forgiveness and mercy toward man? What do you read? With whom do you spend your time? What and who are you?

Who is he that is in you? What "power" really works within you?

I think that until the Christian believer gives God's Spirit "room" to operate within his heart, that he is powerless. If man never thinks (really thinks) about, prays or worships God, we know the Spirit of God is not abiding in him. But if man thinks, prays, and worships God, then fails to be obedient to what the Holy Spirit bids him to do, he is rejecting God's Spirit, and thus remains powerless and joyless. You may say "But this obedience to the Holy Spirit many times looks foolish to others." Yes, yet even so when we are obedient to take one simple step, what may seem to us one little foolish action, we have done what Almighty God, our Father has said to do! And in this, through this willingness to let Him use us for His will and purpose, He does the work! Also, this is the way we begin to learn to walk by faith, to live by faith in Him, looking to Jesus.

So, what can we actually do?

First, we can turn away from our sins, give ourselves to God, accepting Christ as our personal Savior; accepting His forgiveness and forgiving ourselves. Then start to think about what it means to be made a child of the Eternal God; to think of what it means to give our "self" to God as a member of His family here on earth and also in heaven.

We can think of the high cost of our forgiveness and salvation. God was in Jesus Christ, reconciling us to Himself. We can start to learn of God in Christ through prayer, reading His Word and coming in to worship with His other children—then going out into the world to be and act like God's child.

God has no physical body, now that Jesus Christ has given up His physical body to die for your sin and mine. God has no visible body on earth to use in His service work, except your body and mine! "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God...?"

So, as we once gave our mind, our attention, our devotion, our time and our works to the world, even more so because of God's great love for us, let us now give Him all of these, all of ourselves that He may use us together as one body—the Church of Jesus Christ—to do His will! Make room in your heart and life for God's Spirit to abide and work within you.

And what is God's will? Jesus said "And this is the will of Him that sent me, that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on Him may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day."

It is not the Father's will that any one of us be lost, but you and I must make our own choice. And now that I know Jesus Christ as my Savior and the only one who can save man from sin and MEXIA, EARLY 1920'S—For a number of years oil had been produced in the Mexia region of Central Texas, but by 1921 it was the scene of thriving production, hitting some 176,000 barrels a day by 1922.

Three-Hundred Years Wiser About Fire

One Sunday morning in September, 300 years ago, fire started in a bake shop on Pudding Lane, London. Five days later 13,000 homes and 87 churches, over almost 400 acres, lay in ashes.

Within two months of that holocaust, the first laws directed at fire prevention were enacted. The City Council of London ruled that all new homes had to be built of brick and stone, not timber and thatch, and that the trades of brewing, dyeing and soap boiling could not be carried on in house courtyards as before.

Fire prevention, as we know it, was born. While much has been done over these three centuries toward greater fire safety, there are 300,000 fires in homes each year in this country and almost 4,000 children die in fires.

A Nuclear-Powered Heart

The scientific and medical professions are pooling their skills to develop a nuclear-powered artificial heart. A radioactive capsule within the artificial heart will furnish the power for a tiny steam engine designed to actuate a blood pump.

This pioneering research subject is being conducted at the Children's Hospital Medical Center, Boston, Mass., and they plan to implant the heart in an animal later this year.

If these tests and the many to follow are successful, scientists believe that they can develop a heart unit that would be the size of a cantaloupe, would weigh about five pounds, could function within the rib cage for up to 10 years and could be a total heart replacement. The use of nuclear power could eliminate one major obstacle to the development of artificial hearts: the need to frequently replace the power source.

The research is being conducted jointly by Children's Hospital and Thermo-Electron Engineering Corp., of Waltham, Massachusetts.

The major technical problems in development of a nuclear-powered heart involve heat and radiation, says Dr. William F. Bernhard of Children's Hospital, the project medical director.

PLAN NOW FOR A DRESS-UP HALLOWE'EN

New York (NAPS)—For centuries, special costumes have been part of the Halloween spirit. Some English farmers, for example, used to don tattered garments and go from house to house collecting food for a village feast. (Their trick, if not treated, was often to plug up the stingy person's chimney!)

The ragged clothes were worn in order not to arouse the envy of lurking evil spirits. To confuse these same malicious spooks, boys and girls sometimes swapped clothes when they went trick-or-treating.

In parts of Ireland, the Halloween procession was led by a man in a white robe and a horse's head! In other regions, the lads dressed as mummies and pretended to be messengers of a spirit called the Muck Olla.

Thanks to the stern Puritan influence, Halloween fun and games were slow in coming to America. When they arrived with the waves of 19th century immigrants, they were accompanied by the new traditional ghosts and witches' costumes.

Today, youngsters have a spirited but not always spooky variety of costumes that range from Batman and Robin to Chiquita Banana outfits! A colorful dress from South of the Border, sure to make any little girl a standout at Halloween parties, is inspired by the famous Chiquita Banana symbol.

Chiquita's skirt and sleeves bloom with yellow flowers on a red background; these colors are reversed on the bodice. The easy-to-sew dress can be quite economical, depending on the fabric used. Its accompanying burlap hat is lively with red felt flowers and a big yellow felt banana.

There's more than one way to be bewitching on Halloween!

Our loneliness, my friends, you'll find
Is only just a frame of mind;
If loneliness has claimed your time,
Then kindly analyze this rhyme;
To render service day by day,
Will drive all loneliness away;
It has no place for its abode,
Where we will share our neighbor's load

Geraniums From Seeds

You can grow geraniums from seeds for indoor flowering in winter or for bedding outdoors in spring. Buy only the best seeds such as Floradale Fancy Mixed, a bloom of which is shown.

You can grow the geraniums for next year's bedding outdoors from seeds sown during winter. It's easy and it's fun for the results are quite unpredictable. You know in advance if you sow fine geranium seeds from a reliable seedsmen that all the plants will be beautiful ones but the flower colors and the exact leaf coloring will vary from plant to plant.

Geranium seeds are very fine. If you scatter them over the surface of a flower pot filled with 1/3 sand, 1/3 granulated peat moss and 1/3 good garden soil you can sprinkle over them a thin layer of sand to cover. Then, with the palm of your hand, firm them gently to the soil.

Water after planting and as often as is needed by setting the planted pot in a container of water and allowing the moisture to permeate to the soil surface. Don't allow the soil to dry until after seeds have sprouted — from 2 to 8 weeks time of sowing.

The pot should be covered with a sheet of glass or popped into a plastic bag and set in a shady place in a 60 degree temperature until seeds sprout. After that remove glass or plastic.

As soon as seedlings are large enough to handle, plant each in a 2-inch pot in a mixture of half granulated peat moss and half good garden soil. Shift to larger pots as needed.

Four months are required from seed to flowering so time the planting of seeds according to your needs. Geranium seeds may be sown at any time of year and growing the plants from seeds is a real adventure.

So You Don't Need
To Use
NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING?
If You Think So, Then...

PREACHERS -- Should preach only one sermon a year

. . . we are all against sin anyway, so why harp on it?

TRAFFIC LIGHTS -- Should be turned off at dangerous intersections to save electricity. Everybody knows it's a dangerous spot and that should be sufficient.

TEACHERS -- No need to review lessons. Tell the children only once and they'll never forget.

HIGHWAY PATROLMEN -- Stop driving up and down, no need to caution drivers for they know the law and should obey.

MAIL ORDER FIRMS -- That send catalogues are wasting their money. Everyone knows what is sold at stores in town and of course they'll shop at home.

IF YOU ARE ONE of the foolish kind, like the Notre Dame Cathedral that has stood for six centuries but still rings the bell every day to let people know it is there, and if you believe in consistent, profitable advertising, then you will--

A Giant-Sized Order

The novice investor may well feel like David facing Goliath as he contemplates beginning his own investment program for, to many, the caverns of "Wall Street" are formidable indeed, the prospects of tackling the stock market alone staggering, and the job of handling one's own investments a giant-sized order.

Despite these drawbacks, some 20 million people in this country are currently investing in the stock market and twice that many are expected by 1975. Many of these investors have faced the marketplace alone. Others—over 3.5 million in fact—have decided that although they want to invest their money, they do not have the time or sufficient knowledge and experience to do it by themselves.

Mutual funds employ full-time professional managers who invest your money, along with that of all the other investors in the fund, in a broad range of securities. These managers have the time, knowledge, and the tools at their disposal to handle a job that the average investor, involved in making a living for himself, could not do alone. By diversifying your investment they reduce the risk that would be involved if you had invested all of your money in one or only a few securities.

Mutual fund shareholders come from every walk of life and range from those who invest as little as $25 a month in an accumulation plan to large institutions who invest millions. Both, however, receive the exact same service and have invested in mutual funds for the same reason—a diversified list of securities managed by professionals.

According to the Investment Company Institute, national organization for the fund industry, mutual funds are the fastest growing investment medium in the United States. Their assets have grown from a little over $9 billion in 1956 to over $35 billion today.
