WOODWORK BY DALTON

ONCE WE celebrated Nov. 11 as Armistice Day, the anniversary of the signing of the document which closed out the war which was supposed to end all wars. After a couple more wars, it was decided to continue the observance (a better word than celebration, I guess) as Veterans Day, with special prayers and other tribute paid to the many young Americans who have died fighting for their country.

War is a tragic thing which cuts down many persons in the prime of their lives, too often without the sacrifice doing a lot of good. And when the death of a friend or loved one in war is recent, it certainly is appropriate that they be remembered in tribute.

Yet, as was evidenced in ceremonies at various places over the nation last week, the plain truth seems to be that most persons would rather not be reminded of the tragedy of the loss of their friends and loved ones in war.

At a ceremony in Plainview, on the courthouse square, well-publicized in advance, there were representatives of several veterans organizations, several Gold Star Mothers who were brought to the ceremony by other members of the veterans organizations, a band which had been asked to participate in the parade, the state representatives who had been asked to speak at the event and about a half dozen citizens who had no part in the program. The general public was not interested in the program at all. Most stores and all public offices except county offices were open.

This perhaps does not speak too well for the general public, which no longer seems to be able to get very enthused about anything. On the other hand, it may be there is some justification for the public attitude. But it does seem rather pointless to promote what is supposed to be general public observance of something and then have nobody turn out. There is something wrong with either the public or the observance, perhaps both.

I USED to scoff at the theory that the older a person gets, the fewer marbles he retained. Not me, I thought. My mental faculties will never deteriorate like that. And something which occurred last weekend illustrates how alert I continue to be despite the passage of more and more years.

In Sudan last Saturday, I climbed into the family gas-gulper and it almost didn't start. The car has automatic transmission, power steering and battery cables which periodically have to be taken loose from the battery and cleaned out because they don't make good contact. The monster growled at me two or three times, and I would sit there a few minutes before trying again. Finally it started.

Later, downtown in Sudan, I took the cable ends off and cleaned them and the battery posts, figuring this would solve my problems as it always had done before. Then Jay House and I got into the car to leave. But when I turned the starter key,

COTTON HARVEST CUT SHORT HERE

The cotton harvesting operation reached a peak in the area this week with reports that if the mild weather prevails, the bulk of the harvest will be completed in two weeks.

Joe Rone, manager of a local gin stated that the early freeze damaged the crop more than expected and although last season's harvest was short compared to the average yield, the total number of bales this year is expected now to be even less. Also the average grade of cotton in the area is down at least two classes. However, the dryland cotton which did not receive any hail has produced cotton of fair grades. It is said that the irrigated cotton did not have time to fully mature due to the early freeze.

Hoyt Roberson, spokesman for Central Compress which receives cotton from the South Plains and Eastern New Mexico area, stated that the present harvest will be off 50% of normal production due to the early frost and reduced cotton acreage.

The compress which normally receives in the excess of 110,000 bales each season, is anticipating from 50,000 to 60,000 bales this season with 70 per cent of the cotton expected to be received by the end of the week. At present they have received 36,500 bales.

UNION THANKSGIVING SERVICE SET WEDNESDAY

The annual Community Union Thanksgiving Service will be held Wednesday, Nov. 23, in the Sudan First Baptist Church at 8 p. m.

Jack Riley, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will be preaching, and the Baptist Church Choir will sing.

Everyone is invited to attend this service.

Sudan Receives Historical Marker

Tales of early day Sudan were revived Tuesday when the Texas Historical Survey placed a marker on the "watering trough" located on the north side of the city hall.

It seems that the trough was built in 1916 to be used by cattlemen when the Santa Fe railroad installed a switch here on their cut-off from Houston to Clovis in 1913, called James Switch, which developed into a cattle shipping center.

The trough, located on wide-open range became a meeting place for all area cowboys.

Mrs. Simon Hay served as mistress of ceremonies for the dedication service and Reed Markham presented the plaque to Wayne Brown, city councilman, who nothing happened. It wouldn't even growl at me. So I told him I'd give the connections a little scientific twist and it would make contact, so we could start. (This had worked once previously). I tried it, but still nothing.

"Maybe something's wrong with the starter," he suggested. We tried shorting out the solenoid, but all this accomplished was burning a few little spots on my screwdriver. Lots of sparks, though, indicating there was fire in the battery. Just to be sure, we shorted across the posts, getting fire from only one of them.

I went and got a hammer and pounded the battery posts, figuring one might be broken, and I could get contact this way. We kept trying the starter from inside. Nothing. I thought about buying a new battery. I considered calling a mechanic. I contemplated slashing my wrists. Finally we decided to borrow a battery tester from G & C Auto, so Jay went after it. I sat down in the car waiting.

I happened to glance at the gear selector. It was in drive, I put it in neutral, it started with a roar, and I drove off, not too merrily.

accepted it in behalf of the city.

Others appearing on the program were Mrs. Lester LaGrange of Amherst, spokesman for the Lamb County Historical Committee; Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Slate, who related humorous incidents occurring around the trough fifty years ago (the Slaters operated a general store on the corner across from the "gathering place"; Mrs. Frances Fumeaux, whose family were among the first settlers, told of having the first telephone in Sudan, which consisted of a line of barbed wire between her house and that of the William Fumeauxs.

Willard Cox, minister of the Sudan Church of Christ gave the devotional and special music was provided by Brenda Drake, Jan Harper, Danny Martin, Sheila Baker.

Plans are now being made to beautify the site, so that it will in its rights become a historical monument. Approximately 65 persons attended the dedication service, including the civics class from Sudan High School.

EARLY COPY, PLEASE

We are asking the cooperation of all our readers to turn in their news early next week in order that we may publish the paper on Tuesday prior to Thanksgiving.

HORNETS END SEASON WITH 9-1 RECORD

The Sudan Hornets closed out their most successful football season within recent years last Friday, beating arch-enemy Far-

The UIL twirling contest to be held between 9:45 and 10:30 a. m. will feature Sudan twirlers Venita Whiteaker, Diana Clark, Rita Farmer, Sheryl Watts and Micky Logan. Each twirler is allotted 5 minutes for her routine.

Judges for the marching will be Warren Thaxton of Abilene, Joe Rogers of New Braunfels, G. T. Gilligan of Kermit. Twirling judges will be Eris Ritchie of Cisco and Mrs. Don Craig of Dumas. Final ratings will be announced at 3 p. m. and all residents are invited to attend.

It is suggested by Mike Metz, local band director, that if you attend the show to sit on the press box side of the stadium as the bands usually perform to that direction.

Paced by two touchdowns by senior Halfback Larry Morgan, playing his final game for Sudan, the Hornets outlasted a good Farwell team which featured a sharp passing quarterback Bobby Field. The victory gave Sudan a 9-1 mark for the season, with only the nightmare at Kress marring the record. Although Sudan has the best overall record, the loss to Kress cost them the district title, an honor which continually seems to elude Sudan.

Some of the other Sudan seniors acquitted themselves well in the game. Eddy Boyles and Ronnie Brown did a top job on defense, and Danny Martin made a fine catch of a Ronnie Hill aerial to spark the drive to Sudan's final touchdown.

Even Mike Bellar, whose injury in the Springlake game kept him out of action in the final two games, came in long enough to kick an extra point, bringing his total to 102 points for the season, one of the highest scoring totals ever made by a Sudan player. Bellar also is a senior.

Bellar's younger brother, Jerry, only a freshman, scored the first Sudan touchdown early in the second period, slashing off guard from 4 yards out. Mike kicked the goal, and it was 7-0, Sudan.

Farwell came right back in the second period to tie the game on a 38-yard pass from Field to Lewey Brandshaw, with Al Phillips kicking the point.

In the third quarter, Sudan moved to the Farwell 5, only to lose the ball on a fumble. However, after the Steers advanced to their own 47, the favor was returned and Sudan recovered. From there the Hornets, relying heavily on Jerry Bellar and Morgan, drove to the 1, from where Morgan dived across. Mike Bellar's attempted kick was wide and it was 13-7, Sudan.

Morgan ran three yards for the clinching TD after Sudan moved 74 yards, with the 25-yard toss to Martin the big play of the drive. On the try for point, Hill apparently holding for Mike Bellar. (continued on page 3)

Devotional

By HAZEL HOUSE

PRAYER IS THE KEY!

Scripture: St. Matthew 14:23; 21:22; St. Luke 18:1; 5:16.

Prayer has been preached about, written about, talked about, argued and debated about—still we do not pray enough, why? Try answering that question for yourself.

Jesus thought praying was so necessary that He prayed much, ever seeking the Father's will and way for Him each day. He told us many things about praying in the above stated Scripture.

Once a friend told of how she started up to her hotel room in an elevator, thinking of life's problems. As she reached her floor and came to her room, she remembered she did not have her key. Then as she started back down she seemed to hear "Go back down and get the key", and she knew that she must go back down for more than just her hotel room key.

Have you gone up too high, or too far, too fast, and left your "key" where you started from?

Prayer is the key that unlocks the door to the greatest power in earth or in heaven; our doorway to the heart and mind of God. Prayer goes hand in hand with faith, for actual prayer is evidence that we have faith. We must believe that God hears and answers prayer, or we would be foolish to pray. So faith and prayer unlock the door to the Kingdom of love and life that is never-ending.

What a wonderful hope is ours as God's children, to be able by faith to look forward to the mansion that Jesus is preparing for us, to an eternal life of being ever present with God, our Father, and also be able to witness to His living Presence now! God saved us by the shed blood of Jesus, His death and resurrection power for He actually became sin for our sakes. God has provided in Jesus, a way that we may come back to Him, have fellowship with Him in a life that will never end.

Yes, we should pray, then go out, like Jesus, to be obedient to do God's will. We should be eager and willing to let Him use us, our voice, feet and hands in His service work, since He willingly gave up His life for ours, that we, too, might live forever.

Jesus prayed to the Father, and how much more we need to pray. We need to remember, also, that as we pray for others, Jesus is interceding for us, and for them, at the right hand of God. He is our High Priest, and as we pray for others we enter into that Holy fellowship of Intercession with Jesus.

So, let's go back down and get "the key", when we were "born again"—God's child. Let's pray, without ceasing, Christians, and believe in God's loving answer.

65 RURAL ACCIDENTS IN LAMB COUNTY

A total of 65 rural traffic accidents were reported in Lamb County, during the first six months of 1966. According to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area, only 77 percent of these accidents were investigated.

The Sergeant stated that his office investigated every rural traffic accident that they became aware of, or of which they were notified.

Drivers involved in these accidents have certain responsibilities in reporting these accidents. First, the driver of a vehicle involved in an accident resulting in injury or death of any person shall immediately by the quickest means of communication give notice of such accident to the local police department, if such accident occurs within a municipality, otherwise to the office of the County Sheriff or the nearest office of the Texas Highway Patrol.

Secondly, the sergeant added, "The law requires the driver of a vehicle involved in an accident resulting in injury to, or death, of any person, or total property damage to an apparent extent of $25.00 or more, shall within ten (10) days after such accident forward a written report of such accident to the Department of Public Safety. ## THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Often in the darkness the shadows are deep
Hovering the path that is rugged and steep,
Yet from the gloom the sun will appear,
Bringing a gladness, a comfort, a cheer.
Back of all darkness, of grief and dismay,
Back of the clouds that hover our way,
Back of the sorrow we all must endure,
Back of it all, there is something secure.

Philatelists (or stamp collectors) who are specialists collect all the varieties they can get in one series. But another — and less arduous — method is to collect one stamp of each series.

"This is known as semi-specialized collecting, a fascinating approach to the hobby," notes Ervin J. Felix, stamp editor at Whitman Publishing Company, Racine, Wisconsin.

For example, Great Britain and its colonies from 1850 to the present is a major philatelic category, containing several thousand different stamps. A collection represents a miniature history of one of the world's greatest colonial empires.

If You Think So, Then...

PREACHERS -- Should preach only one sermon a year

. . . we are all against sin anyway, so why harp on it?

TRAFFIC LIGHTS -- Should be turned off at dangerous intersections to save electricity. Everybody knows it's a dangerous spot and that should be sufficient.

TEACHERS -- No need to review lessons. Tell the children only once and they'll never forget.

HIGHWAY PATROLMEN -- Stop driving up and down, no need to caution drivers for they know the law and should obey.

MAIL ORDER FIRMS -- That send catalogues are wasting their money. Everyone knows what is sold at stores in town and of course they'll shop at home.

IF YOU ARE ONE of the foolish kind, like the Notre Dame Cathedral that has stood for six centuries but still rings the bell every day to let people know it is there, and if you believe in consistent, profitable advertising, then you will--
