KNOTHOLES in the Woodwork: Recent statistics compiled by the Women's Bureau of the U.S. Dept. of Labor show 37 per cent of all women 14 years and over in the labor force.

About 25 per cent of Florida's voting population is made up of folks 65 and over. And in some areas, particularly Miami Beach, the percentage of older folks is much higher. Some folks call it "Medicare By The Sea" and others, more unkindly, "God's Waiting Room".

We read a suggestion for bad weather entertainment of the kids as follows: When the weather is stormy and children have to play indoors, you can fix them a ball they can throw inside without breaking anything, by rolling up a pair of men's work socks into a ball. This reminds me of the time when I was taking physical education in college, and the instructor told us: "Boys, we know you won't put on fresh socks every day, but we do want you to toss them to the ceiling every day

Today one of the most controversal subjects concerning cotton is the "yes" or "no" voting for the Cotton Research and Promotion referendum which will take place Dec. 5-9.

In the referendum, farmers will decide whether they want to put up a dollar a bale for research and promotion to help sell their cotton, which has rapidly been losing markets to man-made fibers.

The cotton surplus is at an all-time high, and planted acreage for 1966 was the lowest in almost a hundred years. The farmer must be able to produce a much higher quality of cotton on t+ reduced acreage.

How To Make "Economy" Meats Something Special

What is your big concern when you begin planning meals? Meat, I bet, since 25% of your food budget probably goes for it. And, do you find yourself always buying the same thing-steaks and chops? Granted, they're easy to fix-you can broil or fry them-but they're expensive. The trick is to make the economical cuts just as delicious. The key lies in gentle, slow cooking in liquid-braising or stewing.

To braise, brown meat in heavy skillet; season and add a small amount of liquid; cover tightly and simmer.

To stew, brown meat; place in deep kettle and add liquid to cover; add seasonings; cover and simmer.

For added flavor and convenience, use canned condensed soups for part or all of the liquid in cooking budget meats. Onion and tomato soups and beef broth are particularly good

Ask your butcher about the best meat buy of the day. Here is a partial listing of cuts that are generally less expensive. DDATCE

pot roast (chuck, heel of round), round or chuck steak (Swiss), flank steak, short ribs	tresh beef brisket or plate, corned beef brisket, beef shanks, beef tongue, cubed beef for stew

Remember, too, that ground beef is usually a good buy. and can be used for meat loaves, meat balls, and casseroles. Here is a basic beef stew: for variety, use a different soup. vegetable or seasoning.

BASIC BEEF STEW

Dust 1 pound beef cubes with 2 tablespoons flour; brown in 2 tablespoons shortening in large heavy pan. Add 1 can (10% ounces) condensed tomato soup and 1 soup can water. Cover; simmer 11/2 hours. Add 6 small whole white onions, 6 small carrots cut in half, and 3 potatoes quartered; cook covered for another hour, or until vegetables are tender. Stir now and then. To thicken, uncover and cook until desired consistency. 4 servings.

Scripture: Psalms 107: 1-5; St. Luke 17: 11-19.

"O. Give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good. His mercy endureth forever. "

"Let the redeemed of the Lord say so, whom He hath redeemed from the hand of the enemy." "O, that men would praise the Lord for His goodness, and for His wonderful works to the children of men. "

Jesus was on His way to Jerusalem, by way of Samaria and Galilee, when the ten lepers said from "afar off", "Jesus, Master, have mercy on us. "

But Jesus saw them, and gave a single command in answer "Go show yourselves unto the priests". It was a law that any leper, who claimed that his leprosy was gone, must go and show himself to the priest before he could leave the leper's isolation and go back to a normal way of living.

The ten lepers were not healed, but turned to go to the priests at Jesus command. "And it came to pass, that, as they went, they were cleans-. ed. "

When Jesus calls us, He speaks the single command "Come, Follow me". He does not ask us to do another thing, not some great deed that we cannot do; not something to make Him notice we are there.

For Jesus to hear our prayer, we only have to call out-even from afar off -"Jesus, Lord, have mercy". He knows our need, and, as He told the ten lepers to go show themselves to the priests, He tells us to come and confess Him before men as God's Son sent to save His people from their sin. As we leave our way, and as we come in obedience to Him, we are cleansed!

> But then what happens? Let's look at what happened to the ten lepers who were cleansed: one of them, when he saw he was healed, turned back to Jesus and glorified God.

"And fell on his face at His feet, giving Him thanks: and he was a Samaritan. "

A Samaritan, in Jesus day, was considered as a dog by the Jews; a stranger, an outcast.

Jesus answering the man, asked where the other nine were who were cleansed, also. But only one of the ten came back to Jesus to give him thanks, So, only to this one did Jesus say "Arise, go thy way; thy faith hath made thee whole."

Have you come to accept Jesus, by faith believing in Him as your Savior from sin? Then, have you been one who remembered to come to God, over and over each day, thanking Him for all His wonderful mercy and forgiveness and love? Have you thanked Him most of all for saving your soul by Jesus Christ, through your faith? Have you thanked Him that He has made you aware of His living presence within you? Have you thanked Him for His never-ending love, His patience, His comfort, His guidance, His word, His church, His tender watch-care over you? Do you know the joy of His blessing, when you have offered Him your thanks? Then declare His work with rejoicing.

"O, that ' men would praise the Lord for His goodness, and for hils wonderful works to the children of men."

"He sent redemption unto His people: He hath commanded His Covenant forever; holy and reverend is His name.
