WHO REMEMBERS Ted Shane?
As a matter of fact, I don't remember him very well myself, for I'm not even certain that his name was Shane. But it was Ted something. So let's take it a bit further.

Who remembers the Cockeyed Crossword? This may ring a bell with some of you. Certainly it will with my aunt in Sacramento, who used to delight in trying to work them. So, to take it still another step, who remembers Liberty Magazine?

Probably most of my readers (perhaps as many as six out of eight of you) remember Liberty Magazine, which folded some years back, later to be followed into oblivion by Collier's and Street and Smith's Wild West Weekly (sob).

Ted Whattisame's Cockeyed Crossword was a regular feature of Liberty. Or was it Cosmopolitan? Anyway, this kind of puzzle tickled the funnybone of many because of the goofy clues and answers.

I was reminded of the Cockeyed Crossword because I made a crossword puzzle the other day for the benefit of some of my friends who didn't really want me to do it, but who were kind enough to try to work it out anyway. I whipped it out in a mere 30 hours or so working time, and only misspelled two words. This was just to make it tougher, I assured them, when the errors were pointed out to me.

Anyway, I admit the crossword puzzle I fixed up was kind of cockeyed. The victims seemed to have a lot of trouble filling in one two-letter word for which I gave the clue, "Go backwards."

It really was simple. All they had to do was write in the letters OG. If that isn't go backwards, I never saw it.

I NOTICE that Mrs. Robert Kennedy, age 38, gave birth to her 10th child recently. We will all pause for a few moments of silence for the future of Protestantism.

President Johnson had better mend his fences with Robert, or the IBJ faction will find itself in a big minority one of these days.

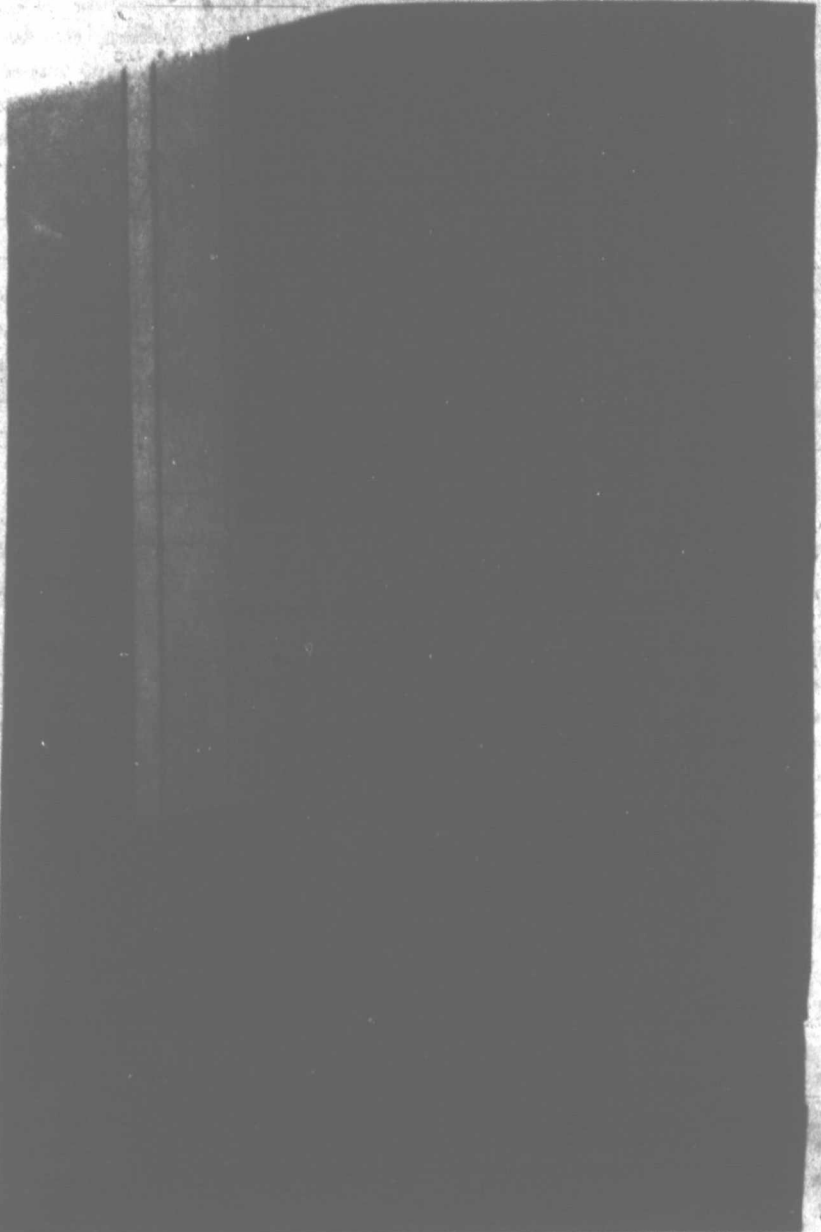

The names of the following teachers were inadvertently left off the list of teachers published last week in this paper.

Our appologies to Lucille Brown, math; Richard M. Daughtry, language arts; Cordis Hargensheimer, social studies; Beatrice McIntuff, Health and science; O. L. Turner, language arts.

WHITE'S STORE BURGLARIZED SATURDAY

The newly opened White's Auto Store in Sudan was burglarized Saturday night, when thieves got-off with an estimated $1200 worth of merchandise. Taken from the store were two television sets, a large array of power tools, ammunition, cash from the coke machine and other small items.

The owner, T. W. (Woody) Dunaway discovered the break-in about 3:30 p. m. Sunday afternoon when he approached the store and discovered the rear door open. The thieves gained admittance by ripping a piece of sheet metal and bars from the door, breaking the glass and then prying the lock loose with a screw-driver.

Inside, the office was ransacked, the coke machine broken open and merchandise scattered about.

Deputy Sheriff Homer McLary reports that the Sheriff's department has no significant leads at this time, and that anyone having information concerning the break-in or noticed any unusual vehicles parked west of White's Auto Store during the period of 6 p. m. Saturday until 3:30 p. m. Sunday, are asked to notify the sheriff's department at once.

Scripture: St. John 21: 1-7
Has the door of your heart been opened—Has the stone been rolled away—that at this Easter you could know the Victorious power and hope of the resurrection? Or is Jesus Christ still "hidden" within you for some reason? Failure to witness, failure to love and serve and follow Him?

After the resurrection, Jesus appeared first to Mary Magdalene then to Simon Peter, to all the apostles, and to some five-hundred brethren (I Cor. 15:6); and in our stated Scripture Jesus again appears to seven of the disciples at the sea of Tiberias.

The disciples had been weeping and mourning the death of Jesus, and when Mary Magdalene came to tell them the news that Jesus had risen from death and was alive they could scarcely believe it! Then Jesus confirmed it in his own appearances.

But Simon Peter evidently became restless and not knowing anything else to do, he said, "I go a fishing." And the six of his friends there said "we also go with thee."

These seven experienced fishermen fished all night long and caught nothing. But in the early morning they came near to the shore, and there stood one who called to them "Children have ye any meat?" and they said no. But they did not know it was Jesus there on the shore.

Have you become restless and dissatisfied with your life and decided to just go "fishing" for what you know is in this world, depending on your own power and knowledge of life, without first waiting on and consulting with God? If so, you know how futile, how far you are from catching anything that can bring you lasting joy, peace, love, satisfaction or fulfillment. Have you fished all night, become weary, discouraged, and caught nothing? Then, why not take a look at Jesus, the one "on the shore"?

Then Jesus told the disciples to cast their net on the right side of the ship "and ye shall find." The disciples obeyed, and found that they had so many fish they could not draw in the net.

"Therefore that disciple whom Jesus loved said to Peter, 'It is the Lord.'" Although the directions as to where and how to fish seemed foolish to these experienced fishermen, nevertheless, they obeyed. And it was the amazing result of their action in doing as He said that caused John to recognize his Lord.

Today, if you and I are obedient to do in answer to the call of Christ, we also will be amazed at the result and recognize anew that truly Jesus Christ is Lord!

Will you stop, look and listen that you can hear the call of Christ? Then act in obedience

THE FRANK STARK FAMILY
(Material for this story compiled by Mrs. Frank Stark and Mrs. Marvin Greathouse.)
John Franklin (Frank) Stark, Jr., son of John Franklin, Sr. (Boston, Ky.) and Martha Woods (Williams) Stark (Randolph County, Mo.) was born Oct. 16th., 1901 at Yates, Mo. The family came to Texas in 1902 and settled in Iowa Park where Frank started to school. In 1911 the family moved to Wilbarger County and settled in the small community of Oklamoon. It was there that the parents, John Franklin, Sr. and Martha Stark died, and they were buried in the Stark family plot at Vernon, Texas. John Franklin (Frank) Stark, Jr. and Bessie Mae Greathouse were married Oct. 17th., 1920 at Vernon, Texas.

Bessie Mae, daughter of Paul Early and Mary Elizabeth (Teague) Greathouse was born May 20th., 1901 at Cookville, Texas, and her first school was at Lone Star in Tittus County. On Oct. 12th., 1912, she, with her family, arrived in Oklamoon, Texas. Bess finished school there and was one of the basketball stars along with one of her team mates Eva Jo (Nettie) Doty of Sudan.

Shortly after Bess and Frank were married they resided in Wichita Falls but returned to Oklamoon where their only child, Charles Franklin, was born April 13th., 1926. Bess and Frank first arrived in Sudan in 1925 when they helped their brother and sister, Joe and Blanche (Greathouse) Stark to settle into new surroundings. After much debate they decided to return to their farming interests in Wilbarger County. After many summer trips to Sudan the family finally made the move in 1926, and making their first home on a farm that was part of the old Davis Ranch for a short time. Later they bought a farm from the Farnesux Bros. which was sold after a few years to his brother, Joe Stark, and the family of three moved into town. Frank became engaged in carpentry. He and his brother-in-law, Dee Bernethy, helped construct the brick homes in the Shannon addition. Bess was employed by Claude Wiseman and the late Chock Blanchard.

Charles married Venita Lilly March 24th., 1944 at Sudan. He was inducted into the Army July 1944. He took part in several major battles in the South Pacific and was awarded the Purple Heart. Upon returning to the states he was stationed in Seattle, Wash. where he was joined by Venita. Their first child, Charis, was born there March 27th., 1947. After Charles was discharged he, Venita, and Charis moved to Weatherford, Texas, where Charles (Chuck) Franklin, Jr. was born Aug. 5th., 1957.

In 1951 Bess and Frank moved

The Father... doeth his work... (John 14:10)

Often we work too hard at bringing things to pass because we believe that it is all up to us, that the outcome is entirely dependent on our personal efforts. We need to work from a spiritual level, to work in the faith that God is with us, and that His power in us is mighty to do all things. Our prayers will be answered in the right way when we trust God to do the answering. Our part is to have faith and give thanks.

Scout News

Seven members of Den No. 2 of Pack 635 of the Cub Scouts received Cub Scouting highest award at a recent meeting. This award started about three years ago with five of these seven members and later picked up two others while one member moved and another went into another Den.

Den mothers the first years were Mrs. Glenn Chester and Mrs. Kenneth Burgess with Mrs. Dale Hanna as a helper. Mrs. Hanna and Mrs. Chester have been registered the past two years as leaders and have directed these boys to this award.

Those receiving the Webelos award were: Bessie Brogdon, Kenneth Burgess, Curtis Chester, Donald Gage, Mark Hanna, Roby Lynn, and Craig West.

master, gave a talk on the "Scouting Trail". He said that scouting was fun and is wide open to all present. New members would be welcomed in the local Boy Scout troop and boys that are already scouts will help new members to help themselves by taking an active part in the scout movement. He went on to say that scout leaders and the sponsoring institution would assist them in learning to apply themselves, make new and lasting friendships and to prepare to be better citizens of tomorrow. A group discussion was held relating to scouting.

Research: Who Foots The Bills?

(An Editorial)

The American Cancer Society spent more than 15 million dollars last year on research. The federal government spent many millions more. In light of this fact, Dr. Charles Heidelberger, the brilliant cancer researcher who developed a powerful anti-cancer drug, was asked if there were a growing need for ACS funds. His reply was an emphatic yes.

Though Dr. Heidelberger (along with the American Cancer Society) strongly supports the government's efforts in cancer research, he said: "Only a free voluntary group like the American Cancer Society has the flexibility to take risks and to finance 'long shots' in research. This flexibility, this willingness to support new approaches, new techniques, new scientists, has made the ACS an enormously creative force in cancer research."

Dr. Heidelberger added that "my colleagues and I are horrified at the possibility of a complete government monopoly in research funding."

Gambles on research undertaken by the American Cancer Society have helped develop procedures like the Pap test, which has saved thousands of lives from uterine cancer.

There is always the chance that Congress may cut back appropriations for medical research — particularly with the mounting costs of the war in Vietnam. Such a cut would not only damage existing research programs, it would also prevent new ones from getting started.

In any event the needs for private money channeled to cancer research are greater than ever.

Therefore, the American Cancer Society's Crusade for funds is even more important this year.
