BELIEVE it or not, a guy named Andy Lang who writes for Associated Press Newsfeatures, has the gall to write a story all about the many things you can do with those extra closets in the home.

Honest, that was his topic, and he just has to be kidding. When I saw the story I was reminded of something my mother once said: "Some day I'd like to have enough money to build a home just like I want--three big bedrooms and den, double garage and 100 closets."

There just ain't no such animal as an extra closet. The writer knew this, because he used part of his column admitting it, so what he really was doing was just filling a bunch of blank space with words.

I can't imagine a columnist doing a thing like that.

Lang himself said no matter how many closets there are in your home, each one of them undoubtedly is filled to capacity, because all of us are inclined to use the space that is available -- and to get along without that which is not.

One builder, said Lang, declares he has stopped adding extra closets to each series of homes he constructs, "because no matter how many there are, someone comes along and suggests that one or two more could have been used."

Then Lang made his pitch by suggesting that the way to keep at least one of your closets from being a catch-all is to convert it into something else.

He suggests that this something else be a "Mini library" with shelves and pull-down light, or a knee-hole desk in the closet space, or a sewing room, or perhaps a display cabinet for decorative pottery.

Good grief. That's the most useless bunch of uses I can imagine for a closet. Better to have old shoes, vacuum cleaners, golf balls and Edsel hub-caps in it.

Now if I'm going to convert that "extra closet" into something else, I think I know what it would be: a guest bedroom.

STOLEN FROM Somewhere: Continually getting into hot water can make anybody hard-boiled.

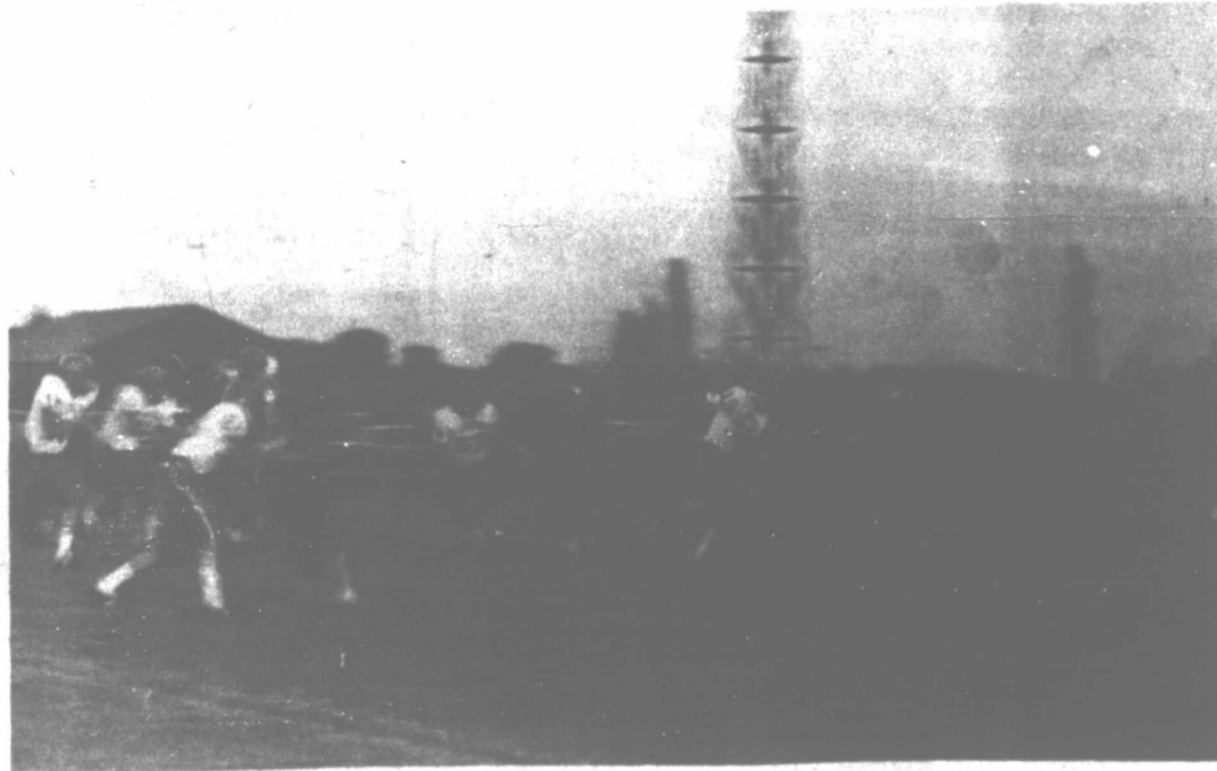

NEVER has American beauty been so misrepresented as it was in last week's Miss America pageant. You could pick any 50 young women off the streets of Lubbock--or from homes in Lamb County--and come up with at least 40 who are more attractive than that bunch.

Some of them unquestionably would have looked better had they not had such weird hair-dos and garb. Those dresses were something. After the initial introduction, we turned off the TV set. I told my wife I wasn't about to watch 50 pregnant women traipse around on a treadmill.

Associated Press TV writer Cynthia Lowry said this, though: "Miss America this time out seemed to have prettier and more talented girls than usual."

I hereby propose a fund to establish a scholarship for Miss Lowry to the Texas School for the Blind.

SUDAN WINS OVER SUNDOWN 19-13

The Sudan Hornets opened the 1967 football season with a win over the Sundown Roughnecks, 19-13m Frid 19-13, Friday night. As the score indicates, Sudan outplayed the Roughnecks by making a total of 244 yards to Sundown's 137.

The scoring began in the first quarter when Sundown's fullback Jon Lee went across for a TD and Teddy Giddins kicked the extra point.

Sudan was not to be out done and quarterback Ronnie Hill connected with halfback Jerry Bellar for a 52 yard scoring pass and although the try for conversion points failed, the score at the end of the first period was Sundown 7, Sudan 6.

Early in the second quarter FB Larry Hanna, one of the workhorses of the game, carried the ball six yards for the second Hornet touchdown. Bellar's kick was wide for the extra point but the Hornets led 12-7 which was the score at the end of the half as the defense on both sides refused to be scored against.

Billy Ford recovered a Sundown fumble in the third quarter, only to have the ball stolen a few plays later by the Roughnecks. However, later in the quarter, Bellar made an outstanding run of 27 yards which carried him to the nine yard line in Roughneck territory. After several plays Hanna went over for pay-dirt from three yards out. Bellar's kick was good and the Hornets led 19-7.

Shawn Potter recovered a fumble late in the fourth quarter but the Hornets were unable to capitalize from this against the stirred-up Roughnecks and were forced to punt.

Upon receiving the Hornet punt, Sundown put on their drive of the night with Mickey Morgan making the TD from about one yard. There was no conversion point and the Hornets simply ran the remaining seconds out on the clock to win the game.

The game here tomorrow (Friday) night may not be quite so simple, as the Amherst Bulldogs upset Springlake - Friday night in Amherst. There is always a great deal of rivalry in the Sudan-Amherst games and this one will be no different.

Game time will be 8:30 p. m. and all residents are urged to attend and support the home attend and back the Hornets in their first home game.

Approximately 25 parents and faculty members attended as Buddy Joe Wiseman, president, presided over the business session.

One of the main topics of discussion was the repairing of the concession stand. It was planned for a work day to be held Monday for refoofing and re-floofing the stand which was badly damaged during the recent storm.

A committee composed of Mesdames Harlan Fickett, Kenneth Wiseman, Billy Chester, James Wallace, was appointed to select sponsors for all band trips.

Another topic of discussion was money raising projects and it was decided to have a "Baked and Bake Sale" which requires all band parents to return an envelope with the money that would be used if they baked a class. It is requested that all envelopes be returned to the Band Parents, Box 247, Sudan.

Jimmie Strange, band director, spoke to the group and told of his appreciation for the cooperation that he has received from both the parents and the students. He stated that the students must be congratulated for their fine performance at the Sundown game. WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO "BE SAVED"?

Scripture: Exodus 15: 1, 2, 22-27; I John 2: 25; I Corinthians 15: 20-23.

When man, woman, or child is redeemed from sin and death in accepting Jesus as their Savior and Lord, they sing a song of joy. And they have begun to live eternally!

But almost before the song is finished, as the journey toward heaven begins, following in the footsteps of Jesus, one goes into the wilderness where there is temptation and bitter trials. Then, calling upon the Lord, remembering the Cross where Jesus suffered and bled and died in man's place, one casts his burdens anew on the Lord, and the association with Him is sweet even in the trials. Thus, faith is increased in the power of God to save and keep us, healing and rest comes, and one begins to "grow up" spiritually.

Have you had the experience of redemption? Have you really heard what it means to be saved? If you could not swim and were drowning in a lake of water, perhaps many people would want to save you but for various reasons could not. Then comes the lifeguard, with the knowledge, power, and the desire to save you from drowning. He alone can do so; you are helpless, and he dives in to rescue you from drowning and death.

Just so has God come to where we are. Into this world He came in the man, Jesus, to reconcile us to Himself and to save us from perishing eternally in sin and death. He will take you, if you will turn to Him and call on His name, just as you are. Give yourself to Him; give your sin to Him; and then obediently follow Him, because you have responded in love to His great love for you.

The cross is the symbol of God's love for each and all men. The Resurrection is the hope and power by which we dare to call ourselves "sons of God".

Do you know Jesus Christ? Without Him man has no hope. With, in and through Him, man has eternal life! So, come to Him now. (He is seeking you).

All you do is turn from your way, accept and confess Jesus before men as the Son of God, and go His way, with Him to guide, love, and empower you. And He will never leave you nor forsake you.

"For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive."

SCIENCE SKETCHES

HOT PEPPERS might keep you from having a heart attack according to Robert M. Grudner of Louisiana State University. He says that there seems to be a correlation between the low rate of circulatory ailments among the Indians of the Southwest and their large diet of hot peppers.

WATER is wet, but adding carbon dioxide to it makes it even wetter. Irrigation water treated with CO₂ penetrates faster and deeper, making more water available to deep-rooted plants, says Cordas, Chicago. More important, it neutralizes alkalinity and prevents the formation of harmful limestone deposits in pumping equipment.

HOME fire drills are important, says the American Medical Association. More than 2,000 children die annually in home fires. The most important command to impress children is "Escape immediately!" Parents should also map out, with the children helping, two separate escape routes from each room.

"Blew in a norther, today, the wind walked about; the wind howled today; night grabbed us at Hale Center; tanking up we started on for home; a smile from a fruit jar; shotgun harness; bootlegger lumbermen" are a few of the vivid expressions found in the pages of fifty years of living recorded by the late W. G. DeLoach who kept a diary for fifty years, 1914-1964.

DeLoach and wife, Sallie moved to a farm south of town in 1925.

He tells of young folks gathering at their home for an evening of music when they listened to the family self-player piano (thought to be the first one in this part of the country) when bought by the DeLoaches in 1925.

Also he writes considerably of wishing for rain (times haven't changed much in this respect) and a John Deere planter. Now, here the writer stopped Mrs. DeLoach and asked if he had a tractor to go with the planter. She said no, they didn't buy a tractor until in the '30's and at that time Mr. DeLoach was strictly a mule man, having one named Nancy. Of course all the mules had names, but little Nancy kept getting out and he speaks of putting chains on her to stop this wandering lady.

He speaks of the price of sucker rods, well casing and disappointment at having to dig so deep for water. He describes activities in building and stocking a country store south of town named "King Tut"; the store was operated by his older son, Harold, while son Bud (Robert) seemed to spend the greater part of March and April in 1925 harrowing the land that had been broken.

It is disclosed a Mrs. Cook became ill with pneumonia and died, and tells of Mrs. DeLoach and a Mrs. Morgan sitting up with her and caring for her when she was ill. They bought beef from an old-time rancher, John Robertson, and killed one and peddled the meat.

Mrs. DeLoach says the farm they lived on when first coming the Sudan area belonged to her father, C. C. Newton of Olustee, Oklahoma and is the farm where the Quinton McCaghrens now live.

DeLoach at times would transgress with such insertions as "eleven years ago today, I started this diary."

He also used the diary records on one or two occasions to prove he had paid certain bills. Of interest to this writer was his description of days two years prior to moving to the Plains when he was foreman of the Beaver Creek dam building project for the W. T. Waggoner estate.

He described a Sunday jaunt to the Yellowhouse Ranch and told of the tallest windmill in the world. It was his opinion some of the cowboys (by then) were not dyed in the wool cowhands; and he was sure they didn't know what a "doghouse" was; DeLoach being an cowhand himself in his younger days.

For a good stroll down memory lane for old timers there is nothing like listening to Mrs. DeLoach read the diary; although she confesses she had never read it before; what with all the work she had to do, but now she finds it most interesting.

DeLoach came twice to the Plains before moving out; once to look at the land and the second time to build a house with the help of his two sons, and the third time to stay as he brought his family this time; with older son, Harold, moving the stock and equipment through by wagon while the DeLoach family came through in the Model T truck.

For a treasure of by-gone expressions which out-do some of the modern ones, just turn the pages of the fifty year diary kept by the late W. G. DeLoach which is the treasured possession of his wife.

At one time the diaries were placed in the Texas Technological College at Lubbock, but the records had become so much a part of his life DeLoach asked for them back. He regretted that he stopped keeping the diary at fifty years. Now, Mrs. DeLoach has only to pick up one of the ledger type diaries to read of family and community activities during the period.

MEMORIES OF THE
W. G. DELOACH FAMILY
By SALLIE DELOACH
W. G. DeLoach was born at Atlanta, Georgia, on Feb. 1, 1880. He went to school in Parker County, Texas.

I, Sallie Edna Newton DeLoach was born July 13, 1884 in Dallas, Texas, where I went to school until the family moved to Olustee, Oklahoma in 1898 to file on land there. I also went to school in Duke, Okla.

W. G. DeLoach and I were married in Duke, Oklahoma on Jan. 14, 1903. Before moving to Sudan in 1925 six children were born to this union:

H. G. DeLoach married to Delle Shipman and now live in Muleshoe, Texas.

R. E. DeLoach married to Ida Rene Crain and now live in Sudan.

Dorothy Irene DeLoach Blackman who lives in Sudan. Jimmie Lee DeLoach married to L. A. Cowart and now live in Lubbock, Texas.

Billy R. DeLoach married to Noma Jean Seeds. Billy was killed in the CBI Theater during World War II.

Mildred Texas DeLoach died on March 11, 1913.

We moved to Sudan on March 11, 1925 from Olustee, Okla. to a farm owned by my father, C. C. Newton of Oklahoma. We built a two room house 6 1/2 miles south of Sudan and lived there 14 years.

We came to Sudan to church at that time. We met in the school house. There was no church in our Community (later called the Friendship Community) so some of the men including my husband got out and made up the money to build a church building. We gave box suppers to buy a piano as it was a union church for all to use for years. The building was finally sold when all quit meeting there. We at Friendship enjoyed out singings where all would attend. We had a player piano and I remember Opal Rollins Masten playing for the singers, also Virginia Lumpkin played the piano.

We finally bought a farm on highway 84, five miles out west and lived there for 17 years before moving into Sudan. We will have been in town for 15 years this September.

Mr. DeLoach had kept a daily diary for fifty years the spring of 1964 which had been his goal. When away from home he carried a tablet to keep the daily happenings and then copied them in the main diary when arriving home.

We used to enjoy coming to there was no other entertainment or recreation. Sudan was a going little town at that time, everyone knew everyone else as the country was new and there were not so many people. No one had very much money but we had cows, chickens and hogs. We would kill and sugar cure our own meat, kill a calf for beef, divided with the neighbors and hang the rest up high on the windmill to keep it cold. W. G. died April 1, 1967, and at that time we had 10 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

"He's the type of kid who goes to school, passes the toothpaste test and nothing else."

"Keep It Tidy" is the slogan of the continuing clean-up campaign at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas, and Myrtle Grant says she sees it is a good idea. Dates of the 1967 State Fair, the nation's largest annual exposition, will be Oct. 7-22.

MEDICAID PROGRAM GOES INTO EFFECT SEPT. 1

State and hospital officials are confident the far-reaching new medicare program will begin functioning as scheduled on September 1.

Program will bring medical and hospital benefits to 350,000 needy Texans. It is authorized by the same federal law which provides medicare to old folks.

Texas Department of Public Welfare, which will administer medicare, estimates benefits during the first year of operation will total $125,000,000. Federal funds will match a $26,700,000 state outlay on a four-to-one basis.

Points to remember: Eligible for benefits are Texans on public welfare assistance rolls—old age assistance, aid to the blind, families with dependent children and the totally and permanently disabled, or those eligible for such assistance who are patients at state mental and tuberculosis hospitals.

Services include in-patient and out-patient hospital care, diagnostic work such as laboratory fees and x-ray costs, doctor bills and nursing home charges. Bills will be paid through a "fiscal intermediary." Welfare Department will contract with Blue Cross-Blue Shield to handle doctors' bills (on strict basis of prevailing charges). Hospitals will be paid actual costs as shown by audit. Blue Cross-Blue Shield will be reimbursed by the state and will receive an additional service fee.

Eligible welfare enrollees will receive an identification card from the Department of Public Welfare. Cards can be presented to insure care as limited by details of the federal act.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ: Since 1954 Dads have been able to claim a dependent child as a tax exempt even though the student worked during the summer and earned more than $600 and was required to file a tax return. The answer is still yes to the question of claiming a dependent, if he is a bona-fide student and dependent. The dependent can also claim his own exemption on his return.

Monday, Sept. 18—Oven fried steak, cream style corn, cut green beans, hot rolls, butter, milk, orange juice.

Tuesday—Veg-beef stew and crackers, sliced cheese, milk, doughnuts, pear half.

Wednesday—Brown beans, potato salad, seasoned spinach, cornbread, milk, oatmeal cookies.

Thursday—Meatballs in barbecue sauce, candied yams, blackeye peas, hot rolls, butter, milk, congealed salad.

Friday—Hot turkey sandwich, mashed potatoes, garden salad, devils food cake, milk.

Major Moore also said that more 100 miles per hour violators are being apprehended than ever before.

In an effort to halt this upsurge in speed, Major Moore said that additional radar will be used in this area.

Moore stated further that radar is not used merely to slow down drivers, but to apprehend the 15 per cent of drivers who consistently violate the speed limits, and therefore may be placed on the highways without warning.

THREE or four shots of ethanol, the laboratory equivalent of whiskey, can be a highly effective tool for diagnosing certain diseases or malfunctions in human metabolism, says a Northwestern University endocrinologist. It is used to determine whether blood sugar production is normal and also to check on the body's energy-burning processes.

BAKING SODA OUSTS ODORS HONESTLY

To banish odors, the custom today is to wish with the scented, push-button spray. But that's dishonest. It's really the same as the sweep-the-dust-mouth-the-carpet game.

To be really legit about ousting an odor, sweeten the source with baking soda. Where smelly fish or cheese roasts. In closed-up quarters where mildew nestles. In fridge where aromas of fruits are loosed. In spasms and mops where sour smells roost. A soda solution or dry soda scouring. Proves absolutely overpowering.

And each unwary aroma is gone for good, not in a coma. To reappear when the spray's scent's spent. A soda sweetening's permanent.
