CLARKE'S DEPARTMENT STORE OPENS HERE

WOODWORK

BY DALTON

GOOD FOR HER Department Lana Turner, whose early rise to fame was largely attributed to being a sexy-looking sweater girl, notes the trend to filth in today's lurid movies. Observing that she wore her sweater proudly, but never took it off in the movies, she commented last week:

"Look—I'm no prude... I think I know what's happening. But I see no reason to put raw sex on the screen. For what? What does it prove? That human beings are like animals? If that's what movies are coming to, then I want no part of it."

I was never a great admirer of Lana, but I like her better for saying that, just as I revised some of my opinions of Bear Bryant, the Alabama football coach, when he displayed such fine sportsmanship after the Cotton Bowl game. There still are some nice people around.

THIS IS the age of sloppy workmanship geared to fast production; quantity is more important than quality from the standpoint of many big manufacturers and in the viewpoint of many tradesmen these days. But if it's any consolation, our efficiency records beat those of the Russians by miles.

A Soviet newspaper the other day reported that 55 per cent of one certain brand of Russian television sets stopped working

ROTARY CLUB HEARS DR. J. R. FAIN

Rotary Club held their regular meeting Wednesday with Gene Duval presiding.

Dr. J. R. Fain of Littlefield was the speaker. Program leader was Eldon (Nick) Nichols who introduced the speaker. Some twenty members were present.

Revival Services Now In Progress

The Church of God of Prophecy Revival is now in progress, the pastor Rev. David Cranfield announced this week.

Evangelist Howard, Overseer of the West Texas area, is doing the preaching. The revival services will continue through Saturday, and longer, the pastor said, "if the Lord is willing".

"Come and find out for yourself just how much joy there is in true salvation" is the invitation given by the pastor.

soon after they were taken home. This is bad, but what's worse, it is almost impossible to get a defective set replaced.

Television repair is high-priced and repairmen are hard to find. Usually a set owner has to wait several weeks before a repair man can get around to his job.

At least that gives him plenty of time to earn the money to pay for the repair.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY T. CLARKE AND DAUGHTER ROXANNE

Clarke's Department Store here will be open for business Thursday, Feb. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Clarke will open their new department store in the Joe Salem building, corner of First and Main Sts. and former location of Shank's Dept. Store.

The couple have one daughter, Roxanne 14, of the home, who has registered in the Sudan school this week.

Moving here from Morton, the Clarke's had owned and operated Clarke's Drygoods there since 1950. Opening a store in Denver City, in 1948, they continued to operate it until 1952, two years after they opened the Morton store. Their success in the Morton store has been gratifying to them, as stated in making this announcement, and they are proud of their many friends and customers there. But they are looking forward to making new friends and customers here, and to becoming a part of the Sudan community. They invite you to come by and get acquainted.

Having gone to Dallas to market this week, Mr. and Mrs. Clarke will be stocking the store with a wide choice of quality clothing and shoes for every member of the family, along with gift items suited for all occasions.

The store's formal opening date will be announced later, when the store has been completely stocked and all furnishings and equipment moved in and arranged.

Starting as pastor of the Sudan Assembly of God Church, Mr. and Mrs. Clarke (Neda Mae) and Roxanne have moved into the newly remodeled church parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarke have been in ministerial work with the Assembly of God Church for more than 39 years, entering the work as youths in Oklahoma. Both are musicians -- Mr. Clarke sings and has taught music, and Mrs. Clarke, a former school teacher, plays both piano and organ, and also strigged instruments. They have served churches in Okla. and Texas, and while pastoring a church in Morton, they spearheaded a movement to build a new church building, which was completed in 1958. They are eager to begin their service here in the Sudan Church, as well as in their new business.

What Good Are Athletics?

By COACH JIM CAIN

This question is often asked of school administrators and coaches. Some arguments against athletics are; they cost a great deal of money, some people are left crippled for life, and they take too much of one's time.

These are all good arguments against athletics, but it is my feeling that the benefits received from them are far greater than the hardships.

Our American way of free enterprise is based on competition. Athletics do more than any other school subject toward instilling a competitive spirit in our students. Not only does it teach them to compete to win, but teaches them to accept defeat and "bounce back" when they lose.

Athletes learn that co-operation and team work are necessary to achieve their goals. Our town, churches, and even our country at present time are characterized by a lack of co-operation and team work. This is shown by the "hippies," the hypocrites, and the general lack of progress.

The past three presidents of the United States have been concerned enough over the lamentable physical condition of our citizens to organize a council on physical fitness. It has been said that our youth are becoming a generation of "automobile legs and television rear-ends". Athletics do more toward developing this physical fitness than any other one thing.

Athletics develop self-discipline in an individual more than any other course. An athlete has to sacrifice many pleasures that others enjoy and "keep his nose to the grind stone" when others can quit. One learns to budget this time wisely because he has no time to waste. Some wise man said, "An idle mind is the tool of the devil".

A feeling of belonging to and being a part of something worthwhile is developed by athletics. Every person has an inborn desire to belong and to be accepted by his peers. An athlete who "sticks it out" and learns to "give and take" is accepted by his peers so therefore he belongs.

I have had parents tell me they would not let their child be an athlete because it was so dangerous. Yet, they let him drive an automobile. Which sounds the most dangerous, 160 lbs moving 20 miles per hour or 3000 lbs going 80-90 miles per hour?

Today's athlete has to be passing his academic work to be eligible to participate. I have known a great number of athletes who passed and even stayed in school only to be an athlete. I think this, even though it is not the ideal motive, will still produce a useful citizen for our society.

The intangible qualities that go to make a good citizen such as character, loyalty, self-discipline, a feeling of accomplishment, co-operation, team work, and fair play are all attitudes that are developed in athletics. Is this type of citizen not worth the money spent on athletics? Is it not worth the time spent by the individual and his coaches? Is it not worth a few broken bones and "trick knees" to keep the young person from rebelling against all authority?

Mrs. R. K. Allen has returned home after being confined to a hospital in Dallas when she was there to visit her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ellwood Allen. Mrs. Allen states there are a number of dishes still at her home and those who need to, may pick them up now that she is home.

SUDAN SCHOOL BOND ELECTION SATURDAY

The $250,000 Sudan School Bond Election date is set for Saturday, Jan. 27.

Voting place is the Sudan Community Center, with Joe West as presiding judge, Fred Meeks, judge, and Mrs. Elsie Cate, clerk.

The election ballots are prepared with the words "For" and "against" and each voter is to place an "X" in the square beside the statement indicating the way he or she wishes to vote.

Some voters have indicated a desire for an estimate from the school board members as to how they arrived at the figure of $250,000 as the size bond to fulfill the school's need. So the board has given the following estimation, requesting your understanding of both these listed items and costs as such -- just an estimate. Some adjusting may have to be done in order to meet the need during the building and remodeling period, as is the usual case in such an undertaking. But listed below is the board's preliminary estimate:

High School Building repairs -- $145,000; Football Field -- $60,000; Tennis Courts -- $10,000; Bus barn -- $15,000; Election and Bondsman fees -- $18,000; estimate grand total -- $248,000.

School Building Repairs include such items as aluminum windows, hollow metal doors and frames and hardware, remodeling of front entrance, removal of three partitions, new ceilings, rest rooms, new heating system, re-vamp stage, all new floor covering, high school public address system, new music and dressing room addition, new areaway into basement, painting, electrical work-wiring.

Football Field includes reworking scoreboard, two 1000-seat capacity grandstands, one visitors fieldhouse, public rest rooms, lighting, chain-link fencing inside and outside, goals, flagpole. The all-weather track and earth work have already been done by volunteer workers.

Tennis Courts includes a double court with 10-ft chain-link fence. Bus Barn includes new shop building and equipment.

This entire estimate is for $248,000, which leaves only a small margin of $2000 wherein the school board members must make adjustments and plans in order to stay within the total amount of the proposed $250,000 bond.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph May are parents of a son, 8 lbs, 10 oz, Michael Merle born at Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, Tuesday, Jan. 23.
