WOODWORK

BY DALTON

HARTFORD, Conn., has a woman mayor, who doesn't mind admitting that she's 45 years old and unmarried. The Associated Press describes her as "attractive" and "no longer find any objection to the term."

There was a time, though, when I would have scoffed at the idea of calling a 45-year-old woman attractive. Now I am older, and I know lots of women lots older than that who are quite attractive.

Anyway, this mayor, Miss Ann Uccello, has found that a fringe benefit of her job is getting mail from would-be suitors (or lecherous old men, depending upon one's point of view).

Several who have seen her photograph in the newspapers have written to compliment her on her looks. Many have wondered how she stayed single, in view of her "outstanding qualifications," as one writer put it. One fellow enclosed two photos of himself.

The one I like, though, is from a Connecticut songwriter who obviously is a real nut on one particular subject. He penned the following lyrics, and sent them to Miss Uccello:

"Love love love love love love;
That is all I dream about;
Love love love love love..."

MORE ABOUT SONGS: British Prime Minister Harold Wilson last week was visiting President Johnson and found the White House in a tizzy about the musical selections that had been arranged for the evening's entertainment.

It seems operatic baritone Robert Merrill was scheduled to sing Gershwin's "I Got Plenty of Nuttin'," followed by "Road to Mandalay." Someone pointed out these might not be appreciated by a prime minister who has just devalued his nation's currency and announced plans to cease British military operations in the Far East.

Wilson heard about the problem, though, and took them off the hook, saying he liked the songs and didn't want them changed.

So Merrill followed the original plan, and also threw in an extra, "It Ain't Necessarily So," perhaps just so President Johnson wouldn't feel slighted.

Governor Proclaims Public School Week

Official Memorandum has been issued by John Connally, Governor of Texas, as follows:

Special observance of increased emphasis on our education system has been marked annually for eighteen years by a Public Schools Week in Texas.

During this period, parents are encouraged to visit the public schools, and all citizens are urged through special programs to recognize the tremendous importance of our system of education. Our goal is to make Texas public schools the finest in the Nation, and to achieve this our citizens are urged to take an active interest in the school systems and to cooperate with their school boards, superintendents, principals and teachers.

Never before in our history has there been a greater need for educated leadership. As we rush to train young people in science and technology to keep pace with world events, it is also important to remember that our public schools will furnish our tomorrow's leaders with the basic human, moral and spiritual foundations necessary for more advanced training and knowledge.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas do hereby designate the period of March 4-8, 1968, as PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK in Texas.

(Seal) In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 15th day of Sept., 1967
