WOODWORK

BY DALTON

THIS IS THE "run for cover" season, when nobody likes to get too far from a hidey-hole, especially from 4 or 5 o'clock on in the afternoon. The reason, of course, is the tornado threat, which is practically a daily occurrence for several days at a stretch when they occur at all.

After all these years I finally think I have remembered which corner of the house you're supposed to cringe in--the near one to the storm, I'm told. So what do I find? Well, I read the other day that some authorities, after studying twister-ravaged structures for years, suddenly have decided that maybe the opposite corner from the approaching storm is safest, after all. For heaven's sake.

This just underlines the feeling most of us have that it's best to go to the cellar anyway, which it is, but not everybody can go to the cellar.

I heard about this one guy who dug a cellar, and then a storm came up. He was in no frantic search for cover as he always had been in the past, since he knew he had a cellar handy in his own backyard. So he watched the cloud until it really got close, then strolled quickly to his cellar. The cellar already had been filled with neighbors, and since it was full, they had locked it from the inside.

I remarked to someone the other day that it seems to me we didn't have so many day-after-day tornado threats in this country when we were younger. But she suggested that maybe we just weren't so concerned in those days, or possibly that the Weather Bureau didn't have its radar tracking setup in those days. It's true--they didn't. So we probably were threatened just as often then, but we didn't know it, so we blissfully went on about our business.

Now it seems that just about every afternoon we get something like the following on the radio or in the afternoon paper: "The Weather Bureau has issued a tornado watch for portions of the Texas Panhandle-Plains until 8 p. m. today. The threat of tornadoes will exist in these areas from 2 to 8 p. m. Severe thunderstorms with large hail and locally damaging winds are also forecast."

"The greatest threat of tornadoes and severe thunderstorms is in an area along and 70 miles either side of a line from Clovis, N. M., to 35 miles east southeast of Wichita Falls."

That last part is what always gets me. I've seen people take out a map and try to draw a line on it and then figure out if they are in the danger zone. Others, like me, puzzled about it for awhile, and then say to heck with it. By the time you figure out the full zone, you could be blown all the way to some point 25 miles east-northeast of a line from south of Circle Back to northwest of Fieldton.

Devotional

BY HAZEL HOUSE

Scripture: St. Matthew 16:21-28.
"Then Jesus said unto His disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross and follow me."

The disciples would not believe it when Jesus tried to tell them that he must suffer, be killed, and then He would be raised from the dead on the third day. Peter immediately began to tell Him this would not happen. For Peter and the other disciples meant to "fight" in "defense of Jesus, if necessary. But that is the way of man.

Jesus told them these things would happen, and then He said "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me."

Well - this is where we separate the disciples from the world - the Christian from the world.

Do we want to follow Jesus? He went carrying His cross... will we deny ourselves?

Surely we cannot say we enjoy suffering, the heaviness of the cross, the denial of self; but we can want to go this way because we love the Lord Jesus and believe He is the only way into eternal life - and even in the darkness of pain, disappointment, discouragement, sorrow, mistreatment or misunderstanding, we can know by our faith that the Light shines. And we can look to Jesus, "the author and finisher of our faith; who for the joy that was set before Him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God."

Do you look at the joy set before you, or are you lost in the darkness of the moment? How deep is that darkness sometime! But ever look to Jesus, who always stands nearby in the shadow waiting to lead us back into the light of His Presence.

Remember to say with the Psalmist "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for thou art with me."

Jesus suffered: He was hurt and lonely and disappointed, but yet He gave Himself to do His father's

Some people plant tomatoes in the spring

Others plant carrots, or onions, or cucumbers, or asparagus, or lettuce. But there's one thing you can plant now that will create a variety of tastes. A gas barbecue grill.

We have several varieties. Any one lets you harvest a delicious meal any time of the year. Its perfect heat control and permanent briquettes give you year round cooking pleasure without the mess of a charcoal fire.

For best results, we recommend early planting. This will guarantee larger yields because you can start your harvest immediately. New lower prices on the '68 models are in effect through July 31st. Prices start at $77.52 cash (includes installation and tax) or as little as $2.50 a month, whichever you prefer. After that, it will only cost a few cents per month for us to feed it.

Call us. We'll plant a gas barbecue grill in your yard. That is, if you have a taste for the outdoors.

Buy a PATIO PAIR (one gas light and one gas barbecue grill) and save $26.00. Prices start at $103.70 (includes installation and tax) or $4.00 a month.

THE PART TO PLAY IN life's great game, is not to strive for wealth or fame, it's not to lay upon the shelf, just everything we want for self. It's not for who our gifts are made, nor would we hope to be repaid; To help another's burden's bear, is one great reason why we're here.

The Old Timer

"Some people's minds are like concrete—all mixed up and set."

"Well I'll Be Darned"

"Surprise" shouts the clown, Jimmy Williams, from inside the litter barrel to the astonished and amused children. Each day Jimmy, who's circus name is Happy the Clown, entertains hundreds of children with his antics at the Circus World Museum in Baraboo, Wisconsin. Jimmy not only entertains children during the circus performances, but shakes hands with them, tells them stories, has his picture taken with them, talks about a clown's life and in general becomes a modern day Pied Piper. And, the children love it.
