SOMEBODY ELSE said it first: By the time you can afford steak for breakfast, all you're able to chew is oatmeal... There's nothing like getting up at 7 a. m. to make you realize why the late movie wasn't worth watching (same is true for the election returns... I thought that show would never end)... No, Gwendolyn, "mistletoe" isn't an astronaut's affliction. (All of these come from Phil Pastoret of Newspaper Enterprises Assn.).

RECENTLY I read that a fellow named Cardinal Giuseppe Caspar Mezzofanti (a pretty good mouthful in itself) could speak 60 languages fluently. Not only that, he could translate 114 languages and 72 dialects.

Seems kind of a shame he had to be of a faith which prohibits marriage by its clergy. He very well might have been the only man in history who could understand his wife.

EVERY Administration must have its slogan, and it appears that Richard Nixon's has been chosen. He got the idea from a sign which he saw being held up by an 11-year-old girl at one of his rallies.

The sign read "Bring Us Together Again", which sounds like it might have been written by Humpty Dumpty. But it may be a pretty good slogan at that, especially if the stated goal can be even partially realized.

Certainly this nation is divided in every possible way. It is to be hoped that some of the wounds and rifts between groups and individuals will be healed and closed, but it doesn't seem too likely from this pessimistic corner that we'll have harmony on anything more controversial than Mother's Day.

Even this may cause trouble. Those whose unwritten slogan is "Tear Us Apart Some More" probably will demonstrate against mothers some day, claiming that they are exercising undue influence and infringing on the rights of little kids to make up their own minds.

UIL Director Defines Rule

AUSTIN (Special) - The newly approved regulations concerning awards to students and coaches are still in effect, said Dr. Rhea Williams Monday.

Williams said misunderstandings had developed over recent reports concerning the two new measures, approved last spring by the Interscholastic League. "The League is studying the rules, but they still apply," UIL director Williams said.

The new measures, which went into effect this year, limit one major award to $20 per year per student and gifts to coaches or sponsors to $200 per year. "These haven't been changed," Dr. Williams emphasized.

The Sudan Hornets added another victory to their season record Friday night, making it read 8-1, in defeating the Kress Kangaroos 46-7.

The Hornets took the opening kickoff and started play from their 27 yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, QB Steve Martin passed to HB Jerry Bellar, who went 73 yards for a Hornet touchdown in the first few seconds of the game. Bellar kicked the point to give the Hornets a 7-0 lead. The Hornet defense held the Kangaroos, forcing them to punt on 4th down. Sudan started play on their 11, and after gaining 17 yards to the 28, Bellar broke through for a 72 yards TD. He also kicked the extra point, and Sudan was leading 14-0.

The Kangaroos came right back with FB Johnny Jackson powering through the Hornet defense for a 56 yard touchdown run. Terry Harris kicked the point, and to cut the Hornet lead to 7 points, as the score read 14-7, Sudan over Kress. Hornet QB Martin got the Sudan offense on the move again by passing to E. Bobby Brown for a 40 yard gain to the Kangaroo 10 yard line. Two plays later Martin carried the ball in from 6 yards out to make the TD. Bellar converted, and the Hornets took a 21-7 lead. Late in the quarter, Martin ran 20 yards for another TD, Bellar kicked the point, and the quarter ended with Sudan in the lead, 28-7.

Fullback Larry Hanna started the scoring for Sudan in the second quarter, by plunging over from the two yard line. Bellar's try for the point failed. Most of this quarter was a defensive battle, with neither team scoring again. The Kangaroos marched to the Hornet 9 late in the quarter, but the Hornet defense stood firm, and they had to give up the ball when failing to make a first on a 4th down play. As the teams went into the dressing supper, Nov. 21, the annual Community Thanksgiving service to be held at the church, Wednesday, Nov. 27.

rooms at the half, the Hornets were leading 34-8.

Early in the 3rd quarter, the Kangaroos were forced to punt on 4th down, and Sudan was on the march again. HB David Weaver ran 42 yards for the TD. Bellar's kick was wide, and the score was 42-7. The Hornet defense forced the Kangaroos to punt three times on fourth down in this quarter. Late in the quarter, the Hornets blocked a punt and Weaver was there to cover the ball for Sudan on the Kress 20 and moved on down to the 15 as the quarter ended.

Starting the 4th quarter on the Kangaroo 15, the Hornets lost yardage and Bellar went in to attempt a 46-yard field goal which was short, went into the end zone and Kress took over on the 20. The Kangaroos' FB Jackson ran 53 yards to the Hornet 30, making another fierce try for the Sudan goal line. But Sudan's defense really went to work and held Kress on four plays. After a first down, and the 11, Kress took over on their own. Martin went to the air again as he passed to Weaver on a 58 yard gain before Weaver was stopped on the Kress 15. A few plays later Hanna ran six yards for his second TD of the game. Bellar tried to run for two points, as the ball was centered a little high off the fingers of Martin, who was holding for Bellar to kick. When the game ended, the Sudan Hornets were leading 46-7.

Fullback Johnny Jackson was the powerhouse for Kress, as he carried 27 times for 201 yards against the Hornets. Outstanding defensive players for Sudan this week were Weaver, Hanna, and Monte Roberts. Bellar was top ball carrier with 102 yards, Martin hit four out of six passes for 185 yards including one for a touchdown.

Lets "Back The Hornets" to w Friday night when they meet t Farwell Steers at Hornet Stadium in a battle for the district championship crown. The Steers cord for the season is also! Game time here Friday is 7 p. m.

Sweetpotato - "Flavor-Full" Nourishment

Sweetpotatoes, eaten boiled, baked, browned, fried, candied and glazed in various ways, are one of the most all-round nutritious foods in the world. Sweetpotatoes are brimming over with vitamin A, and also contribute vitamins B and C and iron to your diet.

Sweetpotatoes were found by Columbus and his shipmates, and are believed to be native to this hemisphere. Frosty air of fall and winter months spark appetites for hearty meals and the versatile sweetpotato is especially abundant October-March.

Make the most of any meal—and the most of the sweetpotato—if you want happy faces at your dinner table. Here, Sweetpotato Sausage Casserole for your eating enjoyment.

SWEETPOTATO SAUSAGE CASSEROLE

2 pounds sweetpotatoes, (about 5 medium)
1 medium apple
1/2 teaspoon salt
Few grains pepper
1/4 cup butter
2 table spoons chopped onion
1/2 pound small link sausages (8)

Peel sweetpotatoes; halve lengthwise. Quarter and core apple; chop coarsely. Arrange sweetpotatoes and apple in shallow 1 1/2 quart casserole; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Melt butter; saute onion over low heat 5 minutes; pour over yams. Cover and bake in 375° F. oven 15 minutes. Brown sausages. Arrange on top of sweetpotatoes. Cover and bake 20 minutes longer. Make 4 servings.

What makes popcorn pop?

Popcorn is different from other kinds of corn, and it's that difference that makes it pop. Popcorn has a hard, tough, waterproof covering. So when popcorn is heated, the natural moisture inside the kernels can't escape. When it's heated enough, though, the moisture turns to steam and the kernels explode.

Does air have weight?

It does, and I'll tell you how you can prove it to yourself and your friends with a simple and interesting experiment. Hammer a long thin nail through the mid-point (the 18-inch mark) of a yardstick. Balance the yardstick by placing each end of to one end of the yardstick. On the other end, to make a perfect ballance, tape a dime or penny or attach a paper clip. Now take the ballison off and blow it up. When you attach it again, full of air, you'll see that end of the yardstick dip down. That's because the air inside the ballison has weight and makes it heavier.

Do you know why the engine is usually in the front of a car?

When cars were first invented, the inventors put the engine up front where the horse used to be. But there are other reasons too. When the engine is up front, the rush of air through the radiator grill keeps it nice and cool. And it's much easier to link the controls between the dashboard and the engine.

Do you know how the Amazon River got its name?

A lot of people think a large lady is called an "Amazon" because the Amazon River is big. Not true. It's the other way around.

A Spanish explorer named Francisco de Orellana discovered the South American river in 1541, and one day his party was attacked by a tribe of fierce women. Orellana thought they must surely be descended from a race of women warriors in Greece, legend called the Amazons, who lived in Asia. Many of their own country, and had their own army. So he named the river after them.

Historical Marker Slated For Early Sheriff's Grave

Dedication services for the Texas Historical Grave Marker erected for Franklin A. Loyd, a historical significant law officer for Lamb County will be held Sunday, Nov. 17 at 3 p. m. in Littlefield Cemetery.

The marker has recently arrived from the foundry and a dedicatory ceremony will be held in the near future at his grave in Littlefield Cemetery, announces Mrs. S. D. Hay, chairman of the Lamb County Historical Survey Committee.

This marker is one of a series that will record the brave deeds of Texas' most gallant lawmen from the days of the Republic to the present. The markers are sponsored through the Texas Historical Foundation by a grant given to THF by the Texas Law Enforcement and Youth Development Foundation. THF is the private affiliate of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee.

Inscriptions on the markers commemorate Texas Law Enforcement officers who have been killed in line of duty and/or who have contributed to the development of Texas and its history, such as Texas Rangers, sheriffs and marshals.

Frontier Texas produced a unique brand of lawmen, as it long was a border region between the U. S. and Mexico. During the years of colonization, Texas settlers rallied defensively against Indians and badmen; during the Republic, against invading Mexican troops. As a result, the Texas Rangers and other famous officers of the law rose to the challenge and worked heroically to keep the peace.

This marker and its location will appear in the next edition of the "Guide to Official Texas Historical Markers."

Mortality rate of the cottontail rabbit is very high. It has only about one chance in 20 of becoming one year old.

It is estimated that there are more than 8 million pleasure boats on the nation's waterways. About half of them are stored in the home garage.

Mrs. Bowling Shower Honoree

Mrs. Rodney Bowling was honored with a Pink and Blue Shower Monday morning from 9:30 to 11:00 in the home of Mrs. Jerry Ray.

Other hostesses included Mesdames Cecil Testerman, Dail Burnett, Glenn Testerman, Lynn Drum, Raymon Maxwell, James Withrow, Wayne Swart, Earl Testerman, Darwin Reid, S. A. Farmer, Wiley Mudgett, Yvonne Pierce, Allen Beale.

Probably the first fish a youngster catches is the so-called perch or bream, or if you want to be more formal, the sunfish.

Some anglers never graduate from this stage, continuing to catch these diminutive battlers right on through life . . . an understandable and admirable thing to do. Catching perch, anyway you take it, is just plain, wholesome fun.

Trouble is, most anglers approach the sport with the wrong idea. They use heavy tackle that soon aborts any notions the perch may have about putting up a protest.

Secret is to catch them on light tackle, the lighter the better, something like an ultra-light spinning outfit with two-pound-test line or maybe a fly rod.

Once for once, the perch is the fightiest fish that swims. It even puts the fabled black bass to shame. Show me a perch and a bass the identical size and it will be no contest in a tugging match. The sunfish will win every time.

Only regrettable thing is that the sunfish doesn't grow very large. Get one a half pound or larger and you've got a BIG one. But even one the size of your hand can put a healthy bend in an ultra-light spinning rod or a fly rod.

In some places, like Caddo Lake and Lake O' the Pines in Northeast Texas, Dam B Lake in Southeast Texas, and Marble Falls Lake in Central Texas, catching sunfish is popular sport.

On Lake O' the Pines, one of the favorite baits is the gray cricket. Most anglers fish along the trees standing in the lake. They lower the cricket down deep where the sunfish hang out.

There are many members of the sunfish family in Texas. True identification of your catch is compounded because of hybrids and inter-breeding between the species. Some of them are truly colorful characters, spotted and touched with bright colors.

One of the most popular members of the family in Texas is the so-called goggle-eyed perch. This actually is the warmouth. It is sort of an olive green all over with a large mouth, looking offhand something like a black bass.

Another favorite is the bluegill. Since the overall coloration will vary, the best identifying marks, universally, are the several black spots visible at the rear part of the top fin when the fin is spread open.

Other important Texas species are the yellow-breasted sunfish and the long-eared sunfish. These can really be confused. Actually the yellow-breast has longer ears than the long-ear and the long-ear has a more vivid yellow breast than the yellow-breast.

The common sunfish also is quite common and can best be identified by a bright red spot on the gill cover and light blue stripes on its cheeks.

Another important one is the green sunfish, which as its name implies is generally green all over.

Actually, identification is something most fishermen could care less about. They just like to catch and eat the ubiquitous perch, its nationality be hanged.

No elaborate tackle is needed to catch perch. An ordinary canepole will suffice. But it is more fun on sporting tackle like an ultra-light spinning outfit or fly-rod.

Most perch are taken on bait. But this is because fishermen never have learned the greater pleasure they can get from catching 'em on artificial baits. Tiny spinner baits and wet flies will take almost as many in number, and usually the average size taken on artificials will run larger than those on comparable natural baits.

It is wise to remember, however, that the wet flies should be small, about No. 10 in size. Also good at times are small popping bugs.

The list of baits that will tempt perch is almost endless. Favorite, of course, is the earthworm. Also good are small grasshoppers, crickets, tiny bits of frozen shrimp, and grubs.

Believe it or not, the perch belongs to the same family as the black bass. Actually, the black bass isn't a true bass at all. It's a member of the sunfish family. For this reason you'll find sunfish in about the same place you'll find bass. Surprisingly true . . . perch rate high on the bass' everyday diet.

Look for perch around submerged stumps and rocks, along moss beds, and around weeds, generally in water from about a foot to ten feet deep. Work your bait slowly to catch them.

As for preparing them for eating, just scale, dress and cut off the heads. Fry richly brown in a deep skillet of grease where the many bones become brittle and you can eat fins, bones and all.

Fried perch make a delicious meal!

Best of thoughts most always start

That's the place where we acquire
Thoughts that prove our hearts desire.
Evil thoughts won't stay around

Take a look within your breast.

Devotional

By HAZEL HOUSE-

Scripture: St. John 6:38, 47-59; 16:6; St. Matthew 4:8-11; 1 Cor. 10:13.

In meditation sometimes we dash out in front of God and try to lead His thoughts our way, instead of waiting and listening and having Him tell us what to think on, what to say, what we need and how to "go".

The need of each one of us can find an answer from God through Jesus. For once we truly believe that Jesus is God's only begotten Son who did take our place in death for our sin, so that we could have eternal life, and then accept Him as our sin-offering, our Savior — we are children of God. Not just saved from the result of our sins, but changed from ugly, evil selves, and made a new creature — ready for God's use in His kingdom, ready to start growing up. Then we have the Holy Spirit to guide us (to all who are willing to obey) and we never have to find our way through this world alone. If any one of you think God has forsaken you, that His promises are for others but not to you — you are so wrong. God has not forsaken you, but you have gone away from Him.

The trouble with most of us is this: We want all the fulfillment and good result of God's promises, but we do not want to step out "on the water", as Peter did, when the Lord says "Come, follow me" and claim the promises. We want to go our own way, we want to do what we want to do, instead of doing as God says. He never made an idle promise, and He never in the history of this world has broken a promise.

I thought of a person I know who is perhaps one of those people who have just enough "religion to make them miserable". This person knows that Jesus died to save and is willing to accept him as Savior — except for one little foolish physical habit that has them enslaved; and, like the rich young ruler's money and possessions, costs too much to give it up. This seems so foolish when we look at what Jesus paid, what He gave up to pay for this person's sins, and for yours and mine. Jesus promises to set free any one of us from sin's power and make us a new creation with a new start, if we only believe and trust Him.

Jesus will do that for you, too. I testify to that fact, for He has
