WOODWORK

BY DALTON

BY THE TIME you read this, the whole situation could be changed, but right now CBS has canceled the Smothers Brothers show and the Smothers Brothers have said they will sue the network, "to save the artistic integrity of television."

The way television goes, CBS likely will replace the show with something worse, but personally, I won't miss the Smothers Brothers at all. Of course, I'm not fully qualified to judge the program, since I never sat through one all the way, and only rarely ever caught glimpses of it. But I read enough TV columns to know they aren't my type politically. The reason I always turned them off, though, was because they never did do anything, funny or otherwise. They never would finish a song, for example.

CBS said they gave the show the ax because the Smotherses wouldn't let them look at their script in time—and because of the Smotherses wouldn't let them look at their script in time--and one show was postponed early this year after folk singer Joan Baez (Joanie Phony) deidcated a song to her husband, a convicted draft resister.

The brothers were trying to get away with murder in the name of art, and finally had their hand called. Let's hope neither of the other networks picks up their program.

SAW AN AD the other day in a farm publication, of all places, about a new basketball star (I guess--I just read the headline part). His name is Verticillium Wilt.

SCHOOL TRUSTEE ELECTION RETURNS

Some 182 votes were cast in the Sudan School Board Trustee election held Saturday, including the absentee votes, according to election judge, Joe West.

Incumbent Dexter Baker received 134 votes, and James Withrow had 120 to win over their opponents, Wayne Whiteaker and Robert DeLoach. Three write-in votes were cast.

HI-PLAINS RESEARCH ELECTS OFFICERS

Twenty-eight High Plains farmers, businessmen and other agricultural leaders were elected to the Board of Trustees of the High Plains Research Foundation during the semiannual Spring meeting of Trustees March 29 in Plainview.

Harold Hinn, Plainview, was re-elected Chairman of the Board of Trustees and Frank Moore was re-elected Trustee President. Other Foundation officers also were re-elected.

In other Board action, Trustees heard Commodity Committee reports and discussed the Foundation's annual budget.

Each member of the Foundation's research staff discussed progress made in all areas of research during the past year.

The meeting was conducted in Plainview Holiday Inn and adjourned at noon. Approximately 44 Trustees attended the semiannual meeting.

Sudan Elevator Hosts Customers

Hugh Vincent, owner of Sudan elevators, was host for a dinner at Littlefield's Crescent House Restaurant Thursday night. Some 110 persons attended the annual affair.

Vincent stated this was one of the largest crowds, made up of his customers, that ever attended this event.

The program was given by Mrs. F. M. Smith, who reviewed the book, "my Number Two Wife" by Dr. Justus Rice.

Another speaker was Bob Crume, sales manager for Asgrow Seed Company.

Gifts were presented to each couple attending, and door prizes of five bags of grain sorghum seed were given to Mike Serratt, T. W. Fife, J. D. Webb, and Olan Powell.

TWO REPRESENT AG COMPUTING CO.

Agricultural Computing Company of Amarillo, Texas, founded and financed by local high plains residents, is being represented in this area by two trained and experienced agriculturists, Rod Flanagan and J. C. Lane, Jr.

The two marketing representatives are calling on feed lot managers daily to acquaint them with the services available to management through the Agricultural Computing Company. Both men are highly trained and experienced in the field of agriculture.

Flanagan graduated from Texas A & M with a BS degree in Animal Husbandry and for the past five years was a Field Representative for a major agricultural supplier. He resides with his wife and son at 3619 Hancock Street in Amarillo.

Lane holds a degree in Agricultural Education from Oklahoma State University with over 11 years experience as an Agricultural Educator, farmer and agri-businessman. He resides with his wife and two children at 3729 Wayne Street in Amarillo.

Both men are striving to serve our ever expanding agricultural industry and are available for consultation or appearance before agricultural groups in the area, the company stated in this announcement.

PTO NEWS

The Sudan PTO will meet Monday, April 18, at 4 p. m. in the school cafetorium.

Election of officers for 1969-70 will be held, according to the announcement made by Mrs. James Withrow.

REV. BROWN ATTENDS CONFERENCE MEETING

Rev. Robert Brown, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, is attending a meeting of selective teams from all Texas conferences and New Mexico in Midland this week.

This meeting is conducted by the United Methodist Church Board of Education.

AGRICULTURAL Computing Representatives J. C. Lane, Jr., left, and Rod Flanagan talk with Tom Herrick, Owner and Manager of Randall County Feed Lot about the growth of commercial feed lots and their need for computerized management information.

H. C. McCAGHREN, EVANGELIST

Gospel Meeting Scheduled

H. C. McCaghren, of Levelland, is scheduled to preach in a gospel meeting beginning this Sunday, April 13, through Thursday for the Church of Christ in Sudan.

Mr. McCaghren, who has preached in meetings here before, began preaching in 1940 in Dallas where he served congregations there over 20 years. He has conducted meetings in 15 states including Hawaii, and Puerto Rico. He plans to tour the Bible Lands this April 21 - May 10 and on this trip he is scheduled to preach in Jerusalem, and Athens, Greece.

Mr. McCaghren preached ten years for the Kaufman Highway Church in Dallas before coming to the Austin Street church in July, 1967. He has two sons, Allen, a dentist in Birmingham, Alabama, and Richard, a salesman in Dallas.

Church of Christ Minister, Willard Cox, is looking forward to seeing many visitors during the meeting.

SENIOR CITIZENS MEETING SET

The Sudan Senior Citizens will be meeting April 11, 2:30 p. m. in the community center.

Members of the Future Homemakers will be in charge of the program.

Everyone is invited to attend.

At the last meeting of the Senior Citizens, members of the National Honor Society and the Future Teachers Organization presented the program.

Sudan Feeder Has Safety Award

Sudan Livestock and Feeding Company was among six Lubbock-Wichita Falls area firms which were honored in Houston Tuesday, during the 30th Annual Texas Safety Conference for outstanding safety achievements.

The company won an industrial first place.

The six firms are among the 96 state winners of the Texas Safety Association's Industrial and Fleet Safety Awards for 1968 who are to receive a total of 264 safety awards.

Industrial Awards are made to Texas companies and public organizations in recognition of exemplary safety records on a competitive basis. Records of winners must be at least equal to the national average for the industry group.

First Place Awards are given to firms having the best safety record for their type industry and sub-types of operations. Individual plants and districts within a company or organization, as well as the entire organization, may each enter the contest. Entries are grouped by the number of man-hours worked in the past year.

Entries with a perfect disability record in competition as an entire company with less than 50,000 man-hours of exposure or as individual plants with less than 200,000 man-hours of exposure are awarded Certificates of Merit.

Awards also are presented to firms for their Off-the-Job safety programs and activities in recognition of special efforts to promote the safety of their employees in traffic, at home and in recreational activities as well as at work.

First Place Fleet Awards are given to operators of commercial and industrial truck and passenger car fleets for outstanding safety performances.

Fleets are graded according to the number of miles traveled and are grouped according to the type of fleet.

Certificates of Merit are given for perfect safety records in the under 175,000 mileage class.

Scout-O-Rama Set Saturday

The Sudan Scouts will be among the other scout units at the Scout-O-Rama in Lubbock Saturday, April 12.

More than four thousand Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers from one-hundred and thirty Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorer Posts in the South Plains Boy Scout Council will present their annual Scout-O-Rama Saturday, according to Colonel Haynes Baumgardner, chairman of this year's shows.

Three separate Scout-o-Ramas will be conducted from 1 to 8 p. m. They will be at the Panhandle-South Plains Fairgrounds in Lubbock, at the Agriculture Center in Plainview and at the Gaines County Show Barn in Seminole.

The scouts receive prizes for themselves and cash commissions for their unit treasuries from their ticket sales. In addition, the top four ticket salesmen in the Council, and their dads, will have a free week-end at Astro-World and Sea-A-Rama in Houston and Galveston on the first week-end in May. The local Scout-O-Rama committee will furnish transportation and the management of Astro-World and Sea-A-Rama will host the winners at their facilities.

JIMMY FORD ON DEAN'S LIST

James Byron Ford, student at Eastern New Mexico University, was included on the Dean's honor roll list of 362 students for the fall semester. Students at Eastern are graded on a 4-point scale and must have a semester grade point of 3.25 to be named to the list. Honor students also must have been enrolled in 15 hours of courses for which honor points are awarded.

Devotional

By HAZEL HOUSE

Scripture: St. Luke 20:19-26; 12:40; Isaiah 55:10-11.

"--Render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's, and unto God the things which are God's."

This is not an easy subject for me to write or talk about, but God wants all His message told to us, not just in part, and this is His word.

It seems that we learn even our adult lessons by the method of repetition, and Jesus knew this for He tells His messengers and followers continually to "Go and Tell" His words.

Jesus' authority was being questioned by the chief priests and the scribes, as they sought to trick Him into doing or saying something that they might use to have Him arrested. But Jesus knew their thoughts and gave an answer which amazed them.

That answer is still truth today, yet many Christians seem to go right by this Scripture without hearing what Jesus is saying to us.

Caesar was the ruler, the law, and Jesus said give Caesar what was due him. Some of our laws may not be what we think are the best laws, but, Christians, as much as we possibly can do, we should do in order to keep the laws of our land.

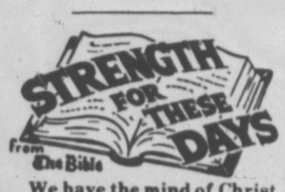
And, like Jesus, avoid being tricked into a poor witness for God by our failure to keep the first part of Jesus' admonition. In other words, we should render unto God the things which are God's, but we should also render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's.

God's word, repeated by us, is the "seed given to the sower" and as we sow these thoughts, our prayer is that even one person may be brought anew to search for the truths recorded in God's Holy Word.

For it is God's word that tells us of Jesus--and how to have eternal life. The record of the Son of God bears witness that He is the way, the only way, into eternal, abundant life. And also tells us that Jesus is coming again to earth to take all of us, with him, safely home. But the word Jesus says about His return to earth is:

"Be ye therefore ready also," (not get ready, but be ready---so if you are not ready, now is the time, the only time you are promised); "for the Son of man cometh at an hour when ye think not."

If you should meet God tonight--are you ready? Jesus is the way to be ready. Accept Him now.



We have the mind of Christ. —(I Cor. 2:16).

We find it easy to learn new things, to remember instructions and methods, when we keep ourselves in tune with infinite intelligence. It lifts us out of fear and tenseness and frees us from the feeling that we are inadequate or incapable of being successful at what we are attempting to do. God's Spirit—the Spirit of success is within us.

We wish to express our eternal gratitude for the many kindnesses evidenced in thought, word, and deed at the loss of our loved one, Ronald V. Herzog.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Should the Army Rule Out God?

Overruling the protests of atheists such as Mrs. Madalyn Murray O'Hair, Postmaster General Blount has determined that the words, "In the beginning God . . ." will appear on the six-cent postage stamp to be issued in commemoration of the historic Apollo 8 flight around the moon.

The stamp is to go on sale in Houston on May 5 and elsewhere in the country on the following day.

The postmaster general said that he had received a great number of letters from citizens who wanted the Scripture quotation to be included in the design of the stamp.

God Ruled Out

But, while the recognition of God is attested by the issuance of this commemorative postage stamp, God has been ruled out of another segment of American life.

Chaplains of the U. S. Army have been forbidden to mention God in their lectures which are delivered to soldiers for the purpose of instilling moral responsibility.

The foreword to character guidance manuals, in use by the army for many years, declares that the program is based on the American philosophy, expressed in the Declaration of Independence, which "regards man as a creature of God."

"As such," the manual continues, "every soldier is responsible and accountable to the Creator for the way he performs his civic and military duty, for the maintaining of his own and the nation's honor, and for the quality of service he renders to his country as a soldier."

But now, because of a complaint from the American Civil Liberties Union, the Army has ruled that a chaplain may not mention God or religious philosophy in the required lectures on moral responsibility.

"Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord," the Bible says.

"Them that honor Me I will honor, and that they despise Me shall be lightly esteemed," declares the Lord.

Is not this a time when we should be calling on God for help in solving our problems—both foreign and domestic—rather than excluding Him from our lives?

What can we expect as a nation if we allow this trend to continue?

If we forget God, will He forget us?

Should This Be Changed?

What is your opinion of this U. S. Army order?

If you think that an effort should be made to have the army rescind this order and permit chaplains to mention God in these lectures, write to me in care of this newspaper, telling me what you believe should be done.

The issue may yet be settled in favor of God—and in favor of our historic national recognition of our dependence on God—if we take action now.

"In God we trust" is still our national motto. Shall we hold to it?

R. P. Markham and family moved to Sudan in December, 1932 from Smyer where Mr. Markham had been manager of Foxworth-Galbraith Lubbock Company prior to his transfer to the Sudan yard.

Reed, born March 1, 1897 at Floyd in Hunt County, was the son of H. M. Markham and wife, Ida Bell Blakemore Markham. H. M. Markham died in 1954 and Ida Bell Markham died in 1964.

Mary Mason Markham was born Dec. 22, 1898 at Rockwall in Rockwall County and was the daughter of A. J. Mason and Sara Nancy Higgins Mason.

Mary Mason and Reed P. Markham were married Nov. 23, 1919, moved to Smyer in 1924 where he was associated with The Guy and Gregg Land Company then selling out the Jones County Block of Land for Ellwood Land and Cattle Company. In 1927 he began working for Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Company there, as well as opening the R. P. Markham Insurance and Real Estate Agency.

The Markhams were part of the pioneer movement at Smyer and saw the first railroad arrive in 1924. They lived there when there was only a General Mercantile store; then later the Post Office, a service station, and a Dry Goods Store. While living at Smyer Markham remembers helping fighting prairie fires on the Spade Ranch.

The Lumber Company transferred Markham to Sudan in 1932 and the Markhams have been prominent in Civic and Community activities.

Mr. Markham has served as president of the school board, president of the Rotary Club of which he is now an honorary member. He has served on the City Commission and helped spearhead the drive for paved streets. He has taught a Sunday School class of the First Baptist Church, for forty years. In 1950 Markham purchased property of the P. E. Boesen estate and established the Boesen Terrace Addition, one of the nicer additions in Sudan.

Mrs. Markham attended Baylor-Belton College; now known as Mary Hardin Baylor.

The Markhams have three children; Harvey Andrew Markham born Sept. 28, 1920, married first Ruth Bayless, issue two children, Harvey Reed Markham, born June 20, 1946, Port Washington, Long Island, New York; Ila Dawn Markham, born Oct. 13, 1948, Port Washington, near Buffalo, New York. Harvey Andrew Markham married second Marguriet Galvan, Gun Barrel Gulch, N. Y. Sara Belle Markham, second child of R. P. and wife, Mary Markham, was born Oct. 22, 1922, at Farmersville in Collin County, Texas, married Lee Stewart Woods Aug 15, 1943, no issue. Some old time files were dusted off recently in the vital statistics department and they included these reported death causes of long ago:

"Went to bed feeling well, but woke up dead."

"Died suddenly, nothing serious."

"Don't know why. Died without the aid of a doctor."

"Had never been fatally ill before."

Sounds ridiculous, doesn't it?

But what if everybody in this country were to throw their hands up in—despair and say they don't give a hoot.

Indeed, there would be no tomorrow.

But fortunately, Americans have a way of solving their problems.

And that's just what's going to happen in these troubled times. Simply because it's always been an American tradition.

Now, how can you as one little 'ole citizen in this big, wide country of ours be of any help?

Well, think about U.S. Savings Bonds.

No, it isn't an immediate remedy for all our ills. But it helps.

If everybody were to buy Bonds, your country would be stronger economically to wipe out some of those scars we've been sporting.

Of course, everybody would be helping themselves too. If you were to sign up for Payroll Savings at work, you'd have quite a nice nest egg for yourself one of these days.

For things like college educations, that new home, or a secure retirement.

So think about U.S. Savings Bonds today.

And then go on and sign up. Tomorrow.

Take stock in America

Doggie-Taxi for Berlin Pet Lovers

"A dog's life" has become even more pleasant in the nine months since young Peter Schmidt offered his motorized service to West Berlin's proud dog owners. He transports pampered pooches on their rounds to the vet, grooming parlor, obedience school, dog shows, boarding kennels, and, eventually, to the dog cemetery. He also walks them, dogsits with them at his own place, and calls at their home to feed them three times daily and take them out while their owners are away.

Schmidt, 30, and a taxicab driver since 1965, decided to try the doggie-service idea after reading about a similar venture launched in New York. Now he has 15 regular customers with some 70 dogs, but still drives a cab at night pending the growth of his clientele.

This should not take long, since there are close to 65,000 licensed dogs, and Schmidt's is still the only such service in Berlin. At present Schmidt, who owns a poodle, handles other poodles, bassets, airdales, bulldogs, Alsatians, Afghans, borzois and Irish wolfhounds. He is encouraged also by the fact that some dog lovers spend anywhere from $300 to more than ten times that amount on their pets each year. Schmidt's own fees are 25c per mile for point-to-point transportation; $3 per hour to the vet, etc.; $2 per hour for walks in nearby woods; $2.50 per day for the house calls on pets left behind on weekends; and a mere 10c per hour (plus mileage to and from his own home) for dog-sitting.

"If old dogs can learn new tricks, so can I," says Schmidt, who's a bachelor.
