PSYCHIATRISTS quite often tell their patients to record their dreams, and then they analyze them for secret meanings. Even without trying to read any secret meanings into your dreams, though, you might be interested in doing this for some period of time.

Dreams are not usually remembered for more than a few minutes after waking, we're told, and some researchers claim everybody dreams every night (except schizophrenics) but usually don't recall the dreams.

They say that if you keep a pad and pencil handy to your bed, you can record them first thing, then read them later. The reading of such dreams, whether it gives you any insight into your mental condition (which most of us would rather not know about) or not, might provide some interesting chuckles.

I had a goofy dream the other night about some Sudan residents known to everyone in Sudan and most of those in Amherst. I won't give their names here, but I will tell anyone who wants to know. It went like this:

I dreamed I attended a funeral for a well-known Sudan man who is alive and well, and who I hope continues to be so. Anyway, the preacher got up and talked and talked without reference to the deceased, and I thought, completely off the subject. He continued to talk and people were beginning to squirm, wondering, like I was, why he didn't follow the usual pattern.

Then another Sudan man got up and displayed an open initialed briefcase, saying (so help me):

"I'd like to take this opportunity to present to my mother this genuine leather attache case," she rose and accepted it.

I remember I was quite upset at such a thing taking place, but then the supposedly dead man walked out to the speaker's stand and said, "this is all just a joke—we just wondered how long you would set here and take this." The crowd appeared quite relieved.

Then I walked out of the church, saw a class ring lying on the ground and picked it up. It had "Irede-H High School, 1953" on it, and I wondered how I would get it returned to the owner.

At that point, my wife said, "If you don't get up, you're not going to get any breakfast before you go to work." And that was no dream.

LET FREEDOM RING

FOURTH OF JULY

ON THIS INDEPENDENCE DAY, 1969, IT MIGHT BE WELL FOR US TO REMIND OURSELVES THAT THE FREEDOM WHICH WE COMMEMORATE IS NOT SELF-PERPETUATING. IT IS SOMETHING WE MUST WORK FOR, CONSCIENTIOUSLY AND CONTINUOUSLY, EVEN AS DID OUR FOREFATHERS. THEY WERE READY TO DIE FOR THEIR FREEDOM AS WELL AS OURS: CAN WE DO LESS THAT STRIVE TO PROTECT OUR LIFE, LIBERTY AND PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS.

By BOYD PIERCE
Of Burlison

Years ago, a skirt that was "halfway to the knees" meant from the ankles.

In women's hostery, what's sheer today is gone tomorrow.

A good time to retire is before it's too late to have a good time.

Blessed are the meek because what would busy people do without us.

Don't make a mistake and count your checks before they're cashed.

Money travels so fast these days, the germs on it get sick.

What some people don't know about driving a car would fill a hospital.

Junk is something you keep for many years and then throw away two days before you need it.

Think this one over — When your outgo is more than your income, then your upkeep is then your downfall.

If you want to forget all of your other troubles, try wearing a pair of shoes that are a size too small.

On one Sunday morning, the minister delivered a sermon that lasted only about ten minutes. This was most unusual for him to finish so quickly.

Upon the conclusion of his message, he told the congregation: "I regret to inform you, that my dog, who appears to be overly fond of paper, ate that portion of my sermon that I failed to deliver."

After the service, the preacher was met at the door by a man who was a member of another church but happened to be visiting that morning. Shaking the hand of the minister he said:

"Preacher, I would like to know whether that dog of yours has any pups? If it has, I want to get one to give to my minister."

TEXAS LAW INVALIDATED

Texas Secretary of State Martin Dies, Jr., states that the United States Supreme Court's decision in a Louisiana case last week has invalidated a Texas law which restricts voting in revenue bond elections to property owners.

By statute the Secretary of State is the chief election officer of Texas and is responsible for obtaining and maintaining uniformity in the application, operation and interpretation of the state's election laws.

The United States Supreme Court struck down a Louisiana law which gave only property taxpayers the right to vote in elections called to approve the issuance of revenue bonds by a municipal utility, on the ground that it violated the equal protection clause of the Federal Constitution because it excluded otherwise qualified voters who were as substantially affected and directly interested in the matter voted upon as those who were permitted to vote.

The Texas Constitution contains a provision that only qualified electors who own property which has been duly rendered for taxation are eligible to vote in an election for the purpose of issuing bonds. The Supreme Court of Texas has interpreted this provision as applying to elections for issuing public utility, as well as to elections for issuing bonds to be retired by levy of a property tax.

Secretary Dies said that the property ownership requirement could no longer be imposed in future elections for issuance of revenue bonds. He pointed out that the United States Supreme Court's decision applies only to revenue bond elections and that the court has not ruled on the validity of a property ownership requirement in a tax bond election.

MILTON BERLE AWARDS CLOWN COLLEGE DIPLOMAS

Milton Berle, one of the world's most famous funny men, welcomed seven newcomers into the business of making people laugh when he awarded diplomas to graduates of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus' College of Clowns this past week-end. The happy event occurred at Houston's Astrodome where The Greatest Show on Earth is presenting two performances daily through September 1.

The Clown College, begun by the Circus last fall to train young men in the pantomimic arts, is the only school of its kind in the world. Although the "new grads" have been appearing in the Circus since the current season started in mid-March, the presentation of diplomas by Mr. Berle was the first official recognition of their new degree, Master of Mirth.

In his remarks to the young clowns, Mr. Berle said, "In this time of trouble and discontent in our nation, there is a greater than ever need for young people to enter the business of laughter. You have chosen a noble profession. Be good at it and it will be good to you."

TELEPHONE REPORTS

Substantial wage increases and certain benefit improvements became effective this month for employees of General Telephone Company of the Southwest, under the terms of the three-year contract completed June 28 between the company and the Communications Workers of America.

This phase of the contract will cost the company about $1.2 million annually and is in addition to those parts of the agreement which became effective last year, increasing annual operating costs of the company by about $1.5 million.

Owen Rabourn, director of personnel, said all job classifications of the company's employees are affected by the 1969 wage increase. Average of the increases in various classifications is over 12 cents per hour, Rabourn said. This results in an average increase of about 5.6 per cent.

Also, effective on June 22, the company began paying the total premium for basic health insurance for each employee. This amounts to $7.23 per month per employee. The company also contributes $0.42 each month toward the monthly premium cost for major medical

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Outgrown Our Need of God?

Just seven years from now—in 1976—it will be exactly 200 years since the original Independence Day.

We have come a long way since that time. Starting then as the smallest and youngest of the nations of the world, we have become the greatest and most powerful.

Our type of government has been copied by many others.

But today we are being attacked, both internally and externally, by those who have sworn to bury us. And the attacks—especially the internal ones—are having too much effect for us to be complacent any longer.

Perhaps it is time that we should remind ourselves that we have a heritage of dependence on God—so well authenticated that it would be impossible to remove this from our history, even if we wanted to do so.

God-Given Right

Our Declaration of Independence states that the right of mankind to enjoy freedom is a gift of God. Here are the words:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

Our coins state, "In God We Trust."

Our pledge of allegiance declares that we are "one nation under God."

The president of the United States, when he takes the oath of office, places one hand on a Bible and raises the other toward heaven as he pledges to uphold the constitution.

The Bible says, "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord."

If our nation needed God's help in overcoming its enemies when it was the tiniest infant nation in the world—and its leaders then said that it did—can we afford now to take the attitude that we have outgrown the need of Divine assistance?

When we take this attitude, we are on the road to disaster. Wouldn't it be far better to acknowledge now that we need the Lord and to ask Him to intervene in our affairs?

Abraham Lincoln said, "I have been driven many times to my knees by the overwhelming conviction that I had nowhere else to go."

J. Edgar Hoover has stated, "The force of prayer is greater than any possible combination of man-controlled powers, because prayer is man's greatest means of tapping the infinite resources of God."

Prayer for This Time

One of our favorite patriotic songs, "America," has a stanza which is really a prayer:

"Our fathers' God—to Thee, Author of liberty — to Thee we sing Long may our land be bright With freedom's holy light. Protect us by Thy might, Great God, our King!"

This Independence Day, let's pause in our celebration long enough to pray this prayer.

expense insurance. This is the total premium for coverage of the employee only.

Another benefit improvement which became effective on Jan. 1, 1969, was the granting of four weeks vacation to employees with 20 years of service.

General Telephone & Electronics Corporation, parent company of General Telephone Company of the Southwest, advanced from No. 23 to No. 21 position in revenues and sales in the rankings of the 500 largest industrial companies published by FORTUNE. The magazine publishes the compilation annually, based on operating results of the prior year.

GT&E ranks No. 15 in net income versus No. 13 in last year's listing, and No. 17 in the invested capital versus No. 16 last year, and maintained its No. 9 position among the top 500 corporations in the categories of assets and employment.

General Telephone of the Southwest with headquarters in San Angelo serves over three-quarter million telephones in 435 towns (exchanges) in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Insulated Lunch Kit Cures Limp Lunch

If you're a working man, you probably belong to the group of 20 million wage-earners who carry their lunch to work. Do you transport your sandwiches and dessert goodies in a paper bag, only to have a limp lunch greet you at the noon break? Say an un-fearful goodbye to soggy bread, wilted lettuce, and dried-out cold cuts with the latest development in lunch containers, the Thermos insulated lunch kit.

This man-sized lunch box is urethane foam-insulated to keep food fresh on the job, indoors or out. There's even a handy inside partition that doubles as a lap tray. The kit's other considerate feature is the pint Thermos vacuum bottle packed inside—now you won't have to buy that awful coffee from the vendor's wagon, you can take the home-brewed version instead. ## Devotional

By HAZEL HOUSE

Scripture: Genesis 3:21; 1 Samuel 18:1-4.

"The kind of friend to have is one like the King's son who took off his robe and gave it to David"

A statement like this was made by a minister in a sermon, and I began to think of how much it really meant to all of us.

"The most precious Friend I want, and therefore I have, is the King's Son, Jesus Christ, who made His robe of righteousness available to me when I knew I needed a Savior; a Redeemer from sin and death. I believe that He is the Son of God with the power to redeem any man or woman's soul who comes to Him in repentance, trusting only in His power, mercy, righteousness, forgiveness and eternal love. He was mine when I gave myself to Him and took Him as my Friend, my sin offering to God.

We search the Scripture, reading the record of God's Son, and learning of the doings and sayings of Jesus while on earth. But we need to be saved (by the continued feeling of a need we come to realize we cannot earn or educate ourselves into God's family) by a person, Jesus, who loved us, and died that we could have eternal life.

And Jesus said our righteousness must exceed that of the Pharisees, or it was not good enough for us to enter God's presence.

Adam and Eve, after eating of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, and realizing that they were naked, made themselves clothes of fig leaves.

But when God came looking for them, they hid themselves in the garden, for the fig-leaf aprons were not good enough to hide their nakedness which Adam and Eve knew God could see. ut God made them coats of skins and clothed them. It took eath and shed blood to get proper clothing to cover Adam and ve.

Evenso, we today cannot clothe ourselves in our own good works, rby anything that will make us ure and holy enough to come to God's presence where no sin an come. We cannot be saved om sin and death even by our knowledge of the written word. e can have eternal life only in Jesus Christ.

For Jesus is the clothing God has made for you and for me. The only clothing that can cover our sin, for Jesus' death and shed blood paid the required price of our sin. And through our acceptance of this, of Him as our personal Savior, we are redeemed from Satan, from sin and death, into an abundant life of joy, peace, light, beauty and eternal love.

Jesus' robe of righteousness is available to all who will believe in Him, and He will raise up His own in the last day to be with Him forevermore. And Jesus said, in St. John 12:8: "And I say unto you, whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of Man also confess before the angels of God."

How about you—Do you in your words and deeds confess Jesus now? Do you want a friend like Jesus? Remember, He is seeking and loving you.

Whatever you get, get in-sight.—(Prov. 4:7).

With our every breath we make a decision. Every breath affirms life. Decisions are so much an integral part of us that we hardly recognize the fact that we are making them. With God's help we can build good judgment from within. We by prayerful thoughts, establish a pattern of procedure from which we are motivated. This becomes the truth about us, and we find we are alight with the light of Christ.

DPS ISSUES WARNING

Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said today the DPS Statistical Services Bureau estimates that 34 persons will be fatally injured in traffic accidents in Texas during the 78-hour July 4 holiday period.

The holiday period is considered to run from 6 p. m. Thursday, July 3, to midnight Sunday, July 6. During this time, the Department of Public Safety will activate a special "Operation Motorcycle" and will place all available uniformed patrolmen on duty to enforce traffic laws in an effort to reduce accidents and assist motorists.

REPORTS FROM AUSTIN

Governor Preston Smith has signed and sent to Washington the State's Comprehensive Law Enforcement Plan, meeting the June 1 deadline for fund approval.

"This massive plan is the most extensive effort we have ever made in this State to try to pin down and stamp out crime in every rotten phase—improving police, courts, corrections, rehabilitation and preventing juvenile delinquency," said Governor Smith.

The U. S. Department of Justice is expected to approve nearly $1.1 million in funds to begin implementing the plan by about June 15.

The DPS director also warned that the department will vigorously enforce state laws relating to driving while intoxicated. "Drinking drivers are involved in 40 to 50 per cent of the fatal rural traffic accidents in Texas, and I urge all drivers to avoid the use of alcohol prior to operating a motor vehicle," Speir said.

Gadgetry Galore

Some of the bizarre items that will be standard home equipment in the future will include an automatic sifter and measuring machine, a dishwasher for everyday disposable tableware and an ultrasonic blender that uses sound waves instead of choppers. A kitchen computer will adjust recipes, balance the budget and record family appointments.

Do-it-yourself dry cleaning machines are a few years away. Future clean-up details will be left to a robot who will scrub and polish a kitchen floor according to a predetermined path "he" has learned.

Until that dream world comes along, homemakers still have to face the day-to-day problems of kitchen cleanup. One of the most efficient cleaning aids around today is Handi-Wipes, the all-purpose reusable cloth that tackles all sorts of cleaning chores from a greasy stove to polishing glassware to wiping spills. It's today's all-around cleaning gadget that will serve—until the robots become a reality!

Best of thoughts most always start
From the region of the heart
That's the place where we acquire
Thoughts that prove our hearts desire.
Evil thoughts won't stay around
Where the best of thoughts are found,
So when searching for the best,
Take a look within your breast.
