Special Programs Set On Memorial Day Here

Special Memorial Day programs are scheduled for Monday morning at the City Park and Cemetery, under the sponsorship of the Friona American Legion Post 206, the American Legion Auxiliary. The day's activities begin at 7 a.m. at the City Park, with the Memorial Day message by Rev. Bill Burton, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Capping the ceremony at the park will be the placing of the wreath at the memorial marker by this year's Gold Star Mother.

C. J. Horton of the Sixth Street Church of Christ will give the invocation and Rev. Russell McNally of the Methodist Church will give the benediction.

After the program shifts locations to the cemetery, Rev. Paul Mohr, pastor of the Congregational Church, will present the Memorial Day prayer, followed by a "roll call" of the deceased veterans, by Bill Flippin, decoration of the veterans' graves, a salute to the deceased by a firing squad, and taps, played by Mac Hancock.

MAGIC MOMENT . . . Frieda Floyd receives her diploma and congratulations from former school board president D.C. Herring at commencement exercises for Friona seniors Monday. Herring retired from the board this year after 12 years of service. In the background is Superintendent of Schools Alton Farr.

Jimmy Hamilton Tops Subscription Contest

Jimmy Hamilton, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hamilton, jumped into an early lead in the Friona Star's subscription contest, after the first week's tabulation of scores. Young Hamilton got right to work, and sold 30 subscriptions in a three-day period, and already has enough points to purchase the Kodak Instamatic camera. Jimmy had 21750 points at 5 p.m. Monday.

La Donna Murphy, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Murphy was in second place with 9,800 points. Third place was being held down by Bill Bailey, 12-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. B.H. Bailey, with 8,400 points.

Contestants are working for a choice of three grand prizes.

Leading contestant at the close of the contest will receive either a nine-inch transistorized portable television set from Western Auto, a five-speaker stereo set from White's Auto or a free trip to Six Flags Over Texas, including hotel reservations and $50 expense money, from the Friona Star.

"There is still plenty of time for boys and girls 16 years of age or under to enter our contest. Anyone could still be the grand-prize winner. By combining the right point totals on subscriptions, a big total can be amassed in a short time," said Bill Ellis, editor of the Star and contest director.

The "junior salesmen" have been authorized to offer special rates on two and three-year subscriptions, which gain more points for the salesman. In addition, those subscribing will receive a free month with each year's subscription.

Youngsters receive points for each new or renewal subscription they sell. These points may be used to "buy" prizes, listed in an advertisement in this week's issue. At the conclusion of the contest, the grand prize winner gets his choice of the top prizes, and all other contestants will purchase prizes with their points. The first week's winner said he worked Saturday, Monday "and a little bit Sunday afternoon" in selling his 30 subscriptions.

Bill Bailey, the third-place contestant, did not start until Monday morning, and rolled up all of his points in the one day. Names and phone numbers of the top contestants are listed on this page, so that anyone wishing to help a particular contestant may do so by calling them up.

FOR ADVANCEMENT

Owen Leaving As Farm Bureau Agent

Joe Owen, Farm Bureau Service agent for Parmar County the past two years, has resigned his position effective June 15, to accept a similar position in Bexar County (San Antonio).

Owen, who replaced longtime Farm Bureau agent Raymond Euler two years ago, stated that it was with regret that he plans to leave Parmar County, but that the opportunity at San Antonio represented a chance for advancement that he could not pass up.

Meantime Owen's replacement in the Friona office has been named as Bill Carmack,

1965 Totals Led State And Nation

Parmar County again led the state and nation in grain sorghum production for 1965, according to final figures released this week by the Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

The county has led, or been near the lead, the state's grain producing counties for the past several years. The 1965 crop was no exception. In fact, Parmar County won the race easily over second-place Hale County, which usually makes it tight, and has edged Parmar County for the title a time or two in the past ten years.

Parmar's 1965 maize crop totaled 18,683,500 bushels, one of its best crops ever. Hale County's second-place figure was 15,709,000 bushels. It was just the second time in seven years that Parmar County's crop topped the 18-million bushel total, mainly because of acreage cuts.

The county's total was up 12.8 per cent over the 1964 crop, which yielded 16,287,000 bushels, also ranking first in the state and nation.

Parmar County produced roughly 15 per cent of all the grain sorghum grown in Texas during 1965. A 22-county area on the High Plains produces about 70 per cent of the state's total, and a 13-county group including Parmar grows 21 per cent of the state's and 12 per cent of the nation's sorghum.

Neighboring Castro County ranked third in the state with a production in 1965 of 13,295,000 bushels of grain sorghum. Deaf Smith was fifth with 11,835,000. Swisher County was sixth and Lamb was seventh.

Texas, the number one grain sorghum producing state, had a production of 285,740,000 bushels in 1965 which was 43 per cent of the total grain sorghum produced in the nation. All Panhandle Counties had increased grain sorghum production in 1965.

The 1965 grain sorghum crop was the largest ever in Texas and the Nation. National production was 666,062,000 bushels, 35 per cent above last year and 21 per cent above the five-year average.

The Coastal Bend area around Corpus Christi also registered increases in grain sorghum production. Nueces County moved up to 4th place producer in the State with 12,784,000 bushels. Even in the heart of the traditional cotton area of the South Plains, grain sorghum showed gains. Lubbock County itself leaped from 4,715,000 bushels in 1964 to 6,104,000 bushels in 1965.

It is expected that the increasing grain sorghum production trend will continue this year, particularly in the North Plains, Coastal Bend and South Plains.

Along with these productions increases, utilization of grain sorghum has steadily increased at home and abroad through intensive promotion program by Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

When such programs were started in 1956, livestock use of sorghum was 179 million bushels, now it is 479 million.

Statements Mailed, Promptness Urged

Annual dues statements were being mailed by the Friona Chamber of Commerce this week.

At the regular meeting of the Chamber last week, it was brought up that the Chamber of Commerce has a prospect who has visited with directors about the job of Chamber of Commerce manager.

Directors voiced hope, then, that there would be a good response to dues statements, so as to build up the general fund in case a manager could be hired.

Recent expenditures have lowered the chamber's working fund, and all who receive statements are urged to send their dues back to the Chamber by return mail.

A good response by Chamber of Commerce members will be an important factor in the organization's movement to find a manager.

NO PONY LOOP

Only Two Leagues For Summer Ball

Friona's Summer Baseball program will get underway next Monday on a trimmed-down basis from former years. There will not be a Pony League program this year, due to lack of interest.

Only 19 boys had signed up for the Pony League, barely enough for two teams. Last year, there were over 60 boys, on four local teams. Meantime, there is one less Intermediate League team (five) than last year, and one more Pee Wee League outfit, also five.

A five week schedule has been arranged for the two leagues which will operate, enabling each team to play all others in the league twice each.

"It is regrettable that we were unable to have a Pony league this year. We especially hate it for the sake of the 19 kids who signed up. However, we were at a loss as to what to do under the circumstances," stated Bill Wooley, chairman of the Summer Baseball Committee.

Eight of the ten teams will see action in next Monday and Tuesday's opening games. J. Kevin Howell, Weldon Peace, D.J. Gas Service meets Brookfield Drilling in an Intermediate League game Monday, with the B.J. Bees playing Monsanto in the Pee-Wee League.

Friona State Bank and Friona Star - Hurst Department Store meets in Tuesday's Intermediate League game, and Ethridge-Spring tumbles with Country Club Gln in the Pee-Wees.

The other two teams, idle the first dates, Reeve Chevrolet of the Intermediate League and Nunn Lumber Company of the Pee Wee Loop will see action for the first time on Friday of next week.

Names of the team members in the two leagues were released this week, as follows:

INTERMEDIATES
Star-Hurst: Jerry Mabry, Gary Phipps, Terry Mabry, Joe Dean Harnelsson, Jimmy Paul Hamilton, Conrad Renner, Rodney Murphy, Donnie Meason and Mike Martin.

Friona State Bank: Oberlin DeLeon, Jaime DeLeon, James Weatherly, Bill Carrothers, Kevin Howell, Weldon Peace, Bill Bailey, Rex Minchew and Randy Campbell.

Reeve Chevrolet: Bobby Drake, Johnny Hoover, Douglas Clayton, Johnny Mabry, Sammy Vera, Wesley Clark, Tommy Long, Mike Taylor and Richard Shirley.

J.D.'s Gas Service: Randy Terry, Job Garcia, Larry Fallwell, Don Fortenberry, Danny Vera, Carroll Cook, Troy White, James Sims, Gilbert Chapa, Jr., and Lewis Ray Lee. Brookfield Drilling: Gilbert

Stores Plan Closing Date

Most Friona businesses, it appears, will lock their doors in observance of Memorial Day.

Those who told the Star that they will close include Nunn Lumber Co., White's Auto, Friona State Bank, Ethridge - Spring Agency, Southwestern Public Service, Friona Consumers, Rockwell Brothers Lumber Co., Western Auto.

Also planning to close are Johnson's Grocery, White's Super Market, Moore's Super Market and Houser's Grocery.

Friona's City Office also will be closed, as will the post office.

Local Teams Win Contests

In competition at the district convention of Volunteer Fire Departments in Plainview Saturday the men's pumper team placed first, the men's water polo team placed third and the women's polo team placed first.

Members of the women's polo team were Mrs. J.C. Blankenship and Mrs. Ralph Shirley. Husbands of the two team members made up the men's polo team.

Ralph Shirley, Lee Campbell, Ruben Taylor, Glenn E. Reeve Jr., J.C. Blankenship and Joe Mann were members of the men's pumper team.

Test Alert Set For Friday

Friona's city weather alert system will be tested Friday afternoon, according to Fire Chief Ralph Shirley. The alert signal consists of four thirty-second blasts. The "all clear" signal, consisting of short beeps, will also be given at the end of the test period.

Time for the "dummy" weather alert will be about 6:30 p.m. tomorrow, Chief Shirley states. In the event that there are cloudy conditions, the "dummy" alert will be postponed to a time to be announced later.

GETTING ACQUAINTED . . . Joe Owen, left, goes over some items of business with Bill Carmack, who is to replace Owen as county service agent for Farm Bureau. Owen is moving to San Antonio.

The announcement this week of the beginning of "push-button" or "touch tone" telephones in Hereford this week heralds a new era in telephone communications.

Allan Waldrop, manager of the Littlefield District of General Telephone Company, was talking about some of the things which people can look forward to in regard to telephones at the last Lions Club meeting.

The new "keyboard" telephone system was just one of the innovations which telephone users can expect in the near future, Waldrop asserted.

"When you stop to realize that 90 per cent of the scientists who ever lived are living today, you can see that we are in for some startling and unbelievable changes for our world in the future," Waldrop said.

General Telephone Company is shooting for 100 per cent coverage for Direct Distance Dialing (DDD) by 1970, the company representative told the Lions.

Waldrop discussed the phenomenon called electronic switching, which is currently being experimented with. "You can just use your imagination and think of things you'd like to see happen with telephones, and you might be surprised to learn it has already been considered," he said.

Some of the things which may eventually be brought about by "electronic switching" include these possibilities:

--When you call a number and get a busy signal, you just have to hang up the telephone, and you "lock on" to the other number. When that party hangs up, your phone and his ring, and you are saved calling him back.

--You will be able to dial a code into your telephone to prohibit the use of the phone for Direct Distance Dialing. This will be of particular interest to businesses with pay telephones, etc.

--If you plan to be out of the office, you can dial a code into your phone which will switch you calls to a telephone where you will be, so that your calls will "follow you around."

--Shopping will be done by "picture phones", which will be in prominence. A shopper can call a downtown store, find the item he wants by means of the picture phone, and in all probability will merely call the bank to deduct the amount necessary to pay for the item. The money will just be transferred from the shopper's account to the store's, through use of other electronic codes, which will have eliminated check-writing for the most part.

If all this sounds fantastic, Waldrop reminds that already, colleges are using what is termed "blackboard by wire," in which professors teach classes miles away by the use of television screens and telephone wires.

This allows a professor to reach more students than he could ever hope to otherwise, since he could not drive to several other campuses. This type of instruction has even been used by instructors across the nation from their students.

Other innovations which may come into being include such things as using a telephone which is in your car to dial back home, 250 miles away, to make sure that the front door was securely locked while you were away on the trip. If it is not, special signals sent by your car telephone will automatically lock the door, while you speed on to your destination.

Also, businessmen will carry small "pocket phones". If they are about to be late for an appointment, they may call the friend, who will also have a pocket phone, and advise him of the delay.

"Just use your imagination. Things which are among our wildest dreams today may come into being during our lifetime," Waldrop said.

Waldrop discussed briefly an item which has interested citizens of both Friona and Bovina, (Continued on Page 3)

WHAT TO DO DURING A TORNADO!

■ THE ROAR is deafening. It sounds like hundreds of airplanes flying overhead at once. You look into the sky and what you see scares you as much as if there really were hundreds of planes—enemy planes—above you.

A dark funnel cloud is sweeping along between 25 and 40 miles an hour, bursting buildings, scooping up trees and hurling autos about like toys.

This is a tornado. But if you use your head, you have a good chance of escaping unharmed.

Each year about 200 tornadoes rip across sections of the United States killing more than 200 persons. In the last 50 years every state, including Alaska and Hawaii, has been struck by destructive funnel clouds.

Few twisters occur west of the Rocky Mountains, but Iowa, Kansas, Mississippi, Texas, and Oklahoma have more than a fair share.

Weathermen can't pinpoint where a tornado will occur, but they can and do issue warnings of possible tornadoes, sometimes hours in advance.

Even if you don't hear about a tornado warning, these twisters have certain "habits" that indicate when and where to watch for them. For one thing, most tornadoes occur between 3 and 6 p. m. For another, they usually accompany thunderstorms, especially hailstorms. And invariably, they travel from the southwest to the northeast.

If you are inside your home when a tornado occurs, open all windows and doors and shut off water, gas and electricity, if you have time. Then seek shelter under a heavy table or other furniture in the basement against the southwest corner walls. If you have no basement, lie on the first floor against an inner wall.

If you are in your car, you might be able to outrun a twister. Since winds on the left side of a tornado generally are not as strong as those on the right, drive toward the left of the tornado at right angles with the tornado.

If you can't outrun it, seek shelter in a nearby building or lie flat in a ditch if you have to. Don't remain in a car which can be picked up and crushed.

If you have a choice of shelters, select the bottom floor of a steel framed or reinforced concrete building. Large open structures such as churches and halls, won't provide much protection. Of course, a storm cellar, cave or some other underground excavation, offers the best protection.

The path of a tornado usually is relatively small, about 10 to 40 miles long and only 300 to 400 feet wide. So, if you act immediately and sensibly, you may be able to save yourself.

Summer Reading Club Members Travel Everywhere.

Library Plans Big Summer

With many more books and doubled library hours a fun summer of reading seems assured. That was the report this week from the Friona Public Library.

Almost 700 books are owned by Friona Public Library than at this time last year. About 100 new children's books were bought with money given to the library by local clubs and organizations. In addition 593 books for all ages were donated during the year.

The Texas State Library recently left 201 more books on permanent loan to the local library. This brings to 301 the number on permanent loan meaning these books will not have to be replaced as long as they are in the Friona Public Library.

The Bookmobile is making a summer loan of 100 easy books and 50 juvenile fiction and non-fiction books.

Girl Scout Troop 268 donated 21 books to Friona Public Library recently. Troop leaders are Mrs. C.L. Vestal and Mrs. Louis Welch. Included for readers' pleasure are "Cherry Ames, Student Nurse," Dorothy Canfield's, "Understood Betsy," and "The Riddle of the Lonely House."

Beginning June 2nd books may be checked out each Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Registration for the Summer Reading Club begins Thursday, June 2nd. Students may register at the library any Tuesday, Thursday or Saturday thru July 20th. Any Summer Reading Club member who reads 12 books between June 2nd and August 20th will earn a reading certificate.

Friona Public Library, corner of 9th and Pierce, in the Federated Club House, north of Friona Methodist Church.

Phipps Elected Club President

Dwayne Phipps, son of Mr. and Mrs. C.M. Phipps, and a junior at West Texas State University, Canyon, was recently elected president of Block and Bridle, national animal husbandry society, for the coming school year.

Phipps is a 1963 graduate of Friona High School and attended Panhandle A&M at Goodwell, Oklahoma one year before transferring to West Texas. He is an animal husbandry major.

Ethridge At State Meeting

Dan Ethridge of Friona is among over 800 who have already registered for the 68th annual convention of the Texas Association of Insurance Agents to be held in Austin, May 25-27. Ethridge will represent the Ethridge-Spring Agency at the meeting which is expected to attract over 1,100 persons.

Ethridge is Regional Chairman for District 7 of the Association, covering a 26 county north plains area.

The association is one of the oldest and largest trade associations in the state.

Phillip Varner of Friona was recently promoted to the rank of petty officer in the U.S. Navy. Varner is aboard the USS Oxford, which was in Bangkok, Thailand recently.

This is when you need an insurance agent on your side

If Lady Luck threw a monkey wrench into your plans like this, could you count on your insurance man to go right to work for you? You could, if he's an independent insurance agent. An independent agent is on your side when you need him most. He can serve you first because he's free to pick and choose among several fine insurance companies. He owes allegiance to no one company. To be sure you have an insurance man who represents your interests first, make sure he displays this Big "I" seal.

As independent agents, we're ready to give you continuing, personal attention—The Big Difference in car, home, and business insurance. Let us prove what service beyond the call of duty can mean to you.

Guest Shows Baptist Laymen Meet Handcrafts

Mrs. Ralph Wilson, a long time worker with Girl Scouts, was guest speaker at the Monday evening meeting of Rhea Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. Shirley Smith. She illustrated her talk with samples of hand work simple enough for young girls or boys to do.

Other guests were Mrs. Carl Schlenker, Mrs. Mabelle Hartwell, Mrs. Smith, mother-in-law of the hostess who is a guest in the Smith home.

Members attending were Mesdames Jim Parson, Cordie Potts, Herbert Schueler, Larry Moyer, Walter Schueler, Franklin Bauer, Floyd Schlenker, Norman Taylor and Elmo Dean.

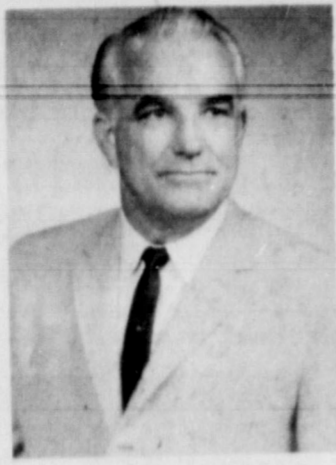

A laymen-revival is underway at the First Baptist Church in Friona. The special series of meetings began with the Wednesday night service, Raymond King of Lubbock, a layman from that city, will speak tonight, and Saturday and Sunday.

On Friday night, Mark and Bill Davis of Amarillo, well-known businessmen from Amarillo, will present their testimonies as King fulfills a prior commitment.

Services are at 8 p.m. nightly, with preaching hour at the regular times for both Sunday services.

The First Baptist Church has had the emphasis on men during the month of May, and the last in a series of Sunday morning breakfasts will be held Sunday at 8 a.m. All men are invited to attend the prayer breakfast.

All men of the church have been meeting together for the Sunday School lesson during

R. RAYMOND KING

May, taught by Pastor Rev. Bill Burton.

The public is invited to attend the services this weekend, and hear some dynamic laymen give their testimonies. Men from the church will fill the choir each night and help with the special music.

that of connecting the two communities under an "Extended Area Service" arrangement, which will allow dialing between the two communities without going the long distance route.

If the two towns are interested, and ask for it, an estimate can be prepared of the additional cost of such a service to telephone patrons in the two towns.

General Telephone Company would not attempt to profit from such a program, but would have to adjust rates to compensate for the long distance business it would lose, along with the equipment which would be added.

While this service is hardly as "miraculous" as others which the telephone company official discussed, it is one we would like to see come into being. It would be a major convenience to telephone users in both communities, we believe.

Girl Scouts Take Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Welch, Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Vestal Jr., Mr. and Mrs. David T. McVey and Dr. and Mrs. Paul Spring accompanied a group of Girl Scouts on a vacation trip to the Welch cabin in the mountains of northern New Mexico.

The group left Friona about 6:30 a.m. Tuesday and will return Friday. Sack lunches were taken for the noon meal.

Girl Scouts on the trip are Gloria Brown, Cindy Campbell, Deborah Clausen, Denise Cudd, Jonnye Cudd, Regina Duke, Susan Floyd, Jayn Massie, Patsy McVey, Linda Perkins, Amy Renner, and Sandy Reznik.

Also Nancy Scales, Esther Smith, Ann Spears, Susie Spring, and Gay Welch.

Others making the trip are Linda and Zane McVey, Lynn Welch and Burk Vestal. Mrs. Welch and Mrs. Vestal are leaders of the troop. This is the final meeting of the group until fall.

Grain Crop . . .

Exports in the same period have moved from 22 million bushels to over 200 million in 1965. The other major uses of grain sorghum, commercial and industrial, now promises to double with the opening of the new wet milling plant to be built at Dimmitt.

Friona

with June Floyd

Graduation exercises have had top rating in most every section of the country for the past few days. In addition to having eighth grade graduation and high school graduation locally, most of us have been interested in college graduations, too.

Conflicting schedules have caused a great deal of concern for at least two Friona families. At the Nelson Welch home it was difficult to decide which service to attend. Mikie, the oldest daughter was graduating from Abilene Christian College the same evening Monte Sue, the youngest daughter, was graduated from Friona High School.

After much deliberation it was decided that Nelson should attend Mikie's graduation and Lorraine should stay here for Monte Sue's.

The Reeve family didn't have a definite conflict, but time was a very important element. Floyd, oldest one of the children of Mrs. Fay Reeve, graduated from West Texas University, Canyon, Sunday evening and Sharon, oldest daughter, graduated from McMurry University, Abilene, the following morning at 10. Think all of the family was able to be present at each service. The Monday graduating at McMurry was of special interest to another local family and attending it and getting to Friona in time for high school commencement the same evening presented quite a problem to Mr. and Mrs. E.H. Bradshaw and Mr. and Mrs. Wes Long.

Eddie, son of the Bradshaws, and brother of Mrs. Long, was a member of the graduating class at McMurry and Eldon, son of the Longs, was a member of Friona High School graduating class.

The last reports I had indicated everyone had schedules worked out and would be present at the ceremonies they especially wanted to attend unless some obstacle presented itself.

It was good to see Steve and Mary Bavousett of Dawn at commencement exercises here Monday evening. They are former Frionans and Mary was the second grade teacher off-tween of the class members.

The Dewayne Neels of Plainview have had clever and unusual birth announcements for each of their three children. The newest addition, a girl, was announced on a pink card bearing Old Mother Hubbard's Shoe. The head caption read "Someone New In The Neel's Shoe." Vital statistics were neatly arranged on a stairway leading to the door.

Although there was no place for such a statement, I'm sure Dewayne and Melba were pleased to have the announcements made on pink cards. Most of us agree that boys, Michael and Greg, needed a baby sister.

School age people who thought they would be idle for a few months following the close of school probably looked forward to sleeping late, having a leisurely breakfast, then spending the day doing nothing. Maybe some of them did these very things Monday, but Tuesday things took a different turn.

A large number of the Girl Scouts arose early Tuesday morning for trips to various places. Real soon boys will be having to get up to practice for Little League. At least one group began practicing before 9 a.m. Tuesday.

As I came in to work this morning there must have been at least one dozen boys and girls at bat and on bases just west of the Clarence Martin home. This isn't of course, an organized team, but they were polishing up their skills just the same.

Have you seen a pair of pheasants recently? If not, you should drive west of town on Farm to Market Road 1731 about 6:30 or 7:00 p.m. just about any day in the week.

One pair in the neighborhood of the road that turns north toward John L. Ray's and Claude Osborn's have become real friendly and can be observed almost any afternoon catching bugs or picking up bits of grain beside the highway.

Members of Friona's Volunteer Fire Department Auxiliary came home from the district convention at Plainview Saturday with disappointed looks on their faces. It seems these six women had practiced long and hard for the pumper contest and then didn't get to compete.

There was no competition, so no contest. To look is one thing. To see what we look at is another. To understand what we see is a third. To learn from what we understand is something else. But to act on what we learn is all that really counts.

DISCUSSING GRAIN . . . Bill Nelson, left, of Grain Sorghum Producers Assn., A.H. Thorley, grain representative from England and D.C. McWhirter of Black Grain Co. discuss an aspect of our local grain industry during a stop Monday of a group of Englishmen interested in our grain industry. The group also stopped at Friona Feed Yards.

English Farm Group Makes Stops Locally

Thirty two British agriculturists came through Parmer County Monday, a four day study of High Plains agriculture as guests of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

The farmers, ranging from a Lord farming a large acreage to a small landholder and several of their wives, are all feed grain customers of the A.H. Thorley & Son Ltd. Cooper Street, Hanley, Stoke - on - Trent.

They are on a nationwide tour of American scenic and agricultural areas. Their request to GSPA was to arrange an itinerary which would give them an opportunity to learn about grain sorghum utilization and livestock feeding in this area while stopping by to see the Palo Duro Canyon.

The Canyon and its unique geological formations enjoys a favorable reputation in England as a result of reports of other visitors who have been in the area. Bill Nelson, Executive Vice President of GSPA, indicated that England is one of the largest customers for U.S. grain sorghum and that it has been regularly utilized in feed mixes distributed by the Thorley firm. He said that it is felt that this scientific and cultural exchange will strengthen the position and market for greater sales of U.S. sorghum.

The itinerary for the group while in the area was the Amarillo Livestock Company, irrigation farms for grain sorghum, cotton, vegetables, and sugar beets in the Hereford area, Black Grain Co., the Friona Feed Yards, and a study of area agricultural credit at the Farwell State Bank all on Monday. Tuesdays, visits were made to the Swift Company and Lucerne milk plants in Clovis and a briefing on agricultural research at the High Plains Research Foundation where a Western style barbecue was served. Wednesday, the group was to visit Palo Duro Canyon and an area ranch.

On The Farm In Parmer County

By JOE VANZANDT
County Agent

We have been seeing and hearing of a few problems in our wheat crop lately. Ever since the hard freeze several weeks ago, people have been asking me about freeze damage. Previously, freeze damage had not shown up until lately.

In the past week or two a few white heads or the top part of some scattered heads has shown up. Also, a few scattered stalks are falling down after bending over in usually the second joint area. The freeze apparently damaged the cell structure in the area where these stalks are bending over. I'm afraid that more of this type of damage may continue to show up.

We're also beginning to see a little foot-rot also show up. As harvest nears more foot-rot may continue to show up. Near maturity, one or more tillers or entire plants are killed and appear as white heads throughout the field. Affected plants may occur singly in small circular spots, or in large areas in the field. These white heads could be confused with freeze damage already mentioned. However, with foot-rot the base of each stem has a dark, rotted appearance as well as the roots. Dead plants can be easily pulled up while normal, healthy plants are hard to pull up.

If you suspect that you have foot-rot in your wheat, I encourage you to get in touch with me. I will be glad to inspect your field and determine for sure if you have foot-rot. You need to make plans to plant cotton or soybeans on foot-rot infected ground next year and keep it out of wheat production for as long as possible.

Another small problem beginning to show up in some awn trapping which is characteristic of wheat streak mosaic. The mosaic pattern on the leaves is not exactly characteristic of the streak mosaic, however, some of our specialists have said that they thought it was wheat streak mosaic.

Now then, we have discussed 4 different things that beginning to show in a few scattered wheat fields. These problems are all very minor at present when you consider our entire wheat crop and we don't believe any of these problems are serious enough yet to affect our wheat crop to any extent. Just be on the look out if you see any of these symptoms and feel free to give a call at Farwell, 481-3619, if you are in doubt about a particular problem.

CATTLE HEEL FLIES

Cattle running across the field with their tails held high in the air or standing in water are pretty good indications that heel flies are busy. The animals try to protect themselves in these ways from the egg-laying flies.

Heel flies, the adult stage of cattle grubs, neither sting or bite. Instead, they merely attach their eggs to the hairs on the legs and lower body parts of cattle. As the eggs hatch, the small maggots bore through the skin at the base of the hair, enter and migrate through the leg muscle, through the abdominal and chest cavities to the esophagus and neural canal for further maturation.

During the late summer and early fall, the larva move to the animal's backbone and each forms a pouch under the skin. After a few weeks, it cuts a breathing and emergence hole through the skin. A month or two later, the full grown grub emerges through the breathing hole and falls to the ground. It develops into a heel fly within a few weeks.

Heel flies can be effectively controlled only while they are in the animal's body. A number of methods and formulas are available to control them, including sprays, systemics, dips, and powders. We want to establish one or two demonstrations with a cattle owner to point out the effectiveness of grub control chemicals. If you would like to work with the County Agent on this kind of

New Manager At Panciera

Announcement was made this week that Charles (Chuck) Everitt, Jr. has purchased the stock of Dave Allen in Panciera Tire Company, making him the new co-owner and manager of the company.

Everitt comes to Friona via Amarillo, where he completed his military obligation, spending four years in the U.S. Air Force. Everitt had attended Louisiana State University prior to entering the Air Force, but became attached to the Panhandle, and finished his education at Amarillo College and West Texas State.

Everitt has been with Panciera Tire and Supply in Hereford the past two years. While in Hereford, he was secretary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and was a member of the First Christian Church.

It was at WTSU that Everitt met his wife, Mary Kaye. The two participated in Amarillo Little Theatre work. The Everitts have a son who is two and one-half. They look forward to moving to Friona as soon as housing arrangements are completed, and expect to become active in community activities.

Brush Control Is Big Problem

by The Soil Conservation Service

The major cash income of the rancher results from the sale of livestock, livestock products and possibly, from deer, antelope and other hunting permits. The basis for successful commercial ranch operations, however, is production and maintenance of an adequate supply of high quality forage for livestock - year-round.

This forage will be in the form of grass, browse and sometimes, supplemental feed crops. The rancher keeps livestock for the purpose of converting such plants into a marketable product. Does this mean that the rancher's main business is producing livestock feed? "I believe so," says Eddy Wilmon of the SCS.

Livestock operators are confronted with an ever-tightening cost-price squeeze between rising cost of production and what they receive for their products. The obvious first opportunity the rancher has to meet this trend is to reduce cost of production by producing more and better forage on his grasslands. Only in this way can his operations "grow larger within his own fences."

It is estimated that low value or worthless woody plants and cacti infest over 320 million acres of the Nation's privately owned grazing land exclusive of the Northeastern states. Texas has about 25 per cent of the Nation's brush problem. 82 per cent or 88,500,000 acres of Texas 107 million acres of grazing land, including rangeland, pasture and some non-commercial woodland, has a significant brush problem. Fifty-four million or 50 per cent are so densely covered and the grass so suppressed that little or no improvement can be expected without reduction of the brush competition.

Here in Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District Sand Sage brush is our major brush problem. D.D. Myrick and Owen Seamond are two ranchers that have decided to do something about their brush problems.

Myrick has tried to bring his Sand Sage under control by shredding it. However, if conditions are right this year, he plans to try chemical control. Owen Seamond is considering cross fencing his ranch dividing it into 640 acres pasture by pasture until the Sand Sage is brought under control.

Brush control as a part of grassland improvement must be carried out as a part of a coordinated, long-ranged plan which includes all the treatment needed to bring the productivity of grasslands and maintain their potential. Controlling undesirable woody plants that rob the operators of their soil and water resources is an essential first step.

Reinfestation from seeds and root sprouts usually requires additional control measures in from five to ten years. Good grass management following initial brush control will reduce the frequency of follow-up control measures. Without such management, brush control is not economically worthwhile.

The use of chemicals in controlling brush becomes a problem near cropland areas. The danger of drift from herbicides may imperil cotton or other field crops nearby unless timing, equipment, and material which minimize this danger are used.

The cost of control treatment in itself is a major factor to consider. At best it is an expensive operation that varies widely in cost and effectiveness. Generally, the cost ranges from a low of about $2 per acre upward.

Federal participating in the cost of this work on private land is through the Agricultural Conservation Program and the Great Plains Conservation Program of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The second step in range restoration is to improve the stand and productivity of the forage plants once the brush has been controlled. Some grasslands have enough of the desirable forage plant left to make needed improvement if the grass is given a chance. Most grass on brushland is in low vigor, the result of competing with the brush for sunlight, moisture, and soil nutrients. A rest period following brush control is essential. Other brushland may have so little grass remaining that reseeding of adapted grasses is necessary. Seedbed preparation and price of seed add to the cost. Reseeded areas must be rested for a growing season to permit new seedlings to become established. Deferring grazing following treatment is often the key to successful improvement. Treatment on many acres has been nullified because the grasses were not given a chance following brush control.

The basic need in bringing grassland back into high production is to improve or restore the plants that can produce high quality forage most efficiently under local conditions. Because of the dominance of brush on millions of acres, range restorations will have to consist of a four-point program - (1) control of un-

LAWN PROBLEMS & MORE PROBLEMS --

Not many people escape lawn problems, that is if they have a lawn. It is either the brown spots, crabgrass, or dandelions -- and even the pesky gophers add to our woes.

For those brown patches, specialist in this field, recommend that over stimulation with nitrogen be avoided as this increases the fungus disease that attack the lawns.

If your favorite shrub or tree seems to be dying, it could be a neglect of watering throughout the winter months -- this often happens especially if little moisture was present during the long winter season. Too often people assume that watering is not necessary during cool weather -- which is a mistaken idea.

Two new bulletins are available from the Extension office here in the Courthouse-one is "Better Lawns," and the other is called "Thumbs Down On Pocket Gophers", call or come by the office and get a copy. Several bulletins on lawn care are available and could help solve some of the lawn and tree problems if you don't yet know desirable brush, (2), re-establishment of the desirable plants by natural or artificial means, (3) control of sprouts and reinfestation with brush, and (4) management of the grass to maintain the grasslands in high productivity.

Because of a variety of conditions existing across the District, reinfestations, problems of erratic and ineffective control, and the need for restoring and managing the grass, the planning of successful brush control makes the job a highly technical one, for which ranchers should request qualified on-site technical assistance and guidance from the Soil Conservation Service working through your local Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District before applying expensive control measures.

the answers. AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION

If you store your woollens in a cedar chest, use an ounce of prevention in the form of moth crystals or mothballs - instead of relying wholly on the cedar trunk's aromatic fumes to ward off moths.

Although new cedar chests do give protection from moths, it is safer to treat woollens with a good mothproofing agent before they're stored.

This is especially important with older cedar chests. Tests show that red cedar loses some of its effectiveness against moths after 24 months, and white or South American cedar after 12 to 20 months.

Researchers also find that the tightness of a chest is an important part of the mothproofing. Cedar-lined closets also should be tight and woollens moth-proofed before storage.

Whenever you use a pesticide, remember to follow the instructions carefully and note the precautions on the label. DARK RINGS ARE HARMLESS IN HARD-COOKED EGGS

Do you ever wonder why eggs cooked at high temperatures for a long period of time may have a dark ring where their whites and yolks touch?

This is caused by a combination of sulphur in the white and iron in the yolk, which forms ferrous sulphide.

Although it may detract from the egg yolk's appearance, this darkening is entirely harmless.

The higher the cooking temperature and the longer the cooking time, the more darkening takes place.

By plunging the eggs into cold water immediately after cooking, the possibility of this darkening is reduced. This lowers the egg's temperature and helps prevent the formation of ferrous sulphide.

Immersing eggs quickly and holding them in cold water for a short time after cooking also makes eggs easier to peel.
