LET'S FACE IT, Ralph Nader is a troublemaker. Admittedly, he is a troublemaker for some who deserve some trouble, and his mouthings have brought some benefit to the little people who use the products he has aired complaints about. But also you get the impression that he has nothing else to do except run around hollering "foul"—and some of the results have been not so beneficial to the public.

So far I've never heard Nader make a statement in favor of anything. And in spite of his hangup on auto safety, the biggest factor in the traffic carnage today still is the driver. And there's no way you can make every driver operate his vehicle sensibly.

And it's doubtful that any amount of legislation can make people use seat belts, shoulder harness, crash helmets and suits of armor, either.

A BIOLOGIST who predicts that the population of the world will reach the absolute maximum the earth can maintain by the year 200 has a suggestion for possibly forestalling this calamity.

Dr. Barry Commoner of Boston suggested that Americans reduce their own standard of living and share the wealth with underdeveloped nations.

"History has shown that people stop having large numbers of children only when they gain a measure of security," he was quoted by the Associated Press.

He said the world can't support more than eight billion persons (the predicted total by the year 2000) because there's a limit to the food we can grow.

His suggestion has no chance of being heeded.

He also mentioned pollution, which is a galloping menace to the world, and which has begun to be a factor even in this part of the country.

He didn't say so, but there's a grim possibility that air and water pollution will be so bad it will kill off millions of persons and maybe lower the total number of people a bit.

Some have even suggested that one day the earth may have to be abandoned, if some planet capable of supporting earth life can be found.

A pretty far-fetched idea, admittedly, but the year 2000 is only 30 years away.

AID SOUGHT FOR KIDNEY PATIENT

(Editor's Note: This is a letter in part, to Rev. J. R. Manning, written by a Sudan student minister at Wayland College, Paul Gordon, and any help for this young man mentioned in the letter may be brought to the office of the Sudan Beacon News.)

... A very serious matter has been brought before us. Last semester we had a student here by the name of Larry Parks. Larry is 24, married and has two little children. Just before Christmas it was found that he has a very serious kidney disease...

What Larry needs in order to remain alive is a kidney machine and the machine costs $60,000. General Foods Corp. has such a machine, but has said in order for Larry to get the machine, they need 600,000 Betty Crocker coupons or Yes Stamps or SGH Green Stamps or money...

This is most urgent! Because Larry needs the machine as quickly as possible...

Time Out For Beauty

By Dorothy Gray

Cutting Out The Rough Stuff

The word "femininity" is synonymous with "softness" but too often a woman's appearance is spoiled by rough spots—scaly elbows, puckered knees, the back of the heel, coarse unclear facial skin. To cut out the rough stuff, a woman has four basic beauty weapons at her command—cleansing grains, loofah mitt, pumice stone, and cold cream.

Cleansing grains are tiny granules that combine friction with washing action. They scoop out clogged oils from the facial pores and are the best treatment for blemished, blackhead skin and the coarse and oily look many women are heir to.

A loofah mitt works on the same principle as the grains except the mitt is for rough areas on the body while grains are best for the face.

Loofah scrubbers are rough-textured friction sponges which clear away dead scaly skin while at the same time stimulate circulation and give an all-over invigorating feeling to the body. Scandinavians and Orientals have been loofah advocates for centuries.

The pumice stone is actually a piece of volcanic lava. This abrasive rock successfully removes hardened skin and callouses on hands, feet, heels and elbows. Use a pumice stone in the bath because it works best on water-softened skin and after the callouses are removed, routine use of this stone will prevent them from re-occurring.

After the rough stuff has been eliminated, a conditioning lotion can go to work to keep skin velvety smooth. Satura Algene Conditioning Hand and Body Lotion is a blending of moisturizers, lubricants and Irish Moss that all aid in combating aging and dryness. Used on legs, arms, and hands it actually helps restimulate the skin's own protein and keep natural moisture from evaporating. Satura Algene is absorbed by the skin within minutes and the effects are noticeable almost immediately.

STUDENTS NAMED TO REGIONAL BAND

Seven members of the Sudan Hornet Band attended Regional try-outs in Lubbock Saturday. Sharon Wilson was named as first chair for the horn section and Joan Harper won a place in the Clarinet section.

Others trying-out from Sudan were Jenine Pierce, Joyce Drake, Linda Lane, Brent Wiseman and Kevin May.

The Regional concert will be held on the Texas Tech campus Jan. 31 with the junior high bands beginning at 7 p. m. Sudan students will perform next as members of the Class B-A-AA band, to be followed by the class 3-A and 4-A band.

Band Director Tom Evins reported that 63 high school students are currently engaged in band. He also announced the band has several fund raising projects. Band students are attempting to raise some $1,700.00 to attend the Tri-State Music Festival which will be held in Enid, Okla. April 30-May 2. At the present time the students are selling Rex, a concentrated cleaner which sells for $2.00 per bottle. Other money raising feats on the agenda call for a car wash and the annual concert to be slated in February.

The Varsity teams go to Vega Friday night, Jan. 23. The Junior High teams are entered in the Springlake tournament which begins today.

Budget-Minded Lamb Stew

American Lamb Council Photo

The government price index may creep up by the penny, but somehow when these increases are translated into your family's food budget the creep seems more like a leap. For an economical budget-kind supper that's sure to please the family, try a lamb stew made with cabbage and cubed lamb shoulder or lamb neck slices. These are just two of the many inexpensive cuts of Winter Wonder lamb available at this time of year.

SCOTCH LAMB STEW
 (Makes 6 servings)

2½ pounds cubed lamb shoulder or 4 pounds lamb neck slices	2 medium onions, sliced
2 tablespoons salad oil	1 clove garlic, crushed
1 teaspoon salt	1 package (1¼ ounces) sour cream sauce mix
1 teaspoon nutmeg	1 can (10¼ ounces) condensed Scotch broth
½ teaspoon crushed thyme	1 medium head cabbage, cut in 6 wedges, cooked
1¼ cups water

Brown lamb in oil in Dutch oven over medium heat, stirring occasionally. Drain off excess fat. Add seasonings, water, onions and garlic. Stir well; cover and cook over low heat 50 to 60 minutes, or until tender. (Add additional water, if necessary.) In small bowl, blend sour cream sauce mix with Scotch broth; stir into lamb and cook over low heat 10 minutes longer.

Meanwhile, cook cabbage in boiling salted water just until tender. Drain; arrange in heated serving dish and pour lamb stew over top.

Devotional

By HAZEL HOUSE

Scripture: St. John 3:17; 14:23.
I love the Lord, because He first loved me—because I have become aware of His love for me. The greatest awareness, aliveness, that man will ever have is being aware of God's love for him.

In order to be God's child, it is only required that you love Him. For He said "If you love me, you will keep my commandments". And His commandments are to love God first above all and to love your neighbor as yourself. So, the only requirement to be God's child is to love Him. Then, as He promises, He will come and abide with those who love Him.

It is amazing that a God so great, powerful, so Almighty as to be able to create the universe and all there is in it, and then to continue to uphold and maintain it throughout the centuries—it is amazing that He searches out even one person and calls him or her to "Come, follow me". No wonder the Psalmist said "What is man that thou art mindful of Him".

It is amazing that this Great God, after creating man in His own image, that He would come down and take on the form, the flesh, of man that He might show man how much He loves him, and then to send back His Spirit to guide us as we start out to follow Him.

I love the Lord. I praise His name for His greatness, but most of all for making me aware, alive to His love for me. The joy of this awareness sustains me, as I seek to follow Him day by day. Do you know his sweetness, the delight, the peace of loving Him and knowing He loves you? If you once had this love, and have allowed it to grow cold, go back to where you began, and do your first works over again: Repent for allowing your love to grow cold and keep you far off from Him; ask His forgiveness and then accept it in being set free to be His own child in your rightful place. Then, thank Him and just love Him.

God wants you. Do you want Him?

Home Economics has many objectives for a person. Home Economics as defined by the dictionary is an art and science that deals with the management of a household. It is also an intricate part of the Future Homemakers of America.

The girls in Home Economics I have these plans for this year:

1. Develop satisfactory group membership;
2. Providing food for health and hospitality;
3. Simple entertainment;
4. Grooming;
5. Meeting clothing needs;
6. Making homes more livable;
7. Being friends with children, and
8. Learning the purposes of FHA, Creed, Motto, and other things.

Members of the Home Economics II class have these plans:

1. Providing food for the family;
2. Housing the family;
3. Child care—the infant;
4. Clothing and textiles;
5. Budgets, consumer purchasing, management;
6. Living with the family, and
7. Home care of the sick.

The girls of the Home Economics III class have these objectives:

1. Clothing construction;
2. Consumer buying for self and family;
3. Clothing the toddler and infant;
4. Foods and Nutrition;
5. Housing the family and home management, and
6. Plans for the future: family, homes, and insurance.

HIT & RUN DRIVER SOUGHT BY DPS

The Texas Department of Public Safety today issued a special public appeal for any kind of information which might lead to the apprehension of a hit-and-run driver whose car struck and killed a young highway patrolman on US 80 east of Weatherford, Parker County, at 2:43 a. m. Sunday, Dec. 7.

Patrolman Douglas Thompson, 26, married and the father of a five-year-old son, was killed by the hit-and-run car while standing at the side of the road interviewing a traffic violator. The car sped on at a high rate of speed after the impact without any sign of hesitation.

Specifically, the DPS is seeking information that might help locate the killer car which has been identified as a white, 1960 model Ford "Fairlane" or "Fairlane 500" four-door with damage to the front right side. The damage included the loss of the right front fender ornament, which was found at the scene, along with a 43-inch long chrome strip from the right front door. Also found at the scene were the first two letters—"Fa"—which had been knocked off the "Fairlane" emblem on the side of the right front fender.

Reason for the renewed appeal for assistance in locating this car, said Col. Wilson E. Speir, DPS Director, is the belief that several reported "leads" which didn't prove out may have led people to think the death car had been located.

"We again earnestly solicit the help of anyone who might recall having seen such a vehicle in the past four or five weeks on the road, or perhaps being repaired at a repair shop, backyard garage, or some seemingly inconspicuous place," Speir explained.

The DPS called upon any citizen who might have information he thinks would be helpful in this case to contact the nearest office of the Highway Patrol or Texas Rangers.

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated nine accidents on rural highways in Lamb County during the month of December, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in one person injured and an estimated property damage of $3,350.00.

The rural accident summary for this county during the calendar year of 1969 shows a total of 114 crashes resulting in three persons killed, 35 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $92,380.00.

What will the decade of the 1970's be traffic fatality wise in Texas? Here are some facts that could give you an idea. There were 25,000 persons killed in Texas traffic during the 1950's and 30,000 killed during the 1960's. If the past and present trend continues the 1970's will be another record decade.

The Sergeant reminded all motor vehicle owners that still have their inspection stickers on the lower right-hand side of their windshields that April 15 is the deadline for having the new stickers placed on the lower left-hand side of their windshields. Only about 16 percent of the registered vehicles in this county have been inspected.

AUTO INSURANCE RATES MAY INCREASE SOON

Texans may face another auto insurance rate increase unless traffic accidents in the state are reduced by 140,000 in 1970, a leading insurance industry spokesman said recently in Austin.

Expressing overall support for Gov. Preston Smith's traffic safety program, F. Darby Hammond, Executive Director of the Southwestern Insurance Information Service, said additional measures were needed to strengthen the Governor's plan and reduce the carnage on Texas highways. He said the present program was not extensive enough to achieve this purpose.

"We must face our total responsibility regarding the terrible human losses suffered on our roadways," Hammond said. "The direction of our auto insurance rates will be an accurate violators and by judges in taking a "harder line" toward traffic law violators.

Hammond noted that traffic accidents would have to be reduced by 140,000 in Texas to even begin thinking about holding the line on auto insurance rate increases. "It is quite unlikely the Governor's traffic safety program, as it now stands, would accomplish such a reduction," he said.

Is Church Losing Its Influence?

Police have been ordered to patrol all 46 of the junior high and senior high schools in Washington, D.C., since a 15-year-old-junior high student was killed in an accidental shooting. A year ago, an assistant principal was shot to death in a robbery at the school where he worked.

These incidents point up the increasing peril in our nation and illuminate the sad fact that juvenile delinquency has now matured into juvenile crime of really serious proportions.

Religion Losing Influence?

In 1967, the Gallup Poll showed that 14 percent of Americans believed that religion was "losing its influence on American life." By last year the 14 percent had risen to 70 percent.

Would a return to reading of the Bible help to stem the tide — or is it too late?

In England, a publishing house is putting on a massive advertising campaign to promote sales of its new edition of the Bible. Some of the advertisements have indeed attracted attention.

For example, one advertisement asked, "Who do you think Christ was? An old-fashioned Billy Graham? The first true Socialist? Or the Son of God?"

Has much of the unrest and violence in our nation been caused by down-grading the influence of the Word of God?

Remember, our public-school reading books, in an earlier generation, stressed the values taught by the Bible and students were instructed and trained to have a reverence for God and His Word. Are we proving true the statement, "They have sown the wind and they shall reap the whirlwind"?

A dramatic example of the power of the Bible was reported, some years ago, by Clarence W. Hall, who was a war correspondent with US Army troops in the Pacific Theater during World War II.

As the troops advanced across Okinawa in 1945, Hall relates, the advance party was met by two elders of the town of Shimabuku.

"Strangely enough," he relates, "they seemed to need the services of a chaplain." So Hall went in the jeep with the chaplain and met the two old men, who told the Americans that they would like to have a Bible and a picture of Jesus.

Power of the Bible

Thirty years before, a missionary had passed through Okinawa on his way to Japan. He was able to stay only a few days, but he did have time to talk with these two men, who were converted to Christ.

The missionary taught them two songs and left them a Bible. Hall reports that, while Okinawa was filled with communists which were "poverty-stricken, filthy, diseased, heathen," Shimabuku was "clean, neat, and progressive; the people friendly and polite."

What had made the difference? This is what Hall says, "Evidently the lone Bible and two songs—for Shosei and Mo-jun (the two elders) had led that village in building its entire life upon the Sacred Volume."

Why is it that we, the inheritors of a culture built on trust in God and reverence for His Word, neglect the reading of this Book?

What will be the consequences if we continue to ignore its teachings?

Do not overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good. —(Rom. 12:21).

Jesus emphasized that we should not resist evil. Not understanding the working of the law of good, some persons have thought: if we don't resist evil, we will be overcome by it. Instead of resisting evil we should focus our energies on our objective; and with the strength of mind, body and spirit that God has given us, we seek to bring about good to the best of our ability and understanding.

Voter Registration Deadline Nears

Residents of Lamb County are urged to register now to vote before the January 30 deadline. Many issues will be facing the general electorate during this year. First, many county offices will be decided in the May primaries and the general elections.

Also facing the voters this year, will be seven Constitutional Amendments in the November general election. One of the most controversial will be the liquor by the drink bill. To participate in these elections and to express your views, it is necessary to register to vote. This may be done at the Courthouse in Littlefield, or at the City Hall.

Sudan City Hall remains open from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m. six days per week.

Area Elevator Mishap Kills Two

Woody George, 55, was fatally injured in a grain elevator accident Tuesday afternoon when buried under one-half carload of milo at the Bruegel & Sons Elevator Company in north Dimmitt.

George was elevator superintendent. His assistant, 25-year-old Valentine Barrera, was also killed in the accident.

It was reported the two were working inside an elevator bin about 2:45 p. m., trying to clear an obstruction that was keeping the grain from going through the bin. The grain apparently broke loose and pulled the two men under about 5 or 6 feet of milo.

Attempts to rescue them by other employees failed. George's body was recovered at 4:25 p. m.

George is a cousin of Mrs. Roy Day of Sudan.

Services will be held today at 3:00 p. m. at the Church of Christ in Dimmitt with Harold McCullum officiating, assisted by Ronnie Parker, minister of the Bedford Street Church of Christ.

Burial will be in the Dimmitt Cemetery directed by Dennis Funeral Home of Dimmitt.

Survivors include his wife, Edith of the home; a son, Donald of Tacoma, Wash., two daughters, Mrs. Joyce Bishop of Crosbyton and Linda Liene of Dimmitt; his step-mother, Mrs. George Vice of Canyon; two brothers; a sister; and four grandchildren.

Is Hate All Right In Some Cases?

By DAVE LLEWELLYN

"Love your enemies." Biafrans and Nigerians, love each other. Arabs and Israelis, love each other. Czechoslovakians, love the Russians.

Blacks and WASP's, love each other. Students and Establishment, love each other. Protestants, love the Pope.

Who are your enemies? Don't worry about it. Love everyone you think might be an enemy. Preposterous, you think?

It is because such behavior is deemed "preposterous" by us that we also think preposterous the existence of a loving God. And why so many people think peace impossible.

Not Possible?

"Impractical? We were never meant to practice this," you think? Paul thought it was very practical.

To Christians who were being slaughtered by the Roman government, Paul taught that all believers are obligated to be subject to all governing authorities — and he introduced this by amplifying Jesus' teaching: "Never take your own revenge, beloved, but leave room for the wrath of God, for it is written, 'Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord.' But if your enemy is hungry, feed him, and if he is thirsty, give him a drink . . . Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good." (Romans 12:19-21)

Perhaps in the word "love" there is a loophole? After all, what could be more loving than to defeat an aggressor, in order to show him his error, and then to show him mercy?

There may be honest concern in that logic, but the teaching of Jesus will not allow it. That has to be classified as overcoming evil with good.

Other members attending were Eloese Curry, Mary Tollett, Anita Wallace.

ing evil with evil for the sake of good.

"But I say to you," Jesus teaches, "do not resist him who is evil; but whoever slaps you on your right cheek, turn to him the other also."

The slap on the cheek Jesus uses here for illustration may mean more an act of insult than one of aggression, but perhaps that is still more appropriate. Few of us in America often suffer open aggression: most of our enemies are results of real or imagined insult. A promotion we miss, a party we are not invited to, a time when we pass unacknowledged on the street, a misunderstanding we never patch up — things like these seem to create most of our "enemies."

Love Drives Out Hate

If we loved our enemies, we might discover we did not have so many enemies after all!

Yet Jesus' teaching cannot be limited to insults alone. His full command says: "But I say to you, love your enemies, and pray for those who persecute you; in order that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven; for He causes His sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sends rain on the righteous and the unrighteous."

Jesus means to love (and pray for) those who actively carry out their hatred for you, just as God the Father loves the descendants of those men who carried out their hatred of God to the point of crucifying His Son, Jesus Christ.

Christ taught "Love your enemies," knowing that His enemies would kill Him, and they did. Yet He forgave them and never rescinded His teaching.

"Love your enemies." Copyright Dave Llewellyn 1970

Now all your U.S. Savings Bonds pay higher interest.

Now it's official. Now one of the safest investments in the world brings you new and higher returns. Now your U.S. Savings Bonds pay the highest interest in history: a full 5 per cent when held to maturity of 5 years and 10 months. (4% the first year; 5.20% thereafter to maturity.) Previously, these Bonds earned you only 4 1/4% if you held them for seven years. The new interest began June 1, 1969. So all of the Bonds you own, no matter when you bought them, have been collecting higher interest since that time. Those Bonds are still replaced if lost, stolen or burned. You can still buy them through Payroll Savings or the Bond-a-Month plan. Regardless of your other investments, can you think of any easier, better, or safer way to build a nest egg for yourself? It's nice to know that you are doing a little something for Uncle Sam, too. The $52 billion in U.S. Savings Bonds now outstanding in the hands of millions of Americans go a long way toward keeping your country financially strong. There never was a better time to take stock in America. There's a man at the place where you work who can start you on the Payroll Savings Plan right now.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.
