BY DALTON

SOMEWHERE AROUND noon Saturday residents in this area should notice a partial eclipse of the sun. The big boys who know all about these things indicate it will be about a 70 per cent eclipse. If you live somewhere else, say like Charleston, S. C., the eclipse is supposed to be total.

I really don't know just how dark it would get if the eclipse were total; I've never seen a total eclipse. I saw a movie once (Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court) where Bing Crosby took advantage of an eclipse to fool the folks at the king's court. They couldn't tell day from night.

This reminds me of a story we used to tell in my college days. A sort of fable, it was, about Sir Runt, the gallant, but undersized knight who rode around the country on a large dog's back, slaying mice who frightened fair maidens. But I won't tell it here; it's too long. Still, if anyone is really curious, I'd be delighted to render a personal oration.

AS EVERYONE knows, the housing industry is in a slump in this part of the country, or more accurately, a depression. Very few homes are being built for the simple reason that only the well-to-do can afford them. Higher interest rates are, of course, a major factor, but certainly there are other things which price a house out of reach of most of us.

A story from San Francisco the other day listed a table from the Bank of America, showing a cost breakdown for a medium quality three-bedroom house to be built on the owner's lots in Northern California. The table was to show a comparison of construction costs for the same house, if built in 1964 and if built in 1969.

All the labor costs were up, as were all materials listed. Electric wiring, for example, would have cost $613 in 1964 and $1,100 in 1969.

Incomes have increased too, but not by that high a percentage in the last five years.

PostOffice Seeks Opinion

According to the latest information from the postal department, local Postmaster Ken Minyard, announced that all persons living over 1/4 mile from the postoffice, or 3 2/3 blocks, are eligible for home delivery of their mail.

However, Minyard, stated that this will be available only if fifty per cent of the persons eligible express a desire for home delivery. Therefore, it is most important that these persons make their wants known to the local post office personnel within the next 10 days.

A bulletin is posted in the lobby of the post office building listing the regulations and anyone needing more information concerning this manner is asked to inquire at the post office.

Again, Minyard stressed the importance of all eligible persons expressing their opinion on this matter because if less than 50 per cent of the families listed in this area do not demand the service, the matter will be dropped.

Apply Terraclor Super-X
the first time you plant
cotton.

Think for a minute what it costs to replant an acre of cotton that doesn't make a stand. There's the cost of seed, fertilizer, herbicides, insecticides, equipment, operators and the precious time. Multiply that by the number of acres you could lose to seed and seedling disease.

Now think about Terraclor Super-X Soil Fungicide. It could very well eliminate replanting. Here's why: Terraclor Super-X is a combination of two Olin discoveries that effectively control the fungi that cause cotton seedling disease.

How important is this to you? The regional Cotton Disease Council reports that losses average $60,000,000 a year to seedling diseases alone.

Terraclor Super-X is applied while you plant. Your cotton seed is surrounded by protection in the furrow, where it counts. As the seed germinates and the seedling emerges, the fungi that kill unprotected plants are held off by Terraclor Super-X. You get a healthy, vigorous stand from only one planting.

About seed treatments: They are great... as far as they go. But seed treatment protection lasts only until the seed coat opens and the seedling grows into untreated soil. That's when you need Terraclor Super-X in the furrow.

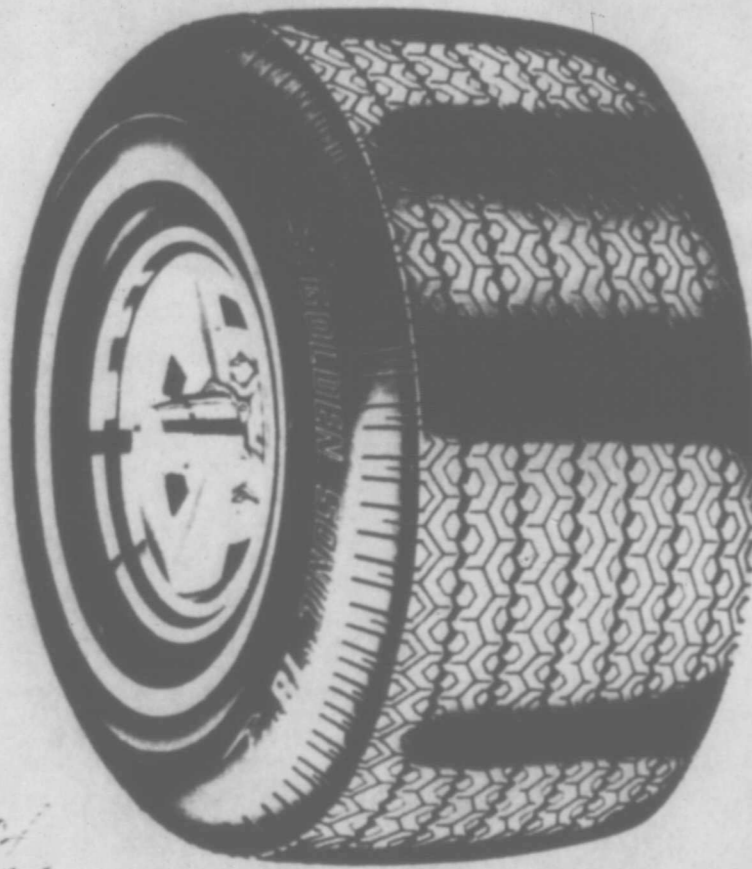

Terraclor Super-X is available from your Olin dealer in three formulations: granular, liquid and dust. A special formulation is available with a quality soil systemic insecticide impregnated in the granules for combination fungus and insect control.

If you don't know your local Olin dealer, write to Terraclor Super-X, P. O. Box 991, Little Rock, Ark. 72203 for his name.

You ought to get to know him. He can help you get a good stand from only one planting. That's one good reason he is known as the rare bird in the business.
