WOODWORK

BY DALTON

KNOTHOLES IN THE WOODWORK: I noticed a headline the other day reading "Group To Study Abroad." I always wanted to do that, but never could find a broad who would go along with the plan. Teacher asked an unruly student: "Don't you ever listen to the voice of conscience?" The reply: "I don't think so. What channel is it on?"... There was this Scotchman who wrote the newspaper, "If you don't stop writing about Scotchmen being so stingy, I'm going to stop borrowing your paper."

****
CHANGING TIMES reports that a job applicant came to the question "Do you advocate the overthrow of the government by subversion or violence?" and wrote in "Violence."

IN PAKISTAN, reports writer Don Oakley of Newspaper Enterprise Assn., they're singing a song of population control. Music is going to be employed in an attempt to calm Pakistan's spiraling population growth.

The poets of that nation have been invited to compose songs and lyrics extolling the virtues and benefits of birth control. Minstrels and street singers then will be hired to give the country's lagging family planning efforts a lyrical lift.

"It's only fitting," says Oakley. "From time immemorial songsters in every culture have rhapsodized about love, which has the well-known effect of leading to marriage and the raising of children... In Pakistan, at least, the time has come to pay the piper and to sing a different tune."

Maybe they should just play the top 10 songs in the United States over loudspeakers every day. After listening to the Buffalo Cornfields and the Onion Gap all day, everybody would hate everybody else. That ought to cut down on the numbers.

Besides, some of those songs say, "baby, baby, baby" over and over so much that possibly all the potential parents will be sick of babies at the end of each day.

GREG HUMPHREYS HAS SKIN GRAFTS

Greg Humphreys, who is still a patient at Shrine Burn Institute in Galveston, underwent the second skin grafting on his right arm Monday. His first skin grafting operation was on his face and chest, and the third skin grafting will be on his back, scheduled for April 6.

Greg's condition is reported "as well as can be expected". If things continue to go well, Greg will get to come home sometime in May.

March 24 will be his sixth birthday, and his address is: Greg Humphreys, Shrine Burn Institute, Room 13, 3rd Floor, Galveston, Texas 77550 Greg's grandparents and his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Dood Haragan, and James, are in Galveston to be with Greg and his parents. They plan to return home next week.

Hail Suppression Plans Outlined

Farmers and citizens of Lamb County voted Monday night to participate in the current Hail Suppression program with Hale County.

A group of approximately 100 persons attended the meeting. President H. L. Messamore presided and 32¢ per acre will be assessed for crop protection from May 15 until Oct. 15. Frank Lane, Edward Fisher, and Leroy Maxfield were appointed to represent the Sudan-Amherst area in collecting this money. Lamb County is tabbed for $68,000 for this year's project.

Messamore stressed the importance of time in this operation, as all proceeds must be in by April 1 in order to allow state license to be acquired and equipment readied by May 15. A California firm, Atmospheric, Inc. will do the cloud seeding, and guarantees 70 per cent protection from hail damage. Silver iodide pyrotechnics (rockets or flares) will be used. These flares cost $15 each and will last five to six minutes. Fifteen to seventeen minutes will be required to suppress a hail-filled cloud. It was also announced that a suppressed cloud can build back to its original intensity in 12-15 minutes, signifying the need for all the county to be covered by the program. Three twin-engine planes will be used to cover the Hale-Lamb county area.

Businessmen are being asked to contribute to this fund along with the farmers. Also city residents are asked to contribute $25.00 per house. However, farmers who pay on their farms but reside in town, will have their homes automatically covered.

The Lamb County Weather Improvement Association will meet Monday, March 23 at 7:30 p. m. in the District Courtroom at Littlefield when progress reports will be given and further organizational plans formed. All interested persons are urged to attend.

Board Sets Special Meeting

In a Monday night fact-finding meeting of the Sudan School Board, it was decided to call a special meeting for Monday, March 23, at the High School building for further discussion and action on existing school business. Among items to be considered will be insurance on school buildings, tax evaluations, tax rates, teacher salaries and teacher employment. Existing insurance on the school properties will be expiring within the next few weeks and it is being considered to rewrite the insurance into one policy for a three year period. At the present time some 19 policies are in force on the properties which expire at different times during the year.

A sharp decrease in the average daily attendance during this school year will cause the school to lose classroom teacher units. Salary raises passed by the recent legislature have created another problem for the local board. They find themselves faced with the problem of either curtailing the present program in our school or raising additional revenue, possibly by increasing tax rates.

This will be an open meeting and the public is invited to attend.

Band Concert Slated Here

The Hornet Stage Band will present a concert Tuesday, March 24, at 7:30 p. m. in the high school auditorium. The band will be playing the three numbers that they will present at the April contest in addition to a variety of other styles of music. A clarinet quartet will also be featured.

Following the concert a cake and pie auction will be held with proceeds from both events to go into the Enid Band Trip fund.

Admission for the concert will be $1.00 for adults and 50¢ for students. Members of the band will be selling advance tickets this week. All residents are urged to attend.

Mrs. Stehlik, and Mrs. Randall E. Scott, Sr. of Sudan.

Membership dues for the year 1970 are now due. Membership fee is $5.00 per year. Payments are to be made to the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Stehlik, Littlefield.

Three new members were welcomed by the society including Mrs. Stella Borden Griffin of Littlefield, Mrs. Darwin Reid, Sudan, and Mrs. C. T. Wood of Littlefield.

COTTON TALKS

PLAIN'S COTTON GROWERS, INC.

The drafting of a new government farm program in Washington is moving forward with all the alacrity of a crippled mail. Activity is great. Hundreds of farm representatives, congressional leaders and USDA officials are literally working day and night. But progress is small. At stake is the economic lives of the nation's cotton, wheat and feed grain farmers and the economic well being of millions in towns and cities who depend on them.

To get enacted into law a new farm program must (1) have producer support broad enough that producer-oriented leaders of the House and Senate Agriculture Committees will give their endorsement, (2) show enough promise of accomplishing Administration goals for ag-

LCC GROUP TO SING HERE

The Meistersinger Chorus of Lubbock Christian College, under the direction of Charles Cox, will present a program at the Church of Christ, March 29, 1970, at 6 p. m. in Sudan.

Lubbock Christian College is riculture that the Administration will give solid support and (3) be acceptable to an urban, economy minded Congress.

The Administration, through Agriculture Secretary Hardin, is espousing a "set-aside" program that would sharply alter the focus of farm programs. But the Secretary seems to want unbridled authority to set the dollar amount of loans and payments, without statutory minimums, thus depriving producers of the income protection they have under existing law and which they consider an indispensable feature of a new law.

Perhaps for this reason more than any other the Administration has had little if any luck in sell-a small, private, liberal arts college where teachers teach and students study in a quiet, Christian atmosphere. LCC is now in the transition from junior college to senior college and will graduate its first four year class in May of 1972.

Vickie Ray, a student at LCC, will participate in the program.

ing the set-aside approach to either producers or to the House Agriculture Committee.

Cotton producers also fear that the Secretary's program for cotton for export, would not provide adequate production to meet market demands.

Help Halt Water Pollution

Our water pollution has reached the critical stage. And only by changing our laundry procedures now...switching back to the old method of using soap flakes or powders together with water-softening, dirt-loosening washing soda... can further deterioration of our waters be halted. Responsible for the present crisis is the high phosphate content of the majority of today's laundry products as proved by a five-year study of pollution in Lakes Erie and Ontario by the International Joint Commission. The phosphates speed up the growth of algae that robs the water of oxygen which fish and plants need to stay alive.

Soap products and washing soda, however, according to recently released results of laundry product testing by United States environmental engineers and the University of Toronto researchers, contain a mere one percent or less of phosphates. And when used together they produce a good wash. Just follow basic laundry procedures. Separate white from colored wash. Don't overload the machine. Use the hottest water available. Add soap product according to package directions and one to four tablespoons of washing soda depending on the hardness of the water in your area.

Apply Terraclor Super-X and only the first time you plant cotton.

Think for a minute what it costs to replant an acre of cotton that doesn't make a stand. There's the cost of seed, fertilizer, herbicides, insecticides, equipment, operators and the precious time. Multiply that by the number of acres you could lose to seed and seedling disease.

Now think about Terraclor Super-X Soil Fungicide. It could very well eliminate replanting. Here's why: Terraclor Super-X is a combination of two Olin discoveries that effectively control the fungi that cause cotton seedling disease.

How important is this to you? The regional Cotton Disease Council reports that losses average $60,000,000 a year to seedling diseases alone.

Terraclor Super-X is applied while you plant. Your cotton seed is surrounded by protection in the furrow, where it counts. As the seed germinates and the seedling emerges, the fungi that kill unprotected plants are held off by Terraclor Super-X. You get a healthy, vigorous stand from only one planting.

About seed treatments: They are great... as far as they go. But seed treatment protection lasts only until the seed coat opens and the seedling grows into untreated soil. That's when you need Terraclor Super-X in the furrow.

Terraclor Super-X is available from your Olin dealer in three formulations: granular, liquid and dust. A special formulation is available with a quality soil systemic insecticide impregnated in the granules for combination fungus and insect control.

If you don't know your local Olin dealer, write to Terraclor Super-X, P. O. Box 991, Little Rock, Ark. 72203 for his name.

You ought to get to know him. He can help you get a good stand from only one planting. That's one good reason he is known as the rare bird in the business.

Devotional

By HAZEL HOUSE

Scripture: St. Luke 12:4-9;
Acts 2:37-39; 5:32; 10:34-35.

"Power — Power never made a mango (or great) but in accepting the responsibility of using the power, his goodness was developed and revealed—or in using the power his evil was revealed."

I heard a man on television say something like this. However this man was speaking of power only in the human and material world, for in almost the same breath he denied the Holy Trinity of God.

But even in all my indignation and pain at his public denial of my Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, I felt an exultant joy rising up inside me, for I knew and understood what this man had said when he said power will not make some men good and some men evil! Suddenly I saw anew the wisdom of God, our Father, when He said the power of the Holy Ghost would come only as we were cleansed by repentance and acceptance of Jesus as God's Son and our Savior, and in our willingness to be obedient to do God's will.

Power, Almighty, this is the power of God. And only those who accept Jesus as Lord, cleansed by His shed blood for our sin, only the pure in heart can receive this power. Yet any and all those who confess their sinfulness, and accept Jesus as their own personal Savior, will receive the Holy Spirit. But the power of the Holy Spirit is given over and over and over, as we use it doing God's will!

God will not give His Almighty power to one who is not obedient to do His will, or to one who has not used the guidance and power which he has already received—for the power would be wasted. But how much He wants us to use His power to live and do where we are the things he would have us do.

Do you have Jesus? Have you accepted and confessed Him as your Savior and Lord? Do you know that Jesus is the Son of God sent to save us who are lost? While we were yet sinners, Christ died for us because He loves us and wants us back with Him. There is no other way for us to have eternal life except in Jesus. Will you read God's Word, think on these things, and pray? Choose Jesus as your Savior, for He is seeking you now!

Do you want the joy, guidance, comfort, peace, and the faith, which "overcomes the world"? Do you want the power of God? Follow Jesus! Ask in His name and ye shall receive—power to live and witness, power for every need, power to endure, power daily to follow upward with Jesus to the Father.

He Could Not Save Himself

By DAVID JOHNSON

In a world where many things are taken for granted, it is easy for us to overlook the supreme price that Jesus paid for our redemption.

Crucifixion was an unspeakably horrible death. The victim of crucifixion was suspended on a cross, which was a cruel implement invested with horror and disgrace. The victim was usually stripped of all clothing.

The cross was placed on the ground. The victim was laid down with arms extended, fastened with cords, and, afterwards, by nails driven through the palms. The feet were then fastened to the upright by long spikes.

The cross, with the man nailed to it, was then placed upright. Thus suspended, the victim was left to hang in agony until death released him. This fact constituted its horror. Since no vital organs were affected, the poor victim lingered in the throes of the most excruciating pain.

One of the added indignities of crucifixion was the exhibiting of the victim in a public procession to the place of death.

The march to Calvary is known as the Via Dolorosa, the way of sorrow. The criminal had, himself, to carry his cross to the place of execution.

It was the custom for the criminal to wear a sign, identifying his crime, around his neck. In the case of Jesus, Pilate wrote a notice and had it put on the cross, which read, "Jesus of Nazareth, the King of the Jews."

As we view in retrospect the scene at Calvary, we must remember that, from the manger to the tomb, Jesus owned very few material possessions.

And yet, there were two things that were His and His alone—the crown of thorns and the heavy cross.

As we read the account of the road to the cross, we realize that God is traveling it and that He is not being driven to an inescapable death but has the reins in His own steady hands, dealing with something in that way because there is no other way to deal with it.

The road to the cross ended at a place called Calvary—also known as the place of the skull. The purposes of God from eternity converged on Calvary.

According to the Gospel of Luke, there were four types of ill-treatment given to Jesus while He hung on the cross.

Many people stood staring in vulgar curiosity.

The soldiers mocked Him by lifting up their drinking cups to toast Him as King.

The rulers were scoffing and saying, "Let Him save Himself."

Even one of those who hung on a cross beside Him blasphemed by saying, "If Thou be the Christ, save Thyself."

He Died for Us

The purpose of all of these was ridicule and scorn, but actually they declared a central truth of the Gospel. Had He saved Himself, the world would have been lost forever and God's entire redemptive purpose would have, at that point, met defeat.

It is precisely because Jesus would not come down that we believe in Him.

If Jesus had come down from the cross, there would be a limit to the love of God—a line beyond which God's love would not go. However, there was and is no limit to the love of God.

It is the cross that shows man his eternal worth in the sight of God.

If you are to know what God is like, look at Christ—and look at Him on the cross.
