AT LEAST one newspaper has struck back at those critics who frequently complain that "the newspaper doesn't report anything except the bad news -such as riots, crime and tragedy" (although those who complain probably would fuss even more if these stories went unreported).

Statistics listed by the St. Louis Globe Democrat last week revealed that in the United States last year, 196, 459, 483 persons did not commit a criminal offense; 4,876,720 college students did not participate in campus riots; 201, 489, 710 citizens did not use illegal drugs.

So there. Newspapers are, too, aware that not everything is bad, . . .

"TAKE TWO ASPIRINS and go to bed. " This is common enough advice (and frequently from doctors) to someone with a simple cold or minor illness, and generally when we feel bad enough to ask for such advice. this is about what we'd like to

After all, if we feel lousy, most of us would rather lie around in bed for awhile than go to work, whether we'd be shuffling through papers on a desk all day, or digging pos holes.

But now comes some guy named Dr. Lawrence E. Lamb who says resting in bed is bad for you. In a Newspaper Enterprise Assn. release, Dr. Lamb reports that space doctors were interested in the effects of bed rest because it had so many things in common with the weightless conditions occurring in space flights.

"After the loss of normal body water--and consequently part of the blood bolume--bed rest subjects tended to faint when they got up, " reported Dr. Lamb, who noted that this has been seen after space flights and also in patients after periods of bed rest. The loss of water from lying in a horizontal position affects the way the heart and circulation works and causes

He goes into some more bad effects, such as temporary anemia and possible kidney stones, all as a result of prolonged bed rest. He asserts that a simple cold or minor illness often is complicated by "taking two aspirins and going to bed, " and asserts that sitting up would be better.

Good grief. Now he's trying to take all the fun out of being sick.

MOTICE

Parents are asked to please instruct their children and teenagers concerning the use of the emergency telephone number of the Sudan Volunteer Fire Department. The use of this number is only for reporting a fire or a special emergency, the fire department officers said.

There has been a report of some recent misuse of this emergency number, and according to the fire department, this is a Federal Offense, and this number must not be called except in an emergency.

greenery and yellow flowers surrounding white candles. Sabrena Vincent, Linda Evins, Cathy Ham, Shellye Pickrell, and Paula Ellison lighted the candles. All the girls repeated their Promise and Laws. The Girl Scout and World Association pins were presented to the girls by their leaders, Mrs. Betty Withrow and Mrs. Edith Reed. The ceremony was closed by the singing of Taps.

Shellye Pickrell and Paula Ellison served refreshments to Martha Withrow, Charolet Chisholm, Carrie Reed, Mary May, Linda Evins, Sabrena Vincent, Cathy Ham, Tracie Cowart, Mrs. Betty Withrow, Mrs. Edith Reed, and their guests Mrs. Margaret Chisholm, Mrs. Doris May, Mrs. JoAnn Ellison, Mrs. Gracie Evins, Mrs. Quinelle Pickrell, Mrs. Ruth Ham, Mrs. Ruth Vincent, Scokie King, Ruth Withrow, and Lee Ann Ellison.

Brownie Scout Troop 7 held

Arrangements have been concluded for Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's visit to Amarillo on Monday, Oct. 12, when he will speak at a Bush for Senator Fund raising dinner at eightp. m. in the Civic Center Coliseum.

A reception will be held in the foyer of the Civic Center Coliseum for holders of dinner tickets at 7 p. m.

The $100, 00 per plate dinner, catered by the Country Barn, is scheduled for 8 p. m. on the covered ice rink floor where preparations are being made to seat one thousand diners.

Seated at the head table with Vice President Agnew will be George Bush, Paul Eggers, Bob Price, Peter O'Donnell, Ann Armstrong, and Malouf "Oofie" Abraham, candidate for Texas State Senator from the 31st District.

Five thousand gallery seats in the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum will be made available to those who would like to see and hear Agnew but are unable to attend the dinner. Tickets for the gallery are priced at $10,00 each, on a first come, first served; non-reserved basis, and will be available from any Republican County Chairman.

YOUNG HOMEMAKERS MEET MONDAY

The Sudan Young Homemakers met Monday, Oct. 5 at 7:30 p. m. in the Home Economics Cottage, with president Loretta Reid presiding.

Mrs. Louise Gatewood brought the program on flower arranging. During the business meeting it was decided to sell pecans again this year, and the club hopes to have them before Thanksgiving. New secret pals were chosen for the coming year. It was also decided to help serve the Senior Citizens in March.

Refreshments of homemade candy, spiced tea and coffee were served to Loretta Reid, Margaretta King, Ruth Vincent, Ruth Ham, Nell Ingle, Kay Wiseman, Geneva Newman, Jane Wiseman, Dorothy Hill,

After the ball changed hands several times, the Hornets put together a drive from their 16 to the Wolverine 2, where they failed to score. Springlake took over and moved out to the 35, when time ran out, and at halftime, the score read Sudan 7, Springlake 7.

Starting off the second half, Sudan was forced to kick on 4th down, and the Wolverines took the ball and scored again on a pass by Glasscock to End Carl Sulser. The point by Glasscock was good, and Springlake was leading, 14-7. Gary Edwards intercepted a Wolverine pass on the 25, and ran back to the 42 before the Wolverines could bring him down, But there was no further scoring in the third

Then on 4th down, the Hornets needed short yardage and went for it. Failing to get through the tough Springlake defense for the necessary yardage, the Wolverines took over on the 48 yard line. HB Eddie Alair made a 47 yard rum for another Springlake score, and Glasscock kicked the point. The Hornets made an attempt to score by passing, only to have the pass intercepted by Nicho Triana on the 36 yard line. Late in the quarter, Sudan again had the ball, but lost it on 4th down, and, as the last few seconds ticked away, the Hornets went down in defeat, 21-7.

Edwards was tops in rushing for the Hornets with 87 yards on 23 carries, followed closely by McNabb with 66 on 14 carries.
