FORTY-SIXTH YEAR NUMBER 39

SUDAN, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1970

WOODWORK

BY DALTON

THE AREA around the Fort Worth-Dallas Airport about 20 years from now will be a thriving supercity of four million persons, researcher predicted the other day.

Dr. Benjamin H. Stevens, chairman of the Regional Science Research Institute in Philadelphia made the forecast in a talk to the North Central Texas Council of Governments.

He predicted a gradual merger of Dallas, Fort Worth, Arlington, Grand Prairie and Irving after the regional airport opens in 1973.

Irving alone could balloon into a city of 400,000, Stevens said. Stevens suggested that planning for adequate transportation and sewer systems is the most important need, and mentioned a probably need for rapid rail transit linking Dallas and Fort Worth, and also mentioned facilities to cope with pollution problems.

Sounds like the Dallas-Fort Worth area, when it grows into one gigantic mess of traffic, pollution and people standing on each other's toes, will be a great place to stay away from.

AMELIA EARHART is alive. Jesus Christ was married. All the pro football players use dope.

These are allegations repeated in news stories in the last week or so, and all of them had a couple of things in common. One was that they all are considered unlikely. Another was that in each case, the allegations were made by someone who has just published a book, and the resulting publicity from a startling statement is a sure-fire way to sell a book.

I wonder if I could generate more interest in my column by telling some big preposterous lie. How about this: Jerry Rubin is a nice guy.

EARLY COPY, PLEASE

Local residents are asked to report all news items and personal news on Monday, Nov. 23, if possible.

Tonight, Thursday, the varsity girls will host Bula here

CHILDREN'S PICTURES TO BE TAKEN

It is an undisputed fact that the responsibilities of tomorrow's world, our nation and community, will rest upon the shoulders of the children of today. Since this is true, the publisher of this newspaper would like to give you a good look at these future "World Builders."

The only way we can do this is by publishing pictures of them in a feature series. To assure the latest and best reproduction pictures they must all be of uniform size and quality.

An expert children's photographer with all the necessary equipment for this specialized work will be here Saturday, Nov. 21.

Pictures will be taken at the Beacon News Office from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.

No Charge to Parents

There is no charge to the parents. There are absolutely no strings to this invitation. It is bonafide in every sense of the word. Parents do not have to be subscribers, nor even readers of this newspaper to take advantage of this feature. Neither are they obligated to purchase pictures after they are taken. Those who want some additional prints may obtain a limited number by arrangement with the studio representative when they select the pose they want printed in the paper. It is entirely up to them.

The More Pictures The Better

This paper simply wants pictures of all the youngsters and the more the better. So the mothers and fathers of the community in which this paper circulates should remember the date Saturday, Nov. 21, and bring their children to the photographer.

You will be mighty glad afterwards, if you did and very very sorry if you do not permit your children to participate in this event. The kiddies will have fun and both mother and dad and the youngsters too will be very proud to see their pictures in print later.

Appointments may be had by Calling 227-3911.

KRESS EDGES HORNETS, 12-11

CONGRATULATIONS TO ALL MEMBERS OF THE HORNET FOOTBALL SQUAD AND THEIR COACHES ON A FINE SEASON

By ELRAY RASCO

The Sudan Hornets lost their chance at the district title in the last 49 seconds of the game at Kress Friday on a wet, cold, windy night. They closed their 1970 season with a 7-3 record. The entire Hornet team and coaches are to be congratulated on a fine year and a good job all season.

Due to the wet field and rain all during the game, both Sudan and Kress teams had difficulty Friday night in moving the ball and playing the way they were capable of playing under normal conditions.

Early in the first quarter Chisholm recovered a Kress fumble on the 36 yard line for the Hornets. Sudan was unable to move the ball so were forced to punt on 4th down. After the ball changed hands several times, late in the first quarter, the FB David Weaver broke through for a 33 yard run to the 1-yard line. QB Bo Lance carried over from the one for the final TD of the game. Kim Ingram came in to kick the point for the Hornets, but Kress got an offside penalty which put the ball on the 18 inch line. The Hornets chose to go for 2 and FB Weaver carried over for the 2 points, so as the first quarter ended the Hornets led 8 to 0.

The second quarter was a quarter of punts with neither team getting a successful drive going. Late in the second quarter the Hornets were moving the ball but time was running out with the wind to their backs, and with 14 seconds left on the clock, Coach Adams decided to let Ingram attempt a 37 yard field goal. Ingram booted it straight through the uprights to give the Hornets a 11 to 0 lead over Kress at halftime.

After the half, the Hornets came back to kickoff to the Kangaroos. One of the Kangaroos' deep men fielded the ball on the 5 yard line and on the 3rd. Handoff, Johnny Jackson had the ball on the 10 and ran 90 yards to the Hornet goal line for a Kangaroo TD. The extra points run failed and the Hornets led 11 to 6. The ball changed hands several times throughout the 3rd quarter with neither team scoring.

Each team punted almost every time they got the ball in the first part of the 4th. With a little more than 4 minutes left to play, the Hornets recovered a fumble on the Kangaroo 27 and moved up to the 40 yard line. They failed to make a first down and were forced to punt again. The Kangaroos took over the ball on their own 35 yard line, with 1:32 left in the game. QB Harley Terrell completed only one pass out of seven for the night, but this one was to Layne Thomas for 52 yards to the Hornet 13 yard line. FB Johnny Jackson ran around left end 13 yards for the Kangaroo TD with 49 seconds left on the clock. The try for two points was stopped, so for the first time in the ballgame, the Kangaroos were out in the lead, 12 to 11. The Hornets tried hard to get something going, but time ran out and the Hornets, who looked liked District Champs, saw it all fade away as the last few seconds ticked off the clock, and Kress won the district crown by one point, 12-11.

Involvement In Learning

"More caught than taught" is one of the profound clichés of education. True understanding, it insists, results not primarily from classroom instruction but from life situations.

That's true in your experience, isn't it? What you really understand is in an activity to which you have given consistent, probably daily, attention. Right?

It is right because it is experience that educates. Experience alone frequently educates.

How People Learn
"Personal involvement in learning" is what we call it now. But the greatest teachers have demonstrated for centuries its effectiveness.

Since I wrote that last sentence, the jet in which I am sitting has taken off. Do you know what that feels like?

If you have flown, you do. If you have not, you don't. Describing or explaining till my pen runs dry could not bring you any closer to a real understanding of flight. The nature of flight is learned by flying. Taught it cannot be; it must be "caught."

Moses knew this principle. Responsible, as he was, for educating several million Hebrews concerning their cultural heritage and their relationship with God, he instituted a teaching method which is one of the most successful in all history.

Moses, of course, could not have taught millions of people directly, so he made teaching personal by establishing a father-family learning unit. Technical skills were taught by experts, but the universal values and truths were taught by the father. Children learned most by seeing truth in action in their fathers.

Socrates also used personal Sunday School lesson for November 22, 1970 relationships for teaching. The success of his small-group interaction was due to person-to-person questions and responses, observations and insights.

Unfortunately, the teaching method of Moses has hardened into simple traditionalism and that of Socrates has been stereotyped as "the Socratic method." Both have lost their true force—that of interpersonal involvement.

Transformation
Yet still more unfortunate is the present dissipation of the inspiring force of the greatest Teacher of all time, Jesus.

When he was alive in the flesh, Jesus' method was entirely personal and student-centered. "Disciples" He called His students, but He also called them "friends."

Jesus did not teach His disciples abstractly. They observed Him and experienced life with Him. And when explanations were necessary, they received them.

On the day they met, He simply invited them to follow Him. He promised them only that they would learn how people's lives could be transformed. Taking a chance, they followed Him, and at the end of that very day they were exclaiming, "What new teaching is this!"

After only about three years of personal exposure, these fishermen were among history's greatest spiritual teachers and leaders, themselves.

Have you ever heard of four years of college changing people like that?

Jesus is still alive and changing people. You can meet Him through a Christian—or directly, through prayer.

Learn about real life. Introduce yourself to Jesus.

Sudan Independent School District Announces New Free and Reduced Price Policy

Sudan Independent School District has long recognized the need for helping meet the nutritional needs of its students. The Sudan Public Schools serve a well-balanced nutritious lunch each school day. The charge to students who can pay is 35¢ for grades 1 thru 6 and 40¢ for grades 7 thru 12. However, since some families find it difficult to pay this full price, the school will provide these lunches free of charge or at a reduced price to those children determined by Kenneth Moles, Superintendent and B. M. Wilson, Elementary Principal to be unable to pay the full price for their lunches.

Families who feel that their children may be eligible for free or reduced price lunches are urged to apply. Copies of the application form were sent home in a letter to parents earlier this week. Additional copies may be obtained at the Superintendent's office. The completed application, signed by an adult member of the family should be sent to Sudan Public Schools, Kenneth Moles, Supt., Box 247, Sudan, Texas 79371. Cotton Harvest Progresses

Beautiful harvest weather has again come to the Sudan area and farmers are taking advantage of it to hurry the processes of harvesting their cotton. Area gins report that the present crop is approximately 45 percent complete. Farmers Co-op has ginned 3525 bales and was operating 24 hours a day. Ellison Gin has received some 975 bales.

The area classing offices classed some 215,000 samples last week. This is far ahead of the volume at this date last year when only 29,000 samples had been classed.

Strict Low Middling was the predominant grade at Lubbock being 34 percent of all cotton classed. Low Middling made up 8 percent, Middling Light Spotted 18 percent and Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 21 percent.

Staple length improved slightly and averaged approximately 31/32. Sixty percent stapled 31/32 and longer compared to 43 percent the previous week. Micronaire continued very good. Eighty-four percent of all cotton classed at the Lubbock office last week had micronaire readings in the premium range of 3.5 to 4.9 and 7 percent "miked" 5.0 and higher.

Ninety-three percent of the cotton classed at Lubbock last week had Pressley readings of 80,000 pounds and higher, compared to 88 percent the previous week. Pressley is an indication of fiber strength and the most desirable Pressley reading is 80,000 pounds and above.

Trading increased on the Lubbock market but prices were $2.50 to $5.00 per bale lower. Prices ranged from the loan for high grade, long staple cotton up to $27.50 per bale over the loan for low grade, low micronaire cotton.

Prices quoted by the Lubbock Cotton Exchange for the most predominant qualities in the 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire range were: Strict Low Middling 15/16 - 20.25, Strict Low Middling 31/32 - 20.50, Strict Low Middling 1-Inch-20.80, Middling Light Spotted 15/16 - 20.50, Middling 1-Inch-20.80, Middling Light Spotted 15/16 - 20.50, Middling Light Spotted 31-32 - 20.85, Middling Light Spotted 1-Inch-21.25, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 15/16 - 19.80, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 31/32 - 20.10 and Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 1-Inch - 20.40.

Prices paid farmers for cottonseed were steady and ranged from $55.00 to $66.00 per ton.

The total number of serious crimes reported across the nation in the first half of this year increased by 11 percent over the same period of a year ago, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover reported.

People who cook with pride cook with GAS. Mrs. Alex Zotos does.

Some of the world's best cooks are found in the kitchens of America, and they give themselves every-cooking advantage, like gas range cooking. Good cooks like Mrs. Zotos and nine out of 10 professional chefs agree that precise temperature control makes the difference in good cooking, and with gas you get exactly that. Gas also gives immediate response and constant temperature, so important in oven cooking.

So, give yourself every advantage and cook with gas. Remember, people who cook with pride cook with gas.

Here's one of Mrs. Zotos' favorite recipes.

CHICKEN OREGANO

Mrs. Alex Zotos, 3622 Maple, Odessa

Quarter 2 fryers. Wash and dry; and squeeze juice of one lemon over pieces. Salt, pepper and paprika chicken on both sides. In large skillet melt 1 stick butter and quickly brown chicken pieces. Place in oblong pan. In butter left in pan add 1/2 cup red wine, 1/2 can tomato paste (3 oz.), 2 cups water, 1 tablespoon celery flakes, 2 cloves garlic. Bring to boil. Pour over chicken. Sprinkle about 2 1/2 teaspoons oregano over chicken. Bake covered for one hour at 350 degrees; uncover last 10 minutes for browning.

Meat and Rice Dressing

Saute 2 onions, chopped, in 1/2 stick butter, add 1 cup uncooked rice; saute together until golden. Add 1 1/2 lbs. ground round and brown. Add 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon comino, pepper to taste, 2 1/2 teaspoons salt, add 1/2 cup sliced mushrooms, 2 1/2 cups water and 1/2 cup red wine. Cook until done about 20 minutes. When cooked toss in toasted pecans and almonds, if desired. Serve sauce from chicken over all.

Fine Tea Makes Perfect Gift

A selection of fine tea is a sure solution for those "have-everything" people on your Christmas list. A gift of tea is a promise of many pleasant moments to be spent in sampling delightful and rare flavors and aromas. An array that's sure to please one and all—grandmothers to gourmets—is Bigelow's library assortment of Great Teas of the World, fourteen unique and highly prized teas from many countries, packaged to look like a shelf of colorful books. Similar library assortments contain four or eight teas.

Throughout the year Bigelow teas make ideal gifts for your favorite hostess, bridge prizes, birthday presents, or for the times when you want to say "get well," "congratulations" or "thank you". Teas ranging from robust Irish to delicate Jasmine or the famous orange spiced tea known as Constant Comment are available in a variety of attractive packages that make further wrapping unnecessary. A visit to your local gift shop or department store will turn up these tea treasures. And while you're at it, why not treat yourself, too?

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Will We Cease To Be Great?

A highly respected journalist, the editor of a newspaper which enjoys a national circulation, has given his recommendations as to what the people of this country should do to quiet campus unrest and cope with the most urgent problems of our society. Erwin D. Canham, who served on the Commission on Campus Unrest, under the chairmanship of William Scranton, has concluded a series of eight articles on "The Campus Crisis" with a series of recommendations.

Some of his recommendations should, in my opinion, be immediately implemented. Others, particularly in the very important area of national defense, should be subjected to detailed analysis to determine their ultimate effect.

But the aspect of the report which was particularly disturbing to me was the fact that this man, so highly regarded and so influential, had failed to call attention to the most basic cause of our current national crisis.

Public Morality in Danger
Here, in necessarily abridged form, is what he has to say:

"The integrative fabric of American society - which is its public morality - is in danger. I do not think this is exaggeration. But I think the situation can be saved."

"The first step has already been taken by President Nixon in his latest Indo-Chinese settlement proposals."

"The second step... swifter progress toward full social justice for America's minorities: the blacks, the Chicanos, the Indians, the poor."

The third step which he proposes is "far more intensive work" on remedying abuses of our environment.

Other items in his proposal include negotiation on limitation of arms, curbing the "political and economic power of the military-industrial complex," tax reform, inflation control, and encouraging young people to participate in politics and "the whole range of civic and service organizations."

Toward the close of the article, he says, "The reconciliation of American society begins in the hearts of us all."

This is as close as he gets to the real, basic problem - the virtual abandonment by many people, in recent years, of the firm, Bible-based morality which was the foundation on which our greatness as a nation was built.

If God was mentioned in the article, I missed it.

Will We Remember Us?
If we forget God, can we expect Him to remember us?

The Bible says, "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it. Except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain."

The founders of our nation understood this. "In God We Trust" was adopted as our national motto, to tell to all the world that this nation was established on the foundation of faith and reliance on the Almighty One.

The great French historian de Toqueville once said, "America is great because she is good. If ever she ceases to be good, she will cease to be great."

Must we prove this prophecy true? Let's get going again with God.

The Old Timer

"Anyone who thinks dirt is cheap never looked for a lot to build a house on."

Out of a total of 1.3 million federal "white collar" workers last year, 352,549 were considered members of minority groups.

The die casting industry had a sales value totaling $2.6 billion last year, according to the American Die Casting Institute.
