WOODWORK Ike Silver Dollar Orders Available

BY DALTON

I WONDER SOMETIMES if other people get as tired of the news as some of us who are in the business. I certainly didn't take me long to lose interest in reading about the Pentagon Papers, for example, and I sure did get tired of hearing about Calley and Medina and Tricia's wedding.

For a few days such things hold my interest, but soon it grows pretty tiresome, especially if there aren't any really new angles to the story. Constant rehash of what's happening doesn't excite me much.

In my memory (and you'll see that it goes pretty far back) the most overdone news story in history was when Queen Elizabeth had her baby (I guess that's what his name, who is now 17 or 18 or something). I was a copyreader on the news desk of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal at the time, and there still was the old International News Service in operation, as well as United Press and Associated Press.

The old INS was worst of the three, but they all wrote the story to death months before the big event. Everytime the queen smiled bravely at the public, and every time she had a pain, the wire services sent a column of type. You never read such guff in your life.

This is still a tendency, sometimes. A news service may take a story and literally over-write it. There are some things we all like to know about, but we really didn't want to know that much about it.

Of course, I guess to some extent, saying that the news is overdone is biting the hand that feeds me, but it still seems that quality writing is better than quantity writing, and once a detail is given, there's no point in repeating it.

SOMEbody made off with a San Antonio man's "guitole." This, he reported to police, was taken from his car while it was parked. He described it as a musical instrument, a guitar made with a white toilet seat. Spike Jones used to have an instrument like this, but he called it a latrinophone.

I wonder if you play it sitting down.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sanders of Amarillo are parents of an adopted son, Brian David, born June 21. He weighed 6 pounds 11 ounces.

Congressman Bob Price has announced that order forms for the new Eisenhower Silver Dollar can be obtained from his Amarillo, Pampa, Plainview, or Washington offices. The United States Mint will begin accepting orders for the special coins on July 1.

The Panhandle Representative noted that Proof Coins are highly polished and struck twice with special dies to produce a jewel-like finish. The silver proof coins cost $10 each. Each order is limited to five coins per person.

Uncirculated coins, which are struck once on high speed presses, can be obtained for $3 each with a limit of five per person.

Order blanks can be obtained at the offices of Congressman Price in the Post Office Building at Amarillo and Pampa or 317 Skaggs Building in Plainview or by writing to Congressman Bob Price, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515.

POSTAL OBSERVANCE SET JULY 1

The inauguration of the new United States Postal Service on July 1, will be celebrated in Washington, D. C., and in every post office across the country. Postmaster Minyard has announced that all members of the community are invited to visit their local post office on July 1st and enjoy the hospitality of the men and women who comprise the new U. S. Postal Service.

Dedication ceremonies in Washington will be hosted by Postmaster General Blount. Honored guests at the dedication will include members of Congress, former Postmasters General, the Board of Governors of the new Postal Service and their wives, as well as Assistant Postmasters General, headquarters personnel and other dignitaries.

Visitors to the post office will be given a souvenir envelope imprinted with the old and new insignia of the Postal Service.

As the United States Postal Service comes into being, all of us look forward to even stronger ties with the people we serve through our thousands of Post Offices, Stations and Branches. We will need the highest degree of cooperation between ourselves and our public. This occasion, Postal Service Day, is another way of affirming our intent to serve our customers better, and, with their help, to build a modern, efficient, customer-oriented Postal Service.

Baseball Meet Set Tonight

There will be a Little League baseball meeting Thursday, July 1 (tonight) 8:00 p. m. at the First National Bank in order to pick the All Star team.

All coaches, managers, player agency, president, vice president, and treasurer are urged to attend this meeting.

Film To Be Shown Sunday

A community film will be shown Sunday night, 7:00 p. m. at the First Baptist Church entitled "There's A Train That Goes By Our Town".

THERE'S drama, suspense and a serious message in this film, which portrays A moment in the life of three men... every time someone sees or hears a TRAIN this gripping little vignette will flash back... a remembrance THAT total stewardship is the awareness of God's total ownership... IT GOES farther to point out the transitory nature of man's existence and BY allegory and exposition, focuses attention on the inadequacy of OUR present beliefs concerning Christian stewardship... your TOWN and church can be informed, educated and inspired by this film!

"THERE'S A TRAIN THAT GOES BY OUR TOWN" is guaranteed to hit every viewer with the impact of a freight-train. It is designed to arouse audiences into immediate action concerning their family's future and their Christian commitment.

Thinly veiled behind the beautiful photography and portrayal of everyday experience is the reminder that your world and your life are but a heartbeat from eternity. God speaks to us daily through his gifts of time, talent and possessions, and in his holy word, the Bible. This film will attune your ear to hear more of God's message to you in the modern day--to recognize the Creator's hand in the most commonplace events.

As you are gradually swept to the climax, the moment of decision, you will probably take stock of what you have done, or need to do, in some areas of life that are important to your future. Many will be made aware of some actions they have never before considered necessary to their peace of mind, their family's protection, or their joy in Christian service.

Everyone is invited to attend.

BALANCING THE DECORATING BUDGET

Every young couple I know has always dreamed of a house or apartment that's not only well decorated, but one that's equipped with everything that makes a home complete. Furniture, window treatments, floor coverings, lighting, decorative accessories, tableware, linen and the umpteen other things that go into a first home can cost quite a bit of money. But it isn't always easy to furnish that first nest with custom-made draperies and expensive oriental rugs.

Very often I've found that couples exceed the important first decorating budget long before they've purchased one-half of all the things they need or want. This type of disappointment can be easily avoided if you plan carefully. Here are some money saving tips.

•Decide ahead of time just how much money you have to spend on your home. Once you have a budget it's that much easier to balance it.

•Pick the areas where you will be most likely to save money. For example, store-bought window shades may be equally as effective in an informal room as expensive custom-made Roman blinds.

•Buy important things first. Don't skimp on low-quality bedding, or large pieces of furniture that will serve as focal points for rooms.

•If you're lucky enough to have an oak or maple floor, buy area rugs instead of wall-to-wall carpeting. They're less expensive and reusable in your next house as well.

•Plan where you'll place furniture ahead of time. This will help to prevent over-buying.

•Invest in genuine hardwood furniture rather than plastic or other imitation wood. Real oak, walnut, mahogany, pecan, or cherry will not only look better, but will last longer, and are better investments.

•Make the best use of color as is possible. A brightly painted wall can be just as effective as an expensive wallpaper print.

•Scout thrift shops and antique stores for inexpensive pieces which can be painted or refinished. An old Victorian chest is a real eye-catcher in even a contemporary setting. And don't forget that old bottles can be wired into unusual lamp bases.

•Remember that large plants are not only cheerful, but fill up a room for little money.

A GAS outdoor grill gives food a tangy outdoor flavor without the time and bother of charcoal fire. Char-broiled flavor comes from the smoke of meat juices dripping on hot briquets. Charcoal itself provides no flavor.

Permanent ceramic briquets in the gas grill reach cooking heat in a few minutes, and there is no long wait to start cooking. The heat is regulated manually so there is no need to move a grill up or down...

ACCENT ON HEALTH

The Texas meat inspection program, operated by the Texas State Department of Health, is less than two years old, but has been appraised as equal to federal inspection procedures and given full endorsement by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The State Health Department in 1969 opened a school at Yoakum to train meat inspectors, a move required by a new Texas Meat and Poultry Act. Faced with the choice of letting the federal government take over all inspection or providing adequate state inspection, the Texas Legislature decided in favor of state controls. The federal government still inspects all red meat and poultry processed for interstate (across state lines) shipments.

The amount of red meat and poultry inspected is staggering. In 1970, more than 306 million pounds of red meat—beef and pork—came under the critical eyes of State Health Department inspectors. In addition, 63 1/2 million pounds of poultry was inspected.

State meat inspectors are now keeping close tabs on all meat processed at the 646 slaughterhouse and processing plants now under state inspection. Meat animals are carefully checked before slaughter, after slaughter, and through every stage of the packing process.

The objective of the Texas meat inspection program is to insure better meat products for all Texans. Inspection is essential to make certain that only wholesome meat and meat products reach the tables of consumers. The program will also upgrade the meat industry and encourage it to provide better products.

Texas meat inspectors have

Down deep within the life, the soul,
There lives a hope to reach a goal,
A hope that's guiding us each day,
A hope that brightens up our way,
It's hopes that drives away all gloom
And tells us better days will come,
Then hope assures us there will be
A great and grand eternity.
