WOODWORK BAND TO MARCH AT SP FAIR

BY DALTON

No sooner did Hurricane Fern leave the Texas coast than Edith came along to cause more weather problems. Of course, Edith did not hit Texas as directly as Fern, but places were flooded all over, and many had not even started to clean up after Fern's rampage when new rains and winds were brought in by Edith.

Property damage from the latest winds and floods runs into the millions of dollars, and past experience has shown that insurance coverage of damages from natural disasters is difficult to obtain. Hurricanes in recent years such as Donna, Camille, Carla and others seem to be more vicious than in earlier years.

A lot of people who live in West Texas quite frequently make such comments about the coastal hurricanes as this: "I wouldn't live down there in that country if they gave it to me."

And folks who live on the Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi or Florida coasts no doubt often can be heard to comment, after reports of a West Texas tornado, "I wouldn't live out in that country with all those tornadoes if they gave it to me!"

*****
DOES ANYBODY remember Frank Merriwell? He was a fictitious super-hero about 50 years ago, and now he's making something of a comeback.

Frank Merriwell did everything well, was a sports super-star and had no vices. He was the hero of best-selling dime novels created by one Burt L. Standish. His accomplishments were compiled into 245 volumes, and the entire series is supposed to have sold more than 500 million copies between 1896 and 1931.

He stood for honesty, truth, justice and the ideal of the American way of life, all virtues which still can be found today, remarkably, considering there are so many of the opposite kind around.

Anyway, he's back, and you can't buy a book about him for a dime anymore. We understand it costs 95 cents in a new volume.

FOUR CAR ACCIDENT INVOLVES LOCAL RESIDENTS

The Edward Fishers and Donnie Cowarts were involved in a traffic accident in Lubbock Saturday night as the foursome was enroute home after attending the Tech-UNM football game.

The 1969 Chevrolet driven by Edward Fisher was struck from behind while stopped for a stop sign. The impact caused the Fisher car to strike the car in front of it which in turn struck the leading automobile, thus causing four vehicles to be involved in the accident.

Mrs. Mary Lee Cowart was admitted to the emergency room at Methodist Hospital and was released following examinations for possible injuries. No other injuries were reported but the Fisher vehicle is reported to have been demolished.

BAND TO MARCH AT SP FAIR

Sudan High School's 64 member band will be among more than 30 fine marching bands performing during the opening "Parade of Bands" helping kickoff the 54th Annual Panhandle South Plains Fair at 10 a. m. Monday, Sept. 27. Tommy R. Evins, band director, and his musicians will be competing for honors in Class A. First four winners will receive cash prizes of $100, $75, $50 and $25, respectively, in each of five classes.

"The Parade of Bands is a bright contribution to the eventful Panhandle South Plains Fair", said Steve Lewis, manager. "Theme of this year's fair will be 'Family Fun for Everyone'."

Band members will receive free admission to the fair and have an opportunity to enjoy a variety of activities and exhibits.

The fair, which continues through Oct. 2, will feature Tennessee Ernie Ford, top attraction at Fair Park Coliseum five years ago, Sept. 27, 28 and 29. An all-star Mexican variety show will take the coliseum spotlight Thursday, Sept. 30, and country-western singer Merle Haggard and his wife Bonnie Owens and The Strangers, will perform Friday and Saturday, Oct. 1 and 2.

Class A bands competing this year include Shallowater, Plains, Sudan, Lorenzo, Cooper, Farwell, Crosbyton, Petersburg and O'Donnell. Petersburg is defending champion.

Local Teacher Teaches Third Generation

Mrs. Maxine Nichols, a member of the Sudan faculty, was recently acknowledged when three generations of her pupils visited her classroom for their pictures to be taken with their "school marm".

Mrs. Nichols began teaching in the Sudan schools in 1933. The 1971-72 school term will complete 37 years of teaching (allowing for two years absence). She attended Hillsboro Junior College one year before commencing her teaching career. Later, she received her BS degree from Texas Tech.

The third generation of teaching was completed when she taught Joey Bellar in the second grade during the 1970-71 school year. She taught his mother, Mrs. Carol Ann Masten Bellar in the second grade in 1953-54

Class A bands competing this year include Shallowater, Plains, Sudan, Lorenzo, Cooper, Farwell, Crosbyton, Petersburg and O'Donnell. Petersburg is defending champion.

ARE YOU INTERESTED

A survey is being taken in Sudan to determine the interest that people here have in obtaining a local ambulance service. Co-chairman for the project Mike White reported that it is worth every dollar, every hour and every effort that we can expend to bring swift and skilled help to people in urgent needs. He added that the time to act is before an accident occurs.

We live in an area where accidents and tragedies can occur at any moment. Residents are asked to contemplate on the question "How long it would take to get adequate medical help when an emergency arises?"

Everyone knows that every precious moment is important in the saving of a life of someone who is seriously injured. If someone in our families were injured, we would want the fastest help possible.

An ambulance service would be a great asset for Sudan. The chairman stated that many hours of volunteer service would be needed in the capacity of drivers and others to learn emergency medical care. It would take time but would be a valuable way to aid the community in medical benefits.

All interested persons are asked to contact Philip Gordon or Mike White so that it can be determined if sufficient persons are interested in obtaining this medical service.

'FAIR DAY' SET MONDAY FOR STUDENTS

School Superintendent Kenneth Noles announced this week that classes will be dismissed Monday, Sept. 26, at 2:30 p. m. to enable students to attend the Fair. Gate passes will be presented to all students.

Noles stressed that this will be the only time that students will receive excused passes to attend the Fair.

Amherst kicked-off to Sudan to begin the second half but fumbles again plagued the Hornets with Amherst recovering. Sudan intercepted another pass moments later with Gary Edwards going all the way for the score.

Also scoring in the third period was Boyles who plunged in from the eight and Mark Hanna who capped a 73 yard drive. Bo Lance kicked the final point for Sudan giving them a 38-0 lead with a little over two minutes left in the third period.

Sudan penetrated deep in Amherst territory several times during the final period but were unable to cross the goalline due to fumbles. Sudan was stopped on the two yard line and forced to relinquish the ball due to downs minutes before the time ran out.

Boyles led the scoring for Sudan with 14 points with Jefferson going in for 12 points. Sudan had a total of 440 yards rushing compared to a minus 46 for the Bulldogs. Penalties and fumbles hurt the Hornets as they were penalized for 80 yards and Amherst recovered 7 Hornet fumbles. However, Sudan stood out with four pass interceptions, one for a touchdown.

The Hornets will be looking for their third win Friday night as they will host the high-flying Seagraves Eagles. Seagraves lost their game last week to Abernathy 21-12. Game time will be 8 p. m. and all residents are urged to back the Hornets as they take on the class A foe.

HAIL DAMAGE - Shown above is a before and after photo of cotton which was extensively damaged by hail Friday morning. It was estimated that approximately 1,000 acres of cotton was 75% destroyed by the storm. Cotton belonging to Alton Wimberly, Bill Boyles, Elgan Baccus, Carl Burnett, Henry Williams, Wix Gaston and Wayne Whiteaker was the hardest hit. Several acres of milo in the area also received damage varying from extensive to slight.

The seventh grade team battled to a 0-0 tie Thursday afternoon at Plains with the eighth grade team scoring once with Danny Williams sprinting for 20 yards. Plains tied the game 6-6 going into the score with only second left in the game. The junior high teams have an open date this week.

The B-team defensive battle saw Plains scoring first after they recovered a Sudan fumble. However, Sudan soon came back with Richard Tamplin going in from the 12 yard line. With five minutes remaining in the first half, Tamplin completed a 51 yard pass play to Terry Hatch for another Sudan TD. Sudan led 12-6 at halftime.

Plains scored again in the third quarter on a pass interception—and again in the fourth period to take the lead 18-12. Sudan scored on a 77 yard pass play which was nullified due to a motion penalty. Sudan defense dug-in and held the Plains offense and was deep in the Plains territory and driving for a tying score when Plains again intercepted a pass with only seconds remaining.

Sudan lost three fumbles to Plains with the Cowhands intercepting three Hornet passes.

Outstanding defensive players were Rory Manning, Jimmy Markham, Bruce Pierce and Ryan Dale Harvey. Pat Hedges and Tamplin led the offensive attack. Hedges gained 77 yards on 16 carries. Tamplin went 42 yards in 18 attempts.

The B-team will go to Muleshoe today, Thursday, to take on the Junior High Mules at 6 p. m.

First Grain Brought In

The first load of grain for the 1971 season was delivered to Sudan Wednesday afternoon when Charles Carpenter of Amherst brought 18,000 pounds of milo to Feeder's Grain, Inc.

Carpenter reported that the grain was raised about 6 miles northeast of Amherst from a Pioneer 845 variety which was planted during the last week of April on irrigated land. He expects to harvest some 6,000 pounds per acre from the milo.

The first load brought a premium of $2.10 per hundred. It was combined by Charles Hines with Joe Embry driving the truck that brought it to the elevator.

Manager Marvin Tollett said that he expects to begin receiving grain on a large scale in the near future, if the weather permits.

Delbert Harlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lendle Harlin, was a patient in the Amherst hospital last week.

Rev. Willie Hazel, former pastor here, has returned to his home at 1507 Houston Street, Plainview. He was a patient at Methodist Hospital where he underwent tests.

Chapters Conduct Seminar

Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority, District IX, met Sunday morning for a business meeting and luncheon seminar at the Johnson House Motel in Lubbock. Hostess chapters were Iota Xi and Alpha Gamma chapters, both of Lubbock.

The group voted to present a gift, a snow cone machine, to the Lubbock State School recreation room as their district project.

Presiding over the meetings was Mrs. Jerry Herndon, Tulia, when the theme for the year, "Give Me A Sister" was carried out.

State officers present were Mmes. Ivan White of Fort Stockton, editor of the official publication of the Texas State Council; and Mrs. George Helmstetter, first vice president.

Members were urged to support the state projects, the Birth Defects Census of Texas and the Texas Cancer Fund.

A film, "Where Are You Going, Pretty Woman," was shown by Mrs. Helmstetter during the seminar.

Attending from the Iota Eta chapter from Sudan were Mrs. Alma Lumpkin and Mrs. Martha Markham. Mrs. Lumpkin won the door prize, an artificial fall floral arrangement.

The next District IX meeting will be in Tulla Jan. 23.

Pinkerton's earlier trademark, an engraving of a wide-awake eye, with the slogan, "We Never Sleep," gave birth to the term "private eye."

Homemakers Hold Salad Supper Personal

The Sudan Chapter of Young Homemakers met Tuesday for a salad supper.

Loretta Reid, outgoing president, presided at the installation service when incoming officers were installed. They include Bertha Johnson, president; Mary Ann Gordon, 1st vice president; Nell Ingle, 2nd vice president; Geneva Newman, secretary-treasurer; Dorothy Ann Hill, reporter.

This week has been proclaimed as Young Homemakers' Week and is even more special due to the fact that it is the 10th Anniversary of the organization. The organization has grown from an ideal to one of over 4,000 members, and its purpose is exclusively for educational value with particular reference to the area of homemaking.

Guests present included Jane Van Dyke, Ann Carson, Jeanie Bartley, Vickie Bartley, Brenda Ballew, and Norma Burnett.

Members present were Mary Ann Gordon, Ruth Ham, Dorothy Ann Hill, Bettye Withrow, Nell Ingle, Bertha Johnson, Geneva Newman, Loretta Reid, Ruth Vincent, Kay Wiseman, and advisor Jayellen Wilson.

Kim Engram who underwent knee surgery at St. Mary's Hospital is expected to be dismissed today.

Secret Bowling of El Paso has been visiting with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Bowling.

Mrs. Theresa Baccus of Lubbock visited with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moss and family.

Monte Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rogers, is a member of the Tech Raider Marching Band which is going to Austin Saturday to perform at the Tech-

Comfort is...

Fresh, warm air gently circulating from floor to ceiling . . . down-to-earth dependability . . . easy-on-the-budget operating costs. Comfort is gas heating. There's no heat more comfortable.

And there's no heat cleaner than gas. Gas burns clean. It's one energy source that doesn't dirty the air.

Air-circulating gas heating systems also give you the first-half of a built-in gas air conditioning system. Adequate heat ducts can carry cool air to your whole house too - so you can add-on gas cooling right away or later if you prefer. Together, gas heating and gas cooling are an unbeatable combination for year 'round total comfort.

If you're building a home or planning to replace an out-dated heating system, choose thrifty gas heat. Check with your heating contractor.

What's It All About?

"God's in His heaven — All's right with the world!"
— Robert Browning

Certainly God is good to all who are pure in heart. But for me, my feet had almost gone out from under me; my steps had nearly slipped.

Why? I was jealous of proud fools when I saw their prosperity and wickedness. They do not suffer or continually face death. They are strong and healthy. They are not plagued with problems like other people.

Consequently the wicked are proud and wear their pride like the golden chain of a ruler, while under their handsome clothing they are covered with violence. They are gluttons to eat up all the pleasures their hearts can conceive — and more! Their eyes puff out with greed.

Does God Know?

The prosperous wicked mock those who are under them and oppress their workers. They speak as authorities on matters beyond their understanding. Especially, they scoff at God and scorn spiritual truths, trying to grab for themselves control of as much of the world as possible.

Honest people say to themselves, "Does God know what's going on? Does the Creator take any notice of this world? Look how the dishonest people can take it easy and still get rich." It seems I have made my life pure for nothing. My innocence has been vain. My reward has been to be goaded by oppression, day in and day out. This is how it seems, but I know better. I couldn't stand the thought that this might be true, so I talked to God about it, and He showed me what happens in the end to people who love evil.

It is not me, but the wicked who stand in slippery places. Sunday School Lesson for September 26, 1971

You, God, have made the edge to crumble under their step and have allowed them to slide to ruin. In an instant they are destroyed. They live in terror of death, and die only to face more horror.

Cruel and dishonest people see life falsely and imagine theirs is the best way to live. Death will wake them from their dream and God will despise their lives.

God, I was foolish to be jealous. Sometimes I have no more sense than an animal. Nevertheless, I am never outside of Your care. You have given strength to my actions; You will continue to guide me through the counsel of Your Word and the Holy Spirit. And at death You will accept me into Your presence with honor.

Whom else do I have in heaven? There is no one else, even on earth, whom I desire except You.

My strength and energy fail me. But my God is the rock of my life. He is sure and trustworthy, and He is all I need forever.

When I look, I see that all those who neglect God perish. God has destroyed all those who reject His values for false values of their own.

For me it is good to stay close to God. I have made Jehovah, the Lord, my refuge. And I will tell the world all God's works.

— David, Psalm 73

To Whom Shall We Go?

Once many of Jesus' followers lost confidence in Him and left Him. Jesus then said to the twelve disciples, "You don't also want to leave, do you?" Peter replied, "Lord, to whom shall we go? You have words of eternal life, and we have believed and have come to know that You are the Holy One of God."

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Finding the Roots Of Greatness

"We must find the roots of our national greatness once again," declared President Richard Nixon in his message to the joint session of the U.S. Congress on September 9.

Pointing out that our country has grown from its starting position as a nation of three million, living precariously on the edge of a vast wilderness, to our present position of economic leadership in the world, he said, "The much maligned American system has produced more abundance than any other system in the history of the world."

What he said is true — but it is incomplete. The American economic system has not functioned perfectly but it has worked better than any other system had ever worked, in producing more goods for more people — which can fairly be termed "abundance" — resulting in what has been called the affluent society.

Leave God Out?

But there is an area which was neglected in the president's speech.

In seeking to "find the roots of our national greatness," we must not overlook the character of the people who settled the land which was then a wilderness.

Is it not significant that the settlers who came to this continent on the Mayflower entered into an agreement called "The Mayflower Compact" — recognizing their reliance on God?

Is it not noteworthy that, in the schools established by the Puritans and the Pilgrims, the Bible was the basis of much of the education — even to the extent that a school for Adam and Z for Zebekus?

The president mentioned that some of us in recent years have been consulting their fears instead of their faith. True — and this is a negative view which can lead to difficulties and, perhaps, disaster.

But if we place our faith only in our nation and forget the faith in God which inspired the founders of the nation, we cannot expect to prosper permanently.

The roots of our nation's greatness were firmly planted in the Bible. This cannot be denied by anyone who has any knowledge of our early history.

Our first president, George Washington, said, "It is impossible to rightly govern the world without God and the Bible."

John Quincy Adams, sixth president of the United States, was a son of John Adams, our second president. John Quincy Adams said, "I have for many years made it a practice to read through the Bible once every year."

Abraham Lincoln declared, "I believe the Bible is the best gift God has ever given to man."

Must Recognize God

If we seek to find the roots of our national greatness and do not find the Bible there, we must be totally blind.

If we would re-establish the national character and the national purpose which led to the greatness which we now enjoy, we must return to the sound morality and the recognition of our dependence on God which marked our early national leaders.

This cannot be done by banning the Bible and prohibiting prayers in our public schools — nor can it be done by ignoring God in planning our nation's course of action.

If President Nixon mentioned God in his message to the Congress, I missed hearing it. Did God miss hearing it, too?

DKG Society Has Meeting

The Alpha State Chapter of Delta Kappa met for their first monthly meeting of the new year at the XIT Room of the Security State Bank in Littlefield. The event was a salad supper hosted by the Littlefield members with each member bringing her favorite salad.

Following the meal, a business meeting was held with President Joylene Costen of Muleshoe presiding. Roll call was answered by each member with information from the society handbook or constitution.

The program was presented by the constitution committee with Harriet Cummings of Littlefield as chairman of the committee.

Members attending from Sudan were Elsie Wilson, Mary Tollett, Hazel May and Thelma Wiseman.

The next meeting will be on Saturday, Oct. 2, in Muleshoe.

11 ACCIDENTS INVESTIGATED

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 11 accidents on rural highways in Lamb County during the month of August, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and only one person injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first eight months of 1971 shows a total of 55 accidents resulting in five persons killed and 34 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for August, 1971, shows a total of 581 accidents resulting in 25 persons killed and 400 persons injured. This was 17 more accidents, 13 less fatalities, and 76 more injured than during July.

Company Moves Fast To Block Hot Pants

M. Lowenstein & Sons, Inc., the first company to market popular-priced flame-retardant flannel, says it has extended its capabilities to include a wide variety of new fabrics which meet the Federal government's new flammability standards for children's sleepwear.

"Two and a half years before the Department of Commerce issued new flammability standards for children's sleepwear, we had developed and marketed 'Firegard' cotton flannel for use in infants' and children's pajamas, robes and nightgowns," according to Robert Bendheim, president and chief executive officer.

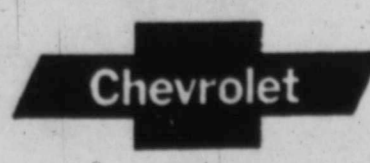

1972 Chevrolet. Building a better way to see the U.S.A.

We want your new Chevrolet to be the best car you ever owned.

The best. No qualifications. No reservations. We want it to be the most beautiful, most trouble-free, most comfortable car you ever owned. So we've given the 1972 Caprice (above) power steering, power front disc brakes, refined power ventilation and an improved front bumper to provide added front-end protection. Plus a 400-cubic-inch V8 engine and Turbo Hydra-matic automatic transmission.

All standard, as you expect with a luxury car. And Caprice is but one of the new Chevrolets. There are 45 in all: pictured below (left to right) are the 1972 Monte Carlo, Chevelle, Nova, Camaro and Vega. Altogether, a lot of diversity. So there's bound to be a Chevrolet just right for you, your family, your budget and your kind of driving. Whatever your choice, we want your new Chevrolet to be the best car you ever owned. No less.

HOMECOMING DATE SET

November 13 has been set as the date for the annual Homecoming activities for the students and teachers of Sudan High School.

Plans are being finalized and committees appointed for the program and decorations. The officers include Phillip Gordon, president; Raymond Harper, vice president; and Mrs. Calvin Vernon, secretary.

The meal will be served by the Band Parents Organization.

Teaching Permits To Be Issued

Emergency permits to teach in Texas public school classrooms will be issued only to applicants who hold at least a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university, beginning January 1, 1972.

A new stiffening of requirements, which will apply to renewal as well as first-time permits, was approved Saturday, Sept. 11, by the State Board of Education.

Exceptions will be made only for teachers hired for bilingual programs and for certain groups of vocational personnel and for military instructors assigned to Reserve Officers Training Corps units, under the new rules drawn up by the Texas Education Agency.

Teachers in bilingual programs may be granted an initial permit if they have a minimum of 90 semester hours of college credit. They may request two renewals while they complete work toward a degree.

Also beginning January 1, all Texas teachers employed on an emergency permit of any kind will be required to complete all requirements for certification within three years after the first emergency permit was issued, according to Dr. L. Harlan Ford, Texas Education Agency assistant commissioner for teacher education and instructional services.

"These new requirements are part of a total effort to upgrade the preparation of teachers for Texas public schools," Dr. Ford explains.

"We are working in many areas, including the actual course work offered and the whole student teaching process, to bring better teachers into Texas public schools."

Texas teachers applying for emergency permit renewals must now complete at least six semester hours toward full qualification in their school assignments and fill a college plan showing how they intend to fulfill all academic requirements within two years.

Emergency permit rules will be tightened still further on July 1, 1972. Applicants for permits to teach in secondary schools will then be required to have the minimum qualifications for one teaching field as detailed in the Standards for Teacher Education in Texas.

At the same time, elementary permits will be issued only to persons who have completed at least 12 hours in elementary education. A certified teacher must have completed 18 hours.

During the 1971-72 school year, 16,223 teachers will hold emergency permits, including 10,599 first-time and 5,624 renewals. More than 12,000 teachers hold at least a bachelor's degree, but are teaching outside their original fields in such critical areas as kindergarten and special education.

Some 2,000 have earned master's degrees outside the field of education and at least five hold the doctor of philosophy degree but have not had any formal teacher training.

Small Town Solves Water Clean-up Problem

The phrase "water pollution" conjures up images of urban centers struggling to upgrade treatment; of great rivers and lakes sinking into a near-lifeless algae soup.

Though accurate, these images reflect only the more dramatic side of the battle to turn back decades of neglect. The other side of the problem is as serene as any one of the thousands of small towns and suburbs that dot America.

Nearly half the U.S. population is without wastewater treatment facilities of any kind. Most of these people live in the 14,345 small communities with populations under 2,500 (1970 U.S. Census). Add to this the growing number of recreational, retirement and other developments not served by municipal facilities, and the problem looms large.

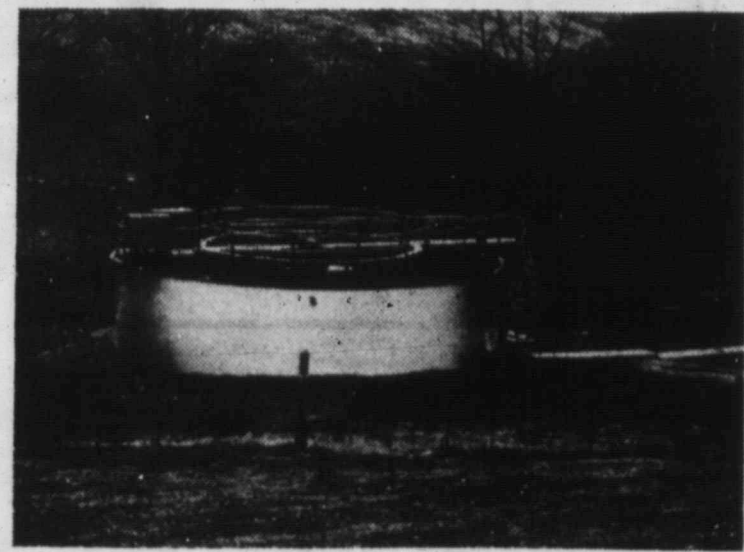

Brooksville, Ky., population 610, is a case history of how a small town can clean-up its water effectively and economically.

The heart of Brooksville's new facilities, actually what makes them financially feasible, is the "package" wastewater treatment plant pioneered by Clow Corp., specialists in environmental control products.

A package plant is pre-manufactured and delivered to its location where it is erected. These plants have been developed for small towns, suburbs, and other areas located away from municipal facilities.

Brooksville's plant handles an average flow of 35,000 gallons per day (gpd) and has a reserve capacity of 125,000 gpd for peak loading and future growth.

Water leaving the plant is 93% cleaned, a level considerably higher than that of many big cities. The cleaned water flows to a creek which later joins the Ohio River. Previously, Brooksville's buildings had septic systems.

Tailored to solving the wastewater treatment problems of small communities, this "package" plant at Brooksville, Ky., discharges water that is 93% clean to the Ohio R.

Package plants fill the special needs of smaller communities: initial and operating costs are modest; special operating personnel are not required; construction specialists are not needed.

Paul S. Galloway, Brooksville's city superintendent, describes how the town got its plant:

"First we pinpointed where funds were available and to what extent these sources would participate."

"Next we called in a consulting engineer who helped detail costs, funding, water consumption and rate figures, and many other factors."

Galloway and Mayor William Wallin presented the plan at a public meeting and gained 100% approval to move ahead.

They then applied to Farmers Home Administration and the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration for funds.

Located on Brooksville's outskirts, the package plant uses the "activated sludge" process to clean water, the same method used by almost all big cities. Primary, secondary and tertiary treatment is provided by the self-contained unit. No odor problems were created.

Should Brooksville's growth exceed expectations, the plant can be easily modified to increase capacity to 200,000 EPD.

Package plants that handle from 5,000 to 500,000 gpd are available. The smaller units serve schools, hospitals, toll-way plazas, etc., while the larger ones accommodate entire towns.

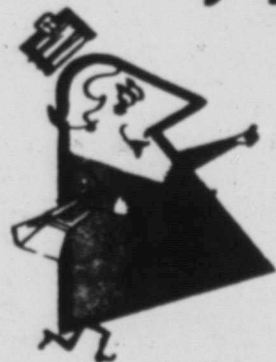

Developed primarily by WW II technology, these plants gained favor during the post-war population surge. Development has been accelerated by the current focus on water pollution.

Complete details on Brooksville's new water treatment facilities are available by writing: Brooksville Story, Clow Corp., Waste Treatment Div., 56 Industrial Rd., Florence, Ky. 41042.
