FORTY-EIGHTH YEAR NUMBER 4

SUJAN, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS

THURSDAY, MARCH 16, 1972

THERE ARE many persons in this nation, even in this city, who have physical disability of some kind, and the seriousness of these disabilities, plus the individual's own willingness to adjust to his own circumstances, are only a couple of factors determining how each of us learns to live with his own thorn in the

I say "each of us" because I have my own small physical problem, although I tend to forget it most of the time, and it really isn't a problem. Some persons who are crippled or otherwise impaired somewhat by birth, illness, accident or misfortune tend to become bitter about it and quite sensitive about their conditions. But most do not. Most adjust very well, not wanting sympathy, and not wanting anything except to be treated normally, and learning to accept without bitterness the fact that they have to have help from others in doing some things.

The man who can joke about his own problems has licked the problem, which is mostly psychological anyway.

I either have one leg shorter than the other, or one longer than the other, I'm not sure which. Anyway, it's not a big deal, but one person I know seemed a little startled when I told him I bought a lot in Arkansas because that hilly country is the only place I knew where I could walk level.

Robert (Ted) Gentry of Slaton, blinded by illness about 15 years ago, is a constant source of inspiration to those who know him. One who recognizes God as his source of strength, he also displays a keen sense of humor.

The other day at a meeting of Slaton Lions Club, when a representative of Wilson Lions Club challenged the Slaton group to a benefit basketball game, one Slaton member offered to be scorekeeper, to assure a Slaton win. Rosey-as many of the Lions call Gentry-then volunteered to officiate the game,

"I'll call 'em just like I see 'em," he declared, almost breaking up the meeting.

That reminds me of something which happened to another friend of mine, Dr. Gale Seigler of Plainview. Dr. Seigler has only one leg, the amputation coming when he was a young man, before he entered medical training. He said that one day while in medical school he was waiting for a bus, when a woman came by, and exclaimed with exaggerated sympathy, "You poor man-you've lost your

Gale says he looked down, then looked back up and retorted: "Well, darned if I didn't!"

A COUPLE OF 1941 Amarillo newspapers were brought by the office the other day by Bill Lane, who said they turned up at his house. The two issues were for Oct. 29 and Oct. 30, 1941. At that time the Germans were fighting the Russians inside the Soviet Union, and all our sympathies were with the Russians,

POSTMASTER SEEKS OPINIONS

Sudan Postmaster E. C. Minyard announced this week that local residents regarding the post office during the noon hour. The U. S. Postal Service has issued a preliminary statement concerning the hours in each day that the post office should remain open.

Minyard reported that an answer to the statement must be returned by May -1, 1972 to postal officials, It has been proposed that the most conventent hours for closing would be from 1 p. m. until 2:30 p. m. Minyard asks that you let your views on these hours be known or state what hours would be most convenient for you.

Girl Scout Week Observed

The Girl Scouts of America are celebrating their 60th birthday this week, March 12 through March 18. The Girl Scouts were organized in the United States on March 12, 1912 by Juliette Gordon Low. Mrs. Low had lived abroad for several years and became acquainted with the Girl

Nowadays we like the Germans better than we do the Russians,

The banner headline of the Oct. . 29 issue (remember all this occurred about five weeks before the stunning Pearl Harbor attack) was "Strikes Cripple Gun and Warship Output", Also from that issue we note that the University of Texas football team with Jack Crain and Pete Layden scoring like crazy, had hardly been tested, (If my memory is correct, they were derailed by TCU after being tied by Baylor later. That was the year the Rose Bowl then passed up Texas, chose Oregon, then in the last regular season game of the year, the Longhorns stomped Oregon 71-7). Also, "The screen's new comedy sensation, Red Skelton," was shown with Ann Rutherford in "Whistling in the Dark, "

I think I saw that last week on television.

Make Short Work of Greasy Cleanups

This busy homemaker gets through tough, greasy kitchen cleanups in a hurry-she uses the Original "Stanhome" Degreaser. In just seconds, it dissolves grease in pots and pans. Gets her out of the kitchen-fast-so she can join her family for Teisufe activities

But that's only part of the story. Degreaser is a boon when handwashing greasy dishes. And it readily wipes away grease and soil from walls, woodwork, stove tops and anything else that's washable. Even drains and gar; bage disposals can be kept free-flowing and grease-free

Available only from Stanley Home Products independent dealers, the Original "Stanhome" Degreaser is great in the laundry as well, helping to remove stubborn soil and grease spots from work clothes, collars and cuffs. And for the modern homekeeper who has economy in mind, more happy news. A single quart makes 64 gallons of dish-
