WOODWORK BY DALTON

THE LUBBOCK newspaper had an interesting article the other day regarding a popular (in some belief that the moon causes madness. It immediately brought to mind the old movies about the werewolf, who used to be a nice guy until the moon got full, then he'd stop, shudder, and perhaps fall down, and start growing hair all over. (It may be that we're letting some of our teen-agers stay out too much at night).

Writer Dan Carlinsky of Universal Science News had this to say: "Few folkloric beliefs are as old or as widespread as the idea that men and women are driven to a kind of madness when the moon is full, as it was on April 28."

This gives me a glimmer of an idea. You see, April 28 was my wife's birthday, when the moon was full. I can plead insanity, induced by the moon, of course, since I didn't buy a present.

Most people discount any possibility of moon madness. But among persons in the occupations of policemen, firemen, hospital workers and others there is widespread acceptance of lunacy-caused madness. Carlinsky points out that English words lunatic and loony come from the Latin word "luna," meaning moon.

Those who believe there is something to moon madness claim that the crime rate goes way up to full moon, and that there are more accidents. The accident theory might be explained by the fact that there is more light, one fellow said, with people moving around more and getting into accidents. Or maybe in the better light, the wild drivers can get a better shot at you.

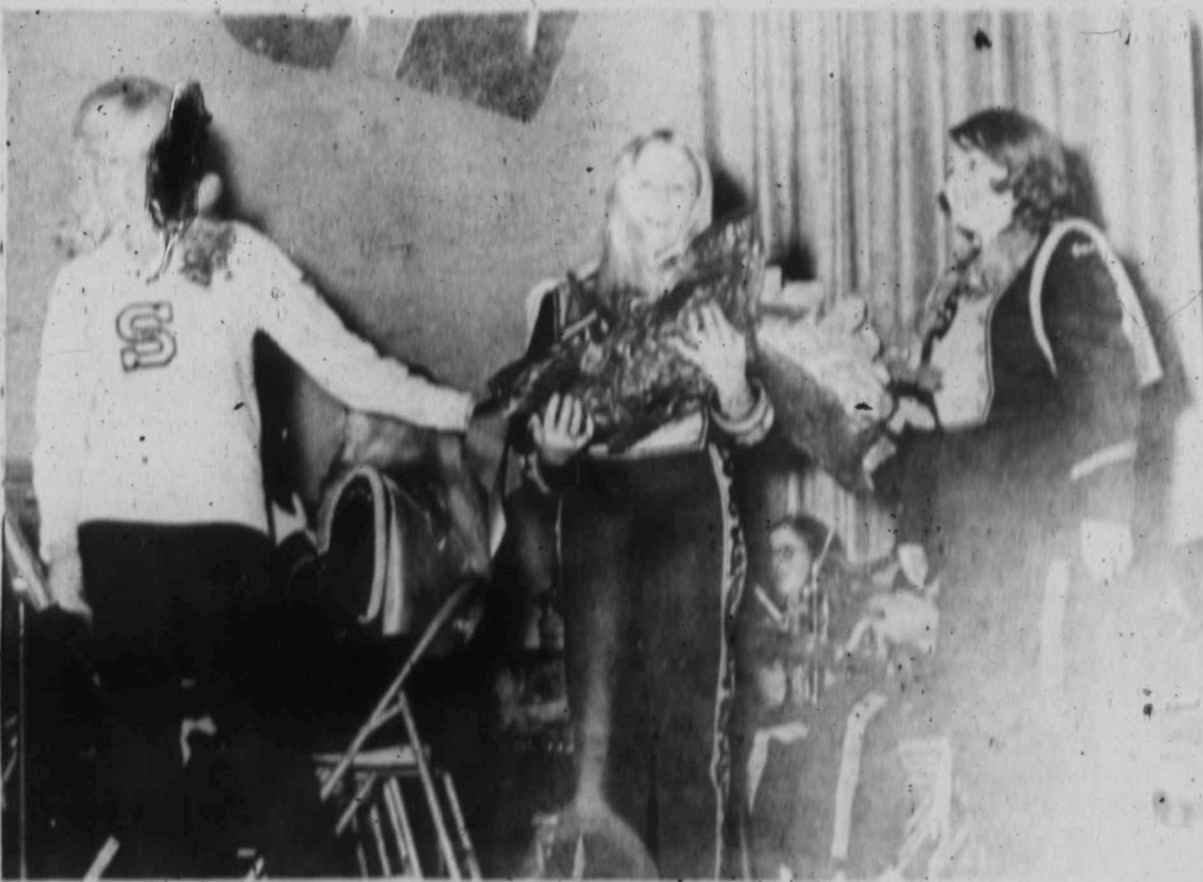

Scientists have conducted studies on the subject, and generally concluded that there's nothing to it, although some studies have indicated there really is more apparent lunacy during full moon time. Some say this is because people believe you're supposed to be nuttier at full moon, so they act that way. This sounds like some folks may be nutty all the time, only they figure they can let go and show it at high moon.

One officer interviewed by Carlinsky said this: "I don't know. I'm no authority. But the moon makes the tide, doesn't it? Some people say it gives off vibrations to us on earth."

I sure wish the moon would make a tide around here. We need it.

AS MOST of my insurance-selling friends know, I always have viewed the auto insurance industry as a Mafia-type group which has infiltrated the legislature and operate a scheme to separate car drivers from all their money. But the Insurance Information Institute has some clever writers on its staff and has come out with another yarn too good not to print, even if there is a little bit of leaning

A cake and pie auction with Richard Black as auctioneer, was held following the concert. Approximately $312 was added to the Band Parents Organization from the auction and admission fees and will be used to help purchase new band uniforms and other items for the band.

A Band Parents meeting was held following the concert when officers for the coming year were elected. Elected to serve are Wayne Swart, president; Tommy Moss, vice president; Floella Bagcus, secretary; Billy Doty, treasurer; Evelyn Ritchie, food chairman.

Some 57 band members and sponsors attended the "Sonny and Cher" stage show in Lubbock Friday night. 59 members of the elementary band and sponsors held a picnic in McKenzie Park Saturday and later rode the rides in the amusement park nearby.

toward the insurer slipped into the article.

One thing the institute points out is that gasoline tank explosions were much more prevalent than collisions as the basis for auto accidents at the turn of the century.

The reason for all this stuff about autos? It is National Automobile Month, and shouldn't we always observe such things? Of cars we should.

A Small Business Administration Workshop, co-sponsored by the SBA and the Southwestern Public Service Company will be held in the Reddy Room of the Tahoka office of Southwestern. Registration will begin at 1:30 p.m. with the first session at 2:00 p.m. on Thursday, May 18. "Money for Your Expansion" (Continued on inside)

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal gown of candlelight silk peau de soie and re-embroidered alencon lace. The fitted empire bodice featured an oval yoke of lace encrusted in seed pearls. The long puffed sleeves were fastened with tiny covered buttons. Lace appliques and seed pearls enhanced the pyramid skirt that was edged with deep scallops of re-embroidered lace. The tubular train fell from pearl encrusted lace.

The bridal veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of silk peau de soie, lace and seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was yellow roses with an orchid nestled in the center atop a Bible which was given to the bride by her sister, Georgia Ray.

For the traditional something old, the bride carried a 60-year-old handkerchief belonging to Nannie Ray. She borrowed pearl earrings from her grandmother and wore a blue garter. Her shoes served as something new and held pennies for good luck.

THE SUDAN BEACON NEWS, THURSDAY, MAY 18, 1972

MR. AND MRS. GARY KELLEY

The attitude prevails in Washington that Congress is almost certain to pass some sort of minimum wage legislation in this election year, including an increase in the minimum rate for both industrial and agricultural workers.

This is the report of Ed Dean, Field Service Director of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, following a recent meeting of the National Council of Agricultural Employers (NCAE). NCAE is an association of producers, producer associations and allied interests formed in 1963 to protect the interests of agricultural employers. PCC is a charter member of the organization and Dean is one of the organizing directors.

"Legislation to force a higher minimum wage in agriculture without regard for other economic considerations will intensify what is already a tight cost-price squeeze in the industry," Dean said. "We are strongly opposed to any and all such legislation," he added, "but these are strong political winds blowing against us."

Major activity in Washington now centers around three wage bills. The Senate Labor Subcommittee has reported S-1861 which would raise the minimum for industrial workers to $2.25 per hour in 1973. The minimum for farm workers, now $1.30 per hour, under S-1861 would equal the industrial base by 1974. The law would apply directly to employers using more than 500 man-days of labor in any quarter of a calendar year. It would require payment of $1.70 upon enactment, $2.00 a year later and $2.25 in 1974. Overtime exemptions contained in current law would remain intact for on-the-farm employees, but exemptions for processors, such as cotton gins, would be repealed.

The full Senate Labor Committee is scheduled to consider S-1861 soon, and there seems little doubt that it will be reported to the Senate floor. Chances for stopping it or softening it in the liberal-minded Senate look dim, according to Dean.

On the House side HR-7130, known as the Dent Bill, is still seeking clearance from the House Rules Committee. It would raise the agricultural minimum to $1.50 this year and to $1.70 in 1973 with no further scheduled increases. Like S-1861 it would phase out all overtime exemptions for processors and handlers of agricultural commodities.

The Administration is sponsoring a bill by Representative John Erlenborn (R-ILL.), H.R. 1404, which is to be offered as a substitute for the Dent Bill when it comes to the floor. The Erlenborn bill proposes the same wage increases as the Dent bill, but is slightly less onerous to NCAE in that it would maintain present overtime exemptions for processors.

Dean said NCAE would make a concerted effort to defeat all three bills. "But if it becomes obvious that this can't be done, we'll work for the least possible increase and for a bill which retains overtime exemptions at

TECH GRADUATES

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Kelley were among the 2,700 students awarded degrees by Dr. Grover E. Murray in commencement exercises at Texas Tech Saturday, May 13, at 8 p. m. in Lubbock Municipal Coliseum.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Dick West, and Mr. and Mrs. Guy F. Kelley of Earth.

Mrs. Kelley graduated with high honors and had been on the dean's honor list each semester of the four years while attending Texas Tech. She received a B. A. degree in Math and was a member of the Kappa Mu Epsilon math honorary society. She served on the executive council of the Baptist Student Union. She is teaching in the Lubbock Public School System.

Kelley received a B. S. degree in Math. He is a member of Phi Eta Sigma and Phi Kappa Phi scholastic honor societies, as well as Kappa Mu Epsilon where he was president of the organization. He will be a teacher's assistant in Math at Texas Tech while he continues his studies toward a Masters degree.

Dr. Murray introduced Dr. H. Guyford Stever, Director of National Science Foundation, who gave the commencement address.

all levels."

Tahoka cotton farmer Robert Warren was to have left around May 11 on a 19-day trip to Japan, Korea, Taiwan and Hong Kong as a member of a "cotton trade team" promoting sales of U. S. Cotton. All four countries are large users of High Plains cotton and the extent of their imports from this country has a significant effect on cotton prices from year to year.

Warren was named to represent producers on the team by Agricultural Secretary Earl Butz. The other producer representative was Robert Squires of El Paso.

Two sales teams, the other going to Western Europe, will be traveling at the same time under joint sponsorship of USDA and Cotton Council International. Both include cotton shippers and producer representatives in addition to CCI and USDA personnel. Leaders of the trade missions will be Kenneth Frick, Administrator of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, to the Far East, and Frank Knight, Associate General Sales Manager of USDA's Export Marketing Service, to Europe.

Warren's preparation for the trip has included talks with Harry Arthur, Associate Director of Textile Research Center at Texas Tech University. Arthur also serves as Textile Consultant to Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and PCC supplied Warren with comprehensive quality analyses and spinning test reports on High Plains cotton for use in "sales talks" with Far Eastern cotton spinners.

DAVE LLEWELLYN

A Word to The Tired

A message to American churches from Jesus:

"I know the way you are acting. You aren't cold, but you aren't hot, either. I'd rather you were cold or hot, because your lukewarm attitude makes Me sick and I am going to vomit you out of My mouth.

"You are apathetic. You say, 'We are rich. We can provide for ourselves. We don't need anything; we've got it all.' Don't you know? Your people are destitute. Their lives are miserable failures. In the things that count, they are impoverished, helplessly behind and helplessly blind and naked. You can't help yourself find real life, and yet you think you are rich!

"Take My advice. Come to Me and buy lasting wealth, the kind that can provide you with happiness and peace of mind. Let Me clothe your lives with truth and righteousness, so your shame is covered. Let Me heal your eyes, so you can see the really valuable things, without deception.

Shake Off Apathy.

"I love you. That's why I am pointing out your desperate condition. Repent, and regain your eagerness for spiritual living and let Me touch you again.

"Listen. I am still available. In fact, I am waiting for you to let Me talk to you.

"Don't give up. Those who can shake off their apathy and stand up to the pressures of success will share in My power and in My honor.

"Think about what I have said."

Jesus gave that message in Revelation 3. If the life has gone out of your faith, the message is for you. God is still powerful; you've just stopped believing in Him. Arguments about picky doctrines will do that to you. So will singing fake, namby-pamby hymns, or praying vaguely from habit about things that don't immediately affect you. Whatever the reason, if God doesn't influence your life it's not because He can't or doesn't want to.

If Jesus has shown you there's more to life than money or pleasure, if you have glimpsed spiritual realities, stop limiting your thinking to physical life.

Let Jesus Rule

If God has made you a new person, don't let that new "you" be enslaved by your old personality. Let Jesus rule your heart. Let Jesus' words come alive and revitalize your thoughts. Let Jesus' peace soothe your friendships. Let Jesus' love bind you together with other loving people and make you thankful.

Just consider all the old ways of thinking and acting dead, and look at the living Jesus. He'll change your mind. Listen to other people's helpful insights, and get together to sing about the God and the way of life you love.

And, whatever you do, put Jesus' name on it. Make your life a "thank-you" to God for your new life.

"Gay" Society?

A few years ago, there were some who referred to our society as a "sick society," while others vehemently insisted that it was not so. But there seems now to be a determined effort to make ours a "gay" society—or, at least, a society in which homosexuality is completely accepted.

In some places, this effort seems to be succeeding.

In New York City, Mayor John V. Lindsay has issued a directive to all city agencies to eliminate discrimination against homosexuals in hiring for city jobs. The City Council of East Lansing, Mich., has taken similar action.

When 96 delegates from 19 congregations of the United Church of Christ in the San Francisco area met in San Carlos, Calif., recently to consider ordaining William Johnson, an admitted homosexual, 62 of them voted in favor of ordaining him to the ministry. The ordination has been set for June.

Suggestions

Young ministers sometimes have a problem deciding what texts to use for their sermons. Here are a few suggestions:

"Thou shalt not lie with mankind as with womankind: it is abomination... Defile not yourselves in any of these things." (Leviticus 18)

"Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools. For even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature, and likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another, men with men working that which is unseemly... God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not fitting... who, knowing the judgment of God, that they which commit such things are worthy of death, not only do the same but have pleasure in them that do them." (Rom. 1)

"Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind, nor thieves, nor idolaters, shall inherit the kingdom of God." (1 Cor. 6)

Perhaps the young minister will also want to preach about the sins of Sodom, and their consequences.

"Incompatible"

But let this be said to the credit of the United Methodist Church. When the Methodist met in general conference in Atlanta in April, it was proposed that they take the position that homosexuals are "persons of sacred worth," but this clause was amended to specify that the practice of homosexuality remains "incompatible with Christian doctrine."

If we ever accept homosexuality as normal, our society may be "gay," but it will definitely be sick.

BUSINESS WORKSHOP

"Plans" will be the theme for the workshop which is designed to point out to present industries in the area the avenues for financial and technical assistance which will aid them in expanding their operations.

The speakers from the SBA, including Phillip J. O'Jibway, district director; Hall T. Martin and Carl Lightner, community economic development specialists and J. B. Hare, from the procurement and management assistance division, will advise participants on availability of direct government loans and community loans and how to get government contracts.

Frank Alagna of the Texas Industrial Commission in Austin will discuss the sources of assistance in employee training and Don Workman, vice president of the First National Bank of Lubbock, will speak on what a banker wants to know.

The West Texas Business Development Corporation, a new industry-financing plan, will be explained by Bob Brummal, chairman of the new corporation. Brummal is Southern Division manager for Southwestern Public Service Company.

Larry Milner, manager of industrial development for Southwestern, said the workshop would be of interest to manufacturers, businessmen and community leaders throughout the area.

"The very heart of industrial development is for area and community leaders to help those industries they already have expand and develop so they can play a bigger role in the economic growth of the region. This workshop is designed to help in that effort by emphasizing the opportunities that are available to existing small industries for financing and technical assistance from governmental and private sources," Milner concluded.

THE HIGHEST CHRISTIAN QUALITY

If one were to pinpoint the most important quality of the life of Jesus, that the Christian is to imitate in order to live a life that will count for God, it would not be an easy selection. The personality of Jesus was made up of all of the good qualities that an individual can possess and none of the bad ones. There are many qualities that could be considered. Of these are strong faith, compassion, obedience, patience, endurance, humility, friendliness, and many others. However, the answer to what is the highest Christian quality can be found as one turns to the scripture. In the thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians, we are given the answer when it says, "Faith, hope and love, these three, but the greatest of these is love." Love is the greatest Christian quality.
