DAVE LLEWELLYN

Is God Good?

Archibald MacLellan, in his play "JB," presents a paradox we all have pondered: "If God is God He is not good, If God is good He is not God."

If God is good and can do anything He wants, why is there evil in the world? Thoughtful Jews especially must face this question, and their responses are divided. Should God be praised for preserving His chosen nation through nearly 40 centuries of persecution? Or does the fact that God's allegedly special people have suffered so long prove that there is indeed no God?

Questions and reasoning like this are normal, but we should be careful before we judge paradoxes too harshly. For example: If people are dead they are not alive any more, are they? Yet the process of aging progresses ultimately to death and even a child growing up is aging. Also, since all the cells in your body are replaced by new cells every seven years or so, you have "died" several times already. The process of living is a process of dying. It's a paradox, but it is true nevertheless.

So the goodness and sovereignty of God in the middle of an evil world is a paradox too, but true.

God through Jesus reigns in our world, despite the fact that good people sometimes suffer and evil people often succeed. Jesus however does not rule by force, nor does He lead by giving orders. Because therefore He is unlike human rulers His control is easily misunderstood. Jesus reigns in two ways, both mysterious. First He leads personally and directly those who recognize Him and ask for His guidance, and He continues as their leader only as long as they want Him to.

The second way Jesus reigns affects both those who know Him and those who do not. Through His control of circumstances He directs the world to fulfill His plans unconsciously.

Believers who do not understand why they are beset with difficulties are encouraged to remember Jesus' mysterious control of events. "For we know," Paul explains, "that God causes everything to work together for good to those who love God." Unbelievers who may be ignorant of God, or even antagonistic toward Him, are subject to His control nonetheless. It's really very simple. A missed plane, a lost key, a sudden illness—little things beyond human control can sabotage the plans of the most powerful man. Thus, God says He "makes even the wrath of man to praise Him."

Why should God choose to lead privately and mysteriously? He wants you to be free to respond to Him voluntarily. Jesus never forced Himself on anyone; and He even submitted when men chose to kill Him. Thereby He left you with a real choice of whether or not to follow Him—not a demand.

DONNIE COWART
By a Friend

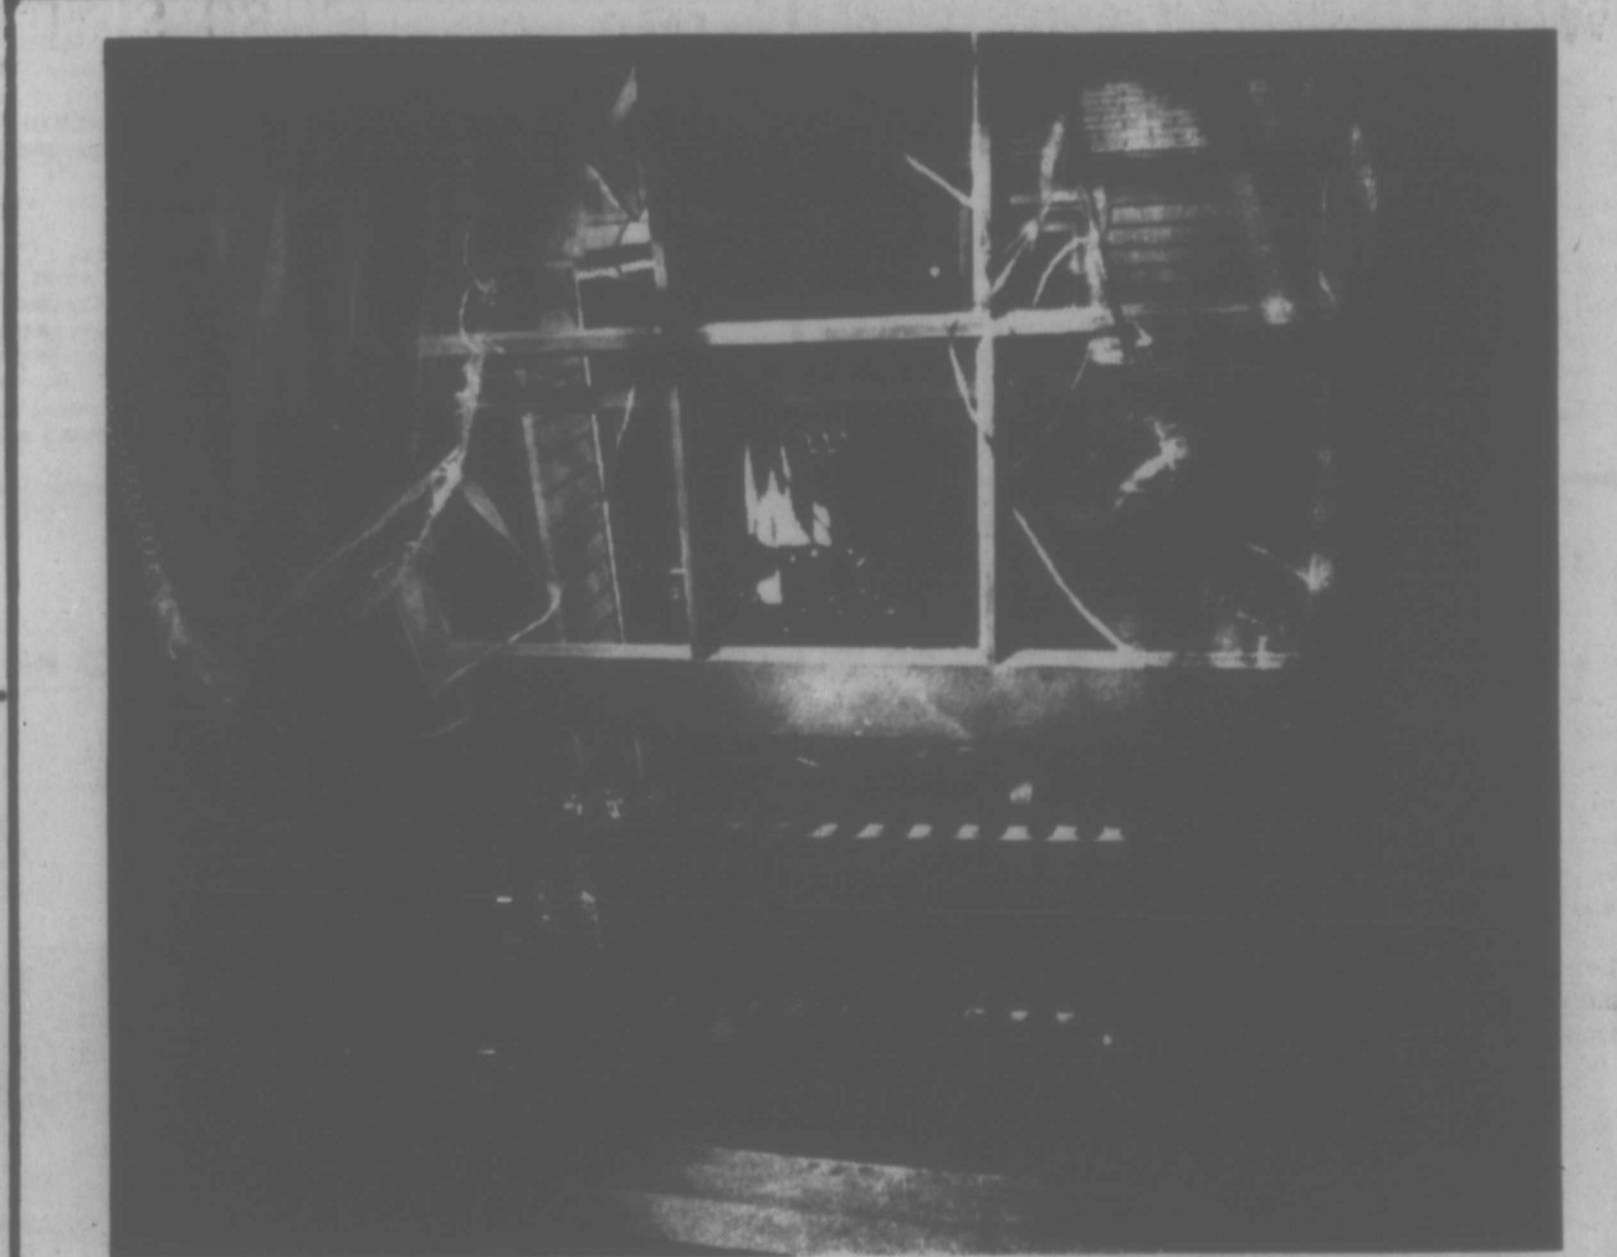

Donnie wasn't a Saint, at least for a while.
But the love and the spirit of God gave Donnie that certain smile with his Bible in his pocket and a prayer in his heart.
Donnie said, "Mary Lee, thank God for a new start."
Donnie said, "God's love is truly free, this is something very special to share with the family."
Born of the spirit, washed in the blood, children what God has given us could only come from above.
He was a BIG man, tender and sweet,
When God came into his heart it seemed to make him complete.
He would open the door and say with a smile,
"I thought I'd come in and harass ya' for a while."

At first he was worried and didn't know what to do,
Then Donnie said, "God, I'll just leave it to you!"
"Mary, look what God has done for me,
This is the most complete victory."
God's word in James says: He will have a perfect man.
Donnie said, "I'll never reach that, at least not on this land."

Donnie is perfect now and he's in that heavenly place and the final promotion was easy with God-given grace.

If your six year old saw something like this, would he know how to phone for help?

It's too important a question to leave to chance. That's why we're running this ad.
If there are any six- or seven-year-olds around your house, teach them how to report emergencies. Tell them to dial "0", give their name and tell our operator where they are and what's wrong.
With older children, train them to dial emergency numbers direct, since that's the fastest way to call for help. But don't stop there. Copy down the emergency numbers listed on the inside front cover or first page of your telephone directory. Add your family doctor's number. And the number of the nearest hospital. Next, tack up the list near your phone.
Then get your kids to memorize it, in case it gets lost. By the time they're through memorizing those numbers, they're going to have every grown-up in the house knowing them, too.
Which is also why we're running this ad.

Cherry Blossom Viewing Via Japan's Bullet Train

In Japan, it's springtime and cherry blossoms, just as forsythia symbolizes the spring season in the Western world. Weather forecasts begin to include the state of "The Blossom," reporting on the various stages of the cherry blossom buds as they begin to bulge and finally burst into the five-petaled delicate pink bloom. Japan's four major islands are covered in the forecasts, and with the report of the first sight of the pink flower in full bloom, cherry blossom season is officially open.

Some of the most beautiful cherry blossoms are to be seen in and around the former capital city of Kyoto. Whole mountainsides and valleys are transformed into a haze of pink blossoms providing breathtaking settings for hundreds of shrines and temples. And with the sakura in full bloom, Kyoto awaits the arrival of masses of tourists from all over Japan to enjoy and celebrate cherry blossom time.

The Japanese National Railways, operators of the crack 125 mph bullet trains between Tokyo and Okayama to the west, put on extra runs at the peak of the season. Speeding through some of Japan's most beautiful coastal scenery facing the Pacific, the 4-hour ride in clean, comfortable coaches is an experience well worth trying. The promise of a balmy spring day's outing among the cherry blossoms, with an occasional stop for refreshments, makes it a must for springtime visitors to Japan.

GIRLS GOLF

The girls placed second in the district tournament at Farwell, when the host team won first.

Among Sudan persons recently admitted to the South Plains Hospital in Amherst were Mrs. Velma Seymore, Mrs. Mildred Weaver, Mrs. Connie Fisher, Hulan Qualls, W. T. Hargeshelmer, E. W. Farmer.

The Word for Today

By Charles H. Robinson, Asst. P. R. Director
Bryan College, Dayton, Tennessee

Seth Pope, a peddler of Sandwich, Mass., many years ago, was ordered out of town because it was feared he would become a public charge. He returned 30 years later and bought out the entire town!

The Lord Jesus Christ came into the world the poorest of men. Cradled in a manger, with never a place of His own, He was despised and rejected of men, condemned as a criminal, and buried in another man's tomb.

But He rose from the dead and ascended up into heaven from whence He shall return to possess the world which once cast Him out. Wherefore God hath highly exalted Him, and given Him a name which is above every name: that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow... and every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father. Receive Him now as your personal Savior. He is the only way to heaven and God.

Farmcast

Compiled From Sources
Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Fantastic as it may sound, food today is still a bargain. Put the situation in its proper perspective and you realize this is true. While we complain about the high cost of food, most of the world population's major concern is finding enough food to just stay alive.

While we complain that beef steak and hamburger and bacon and broilers "are out of sight financially", two-thirds of the world's peoples are happy if they can find a piece of bread or any scrap of meat to help them survive from one day to the next.

Because of the production efficiencies of agricultural producers, food in this country is in abundant supply and is of top quality. We are the only nation in the world that can produce enough for ourselves and have leftovers for the rest of the world.

This has not come about by accident. It is the quiet revolution that has been going on all around us without fanfare or notice by consumers. Ample food production is this nation's greatest blessing. Agricultural producers have constantly been increasing production. This is one of the major reasons food is still one of the best bargains in our economy today.

Consider these facts as they relate to farm prices before blaming the farmer for high costs of food:

Farm prices for food are up only six percent from 20 years ago.

The farmer gets only 40 cents out of each dollar spent on food; the rest goes for transportation, processing, packaging and marketing.

During the last quarter of 1972, the average American family spent only 15.8 percent of his income after taxes for food. Even with increases in early 1973, the level is about 16 percent. Compare this with 23 percent 20 years ago.

Farm production costs have more than doubled in the past 20 years; hired help is up two and half times higher than 20 years ago while farm machinery has more than doubled.

Average wage rates per hour of non-farm production workers are more than two and a half times higher than 20 years ago. In 1950, non-farm production workers averaged $1.33 per hour; in 1972 they averaged 3.65 per hour; in 1973 it was up to $3.78 per hour.

While retail food prices went up 33 percent from 1965 through 1972, per capita income was increasing 62 percent.

SINCE 1950 if prices received by farmers for cattle had risen at the same rate as first class postage, cattle would now bring $72 per hundred pounds. Had cattle prices risen at the same rate as hospital care costs, cattle would now bring $179.89 per hundred pounds.

Although farm prices have shown some increases in recent months, agricultural income is still below the rest of the economy. Parity—that figure used to show how agriculture is faring with the rest of the economy—is about 80 percent, still 20 percent under the rest of the economy.

The prices the cattlemen get today for their livestock are only slightly higher than they were receiving 20 years ago.

Only six commodities are currently above parity; all others are at price levels below that ratio.

DDW WEEK PROCLAIMED BY GOVERNOR BRISCOE

Austin—Governor Dolph Briscoe recently proclaimed April 7-14 Defensive Driving Week.

The proclamation was issued to call attention to the need for immediate measures to combat traffic crashes in Texas through friendly and defensive driving.

"Driver error accounts for approximately 85 percent of all traffic crashes," according to Robert F. Miller, vice president for Traffic Safety, Texas Safety Association.

Miller stated, "DDC is a program designed to save lives, suffering and economic waste by preventing traffic crashes through better driving. DDC makes good drivers better and teaches them how to stay out of traffic troubles."

"The upswing of DDC activity since the State Board of Insurance decreed a 10 percent reduction in accident related automobile insurance to DDC graduates has been overwhelming. Since September 1, 1972, 1,300 instructors have been trained and over 400 Training Agencies have been approved by T. S. A."

"DDC graduates exceed 70,000 to date, with an increase of 1,000 per day. This means that 1,000 drivers a day are becoming better drivers."

Information on the Defensive Driving Course can be obtained

Key '73 To Hold Meet

"Key '73".
"It sounds like a very unique title doesn't it? Just what is Key '73? No, it isn't just a "word" followed by two numbers. It is a movement! Not only that, it is a "Doing". It is an interdenominational evangelistic movement around the continent calling us to witness to God's word. Are we going to be bypassed by this spirit-filled movement? No! We are going to react, and we are going to do it NOW!"

All persons who wish to find out about this "Key '73" and its work for Jesus are urged to come to the "Key '73" meeting at the local school cafeteria at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, April 17.

"Key '73" is a voluntary movement of more than 150 Christian denominations who are cooperating with each other in a massive campaign during 1973.

Following the theme: "Calling Our Continent to Christ", the participating denominations have planned things to do which will bring the common beliefs of all Christians forward to be seen by all. These events range from a massive Bible distribution that aims at placing a portion of Scripture in every home, to summertime rallies for Jesus.

The "Key '73" movement is

Results of a three day national meeting of MIAs and POWs were released at a press conference at the Holiday Inn in Westwood. Representatives from more than 70 MIA/POW organizations from around the nation had gathered to discuss the plight of over 1300 Americans who have not yet been accounted for by the Communists.

According to the spokesman elected to represent the groups, the decision to intensify efforts to obtain a full accounting of the largest cooperative program in the history of North American Christianity. Participation included most Protestant denominations, many Catholic dioceses and individual parishes, as well as many evangelistic associations such as the Billy Graham Association, Campus Crusade for Christ, and the American Bible Society. "Nearly 95 percent of all Christians are related to "key '73" through their denominations.

You are missing a great opportunity to share in the building up of the Body of Christ if you don't see if you want to participate in "Key '73". Come to the meeting and discover whether you fit into this work for Jesus or not.

these men, was unanimous.

Mrs. Gloria Coppin, chairman of the VIVA National Advisory Board, reported that the group also voted unanimously that it was premature for anyone to discuss building monuments of any kind at this time.

According to Mrs. Coppin, "Close to 300 MIA/POW family members representing almost every organization in the nation, are requesting that everyone please keep their bracelets until this issue is resolved. In the meantime, they are encouraged to change to an MIA bracelet but should not send the POW bracelet to anyone."

The major concern of all attending the session was that no money be spent on rebuilding Vietnam until they provide a full accounting of our men. George Brooks, father of a MIA and member of the Board of Directors of the National League of Families stated, "If North Vietnam expects the United States to provide financial aid then we expect Hanoi to first give a full accounting of all men missing-in-action in all of Southeast Asia.

According to Mrs. Jane Duke, MIA mother, representing POW/MIA concern, Houston, Texas, "It is imperative that every American recognize the inaccuracies of the list that was provided by North Vietnam. Ron Dodge, whose picture taken in captivity has been reprinted extensively, was one of 53 known POWs whose names did not appear on the list. We are requesting that President Nixon and Congress declare June 3, 1973 as National MIA Day, to concentrate attention on the fact our task is not completed."

It was also decided that an effort should be made to obtain a Congressional hearing on the MIA issue and a comparative study of previous prisoners of war released by the Communists.

Col. Earl Hopper, USA (Ret.) and State Coordinator of Arizona families, said "An appeal will be launched to request Congress to attach a rider to all appropriations and defense bills assuring that none of these funds be spent on North Vietnam until a full accounting of the men is obtained."

Over 50 recently returned prisoners of war, many of whom had been attending the meetings, were honored at a dinner Sunday, April 1.

WHAT'S NEW IN EDUCATION?

by William A. Fowler, M.Ed.

Many readers have written to me about home study courses. Here are the answers to some of their questions.

Do many people study this way?
More than five million students are enrolled in home study courses right now. The alumni total more than 75 million.

Can people learn as well studying at home?

Newest are the three-way hairsetters permitting a conditioning set for dry hair, a steam set for loose waves and curls, and a regular set for long-lasting curls. Machine-age beauty at its clever best!
