FORTY-NINTH YEAR

NUMBER 12

SUDAN, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS

THURSDAY, MAY 10, 1973

—by dalton

THERE MAY not be a special season for tall tales, but if there is, we must be in it. At a gathering of the indolent the other day, we heard three whoppers of fish stories in just a few minutes.

It was started by someone bragging about what a fish he had caught over the weekend, and implying that it was a considerable feat deserving recognition for this fellow's strength, ability and intelligence, and we ought to all walk ahead of him strewing his path with rose petals and holding back the eager crowds of illiterate peasants.

I sneered at him (I didn't get to go fishing last weekend) and said his story reminded me of the fellow who claimed he finally landed a fish which put up such a terrific fight that when he brought it in, the fish was sweating.

A preacher in the group then had to tell about one of these guys who does more drinking than fishing and who finally passed out on the bank with his line in the water and with just a few drops of whiskey left in the bottle. Another fisherman came along, on his way in from a long day, and saw the drunk with his line in the water. This second fisherman just had one minnow left, and it was almost dead, but he thought he might throw in his line there for just a moment. Thinking it might revive the minnow, he poured a couple of drops of the hooch in the minnow and threw in the line. Immediately he got a big strike and pulled in a giant catch. He looked to see where he had hooked the big bass, and discovered that he hadn't hooked it at all; the minnow had the bass by the throat.

Another fellow said he believed he could top that one, and started telling about the fellow who caught a fish that was so big he couldn't find any scales around the resort to weigh it on. But he really did want everyone to know what a gigantic catch he had made, so finally he decided he'd just take a picture of it, since none of the scales could weigh it. He did, and the picture weighed 8 pounds.

That just about did it, so far as I was concerned, and I tried to quit listening as the conversation got worse and worse, branching into fields other than fishing. I didn't get it all, but the last I heard, someone was telling something about a man driving a donkey through the desert, with the donkey loaded with popcorn. It was so hot, he said, that the popcorn started popping all over the place. The poor donkey thought it was snowing, and laid down and froze to death.

EVER HAVE TROUBLE getting some joker to dim his lights? Of course you have, and if one proposal that has been mentioned (Nation's Business, February) should be adopted, you ain't seen nothing yet. And you may not see anything then, either, because the oncoming driver's headlights would be twice as bright as they are now. The Department of Transportation suggests that starting in 1975 high beam illumination be increased

Mrs. Bryant Rites Held

Funeral services for Mrs. Nanette Pairlee Bryant, 77, a former resident of Snyder, were held at 2 p. m. Sunday in the First Baptist Church of Sudan. Officiating were Rev. Wayne Perry of Lubbock and the Rev. Eddie Freeman, pastor.

Burial was in Sudan Cemetery with Payne Funeral Home of Amherst in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Bryant died Friday in Memorial Hospital in Henderson after an extended illness.

A native of Robertson County, Mrs. Bryant and her late husband, Allen W. Bryant, also have lived in Clovis, N.M. They were long-time residents of Duncan, Okla., and of Sudan. Mrs. Bryant was a member of Ireland Baptist Church, Clovis.

Survivors include two sons, Floyd of Tucumcari, N.M., and the Rev. Thurman Bryant of Liberty, Mo.; three daughters, Mrs. Leona Hall of Tucumcari, N.M., Mrs. Irene Coffel of Pasadena, Tex., and Mrs. Laverne Parton of Henderson; three brothers, Joe McClellan of Fresno, Calif., Delbert McClellan of Elmer, Okla., and Vance McClellan of Pampa; three sisters, Mrs. Eddie Bryant of Portales, N.M., Mrs. Lillie Marker of Duncan, Okla., and Mrs. Minnie Revis of Long Beach, Calif.; 12 grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

by 100 per cent to counter a tendency of drivers to overdrive their headlights—not being able to see far enough ahead to ensure safe stops.

Headlights that strong would singe your eyeballs and cause more accidents than they would prevent. It would be better for the drivers to go slower.

WHAT IS A WATERGATE?—Okay, that sounds like a dumb question, but actually I don't know. I freely admit that I'm just not too interested in all the bickering between political parties, and I have neither read any of the Watergate stories all the way through nor have I listened to any of the radio or boob tube commentary on it. All I know is that the GOP got caught snooping on the Demos.

Apparently I'm not the only one who pays little attention to political scandals. I asked several persons around the office what a Watergate is, and nobody knew for sure (except that it was a big scandal about electronic eavesdropping). I thought maybe it was a building. Another said he first thought it had something to do with irrigation problems, but later decided it must be the name of one of the persons involved in the scandal. Someone else suggested it might be a commode lid.

Anyway, whatever it is or was, it seems to me there ought to be something better to write about. I can't imagine anyone wanting to eavesdrop on a bunch of politicians anyway, if they didn't have to do it.

REGISTRATION FOR KINDERGARTEN SET

Registration days for kindergarten students in Sudan Public Schools for 1973-74 will be May Miss Phyllis Ray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ray, placed second in the state typing competition last weekend in Austin.

14 and May 15 at Sudan Elementary School. The kindergarten program in Texas is provided for in House Bill 240, which specifies that a child to be eligible to attend free kindergarten in 1973-74 must be five years, seven months old or must be "educationally handicapped." An "educationally handicapped" child is defined as one "who cannot speak, read, or comprehend the English language words that are necessary for normal progress in first grade or one from a family whose annual income is $3,000 or less."

Parents of eligible children should register the children on May 14 or May 15 if they have not already registered them. They should bring a birth certificate and health record if they have them.

YEA, HORNETS!! Leading the cheering section during the 1973-74 school year during the football and basketball seasons will be the following cheerleaders: Mary Ann Bellar, junior and head cheerleader; Chyrel Phillips, sophomore; Phyllis Ray, junior; Jo Gaye Doty, senior; Debbie Ritchie, senior; and Pam Davison, freshman. They were elected last Wednesday in tryouts by the student body of Sudan High School. (Staff Photo)

SOUND ADVICE

May—Better Hearing Month

The observance of Better Hearing Month during May should be a reminder to everyone that an annual physical check-up is not complete unless the check-up includes a hearing test, according to officials of the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation.

The crusade is sponsored by Chicago-based Beltone Electronics Corporation, world leader in hearing aids and electronic hearing test instruments, as a means of building public awareness to the vitally important need for hearing conservation.

The steadily increasing noise levels that most persons are subjected to today in just carrying out their normal activities makes the need for having an annual hearing test even more important than it was just a few years ago. This is true because prolonged or continuous exposure to excessively loud noise is regarded as one of the primary causes of hearing losses.

The crusade officials pointed out that while having a hearing test will not protect a person from developing a hearing loss, or will not alleviate a loss that has occurred, it is the important first step most hearing loss victims must take toward obtaining help for their handicaps.

Because most hearing losses develop very gradually, the victim frequently is not aware of the problem until his loss has become severe and sometimes so handicapping that the individual no longer is able to function normally on the job or in social contact situations.

16,000 Youths Killed

Bloomington, Ill. — (HK) — More than 16,000 people under 25 died last year on our streets and highways, according to State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company, the nation's largest auto insurer. Drivers under 25 were in 9,900,000 accidents, 22,900 of which were responsible for the deaths of one or more persons. As drivers, they have the highest accident rate—35 percent.

4-H Report

LUBBOCK—South Plains 4-H'ers in 14 of 20 counties in Extension District 2 today (May 5) qualified to compete in the State 4-H Roundup by taking top prizes at the district contests on the Texas Tech campus.

About 450 4-H boys and girls competed in the event, which included 24 contests. The first round of district competition, including dairy cattle, horse, and livestock judging, was held in mid-April.

Swisher County 4-H'ers captured the most qualifying wins of any county. They are eligible to compete in ten events at the State Roundup which will be held June 5-6 at the Texas A & M University.

To qualify for the state contest, a team or individual must have a first or second place win in the senior division which is for 14-year-olds and older.

Lamb County came up with four qualifying wins. They included Lynette Spencer of Littlefield, second in Clothing Education; Glen Branscum of Mule shoe, first in Public Speaking; Jennifer Templeton of Earth, second in Foods Nutrition - Let's Speak Out; Gary Gartin, Dirk Green and Matt Williams, all of Muleshoe, first in Rifle Contest. High Individual was Gary Gartin.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Where Is Mother?

What has happened to Mother—the Mother that we used to love and look up to—the Mother who was interested in her children, her husband, her friends and neighbors, and her church?

With all the current clamor about women's liberation, abortion, and freedom to indulge in unbridled passion, we seldom hear anything of Mother any more.

Has she vanished from the scene? Is she an extinct species?

No.

Then where is she?

Right where she has always been. At home. Conspicuously interested in her children, her husband, her friends and neighbors, and her church.

Alive and Well
She hasn't changed much, really. She doesn't even especially care that she isn't being noticed.

Oh, of course, she wants her family and friends to notice her. But if the world seems unaware that she is still around, she doesn't mind.

And she doesn't want to be "liberated." She gets a thousand times more satisfaction out of the fact that her husband is succeeding in his chosen work and that her children are doing well in school than her "liberated" sisters do out of their frenzied plunging from one tawdry romance to another, and another, and another.

Yes, Mother is alive and well—in her home, which is where she wants to be.

Mothers have always been important. Perhaps, now, when the world sometimes seems to be programmed to self-destruct, mothers are more important than ever. Children need a stabilizing influence in their lives. They need constant encouragement, too, to do their best in spite of difficulties.

"She Shall be Praised"

Charles Dickens said, "I think it must somewhere be written that the virtues of mothers shall be visited on their children, as well as the sins of their fathers."

Everyone knows that Abraham Lincoln said: "All that I am, all that I ever hope to be, I owe to my angel mother."

Not so many know that he also said, "No man is poor who has had a Godly mother."

Thomas A. Edison's testimony was: "My mother was the making of me. She was so true, so sure of me, and I felt that I had someone to live for—someone I must not disappoint."

In the book of Proverbs there is a capsule characterization of Mother: "She openeth her mouth with wisdom and in her tongue is the law of kindness. Her children arise up and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her. Favor is deceitful and beauty is vain, but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised."

Let's give Mother the credit that she deserves.

TOPS Club Holds Meet

Tops 634 met Monday afternoon with ten members present. The meeting began with the group reciting the Tops Pledge in unison.

Upon their arrival, each member weighed in. A weight loss of 5 1/2 pounds was recorded.

Highlighting the meeting, was a report from three members who had returned from the State Recognition Day at Fort Worth.

They were Ramona Engram, and Mayfair Graves. The next State Recognition Day will be in Corpus Christi in March, 1974.

Bloomington, Ill. — (HK) — Many, if not most, of those killed in home fires each year would be alive today if they had had a family fire escape plan, according to State Farm Fire and Casualty Company. If you don't have such a plan already, says State Farm, the nation's largest insurers of homes, you should devise one. Then go through it with members of your family and make sure they all understand it. Practice it well enough to follow it without seeing. You might have to if you are blinded by smoke.

Plans are being made for all local members to attend at that time.

The meeting adjourned with the singing of Tops songs.

All are invited to attend these meetings which are held each Monday at 3:30 p.m. in the Community Center.

DAVE LLEWELLYN

I Agree . . .
But

No people argue like close friends and relatives. Naturally, living together and seeing perhaps too much of each other have something to do with it. What can you discuss for so long? Daily papers and sports events supply some conversational substance, yet among intimate acquaintances such superficial conversation can not long suffice. What can people who think and live alike talk about meaningfully?

Most of the time they exchange affirmations and prejudices already familiar to all. If they continue, however, they will eventually uncover small variances of opinion, and subsequently all conversations will tend toward these topics. In conversation, as in magnetism, opposites attract.

So with the church. Why do Christians disagree? Mostly because they need something new to talk about. (Those whose spiritual lives are more experiential than intellectual are less apt to argue.) Outsiders are amazed to find Christians contending with each other about theology, but that is because they agree about so much. The complexity of the Christian life can be appreciated only through the experiences of many diverse individuals. Not to say disagreements about basic theology never appear. For most believers, though, the basics are settled and agreed upon. Understanding of less explicit truths varies.

For the sake of unbelievers I might wish it were otherwise — that our unity were Sunday School Lesson for May 13, 1973 as apparent on the surface as it is underneath. Yet this is not possible. All of us come to God from different directions. With radically diverse lives, different aspects of God's message appeal to our immediate attention. These we naturally emphasize. Also, predictably, we gather with believers whose thoughts are most helpful to us, that is to say (usually) whose lives resemble ours. Thus denominations develop.

Later, doctrinal disputes clarify the distinctions among groups of believers, but the initial divisions rise from circumstance and temperament as much as anything, and denominations usually (and local church bodies certainly) continue to reflect the personalities of their members.

What about the vaunted Christian Brotherhood? The unity of the Spirit really exists, as a result of the Holy Spirit's presence in every believer's life. The unity of knowledge, however, is a goal to be approached but never attained (Ephesians 4:3, 13).

Conclusions: Beneath their disputes, all believers in Jesus are truly brothers and sisters.

There is no "right" denomination, although some are unquestionably more Biblical than others.

In the presence of unbelievers, Christians should emphasize their basic agreement concerning God.

Intellectually honest agnostics should beware of evaluating Christianity superficially.

The report for the first quarter operations of the company will be mailed to the stockholders about May 11.

Lions Clubs Achieve One Million Members

OAK BROOK, ILLINOIS—Bernard A. "Barney" Gill (left), of Virginia Beach, Va., has been recognized as the one millionth member of the International Association of Lions Clubs, according to Lions President George Friedrichs, Anney, France. Lions International is the world's largest service organization with more than 26,000 clubs in 148 countries and geographical territories around the world. It is the first service association to reach one million members. In special ceremonies conducted at the Association's Oak Brook, Ill., headquarters, Gill received a special plaque from Phil W. Sterker, of Basalt, Colo., Chairman of the Membership Club Service Committee of the International Board of Directors. Gill, 45, a retired Army Lieutenant Colonel and Viet Nam veteran, is Executive Director of the United Drug Abuse Council, Inc., a planning and coordinating agency for all drug related problems in the Tidewater region of Virginia. He resides in Virginia Beach with his wife, Nancy, and their five children, and is a member of the Virginia Beach Oceana Lions Club.

PLANTING RATE A CRITICAL DECISION FOR COTTON PRODUCERS

Cotton producers are now faced with numerous decisions about planting, and not the least among them is the question of planting rates, says an area cotton specialist.

According to Dr. Robert B. Metzger of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Lubbock, seeding rates will vary according to row width, seed quality, and whether production is under irrigation or dryland.

"Due to low quality seed this year," says Metzger, "planting rates in many instances will have to be increased by 25 percent or more, depending on the level of germination."

Explains the agronomist, "The optimum plant population for the conventional 40-inch row width is 40 to 50 thousand plants per acre. This population is equivalent to three or four seedlings per foot of row. Assuming 70 to 75 percent emergence, this would require five to six seeds planted per foot of row or approximately 20 to 25 pounds of seed per acre. It should be emphasized that to get 75 percent field emergence, a laboratory germination of 80 percent or higher is required."

For those considering narrow row cotton production, he explains, an average of three plants per foot of row is still a good rule of thumb. For 20-inch single rows or double rows on 40-inch beds, 75 to 80 thousand plants per acre is an ideal plant population.

PIONEER BRAND Yellow Sorghum stands stress! 8417

... lifesaver when stress threatens!

Planted as late as June 1 (June 15 in some areas), medium maturing 8417 yields big like full-season varieties. Strong stalks stand up to wind. Uniform height, full open heads make threshing easy. Irrigated or non-irrigated, 8417 makes big yields.

Vacations for Moms

Luxury is what you really love on a vacation, such as an opulent hotel or spa can provide. But your family's idea of a fun time is camping out.

"Hah!" you say, "same cooking and cleaning chores for me without the modern conveniences." But the majority rules, and camping it is, whether by trailer, tent or camper.

There's hope for you, however, if you'll get a family consensus on a few procedures that will be followed:

- They will pack and unpack all equipment and their own clothes, with some supervision and help from you of course; prepare most of their own breakfasts, lunches, and all in-between snacks (you agree to cook the dinners); and agree not to "bug" you when you're in the middle of a good book or that needlepoint project you started months ago.

- You will leave all unnecessary beauty products at home and let nature take its course; won't bore yourself and your family with diet and exercise talk (and let nature take its course), and will organize a menu and duty chart involving all hands.

This may sound like selfish let-yourself-go advice. It isn't really. You might even find that one of your crew really likes to cook.

After your own duties of food shopping, gathering medical supplies, towels, tablecloths and utensils... it's your vacation, your own trip.

Here are suggestions for your own "let nature take its course" packing (as a rule of thumb, the less the better):

1. A makeup kit that fits into your suitcase packed

2. Light polyester pants, tops, a sweater, swimsuit and coverup, heavy jacket and a comfortable pair of walking shoes and beach sandals should fill the clothing bag. Scarves keep hair cleaner, lessen sun-drying and look attractive when wrapped neatly.

3. Pack a piece of corkboard and stick pins for the recipes and daily duties. Simplify food preparation with convenience foods. Even the kids, for example, can make their own sandwiches using one of the varieties of The Spreadables meat salad sandwich spreads. These require no refrigeration until opened.

For extra tips on camping and outdoor cooking, send for a copy of Carnation's "outdoor living" cookbook. Write to "Take It Easy Cooking" Cookbook, Box 760, Pico Rivera, California 90665.

SPC PRE-REGISTRATION FOR FALL TERM HAS BEEN DISCONTINUED

South Plains College will not have a formal Pre-Registration for the Fall Semester of 1973. The summer pre-registration program that has been conducted during the past few years has not been generally satisfactory and has been discontinued, according to Dr. Charles Sylvester, Dean of Admissions and Registrar at SPC.

For the Fall Semester of 1973, a two-day registration period will be conducted on Monday, August 27 and Tuesday, August 28. Classes will begin at 8:00 a. m. on Wednesday, August 29.

Students who are currently enrolled and plan to attend South Plains College next fall are encouraged to sign up for a registration time. Those students who wish to reserve a registration time should report to the Registrar's Office in the Administration Building, any time during final examination week, May 14-17. Registration permits will be mailed during the summer to those students who reserve a time.

During the summer, the college counselors will be available to help students plan their program of study at South Plains College the next school term. The counselors will help the students work out a tentative class schedule and will also help the student to plan the courses to be taken, to satisfy the requirements for the student's major.

Prospective students are encouraged to visit the South Plains College campus and make use of this counseling service. These students may also pick up a Registration Permit while they are on campus.

For further information, students may contact Dr. Charles Sylvester, Dean of Admissions and Registrar at South Plains College, phone 894-4921.

Beginning in the Fall Semester of 1973, the Choir at South Plains College will undergo a different type of organization. In order to make the choir more versatile, having a wider type of entertainment, the organization will consist of only 16 voices, eight men and eight women, selected by auditions.

Plans for this group include singing a wide variety of songs, such as Pop, Madrigals, Gospel, Classic, Musical Comedy and others. Many such numbers will perhaps be done in costumes. With a hand picked group such as this even quartets, trios, octettes and the like can be formed.

There is a need for other entertainment groups on campus for those in organization now are overworked, causing those students to be absent from classes too often, making grades suffer. Scholarships will be available for those who can qualify and are chosen for the groups.

BRIGHT IDEAS
BY MARY KAY OSWALD

What is aluminum foil? It's pure aluminum; a large block of the solid metal is rolled, much as pie crust is rolled, until it becomes a long, thin, continuous sheet. It's fireproof, lightproof, moistureproof, odorproof, greaseproof and recyclable.

did you know...
• You can use your griddle as a warming tray. If food is not to be served right away, cover lightly with a sheet of aluminum foil and set control dial at 160°F to 200°F. When heating frozen dinners, cover each tray with aluminum foil.
• Frozen foods require a moisture-vapor-proof covering in order to retain top quality. Use Reynolds Wrap.

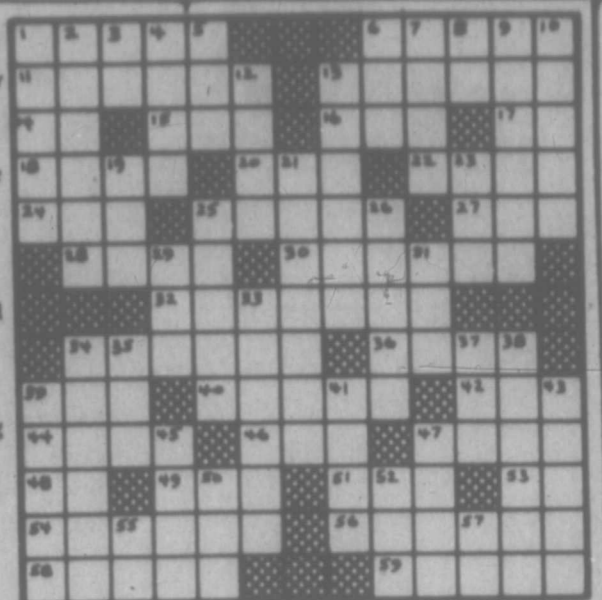

• Aluminum foil rolled into a ball and used like a scouring pad does an excellent job of removing rust from auto bumpers and metal trim. It can also be used to polish metal lawn and kitchen furniture.

• Fireplaces lined with Reynolds Wrap will reflect more heat, use less fuel.
• Lunches wrapped in aluminum foil keep fresher. Sandwiches do not dry out and raw vegetables keep crisp. Custards, canned fruits or other soupy items can be carried by making a cover of Reynolds Wrap for the container.

• Drawers and shelves lined with aluminum foil are easy to keep clean and are very attractive... especially good in the kitchen, for medicine cabinet shelves and in cosmetic drawers.

Answer to Puzzle

SUPPORTING YOUR TOWN

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole, half or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a two-line space.

A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town by looking at the paper. This is the best possible town advertising. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town, but refuses to advertise his own, is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising business man".

P. S. How many new residents and out of town shoppers saw your name and business today; this week?
