I NEVER MET Hal Boyle, but when I read of his death recently, I still felt as if I had lost a good friend. For perhaps 20 years at various daily newspapers, I edited columns written daily by Boyle, and put headlines on them, and I grew to admire him greatly. He had a delightful sense of humor and a way of deflating some of the big winds without seeming to be vicious about it. I liked his style as he wrote daily in afternoon newspapers which subscribe to the Associated Press.

His was mostly a humorous column, as are those by the other two or three columnists I prefer. Among my own favorites are syndicated columnist Erma Bombeck, Kathryn Duff of the Abilene Reporter-News, and George Dolan of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

IT'S GOING to be tough on some candidates to talk only about what they intend to do when elected, instead of running down the other guy, if a plan to make it illegal to lie about a candidate for public office becomes a reality.

Writing of the difficulty of being truthful reminds us of the woman filling out the employment application. She came to the line marked "age" and hesitated for a long time. Finally the personnel manager leaned across his desk and whispered to her: "The longer you wait, the worse it gets."

A GOOD FRIEND of ours runs a store (Beall's) in Bryan. The other day he told me that an Aggie came into his store and asked if they had any boxes to give away. They did, but he wanted one two inches wide by two inches deep and 60 feet long. Seems he had just bought a home and the previous owner had left his clothes line on the property. . . Yeah, the Aggie was going to mail it to him.

BARTER SYSTEM MAY BE KEY TO STABILIZING PRICES

A return to the centuries-old 'barter system' on certain agricultural products may be the key to our future in stabilizing food prices, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said recently.

"Our farmers and ranchers desperately need a dependable source of fuel and fertilizer to produce in abundance," White said. "Other oil producing nations in Central and South America and the middle east need an assured supply of food. A fair exchange of products which will not depend on the fluctuations on the international money market has been proposed for study."

Commissioner White was in Washington recently to discuss the exchange program with representatives of oil producing nations.

"In these days of monetary fluctuations over the world, farm products from Texas and the U. S. have more appeal, and stable value, than dollars," White explained. "If we can 'barter' food for a steady source of fuel and fertilizer, we can produce enough products to bring our own inflationary food spiral under control."

"It is my hope that the Washington meeting will open up further discussion on exchanging food for petrochemical products. It is as simple—and complex—as that," the 49-year-old Commissioner noted.

"Oil producing nations have a huge supply of dollars but there is fierce competition on the world market for grain and meat. Our own food prices reflect that competition. A fair exchange would help solve a number of mutual problems," White said.

DEMOCRATS SELECT DELEGATES MAY 4

Texas Democrats will start the selection of 76 national delegates when they gather at more than 5,000 precinct conventions on May 4, primary election day.

And party leaders are urging everyone—especially women, youth, minority groups and senior citizens—to participate.

"When you vote on election day, you automatically elect yourself a delegate to your precinct convention," said John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture and chairman of the Texas Affirmative Action Committee.

TAAC was formed early this year to inspire more involvement from the traditionally under-represented groups in the Democratic Party. New rules were adopted to insure broader representation.

A key rule provides that any group, comprising at least 20 per cent of those in attendance, can by written petition caucus separately and elect their share of the convention delegates.

"This rule is a guarantee that everyone can participate, every voice will be heard," said White. From the precinct level, delegates journey to 254 county conventions on May 11. The county conventions will select a total of 5,463 delegates to the state convention in Austin September 17.

The state convention, in addition to writing a platform and electing party leaders, will choose delegates to a national conference in Kansas City December 6-8 to write a charter for the Democratic Party.

"You start writing a new charter for the Democratic Party

The Corpus Christi trip for Hornet Band members was discussed. The group will leave Friday, May 3 at 6 a. m. and will participate in a marching contest Saturday at 8 p. m. in conjunction with Buccaneer Days celebration. They will take sack lunches and snacks for travel the first day. They will be staying at Las Brisas Condominium while in Corpus and return home Monday, May 6. A full itinerary will be sent home by each student prior to the trip. when you attend your precinct convention," White pointed out.

"And you take the first step toward nominating the next Democratic presidential candidate," White added.

Shearing Underway in Lamb County

"Spring shearing of goats and sheep is under way in Lamb County and 1974 promises to be a profitable year for the mohair and wool producer," Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced.

Though production figures for the 1974 season are not expected to equal the spectacular 1973 yields, goat and sheep raisers can look for substantial increases over previous slump years.

Sheep shearing, under way for the 12-month clip, is expected to run into the first of June. Producers in the southern part of the state who clip twice a year have completed their first clipping.

Experts expect wool shearing yields to be down a little from last year's production, due principally to West Texas drought conditions.

Prices are quoted as fair for wool, with wool sold at a recent Sanderson sale averaging $.80 per pound for the better quality wools.

January exports of wool top and raw wool, clean basis, totaled 1,375,636 lbs. and 380,254 lbs. respectively. Texas produces 20% of the total U. S. wool production, which is more wool than any other state in the nation.

"Goat shearing has been completed statewide with adult hair bringing an average of $1.40 per pound, and young goat hair going for $1.54 to $1.70 per pound," Commissioner White said.

With Texas producing about 97% of the U. S. mohair, statewide exports of mohair in January totaled 272,926 lbs., clean basis.

Prices received for wool and mohair made tremendous jumps in 1973 over previous figures. A combination of increased world demand and the worry of decreased supplies of synthetic fibers due to the energy crisis helped bring about the surge of 1973 receipts.

Prices for the 26,352,000 lbs. of wool sold in 1973 averaged $.88 a pound, compared to $.48 a pound in 1972.

The 9,930,000 lbs. of mohair sold in 1973 averaged $1.87 per pound, jumping from $.83 a pound in 1972.

Winning Is A 'Gas' For Pearson

INSTANT A-C-T-I-O-N — The camera catches David Pearson's number 21 race car the instant the veteran driver passes Bobby Allison to take the lead in the Rebel 500 run at Darlington, S.C. Later, pretty Miss Chemguard says "well done" to the winning Pearson.

There were visions of victory for Bobby Allison as he raced ahead of the pack in the Rebel 500 at Darlington, S.C. But, this was not to be his day for winning — only frustration.

With 31 laps of the 330-lap event still to go, David Pearson overtook Allison and 30,000 excited fans followed the action to the finish.

Pearson was three car lengths ahead of Allison as the white flag came out, signaling one lap to go. Then something happened to Allison that has happened to many motorists — he ran out of gas (and out of any hope of victory!)

When the track dust cleared, the three-time Grand National champion received congratulations from Miss Chemguard, representing a race sponsor. This was in addition to $16,075 in top prize money.

The win was Pearson's third consecutive Rebel win and his fifth Rebel victory in the last seven years. The 39-year-old driver's illustrious career includes a record-setting 24 major wins and 78 triumphs overall.

See what you're talking about.

Our Health

by C. H. Tracy, M.D.

Is surgery a necessary part of the treatment for epilepsy?

No, surgery is performed relatively infrequently in epileptic cases. The type of treatment is usually determined by the cause of the seizures. Epilepsy may occur in the absence of any demonstrable cause (idiopathic), or may result from the presence of some structural abnormality in the brain, such as a tumor, abscess, blood vessel malformation, or scar. It is essential to differentiate the idiopathic cases from those due to a known organic disease.

The cause of idiopathic epilepsy is unknown and treatment is designed exclusively for the purpose of controlling the seizures. Usually medication is the only treatment employed in this type of case.

An entirely different problem is encountered in the patient whose seizures result from a demonstrable organic disease. Control of the seizures must still be achieved, but, in addition, the underlying condition must also be treated. It is this type of case that may require surgical treatment. Thus an operation is indicated if the basic condition is a tumor, abscess or depressed fracture, and it may be advisable if seizures due to scar formation are not effectively controlled by medication.

I have very oily skin and occasionally I get blemishes on my upper back and shoulders. How can I keep this area clear?

Keeping your skin clean is always the most important step toward clear, healthy skin—anywhere on your body. In addition to daily bathing, perhaps you could try a quick sponge bath for especially oily or pimple-affected areas at night or in the morning. A specially formulated cleanser like Fostex is most helpful in drying up excess oils and promoting the necessary peeling of acne-prone areas. Try a washcloth or cloth "mitt" to apply this medicated cleanser to awkward back regions. And remember to watch your diet (no greasy foods or sweets for a while) and get plenty of exercise.
