I'M GETTING sick and tired of Reader's Digest, Publishers Clearing House, or whoever sending me letters telling me my seven lucky numbers are enclosed and telling me I am right on the verge of winning 40 zillion dollars and controlling interest in the Queen Elizabeth II, plus a new car every year and a trip to the moon.

It just doesn't seem right for these people to promote sales of their publications by boosting the hopes of folks everywhere by implying, without actually saying so, that their chances of being a big winner are very good. Despite the fact that they send notarized affidavits and pictures and quotes of people who allegedly have won all the free pie in the sky, I can't help feeling that nobody ever really wins.

All you have to do is subscribe to 28 magazines and they'll put your seven lucky numbers in a pot with 147 million others and you'll have seven big chances to win. Start planning now what you're going to do with all that loot. The drawing will take place at exactly midnight the very next Feb. 29 in a bar in Bangor, Maine. All 147 million contestants must be present in order for one of them to win.

Well, they're not quite that hard to win, but after trying to read all the literature, it seems to me that winning still is next to impossible. In fact, it's almost impossible to read all the literature they send you on it. If you read everything they send, it will be too late to enter when you've finished.

Part of the latest mailing I received was a big sheet of coupons offering special prices on such exciting publications as Humpty Dumpty, Civil War Times Illustrated, British History Illustrated, Apartment Life, Family Food Garden and Elementary Electronics. One of the offerings is Camping Journal, which might come in pretty handy on a camping trip, depending upon the grade of paper used.

It's an insult to the intelligence of the public to try to lead people to think that they've practically got their fortunes made if they'll just send in their seven lucky numbers. Instead of adding to the something-for-nothing philosophy of living, these companies should promote the idea of people working for what they get.

All of the above statements, innuendoes and allegations are automatically rescinded if I win $10,000 or more with my seven lucky numbers. I gotta hurry and get those things in the mail.

A ZOOLOGIST informed a colleague that he was trying to cross a parrot with a mountain lion.

"No!" exclaimed his friend. "What do you expect to get?"

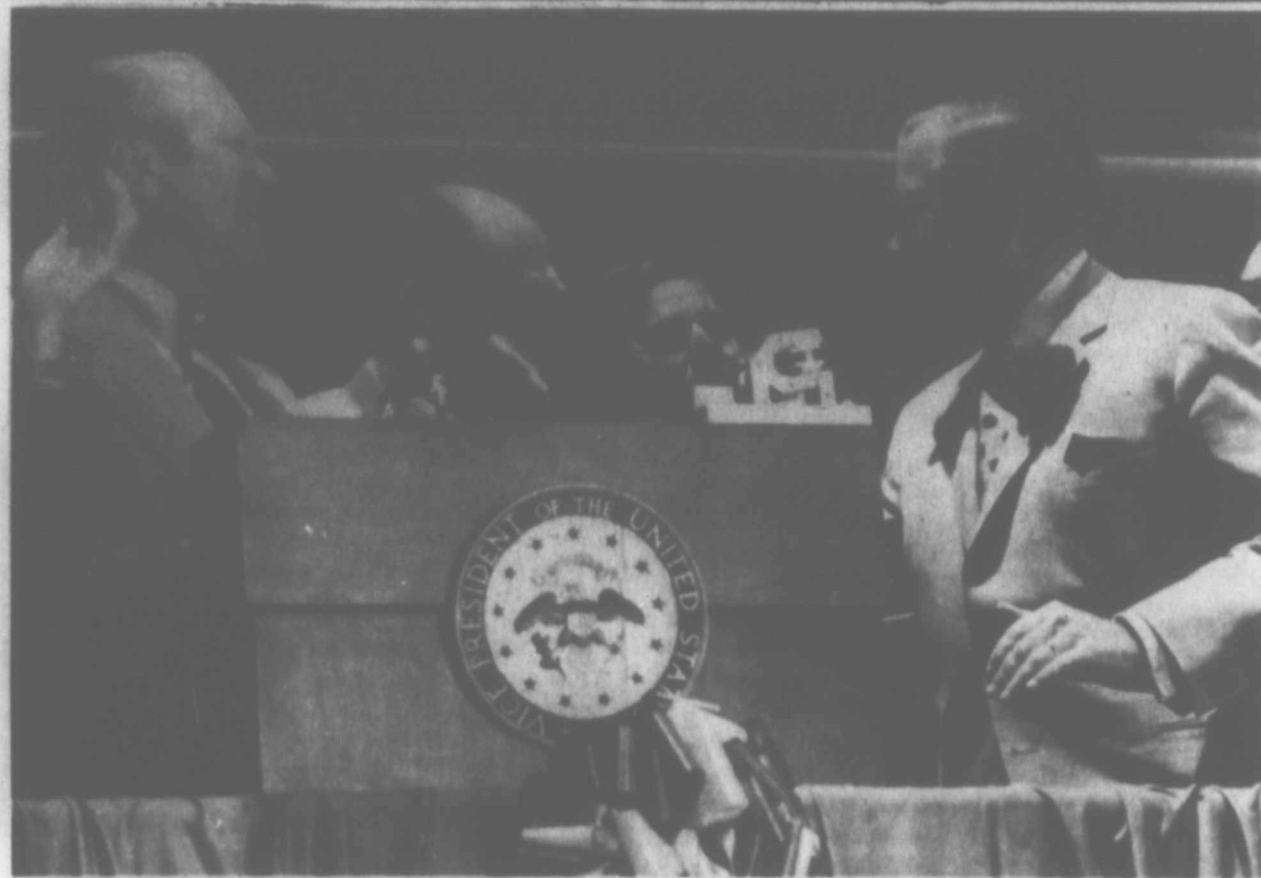

"I don't know exactly," the scientist admitted. "But I'll say this: if it starts talking, you'd better listen!"

COTTON WOMEN PROMOTE PROGRAM

J. Duke Wooters, President of Cotton, Inc., New York and seven top executives of the firm will be in Lubbock July 24, 1974, at the South Park Inn to present a program on the marketing and research programs of Cotton, Inc.

Cotton, Inc., with offices in Raleigh, N. C. and New York, is the dollar-per-bale program to which 98 per cent of all cotton farmers throughout the cotton producing states are contributing. The dollar-per-bale goes into research and marketing activities aimed at increasing cotton producer profits.

The program, which is open to the public at no charge, is sponsored locally by the District Women's Cotton Promotion Association, with representation in ten counties on the High Plains and Rolling Plains.

According to Mrs. L. E. McDowell, publicity chairman of the women's group, the program is to give the West Texas cotton producer a better understanding of how the dollar-per-bale contributed to Cotton, Inc., is spent.

In addition to Wooters, speakers from New York and Raleigh will include: Dr. G. A. Slater, Dr. W. H. Wessling and J. K. Jones, Agriculture Research; Hal Brockman, Textile Research and Development; Dave Cox, Economic Research and Development; J. Nicholas Hahn, Marketing and Don Kelckner, Advertising.

As an extra added attraction, a demonstration on belly dancing featuring the "dance of the seven veils" will be presented. The veils are of "all-cotton" material, of course. The program gets underway at 7:30 p. m.

The new agreement calls for new wage schedules, to become effective retroactive to June 23. Increases over the three year period range from 72 cents to $1.38 an hour, including cost of living increases. Wages also will be increased for a number of employees located in designated towns.

However, they lost to Muleshoe in the finals.

The coaches of this team treated team members and their fathers to an outing at a baseball field in Littlefield Monday night of this week. A father-son baseball game was held with a tie game of 5-5.

TSTI Offers Various Courses

So you're tired of school, you say. College is not for me, you say. I'm tired of sitting in class listening to teachers, you say. No more of this English, math, or science for me, you say. Ever thought about vocation school? That's where you enroll for nine to eighteen months, you know, and train for the very special skill or trade in which you're interested.

Like automotive mechanics. Or Welding. Or commercial art. Or interior design. Or office techniques. And oh, dozens more courses.

Well, that's what Texas State Technical Institute (or State Tech, or TSTI) in Amarillo is all about.

You know -- it's that school out at the former Amarillo Air Force Base east of Amarillo where you really LEARN TO EARN.

You get right down to brass tacks at State Tech, with instructors who've actually had experience earning their living in the field in which they're teaching. They've been there, so they know what it's all about. And they're up-to-date on the latest technology available in their own areas.

What's more, you produce as you learn -- not just models, or facsimiles, but the real stuff. Why, did you know there's a full-size plane in the technology building for the aircraft mechanics classes?

And construction students are going to erect a full-scale three-bedroom house indoors!

You wouldn't believe the windmills and jungle-jim sets the welding students put together. And no commercial printer is in greater demand than State Tech's own printing department.

What's more, many of the offices on campus are designed by interior design students.

Job placement is almost certain with training from State Tech; in fact, you may complete phases of some courses each quarter and qualify for certain positions. Or maybe you already have a job, but would like to upgrade your skills. State Tech is for you, too.

What does it cost? You'll be surprised at how inexpensive it is. Tuition for one quarter is only $60. There are dormitories, dining room and apartments available, too, but on-campus housing is not compulsory.

State Tech students may be considered for financial aid from various sources. Qualifications for entrance are extremely flexible.

Why, even if you are not a high school graduate you may enroll in a State Tech program and take the G. E. D. while a student.

Incidentally, it you're a veteran since 1965, State

Tech has an especially good deal for you, because the government will pay you to go to school, you know; possible more that $200 a month.

And another thing! Credits earned at State Tech are transferrable to a number of universities in Texas -- just in case you decide to go after a degree after all!

Here are the programs being offered at Amarillo's State Tech this fall: Technical Office Training; Aircraft Mechanics; Automotive Technology; Commercial Art In Advertising; Saddle and Tack Making; Livestock and Ranch Operations. Also Interior Design, Agricultural and Industrial Equipment Mechanics; Construction Printing; Avionics Electronics; Cosmetology; Meat Processing and Marketing; Drafting and Design; and two new programs: Welding and Fabrication; and Auto Body Repair.

Surely one of these courses is just what you've been waiting for!

Representatives from State Tech are in your area regularly, and have information on expenses, schedules, housing, financial aid, qualifications -- anything you want to know about the school. The high school counselor in your town also has information from State Tech.

Of course, anytime, you may write direct to Texas State Technical Institute, Admissions, P. O. Box 11035, Amarillo, Texas 79111; or call State Tech (806) 335-2316.

State Tech, Amarillo, may be just the right place for you this fall.

Farm-facts

Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

THE BOLL WEEVIL was first found in Texas cotton crops in the early 1890s, and it has been found in every cotton crop since that time, despite efforts to eradicate or control it. At one time, the Texas legislature offered $50,000 for an effective solution to the boll weevil problem, but a committee appointed to judge entries decided that no one who submitted a plan deserved the $50,000. This year boll weevils have been reported in cotton fields from the Rio Grande Valley to North Central Texas; and heavy damage has been reported in Ellis, Delta, Dallas, Hunt, Collin and Kaufman Counties. Overwintered boll weevil populations have been noted in Fisher, Foard, Knox and Wilbarger Counties. Increased number of cotton fleahoppers also have been noted in all cotton-growing areas of the State. Bollworm damage was noted in the Valley and in Brazos and Burleson Counties.

RICE HARVEST is underway, and Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service says that prospects for a good crop are good to excellent. Harvest of most other crops is moving north. Sorghum is ripe for cutting from the Blacklands southward, but there are a few fields yet to be planted farther north. Peanut and soybean planting in the State is almost complete; and a good corn crop is in prospect across the State. Hot temperatures and dry weather is affecting pastures across Texas, and some ranchers in West Texas are reporting having to feed to keep livestock in their present condition. Prospects for third and fourth cuttings of hay have decreased because of the weather.

TEXAS FARMERS and ranchers are much better off than their predecessors in 1910-14, if that is any consolation. Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service reports that prices received by farmers and ranchers on June 15 were 448 per cent of the January, 1910-December, 1914 period, sometimes known as the base parity period. However, the all-crops index was three per cent below the month of May, 1974 and 36 per cent above a year ago. Food grain prices were up, and wheat and corn prices showed a slight increase over May prices. Hay prices remained about the same. Livestock and livestock product prices were down 12 per cent from May, 1974 and 28 per cent below a year ago. Livestock prices brought the all-farm products index of prices (crops, livestock, etc.) seven per cent below May prices and two per cent below a year ago.

THERE WERE 362,000 head of cattle and calves sold in Texas auction barns during May, which is 51 per cent below a year ago and 18 per cent below a month ago. May sheep sales were 19 per cent more than in April, reaching a total of 145,000 head. That is 37 per cent below a year ago. A total of 40,000 head of hogs were sold at auction in May, two per cent below the same time in 1973 and seven per cent below April, 1974. The number of hogs and pigs on Texas farms also decreased, falling to 930,000 head which is three per cent below 1973 and the lowest June 1 inventory for Texas since 1969. Hog farmers report they plan to farrow 58,000 sows from June through August and 53,000 during September, October, and November. That will be an increase of over four per cent over the same quarters in 1973.

Wilson-Wilson Vows Pledged

Miss Sharon Ann Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wilson, of Sudan, and Kenneth Lee Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wilson, of Ft. Worth, were united in marriage in the Sudan Church of Christ, at 8 p. m. Saturday, July 13. Dr. Paul Faulkner, Professor of Bible at Abilene Christian College, performed the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with floral aisle markers. The front of the church was accented with pink tapers which spiraled in a half circle around the wedding party. A centered basket of flowers completed the pulpit decorations.

Several friends of the couple from Abilene Christian College made up a chorus, which rendered several selections on the theme of sunshine, happiness, and love of Christ. The chorus was directed by Dr. Charles Taylor, Director of Bands at Abilene Christian College.

Dr. Taylor also read I Corinthians 13 preceding the ceremony. Miss Lora Nelson and Miss Tish Randolph, both of Abilene, registered the wedding guests. Nieces of the groom, Leigh Ann Long and Christine Sledz, of Ft. Worth, presented welcome to the guests as they entered the auditorium. Candles were lighted by Jack M. Wilson, of Abilene, and Bill Gann, of Ft. Worth.

The bride was presented in marriage by her father. She wore a gown, from Miss Betsy, of white silk and organza, with a square necked bodice and cap sleeves rowed with white Venise lace bordered with Val lace and satin ribbons. Val lace also edged the chapel trained skirt. The chapel length veil of silk illusion was attached to a pearl embroidered lace cap and was edged with Val lace. Her bouquet was a nosegay of white and pink baby rosebuds with white satin ribbons which she carried on a white Bible, a gift from the groom. She carried with it a white pearl embroidered handkerchief, a gift from her cousin, Mrs. Jerry Hemdon, of Tulsa. She also wore a diamond and opal necklace, a gift from the groom. In her shoes she wore a sixpence and pennies minted the birth years of her and the groom. For something old and borrowed, she wore an opal ring belonging to her aunt, Mrs. Berlin Keeton, of Canadian. Her wedding gown served as something new, and she wore the traditional blue garter.

Mrs. Donna Wilson, of Abilene, sister-in-law of the bride, was the matron of honor. Miss Mary Beth Durham, of Jasper, college roommate of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Judy Jameson, of Floydada, and Mrs. Brenda Bodine, of Abilene, were bridesmaid and bridesmatron. They wore floor-length sleeveless dresses of pink dotted swiss. The bodices featured square necklines, matching ruffles, and sashes tied in back. Each attendant carried a topiary ball of pink and burgandy mums and carnations. The flower girl, Catherine Wilson, of Abilene, niece of the bride, wore a dress of pink dotted swiss fashioned similar to those of the bridesmaids. Miss Vicki Prior, of Abilene Christian College, assisted the bride at the rehersal and in the wedding details.

Alan Wilson, of Abilene, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer. Best Man was David Litton, of Waco. Groomsmen were Blair Francis, of El Paso, Cliff Willie, of Dallas, and Paul Campbell, of Abilene.

Ushers were Jack M. Wilson, of Abilene, brother of the bride; Bill Gann, of Ft. Worth; and Dale Crawford, of Wichita Falls.

Mothers of the bride and groom wore floor-length pink dresses with long sleeves and corsages of white baby rose buds and pink carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church annex. The serving table was laid with a white floor length cloth. Silver and crystal appointments were used, with a fresh flower arrangement and silver candelabra. Pink punch, nuts, and mints, which were a gift of Mrs. Jim Arnold, were served. The cake was chocolate with pink icing, topped with a fresh flower arrangement. Linda Kay Long and Sue Sledz, sisters of the groom, Bettie Lu Hemdon, cousin of the bride, and Tish Randolph, a friend of the couple, presided. Assisting in the house party were Margaret Wilson, of Clyde, Texas, cousin of the bride and Cheryl Mann, from Abilene Christian College.

Other members of the house party were Mrs. Weaver Barnett, Mrs. C. E. Nichols, Mrs. R. A. Lance, Mrs. Joe Kent, Mrs. Quinton McGaghen, Mrs. Waymon Bellar, Mrs. Calvin Wiseman, Mrs. Joe Fisher, and Mrs. Pudd Wiseman.

Passing out rice were Janae Long and Richard Sledz, niece and nephew of the groom. After a honeymoon trip, the couple will reside in Abilene, where Mr. Wilson is working for Bailey and Associates as Manager of Zoo World, an amusement park and recreation area in Abilene. Mrs. Wilson will be employed as an elementary music teacher in Abilene Public Schools in August.

For the honeymoon trip, Mrs. Wilson wore a white pant suit accented with blue accessories.

On Saturday, July 13, at noon, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wilson, parents of Kenny Wilson, hosted a rehearsal Luncheon in the annex of the Church of Christ building in Sudan for all members of the wedding party. Some 42 persons attended. The buffet featured a floral arrangement of spring flowers. Daisy centerpieces were on each table.

PLAINVIEW SELECTIVE SERVICE RELOCATED

Colonel Melvin N. Glantz, the State Director of Selective Service for Texas, has announced the change in location of the Selective Service Area Office in Plainview from 118 East 7th Street to the Agriculture Building at 6th and Ash Streets in Plainview.

This area office serves Local Boards Nos. 4 and 45, which have been served from the older location for some time. Glantz indicated that the only change made in the Selective Service Operation in Plainview is the change of the location of the office.

There has been an extensive reorganization of the Selective Service System throughout the nation which has resulted in a reduction in force of personnel and in fewer Draft Board offices that remain open.

Glantz also reminds young men of their continuing duty to register with Selective Service System throughout the nation which has resulted in a reduction in force of personnel and in fewer Draft Board offices that remain open.

Glantz also reminds young men to register with Selective Service at age 18, even though no one is actually being drafted into the Armed Forces of the United States currently.

Federal Law requires each male to register within a 60 day period, beginning 30 days before the young man's 18th birthday.

Any Selective Service Registrant who has any question about his Selective Service File or about his current duties under the Law should contact the Area Office in Plainview at its new location in the Agricultural Building at 6th and Ash Streets.

Registrars outside the Plainview Office where young men may register are: Mrs. Jean B. Streety, Courthouse, Littlefield; Judge Glen Williams, Courthouse, Muleshoe. If a young man cannot locate a registrar, he may write this local board for forms and register by mail.

Legg, Carroll and Freddie. Mrs. Millie Miller of Albuquerque, N. M., visited during the past week in the Martin Maxwell home. On Thursday they all went by chartered bus from Littlefield to see "Texas" at Canyon, Mrs. Simon Hay and

Making Light of Heavy Work

There's a jack-of-all-trades in the life of every young Jill on the go, and what modern homemaker isn't off and running these busy days.

The "jack" in question is that old reliable "Degreaser" available from independent dealers selling the products of Stanley Home Products, Inc. of Westfield, Mass. The star of the Stanley line, there's virtually no cleanup job "Degreaser" can't do.

In the kitchen, it dissolves grease in seconds, from pots, pans, grills, broilers, skillets, dishes, countertops and meatboards.

In the laundry, it's ideal for greasy cuffs and collars. A half cup to each wash load makes a great laundry booster.

For general cleaning, there's no end to its versatility, for walls, woodwork, car, tools, driveways and garage floors—you name it. Used in dishwasher, it helps keep drains and garbage disposals clean and grease-free. Used full strength in drains, it keeps them free flowing.

And that's not all. Versatile "Degreaser" is concentrated, so it's economical. One quart makes 64 gallons.

Jones' of dishwashing solution. Moreover, it contains no phosphates or enzymes, works in hard or soft water, and is biodegradable. No wonder our young Jill above has time for everything with her jack-of-all-trades on the job for her.

The Gary Stacy family of Levelland converted to electric heating and became the 10,000th wise user of energy on our lines.
And now even more than 10,000 homes and apartments are heated electrically.

Electricity, the most efficient energy at the point of use, right in the home, is a wise use of precious energy. It has been estimated that if electricity heated every home, air pollution in cities would be decreased by 20% of today's level. Modern electric generating stations are rigidly monitored to be certain that raw fuel is used wisely and with the maximum efficiency that modern technology has devised. Wherever however you use electricity, it is as clean as an electric light bulb. No wonder the Stacys chose to convert to electric heating.

Gary Stacy is proud of his space-saving electric comfort conditioning system. Hidden away in the attic, the heating, cooling, electronic air filter and humidifier release valuable downstairs space for storage.

Mrs. Opal Pennington has returned home after a week in San Antonio where she met her granddaughter, Col. and Mrs. S. H. Russell of Springfield, Va.

President and General Manager Dukes Wooters of Cotton Incorporated will be in Lubbock July 24th with seven of his top aids to tell the story of how cotton producer funds are being used in the continuous battle for bigger cotton markets and more cotton producer profits. The program will be presented at 7:30 p.m. at the South Park Inn, South Loop 289 and Indiana Avenue, Lubbock.

The story of the beltwide cotton producer company's operations is being brought to Lubbock area producers and their wives at the invitation of the High Plains District Women's Cotton Promotion Association, made up of 10 county women's cotton promotion clubs, and the women will provide cookies and snacks made of cottonseed flour as added attraction. Only a few small groups producers have had a chance to hear firsthand about the exciting things being done for cotton by CI," says Mrs. Wanda Ligon, bookkeeper for Claunch Gin at Bula and chairman of the district women's group, "and we want all producers to know how their money is being used to enhance the business of producing cotton." Cotton Incorporated is the producer research and market development company supported by dollar-a-bale grower contribution. An average 98 percent of all U.S. producers help to provide CI funding on an annual basis.

All area cotton producers and their wives are invited to the program and officials of the women's cotton promotion group are expecting some 500 to 600 people. In addition to an explanation of CI's overall program by Wooters, there will be individual presentations on agricultural research, economic research and development, marketing and advertising.
