WOODWORK

A LITTLE STORY from the reliable old Agricultural Extension Service last week got us to thinking about what we know about potatoes.

The story said that "potato production is moving into last stages before harvest across the High Plains and producers would do well to take proper steps in closing out their crop."

Well, I don't know anything about that, because I know nothing about growing potatoes. I am, however, an expert at eating them, practically any way they are prepared. It is extremely difficult to fix a potato in a way to make it inedible, but it can be done. (I did it myself as a Boy Scout, when I cooked one all day long and it was still raw in the middle).

Even raw, I like potatoes, which horrifies the cooks at my house. When they are slicing one up to be French fried, I sometimes grab a raw chunk and salt it down and eat it. I also like them fried, baked, boiled, au gratin, scalloped, in salad, in chips, in spudnuts, or hash browns. I really don't care for them mashed.

What makes potatoes especially appealing to me, of course, is the fact that eating them is very bad for you. They are starchy and fattening (and plenty expensive these days).

Potatoes also can be used as stoppers for bottles of kerosene or moonshine, according to one of my co-workers, who apparently had a more exciting childhood than I. And John Dillinger (I think it was) once escaped jail with a gun carved out of a potato.

Potatoes get black spots when they just sit around, which could be the origin of the word spectator.

Students Named To H. S. Who's Who

Other students of Sudan High School have been notified that they were chosen by the Merit Selection Committee to receive honorary award recognition and to have their biography published in the Eighth Annual Edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students 1973-74".

They are Nelda Carpenter, a 1974-75 senior of Sudan High School and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Carpenter, and Don Noles, a 1974 graduate of Sudan High School and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Noles.

The graduates were eligible to compete for scholarship awards of up to $1,000.

To be eligible for this award, a student must be a junior or senior demonstrating leadership. On a national basis, less than three percent of the students are featured in Who's Who.

COUCH FAMILY HONORED SUNDAY

The Church of God of Prophecy, Sudan, honored their pastor and family with a farwell dinner Sunday, July 28th, after the morning service.

Following the dinner, gifts were opened followed by special singing by Kenneth Richards, Green Underwood and the Couch children.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Salem, Mrs. Newt Harkey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rich and Son Qualls. The Couches moved to Lubbock Monday and are residing at 525 - 53rd Street. The new pastor, Rev. Wesley W. Brannon, will assume duties Sunday, August 4th.

Clinic Offered To Aid Tennis Players Here

Tennis players who want to improve their game, or beginners who want some instruction in basics, will have opportunity to pick up some valuable pointers in a tennis clinic offered at Sudan's tennis courts Friday and Saturday, August 16-17.

Cost of the clinic will be $10 per person, with each player to get group and individual instruction in either two morning sessions of 3 1/2 hours each, or two afternoon sessions of the same length.

Conducting the clinic will be Terry Wood, former Sudan resident now of Slaton, and David Jones of Plainview. Both are among the top college players in the area. Jones is the No. 1 player for Wayland College, and Wood played No. 3 singles and No. 1 doubles for Howard College at Big Spring, with his team placing 11th in the nation last year after taking part in the national junior college tournament in Ocala, Fla.

Wood and Jones won the men's doubles championship as a team in the Floydada open tournament last weekend, and Wood won the singles title from a field of 28 players. Two weeks earlier, Wood and Jones won the men's doubles in Plainview tournament. Both are juniors in college, with Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Wood, formerly of Sudan, planning to attend South-eastern Oklahoma State University this fall.

"We're interested in helping both youngsters and adults to play better tennis," Wood said. "We can show the beginners everything from how to hold the racket to how to approach the ball and hit it. And sometimes just a simple illustration of what an intermediate player is doing wrong can help them on serves, forehand, backhand or volleys." He said strategy also would be discussed.

The clinic sessions will be from 8:30 to noon and 1:00 to 4:30 each of the two days. Each participant may attend any two of the four sessions he or she desires. Participants must wear tennis shoes and bring their own rackets. Tennis balls will be supplied by the instructors.

Persons signing up for the clinic should send checks payable to Terry Wood to Box 775, Slaton, Texas 79364 by August 14. At least 12 participants will be needed, but money will be refunded if not enough persons sign up for the clinic. Wood said they would prefer that younger players be at least 10 years old.

MRS. JOHN HRUSKA

Wedding Solemnized Saturday

Miss Sue Noles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Noles of Sudan, and John M. Hruska, son of Mrs. W. J. Hruska and the late Mr. Hruska of San Angelo, exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony in Sudan First Baptist Church, at 8 p. m. Saturday, July 27th with Rev. Eddie Freeman officiating.

The front of the church was decorated with spiral candelabras with pink candles entwined with greenery and pink flowers. The candles formed a half circle around the wedding party.

Mrs. Tommy Evins, organist, accompanied Mrs. Kenneth Wilson as she sang

"The Twelfth of Never" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Mrs. Charles Viney, aunt of the bride, registered guests. Candles were lighted by Joe Thorp and Jahew Thorp both of Throckmorton.

The bride was presented in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of silk organdy, with a high lace neck and the years of their birth. For something old, she wore a ring that belonged to her great-great-grandmother. Her wedding gown served as something new, and she wore the traditional blue garter.

The bride's maid of honor was Miss Francine Noles, sister of the bride. Matron of honor was Mrs. Steve Edwards, and Mrs. Charles Becker of San Angelo, sister of the groom, was a brides-matron. They wore floor-length dresses made of pink flocked organza with orchid and blue flowers. The bodice had a scoop neck accented with a ruffle and butterfly sleeves. They wore elbow length gloves. Each carried a bouquet of pink daisies, pink and purple asters and baby's breath. The flower girl, Cindy Price of El Paso and cousin of the bride, wore a dress designed like the bride's and carried a basket of flowers similar to the bouquets.

Best man to the groom was Buddy Wilkinson of Menard, Charles Becker, of San Angelo, and Don Noles were groomsmen. Frederick Thorp, of Throckmorton, was the ring bearer.

Guests were seated by Joe Thorp and Jahew Thorp of Throckmorton.

The mother of the bride wore a floor-length pink crepe dress and the groom's mother wore a floor-length blue crepe dress. Their corsages were orchids.

The reception was held in the fellowship hall. The bride's table was laid with a white satin and lace tablecloth and centered with an arrangement of pink daisies, pink and purple asters and baby's breath with three candles. The three-tiered white wedding cake was decorated with pink flowers.

Serving cake and pink punch and mints were Mrs. Don Price, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Joe Thorp also an aunt of the bride.

The groom's table was laid with a beige lace cloth and dried arrangement in the groom's black western hat. The german chocolate cake, in the shape of a horse shoe, was served by Mrs. Gary Gatewood. Coffee was served from a silver service by Miss Jan Powell of Kerville.

Members of the house party were Mrs. R. A. Lance, Mrs. Waymond Bellar, Mrs. Joe Kent, Mrs. John Humphreys, Mrs. Laverne Bryant and Mrs. Raymond Duvall.

Ginger Sue Price and Kristy Noles passed out rice bags at the reception.

For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, Jaurez and Kerville, the bride wore a pink and white checked outfit trimmed with pink collar and cuffs. She wore a spur necklace, a gift of the groom.

The couple will reside in College Station where Mr. Hruska is attending Texas A & M University. Mrs. Hruska will be teaching Junior High Math in Navasota Public Schools.

Among the out of town guests during the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Noles, and to attend the wedding of Sue Noles and John Hruska Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Galloway and family Bronte; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Menke and families, Wall, Paul Krumes and Lorie, Amarillo; James Hruska, La-Grange; Miss Jan Powell, Kerville; Buddy Wilkinson, Menard; Mrs. W. MRS. BALLEW PLACES THIRD IN ART SHOW

Mrs. Brenda Ballew, local artist, placed Third in Lubbock Art Association's Twenty-third Annual Membership Show at Municipal Garden and Arts Center by popular vote. First place went to Nancy Griffith, Lubbock, for a pastel portrait, "Taos Indian". Shirley White, Lubbock, placed second for "The Hippy and His Dog" and Brenda Ballew, Sudan, placed third with "Sundown on the Chisholm Trail". The exhibition will remain at the center through Thursday and many of the entries are for sale. Next showing will be the Annual Merit Invitational August 4th to September 4th. Mrs. Ballew is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chisholm.

The Board of Directors of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. met in Lubbock July 24, heard staff reports and adopted a budget of $213,100 for the fiscal year 1974-75 to finance the 25-county organization's research, promotion, services and market development activity.

The new budget is $13,200 above the budget for 1973-74, which according to PCG President Don Marble of South Plains, reflects "the increased cost of doing business in every walk of life."

Finance Committee Chairman Lloyd Cline of Lamesa also noted that the budget calls for spending considerably more than the organization can expect to receive in, dues from the 1974 crop. Acreage totals and the condition of area cotton fields are such that no more than half the 2.9 million bales harvested in 1973 can be expected in 1974. Almost all PCG dues are paid off a per-bale basis, "so a year of low production automatically means a year of low revenue for the organization," Cline said, "making a certain amount of deficit spending a necessity if the organization is not to neglect its obligations to the membership."

The 1973-74 PCG budget of $199,900 was underspent by over $28,000 as a result of economizing that became possible after its adoption. Actual expenditures for the year, Cline told the Board, were $171,124 compared to total revenue of $257,466. "This has helped to build a reserve with which we can continue PCG's agricultural and utilization research programs, fiber research, services and reports, legislative services and market development efforts," said Cline.

The items named by Cline, along with advertising, publications, travel and salaries comprise the major portion of the PCG budget.

In addition to the adoption of the budget the Board heard staff reports on PCG actions taken in connection with farm program disaster payments and farm safety regulations proposed by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration.

Ed Dean, PCG Field Service Director, reported that PCG had requested hearings on the proposed OSHA regulations and was continuing its efforts to see that final regulations when issued are fair and equitable. He said hearings were expected to be held in the near future.

The "food dollar" buys a lot more than food today. An average American shopper spends $6.06 out of a $20 for non-food items at the supermarket, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

One of the most pressing problems facing area farmers in recent weeks has been what PCG terms the "inequitable" administration of the current farm program's disaster provisions. "By using Federal Crop Insurance Corporation appraisal methods and by the adoption of an unfair formula for figuring disaster payments when one allotment crop is substituted for another," reported Executive Assistant Cotton Fanning, "USDA is denying full disaster relief and forcing uneconomical farming practices in areas hard hit by hail, wind and drought."

Noting that the disaster clause of the present law was included largely as a result of PCG insistence when the program was being written in 1973, he went on to say "we have objected loudly and clearly in Washington to the inequitable treatment being received by area farmers and will continue to do so."

Fanning advised the Board that a delegation of High and Rolling Plains farmers were meeting in Washington July 25 with Undersecretary of Agriculture Phil Campbell, Congressman George Mahon, Bob Poage and Omar Burlison, Senators Lloyd Bentsen and John Tower and perhaps others in the latest attempt to rectify the disaster payments situation.

Historic Anthrax ... Agricultural Miracles ... Maize Harvest Continuing ... Milk Production Down

THE OUTBREAK of anthrax in Falls County—which appears to be under control at this time—stimulated a little digging to find out about the disease. The Texas Department of Health, in one of its bulletins, speculated that Moses might have had anthrax in mind when he told Pharaoh that a "grievous murrain" would come on all cattle, horses, oxen and sheep in Egypt if Egyptians didn't stop oppressing the Israelites. It is known that anthrax has appeared world wide, that it will attack almost all animals, including man, but that it appears to prefer cattle and horses. Man and swine appear to have greater resistance to anthrax infection. Anthrax externally may appear to be sores or carbuncles. Internally, it may be mistaken for pneumonia or bloot in cattle. It is usually fatal to infected cattle in a very short time, and its germs may live for many months and be a source of danger in previously infested areas for years. The authorities say that anthrax should be suspected when animals die suddenly, especially in areas where the disease has been a problem previously. The great Louis Pasteur is responsible for developing a vaccine that can protect animals from anthrax.

AMONG THE miracles of agriculture are the increased yields made possible by new varieties developed in such crops as grain sorghums, rice, soybeans, etc. One of the most dramatic has been in sorghums (maize). Before 1956, yields of maize were seldom more than 1,000 pounds an acre. Then came the hybrids and yields rose to more than 2,000 pounds an acre; and eight or ten years ago, yields went to 3,000 pounds or more per acre. Now Texas experiment stations are working on twin-seed hybrids that may increase yields 10-20 per cent more. Work is being done to develop strains that are more resistant to drought, to disease, and to insects. Production had already made grain sorghums the Number 2 crop (behind cotton) in Texas, and sorghums played a prominent part in the development of feedlots, another development in agriculture during the second half of this Century.

HARVESTING of maize is underway, or complete, all the way from the Coast through the Blacklands, as hot, dry weather allows in most places. Drouth on the High Plains delayed or prevented planting, and it appears that Texas' yields of maize this year may be below 1973. The estimate is that 6,600,000 acres were planted this year, compared to 8,100,000 last year. Acres in corn this year in Texas, however, is estimated at 980,000 acres, compared to 750,000 acres last year. Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service says this is the largest acreage planted to corn in Texas since 1962.

JUNE WAS Dairy Month, and milk production in Texas was 287 million pounds. That is two per cent more than in June, 1973, but five per cent less than in May, 1974. Average milk production per cow was 820 pounds during June, and that is 30 pounds above June, 1973 and 40 pounds below the average for May of this year. Price for wholesale milk for June was placed at $9.55 per hundred.

PASTURES over Texas continue to get worse as hot, dry weather continues in most places. Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service says that ranchers on the Cross Timbers, Edwards Plateau, and Low Plains started culling their herds earlier than usual. Some ranchers are having to feed their remaining stock.

Picnic Prowess

Picnics are not necessarily child's play. They take thought and preparation in order to be successful. Next time you're planning a picnic dinner for friends, consider these novel ways of demonstrating your own proficiency at the picnic game.

Provide a variety of activities for before and after dinner, ranging from the active to the inactive. Just as there are some guests who will be ecstatic to see a volleyball and net, there are others who will be equally enthused over a cribbage board. Bring both. If a croquet set is available, bring that too. It can be set up almost anywhere, and will amuse picnickers of every age.

Keep the food simple, but serve it in style. Instead of a flimsy paper tablecloth that flaps and tears, spread out on the grass a colorful cotton tablecloth you made yourself. A crazy gingham cloth is both easy and inexpensive to make. Get small lengths of cotton gingham in assorted colors and various size checks. Cut them into small squares, and stitch together at random. For the tablecloth itself you need a large square approximately 72" x 72". Make enough 24" squares for napkins to give the guests, with extra napkins to line bread baskets. As a practical and classy touch, make matching weights to hold down the corners of the tablecloth. Wrap four bricks in gingham as if you were gift-wrapping boxes, and tie them up with bright yarn.

Apply the same imagination to your sandwich menu. Instead of the same old ham on rye, try serving these delicious new sandwich combinations of bread and meat salad sandwich spreads: ham salad on sour dough, turkey salad on pumpernickel, chicken salad and shredded lettuce stuffed into pita, the pocket shaped Middle Eastern bread now sold at most supermarkets.

The Spreadables meat salad sandwich spreads from Carnation come in ham salad, chicken salad and turkey salad varieties. Your local supermarket stocks an unbelievable variety of breads in different sizes and shapes and crusts and flavors. A typical bread list includes white, wheat, whole wheat, egg, oatmeal raisin, honey Dutch crunch, honey wheat, pumpernickel, rye, English muffins, pita, onion rolls, Kaiser rolls, sour dough, shepherders, Italian, French, cracked wheat, buttermilk, bagels and tortillas.

With this wealth of sandwich materials to choose from, you'll want to serve half a dozen breads at your picnic as well as a selection of the meat salad sandwich spreads. Add finger foods such as raw cucumber sticks, cauliflowerets and carrot curls. A basket filled with fresh fruit makes a pretty centerpiece and takes care of dessert. Instead of soft drinks, serve fresh lemonade and iced tea. This is the easiest kind of meal to prepare. You concentrate on the ingredients, and watch the guests put it together for you. That's real picnic prowess.
