- ★ Texas needs no personal or corporate income tax — he will veto any tax increase.
- ★ Local property taxes should be reduced — he will provide property tax relief by increasing the state's share of public education costs.
- ★ Farmers and ranchers pay more than their share of property taxes — he will work for using agricultural productivity, instead of market value, to set property taxes.

As Attorney General, John Hill has blocked telephone rate increases. Now he wants to help you block tax increases. He can — and will — as your next governor.

Keep the Newlywed Feeling

One key to keeping the "newlywed feeling" is the ability to recognize and handle conflict, bad feelings, or guilt, says Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist.

"Even when there are differences, open conflict does not have to result, if couples try to really listen, try to reason and then give each other the benefit of a doubt when decoding messages they think they heard," she says.

"Couples must realize that each partner brings to the marriage a different set of complicated communication codes, hopes and two individual personalities," she explains.

The specialist is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Exchanges between new couples carry both information and feelings, she continues. "Newlyweds may feel guilty when they experience feelings of both love and hate so early in a marriage and fail to recognize these as normal feelings for all human beings.

"Newlyweds need not lose feelings of deep love even if hate is present at times. No one loves totally, and couples will feel good and bad about each other at different times," Miss Taylor says.

Even in the best marriages there will be conflict, the specialist stresses.

MUSHROOMS ARE A NATURAL IN SALADS

Mushroom slices are really special in a salad. Not only do they contribute their own distinguished flavor, but their porous texture makes it possible to absorb a well-seasoned dressing and space it evenly throughout the salad bowl.

MUSHROOM VEGETABLE SALAD

- 3/4 cup salad oil
- 1/2 cup wine vinegar
- 1/3 cup sliced scallions or green onions
- 1/4 cup chopped parsley
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon oregano leaves, crushed
- 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1 quart potatoes cut into 1/2-inch chunks
- 1 pound fresh mushrooms or 2 cans (6 to 8 oz. each) sliced mushrooms
- 2 cups sliced zucchini
- 1 cup diced green pepper

Combine oil, vinegar, scallions, parsley, salt, sugar, oregano and black pepper; mix well. Cook potatoes in boiling salted water to cover until tender, about 15 minutes; drain; place in a large bowl. Stir oil mixture; pour over potatoes; mix gently; cover and chill thoroughly. Rinse, pat dry and slice fresh mushrooms or drain canned mushrooms. Add mushrooms to potatoes along with zucchini and green pepper; toss lightly. Serve in a lettuce-lined bowl, if desired. Yield: 8 portions.

Proposed Water & Sewer Improvements Bond Election

FELLOW CITIZENS:

We, the City Council of the City of Sudan, submit herewith a report covering a capital improvements program of Water & Sewer construction for our City.

After careful investigation and study, the following were selected and have submitted recommendations which have been fully analyzed and approved:

Engineer:
Ralph W. Douglas
Consulting Engineer
Lubbock, Texas

Legal Counsel:
Mickey Ratliff, Jr.
Littlefield, Texas and
Dumas, Hugenin & Boothman
Bond Attorneys,
Dallas, Texas.

This program is to be presented to the voters of Sudan on April 22, 1978 for their approval.

All reports are available from any member of the City Council, the City Secretary or the Water & Sewer Supt. We want you to have full and complete knowledge of the program and will welcome any inquiries that will clarify your understanding of the need of the improvements which are planned.

PROPOSED IMPROVEMENTS

The recommended program will provide adequate water and sewer services for the foreseeable future. At the present time it is difficult for the City to supply sufficient water during the summer high-use months. This is partly due to the inadequacy of the existing water wells, together with the small overhead storage tank.

The City has had three water wells supplying their needs for the past 20 years. These wells have declined to such an extent that they will no longer furnish sufficient water. The overhead storage tank is sufficient for approximately 1000 people, which has now reached its capacity. Any additional growth in population that Sudan may have will tend to create further problems and increase the fire insurance rate for its citizens.

There is a map on file in the City Hall showing the proposed improvements, together with the existing water lines. There is now a 10" water line from the existing 300,000 gallon ground storage tank and pump station located northeast of the City. This 10" line supplies an 8" line which crosses the RR & Highway and furnished this City's needs. The 300,000 gallon ground storage tank is adequate for some time to come.

It will be necessary to install a new 8" water line from the 10" water line and cross the railroad and highway in the southeast portion of the City. This line, together with additional 6" lines to loop all portions of the City will provide for future expansion.

A study of the map and existing facilities shows several weak areas in the City's present system. One of the most apparent existing problems is the distance between the elevated tank located adjacent to Highway 84 and the residential and school areas located in the southwest portion of the town. The friction loss in the existing line prevents the southwest portion of Sudan from having adequate pressure, especially during the high-use months. It is therefore recommended that a 100,000 gallon storage tank be constructed. Such a tank, together with the other improvements recommended, should be sufficient to serve the maximum demands of 2500 to 3000 persons. The only additional expenditure that should be required in the future would be extensions to serve new subdivisions.

In order for the City to obtain an additional supply of water it will be necessary to purchase the land upon which any new well can be drilled. A minimum of one new water well will be required at this time. The estimated cost of $100,000 for land and $200,000 for the proposed improvements makes up the total of our bond issue. Request has been made to FmHA for a grant to offset a portion of these costs. ONLY THAT PORTION OF THE BOND ISSUE, OVER AND ABOVE ANY GRANT RECEIVED, WILL BE SOLD. The balance will be unissued and can be used at a later date.

There are goats in Tennessee and Mississippi that actually fall into a dead faint at any loud sound—a thunderclap, an engine starting up, even the clatter of a feed bucket. The cause is not cowardice, however, but an inherited nerve disorder.

Bill Clements Comments

Any surplus state money should be used to reduce the sales tax, gubernatorial candidate Bill Clements said last week.

"I think we can reduce taxes," Clements said. "We should be able, with our revenues the highest in history."

But, he warned at a luncheon at the Inn of the Hills, state legislators "have carefully planned how to spend every nickel."

"I think if you have a surplus on hand, as every sign indicates, any excess should be refunded in a reduced sales tax," Clements said.

That would help every citizen and just some special interest groups.

The Dallas oil well drilling executive will be known something about trimming budgets as a result of more than 30 years as head of a worldwide operation and four years as administrative head of the Defense Department.

Proper business management can cut taxes for the state," he said. "And that can lead to a surplus on top of the surplus we're accumulating automatically from economic growth."

All registered voters are urged to attend the Water-Sewer Bond Election Saturday, April 22, 9 a.m. - 7:00 p.m. at the City Hall.

Poerner takes strong issue

Railroad Commissioner John Poerner takes strong issue with President Jimmy Carter's remarks on oil imports. During a Washington speech before the American Society of Newspaper Editors, President Carter said that if Congress did not pass his energy bill he would take action to limit oil imports.

Poerner said that while he appreciates the President's concern about inflation, his plan to cut imports is a mistake unless he also makes greatly increased domestic production possible.

"Limiting imports without taking steps to increase our own production simply hurts Texas farmers, industries and consumers," said Poerner.

Waiting lines at the gas pumps and shortages of fuel and fertilizer are no solution for inflation, and the fact that this is planting time throughout the nation makes artificially imposed shortages an unacceptable approach, according to Poerner.

John Hill Comments

Attorney General John Hill called on the federal government today to adopt proposed petroleum price regulation amendments which would bring additional income to farmers.

"The potential for helping our farmers by passing these amendments has been ignored for too long," Hill said in comments submitted to the Department of Energy on behalf of the State of Texas.

"These amendments would permit the pass-through of increased costs of alcohol used in blended fuel products such as Gasohol, a blend of gasoline and alcohol.

"Gasohol can stretch the nation's supply of gasoline 10 percent, and tests have shown that it improves fuel consumption efficiency by as much as 8 per cent.

"These fuel-saving capabilities of Gasohol should be exploited to help alleviate some of our nation's energy problems, but without adoption of these amendments, there will be no incentive to market Gasohol.

"Farmers in particular would benefit from passage of these amendments because agricultural crops and crop residues represent the largest source of fuel for the production of alcohol. Facilitating the production of Gasohol would help our farmers by giving them a market for their surplus products which have tremendous energy value," Hill said.

Last week Poerner had a personal visit with Secretary of Energy James Schlesinger at the White House, and they discussed the need for increased production of our own oil and gas to hold inflation and lower the serious deficit in the U.S. balance payments.

Poerner said he was disappointed that the President did not couple his remarks with a strong statement calling for accelerated production of domestic oil and gas, and proper incentives to achieve that goal. Deregulation of prices and removal of the price differential between new and old oil will bring new production efforts, he said.

ODDITIES-HELPFUL TIPS

By Joy Miller

Golf may not suit everyone to a tee, but is among the most popular outdoor activities in the world. Presidents and kings play it, comedians crack jokes about it, weekenduffers groan over it, and a small handful of professionals make a fortune from it.

The first woman to swim the English Channel was 19-year old Gertrude Ederle in 1926. It took her 14 hours and 31 minutes!

Interestingly, the earliest mention of golf occurs in a prohibiting law passed by the Scottish Parliament in March 1457, under which "golfe be utterly cryed downe." Today, many a weekend golfer toasts his victory with the pride of the Scots, The Glenlivet Scotch.

A helpful tip for good putting is to remember to keep the blade of your putter square to the hole. When you're talking turkey with a businessman, you must look him squarely in the eye. It's the same in putting. When you're talking turkey on the greens, the face of your putter must look squarely at the hole throughout the stroke.

FACTS & FIGURES

Oil companies between 1970 and 1975 raised their uranium output by 18 percent while total industry output fell 10 percent. Oil companies also increased coal production.

Even with energy conservation, government estimates predict that annual domestic demand for energy will grow from 73 quadrillion British Thermal Units in 1974 to 99 quadrillion British Thermal Units in 1985.

To help meet these needs our oil companies have spent about $400 million a year for energy research and development in a variety of energy fields. By competing with coal companies, uranium companies and others, they may help keep prices down.

A GUEST EDITORIAL

Saving Our Transportation

costs have also risen. Assistance is needed—and needed in the near future.

SCHOOL CHILDREN and other bus passengers need our help.

The first pole vaulter to clear the bar at 15 feet was Cornelius Warmerdam on April 13, 1940, in Berkeley, California.

America's inter-city bus industry is in a precarious financial condition and this situation makes it difficult to adequately and properly serve its 340 million passengers in 15,000 cities across the nation.

These people, including many older Americans and youngsters, depend on buses as the most affordable and often the only means of public transportation. Over 31 percent of bus passengers are under 18 years of age and 30 percent are over 55 years. Yet buses receive no federal subsidies. Amtrak receives $500 million annually. The airlines receive approximately $73 million in direct subsidies plus substantial assistance to build and operate terminals.

In the meantime, the bus industry's net operating revenue dropped 42 percent from 1968-76, measured in current dollars. When inflation is taken into account, this figure rises to 64 percent, according to Trailways.

The industry is in a serious financial bind, and if it is to remain a viable form of public transportation, it must be in a position to earn a reasonable rate of return on its investments.

While the bus industry's profits plummet, demands on those limited funds increase. Bus replacement costs have nearly doubled in the last decade, and other

We urge you to write your legislators about these problems and suggest passage of bus revitalization programs that would give capital grants to states and municipalities for building or improving bus facilities, the elimination of federal excise tax on buses and bus parts, and mass transit research, and regulatory reform.

NEWS OF ENERGY

The Federal Energy Administration predicts that during the next decade oil imports may reach more than 50 percent.

That's why America's oil companies are working on ways to get themselves into a much better bargaining position with respect to other oil-producing countries than they have now.

For several years, many oil companies have been anticipating in different ways the decline in U.S. oil and gas reserves and have sought to adapt themselves to this change by diversifying into other energy fields—coal, uranium, geothermal energy, oil shale, synthetic fuels, tar sands and solar energy.

Their participation in developing these alternatives enables them to take a harder line when dealing with oil-producing countries. This can help hold back price increases.

In addition, their entering those fields has increased competition and that can help hold down energy prices in general.

OIL FROM OVERSEAS may be easier to get if our oil companies are getting energy from other sources.

All registered voters are urged to attend vote on the Water-Sewer Bond Election Saturday, April 22, 7:00 a.m.-7:00 p.m. at the City Hall.
