Postmaster Issues Reminder

Postmaster Joan Ford today issued a reminder to postal customers in Sudan that if the Postal Service's new packaging guidelines are followed they can virtually eliminate damage to their parcels.

Postmaster Ford said that checks at bulk mail plants show that more than 80 percent of all articles damaged in the mails were improperly packaged.

While the regulations and guidelines adopted recently by the Postal Service are detailed, they boil down to several basic steps that can help assure safe delivery.

First, select a strong carton. Use a fiberboard box with the burst-test number printed on it.

If the box says, for instance, 125 lbs. it can be used for mailing many types of merchandise weighing up to 20 lbs.

When a person is shipping dense or heavy materials, such as books, stronger boxes are required. For 10 lbs. of books the Postal Service recommends a box with a 175-lb. burst test.

The Postal Service suggests that wrapping paper not be used on cartons, if a wrapper is torn or lost in transit, the mailing address can disappear. Further, the paper adds nothing to the package's strength.

The use of masking and cellophane tapes for closing or sealing is prohibited. In transit they tend to peel off, and they have little strength. String is not recommended. If twine loosens, it can readily catch on processing machinery.

Majors Playing In Nationals

The Major All Stars and Regional Winners played their first game in the National Competition, Wednesday, May 31 in Levelland when they played against Center City.

No further information was available at press time.

Price Of Postage Stamps Increases

A new postage stamp that bears the letter "A" instead of a denomination, has been placed on sale at all postal branches.

The stamp's value is 15 cents and corresponds with the new 15-cent postage rate for one ounce of first-class domestic mail which went into effect at 12:01 a.m. Monday, May 29.

The new first-class rate was approved Friday, May 11 by the Postal Service Governors.

The stamp design features an eagle with the legend "U.S. Postage" beneath it. The letter "A" appears beside the eagle. The eagle and lettering are white, on an orange background.

The Postal Service printed the stamps in 1975-76 when similar uncertainty existed regarding its last rate case. At that time, it also printed and put into use two non-denominated 1975 Christmas stamps.

The "A" stamps are available in sheets, coils and booklets. Embossed stamped envelopes, bearing "A" in lieu of a denomination, also may be purchased.

The "A" stamps and envelopes, along with stamp and postal stationery items already in the Postal Service inventory, are sufficient to meet mailers' needs until deliveries begin of postal items with denomination matching the new rates.

In addition to the non-denominated stamps, mailers will find it convenient to use existing low-value stamps in combination with the 13-cent stamps to meet the new first-class rate for letters weighing an ounce or less.

The charge for each additional ounce or letter mass over one ounce is 13 cents. Therefore, mailers can affix "A" stamps in combination with as many 13-cent stamps as necessary to letters weighing more than an ounce.

An abundant supply of stamps - including a 1¢ center bearing the portrait of Oliver Wendell Holmes as first issued in 1976 - and other postal items are available at all postal locations to meet the needs.

Community Improvement Association To Meet

The Sudan Community Improvement Association will meet June 13 at 8 p.m. in the Community Center for the purpose of electing new officers. All persons are urged to be present and help begin the efforts to win first place in the improvement contest for 1979. Citizen involvement is needed.

The Bible Says . . .

"And Samuel came to Saul, and Saul said to him, 'Blessed are you of the Lord! I have carried out the command of the Lord.' But Samuel said, 'What then is this bleating of the sheep in my ears, and the lowing of the oxen which I hear?' (1 Samuel 15:13-14)

How was Saul to interpret God's command to "...go and strike Amalek and utterly destroy all that he has, and do not spare him; but put to death both man and woman, child and infant, ox and sheep, camel and donkey." (1 Samuel 15:3) Was he to interpret it literally or get the "broad overview?"

One got the broad overview alright for he said, "I did obey the voice of the Lord, and went on the mission on which the Lord sent me and have brought back Agag the king of the Amalek, and have utterly destroyed the Amalekites." (1 Samuel 15:20)

The people got the "broad overview" because they "took some of the spoil, sheep and oxen, the choicest of things devoted to destruction, to sacrifice to the Lord your God at Gilgal." (Verse 21)

Saul and the people got the "broad overview" because they reasoned that God wanted the Amalekites destroyed. So they said in effect, "Let us take some of their possessions back and offer them to Jehovah God." And Saul said, "Good idea! I'll take king Agag!" Their hearts appear to be right. They are going to offer these things to Jehovah. They are not keeping the spoil for themselves. What is the problem? The Amalekites were going to be destroyed in the end!

The problem is stated in Verse 22: "Has the Lord as much delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices as in obeying the voice of the Lord? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice, and to heed than the fat of rams."

But what about getting the sense of the Scripture rather than one particular verse? It seems here that God wanted that one particular verse obeyed to the letter. How do we interpret the Bible today, literally or do we get the "broad overview?"

Sudan Places 2nd In Contest

The Sudan Community has been selected Second Place Winner in the Regional Texas Community Improvement Program Contest. The win entitles Sudan to a cash prize of $100.00. They had already reaped $100.00 as the top entry among 20 counties in the District. Sudan placed Second behind Wildorado in Oldham County.

Sudan entered the Community Improvement Program last November after County Extension Agents Dorothy Powell and John Farris explained the program to them. The Sudan Community Improvement Association was organized, officers were elected and committees established.

The Texas Community Improvement Program started more than 20 years ago when the investor-owned utility companies of Texas and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service joined forces to stimulate community improvement through organizational efforts.

The contest is a measurement of accomplishment which communities of 1,000 or less population make toward specific goals of community improvement during the year.

At the end of the year, a team of judges visits each community, and the citizens are given two hours in which to explain and exhibit their accomplishments.

Monday, May 22, the regional judges began a four-day round of visits to the four district winners in the northwestern region. They began at Imperial in Pecos County. At 10:00 a.m. Tuesday, May 23, they arrived in Sudan, remaining until noon, Wednesday, May 24, they judged Wildorado, in Oldham County and completed judging Thursday at Truscott, in Knox County.

Sudan is now busy making plans for goals they plan to accomplish between now and the 1979 district and regional judging.

Pack up and go! Do you know how to do just that? Many women overpack—and don't always make the best use of suitcase space. But you can be a wise traveler just by following these suggestions:

1. Take a small number of clothes—but ones that can switch about for many different looks. 2. Take only hats that fold flat. 3. Clothes that can layer (and un-layer) are a good bet. 4. Take a versatile coat that can go over most anything, rain or shine. 5. Pick fabrics that pack small and travel well. 6. Limit the number of shoes, but be sure to include ones for walking. 7. Invest in travel-size versions of your favorite cosmetics and grooming aids. 8. Plan on two lightweight suitcases rather than one heavy one. 9. Use plastic cleaner's bags for packing. 10. Take a folding case to hold what you collect on your trip. 11. Pack softside luggage as tightly as possible.

12. Have a wonderful time!

FOOD TIPS FOR SPRING AND SUMMER

If you care to make your hamburger poundage go further add some cottage cheese to it. The taste is delicious and your meat will stretch like a rubber band. Healthful too!

Give the wee ones and the family generally a treat this summer with new tastes in sandwiches... chopped chicken, celery and pimiento mixed with mayonnaise will let the family know you don't just throw sandwiches together. Delicious and cooling.

Also, there's an open-face Scotch Sandwich made of tongue, chicken, curry and tomato sauce. Simmer the chopped chicken and tongue, add curry and tomato sauce to taste and serve open-faced on bread that has been baked five minutes. It's good enough to give you a delicious Scotch berrrrr not to mention, a delicious sensation in your mouth.

Stuffed eggs are tasty warm weather, cool weather or party-time fare. Here are some ideas you can put into that little container, the white of an egg. How about starting with chopped seafood—shrimp, lobster, sardine—cooked or packed. Any of these are a happy mix with egg white which are just about tasteless so anything inside them goes. You can put in meats of any variety—smoked, dried or cooked, then chopped or made into a tasty paste. Experiment. Even vegetables minced—yes, cucumbers too, are delectable. Try fruits, nuts, cheese, fancy butters and relishes. There's no end to the dash here, the sprinkle there, that can be added. Think of something you'd put into your spaghetti dish and then stuff your eggs with it—drained clam sauce oozing with clams that have been mashed, a dash of oregano in a plain stuffed egg. If you feel so elegant you have to prepare the meal with gloves—make black devils. These are hard-boiled eggs filled with black caviar—just to stay solvent, we suggest you mix the caviar with the white of the top half of the egg.

Those are some of the ways you can prepare for a long, cool summer!

When the economic survival of farmers and ranchers is constantly threatened, so is the economy of our entire district. West Texas producers are being squeezed between the inflation of retail farm prices and the demand to sell wholesale at the market place. Government surplus policies discourage incentives for growth, while foreign markets remain undeveloped.

There is one candidate in the Congressional Run-Off who is very knowledgeable in the economics of energy and agriculture that keep West Texas alive. George Bush. He is keenly intelligent and deeply committed to the future of our district.

His appeal as a leader transcends political parties and special interest groups. George has integrity, talks straight from the shoulder and has a grasp of the issues above that he just plain has more substance than any one else who is running. And he can get results.

He will work in Congress to decrease government controls over domestic markets, insure fair profit incentives and adopt realistic policies in developing new international markets. George stands for support for ranchers by formulating a beef import policy and labeling all imported beef. An overhaul of the inheritance tax structure is in order—one which gives relief to the productive land holder.

The Midland Reporter-Telegram endorsed his candidacy while saying: "Bush seems to have the ability—the best of any of the candidates—to understand and relate to the problems of farmers and ranchers."

George Bush is the front-runner. His campaign is swelling as evidenced by his near primary victory. Go with a proven winner when you vote in the June 3rd Run-Off. Go with the one man who can achieve victory in November. For the future of our district, George Bush is the one Republican for all West Texans.

Just plain better.

Vote in the Republican Primary Run-Off on Saturday, June 3rd.

"CREAM OF CROP" AT 4-H ROUNDUP

The "cream of the crop" among 4-H members in Texas will gather for the annual State 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M University, June 6-7. Major events will include the State 4-H Food Show, a State 4-H Project Show, and competition in some 36 contests and demonstrations. Special awards will be presented to 28 outstanding 4-H adult leaders and five businesses, organizations and individuals for distinguished service to the 4-H program in Texas.

CALVING TIME—THE PAYOFF

Calving time is the real payoff for the cattlemen, but he's got to have a tight rein on what's going on to prevent calf losses. Calf losses during or shortly after calving are the second leading cause of decreased calf crop percentage. Proper management to reduce calf losses include close evaluation of the expectant cow, proper feeding, preparation of needed equipment, and close examination during and after delivery.

MARIGOLDS FOR HOT WEATHER COLOR

For fast summer color in that sunny garden or landscape, try marigolds. Marigolds come in all sizes — tall, medium and petite — and in colors ranging from creamy white to yellow to deep orange. Some are even multi-colored. Marigolds are naturally bushy and free flowering, so they never need pinching. They prefer a well-drained, soil, frequent watering and a light fertilization about once a month. Spider mites are a major pest problem.

NATIONAL YOUTH HORSE CONGRESS

The National Youth Horse Congress will be held at the Heart O' Texas Fairgrounds in Waco, July 22-29. Events will include an open show, method demonstration and horse judging contests, Quarter Horse show, Pony of America show, Welsh show and Appaloosa Horse Show. Entry information is available from Mrs. Marilyn M. Dundon, National Youth Horse Congress, 3940 Clear Cove, Lane, Dallas, Tx. 75234. Deadline is July 1.

HOME GARDNER SHOULD KNOW INSECTS

"A stitch in time saves nine", especially when it involves insect control in the home vegetable garden.

To insure good yields of high quality produce, insect pests in the home garden must be controlled. So learning about these pests will prepare you for them when they arrive on the scene.

There are more than 30 insect pests which will attack vegetables in the home garden, and these are divided into three groups.

One group includes those insects which live in the soil and attack seedlings and underground parts of plants. These include cutworms, wireworms, soil maggots and white grubs.

The other two groups are the sucking insects and the chewing insects. Sucking insects damage plants by inserting their mouthparts into the plant tissue and sucking the juices from plants. Sucking insects include aphids, whiteflies, leaf-hoppers, squash bugs and stink bugs.

Chewing insects cause damage by actually feeding on the foliage, stems or fruit of plants. This group includes cabbage loopers, armyworms, flea beetles, grasshoppers and many others. Home gardeners should be aware of these different types of insects and should be prepared to deal with them when infestations develop.

Home Health Agency Offers New Services

Clients using home health care services often need skilled nursing service by an LVN or an RN, but they are ineligible for home health visits because their skilled nursing needs do not meet the Medicare guidelines for "skilled care".

Seeing this special need, the MBFA Foundation, which has delivered home health care in Texas since 1969, now announces a new service to these special clients.

Now those persons who require less than skilled care under the Medicare guidelines, or those who require the skills of a licensed professional (vocational) or registered nurse, but cannot afford to pay the regular charge and have no insurance covering these services, are eligible through the Texas Homemaker Service, a division of MBFA Foundation.

Insurance of any kind and cannot afford to pay the normal charge. Now this patient can have the visits of an LVN or RN in the home at a beneficial rate based on one's individual financial status.

This service also will benefit the patient who has been on the home health service under Medicare, or some other type of insurance coverage, and has depleted this coverage but is still in need of a skilled nursing service. Now the client can pay a beneficial rate and remain on the service under this new system through MBFA's Texas Homemaker Service, West Texas Home Health.

The service should not be confused with regular homemaker services. This is still skilled nursing care given by an LVN or RN, but just does not meet the

Public Views Sought On Future Of Conservation

"Public views on the future of the conservation, protection and enhancement of Texas' soil, water, and related natural resources will be sought at a meeting to be held in the District Courtroom in the Lamb County Courthouse at Littlefield, Thursday, June 1 at 8:30 p.m.," Raymond Lewis, chairman of the Lamb County Soil and Water Conservation District, said.

The meeting is in response to President Carter's signing of the Resources Conservation Act last November which requires an appraisal and evaluation of the state and nations' soil and water conservation program.

"The RCA act authorizes and directs the Secretary of Agriculture to develop a national soil and water conservation program in cooperation with the public, our local soil and water conservation districts, the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board, and the Soil Conservation Service," said Lewis.

"This program will establish new direction for future soil and water conservation efforts in Texas based on current soil, water, and related resource appraisals," Lewis continued. "One point I want to make clear is that districts in their 40-year history have always assisted landowners with voluntary conservation programs on their farms and ranches. We do not advocate any other approach since farm and ranch land is privately owned and that the interests and welfare of the owners must be served and that programs must be acceptable to them," Lewis added.

Actions required by the RCA act include gathering data to appraise the condition and quality of Texas and the Nations' soil and water resources by 1979.

The act also outlines a 5-year plan for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's conservation assistance to districts and requires an evaluation of the effectiveness and progress of ongoing programs. Reports will be made to the public and Congress.

"Our first meeting will primarily deal with discussion on soil and water resources in the district and how to conserve them," Lewis said. "The public will also have the opportunity to learn more about the RCA act and the mission, relationship, and responsibilities of the district and Soil Conservation Service."

"I want to emphasize that a grass roots, bottom-up approach is the key to this act. Our district and Soil Conservation Service will need to identify specific resource concerns and associated problems, if any, in addition to determining the extent and severity of these problems. We urge anyone with an interest in natural resource conservation to attend and air their views," Lewis concluded.

By Mrs. Dan Gerber

My neighbor's baby has just started on meat and she commented that there isn't any salt in it. While that may make the taste somewhat flat for my neighbor's adult taste, it's suitable for her baby.

Nutritionists agree that some salt is essential in a baby's diet. Many now think that the amount naturally present in most baby foods may be enough.

The sodium in salt helps maintain the water balance in a baby's body, explains Gerber nutritionist Evelyn McCormick. Since the need for sodium and other nutrients varies for each child, if you should have questions about them, ask your child's physician or clinic.

I tell parents who ask me that the sodium in ordinary foods is sufficient to meet the requirements of most infants for normal growth and development. And that's why Gerber has eliminated added salt from all of its strains, and junior baby foods.

Maple Applesauce Muffins

Convenient! Breakfast on the run is a delicious hot muffin that tastes like maple syrup and applesauce. Make a double batch on the weekend for Sunday's breakfast and freeze the rest. Reheating muffins is fast and simple — it takes about the same time as whipping up a side order of bacon.

Economical! Bring one to work and save the $.35 you may have to spend for a sweet roll during coffee break.

Nutritious! Maple Applesauce Muffins have a natural sweetener of maple syrup for a quick nutritious start in the morning. Enriched flour has the essential B vitamins plus the mineral, iron. Another bonus is the fruit. Add bacon or pork sausage.

Replanting Hail Damaged Cotton

A large storm accompanied by heavy washing rains and hail recently hit portions of Lamb County, causing heavy damage to cotton.

Many farmers in these hard-hit areas are now faced with the unpleasant task of replanting their crop, realizing that planting after May 20, often means less than average yields even with normal growing conditions for the remainder of the growing season. Their most important decision now is which cotton varieties to use and what cultural practices might be applied that will hasten the maturity of the crop, John Farris, County Extension Agent said.

Producers in South Lamb County should consider varieties that fall into the early or early-medium range. Producers in North Lamb County should consider varieties that mature fast, such as Earlycot 31, Cascot B-2, Paymaster Dwarf and Lamesa E-10.

Any practice that encourages earliness is the key to profitability in late planted cotton. Earliness can be achieved by replanting cotton on double rows or some narrow row pattern other than the standard 40" row width. Of course, this will require some arrangement for harvesting with the broadcast stripper. But any of the recommended varieties will mature faster by simply planting in double row. A few days gained in earliness becomes important in late planted cotton.

As for planting rates in late planted cotton, research has shown that 60,000 plants per acre is an ideal plant population. This requires a planting rate of 18 to 22 lbs. of good quality seed per acre. For double row cotton, 25 to 30 lbs. of seed per acre is sufficient.

Residues of preemergence herbicides can be a problem in replanting especially in sandier soils, the agent cautioned. Caparol, Lasso and Karmex can be leached downward by rainfall and can cause seedling injury in replanted cotton. Normally, this problem can be avoided by replanting in the furrows (not in the original bed). The preplant incorporated herbicides are not a problem in replanting to cotton.

Later decisions concerning irrigation must also be considered after late cotton is up and growing. Because the yield potential for late planted cotton is reduced, fields having adequate moisture at replanting will probably not require additional summer irrigation. In fact, yields of late cotton can be reduced by too much water. Keep in mind that when yield potential is down the need for water and fertilizer is reduced, the Extension agent said.

Growers in the fringe areas of these storms also face a tough decision: should they try to save the existing stand or replant? All too frequently, this critical decision is made the day following the storm when the extent of damage appears much worse than it actually is. Keep in mind that the cotton plant has a remarkable capacity to recover from almost any adversity. It's important to wait two or three days and then critically evaluate the type and extent of injury.

Also, producers may want to check with the ASCS office before making any replanting decisions if crops may change.

Farmers Urged to Call TDA to Confirm Pesticide License

AUSTIN--Persons who have passed their restricted-use pesticide tests have been asked to contact the Texas Department of Agriculture, Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has announced.

Anyone who has applied for a license to apply these restricted commercial and non-commercial pesticides but has not received it should call or write to: Commissioner Reagan V. Brown, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas, 78711, (512-475-6133).

The licenses are required to purchase, use or supervise the use of 24 pesticides which the Environmental Protection Agency has classified as "restricted use," Brown said. As of June 9, manufacturers will not be able to ship these pesticides without a restricted use label.

Women

I know some women are so cunning and shrewd. Sometimes they're in such a catty mood. Their husbands wonder what's on their mind. And then so quickly, they can act so kind. Sometimes they keep talking and never pause. With their catty ways, they'll use their claws. And have scheming thoughts all the while. But acting so sweet and wearing a smile. Some women are so crafty, clever and sly. To get their own way, they'll sit down and cry. Their husbands are puzzled about what's on their mind. But that's something, I'm afraid they'll never find. They change their minds a dozen times a day. And they're unpredictable in all their ways. They'll do unthinkable things to their hair. And all kinds of outlandish clothes they'll wear. I guess I'd better change and say something nice. Some of them are, so sweet and without price. But one is sure, men can't understand. The thoughts on her mind, and things she has planned.

A Healthy Garden

GETTING RID OF TROUBLE PROMPTLY

A little pull in the right places can help a lot if you have weeds growing between the stones or bricks of a walkway. But since pulling the weeds may also mean pulling your neck, there's now a liquid vegetation killer called Conquer. You can sprinkle on weeds to be rid of them for up to a year, no matter what the breed of weed.
