Cochran County Residents Urged To Make Exhibit Arrangements For Garden Club Sponsored Flower Show

Begin now to groom your flowers for the flower show to be held on October 15 and sponsored by the Cochran County Garden Club.

The show should have flower arrangements exhibited from every home in the county.

Keep in mind the flower show and plan to exhibit, maybe a single blossom which is good enough to share with the public; or you may want to display a whole bouquet of blossoms, or it may be a leafy spray, or a flowering branch from a shrub or tree that has design, grace or beauty of color. Perhaps you may have a unique potted plant.

If you are among those bringing flowers to the show, you are helping to create interest among persons not yet interested; it will stimulate and inspire those already concerned with a desire to grow better flowers and to make them beautiful. In sharing a thing of beauty there is enjoyment to be had.

Inspect carefully every possible potential exhibit. A single insect, worm or blight may destroy your plant in a few short hours. Be sure to groom exhibits carefully. Do not enter flowers or foliage that are dust covered or badly blighted. Bring your best specimens and give them good grooming, taking into consideration the size and shape of container in relation to your exhibit. Remember they are going to be judged.

Later all the money was recovered except one nickel which Pierce said he spent for a cup of coffee. After the robbery, Pierce said he spent about two hours in a Levelland theatre.

Five Great Plains States Warned Dust Bowl Threatens To Return

DENVER—Farmers who lived through the dust storms of the thirties see those big, black clouds looming over the horizon again.

There have been isolated dust storms in the Great Plains States this year. Soil conservation Service officials warn that the dust bowl can return unless preventive measures are taken.

High priced wheat plus a dry year have brought back the dust bowl threat.

The world-wide demand for grains has produced the "suitcase farmer" on whom the farmers blame most of their troubles.

"Suitcase Farmers" on Hand
The "suitcase farmer" buys land and either sends in tenants or moves in to make a "killing" in a year or two. By plowing all his land and breaking sod that should be left fallow, the newcomer can pay for his land with one good crop. A second one is nearly all profit.

If there's a dry year—as has been the case in some sections this year—and the wind starts whipping the topsoil through the air, the "suitcase farmer" can pack up and leave with a good return on his investment.

The ones hurt by this neglect of soil and water conservation are the farmers who have lived in the area all their lives and plan to stay there.

8,000,000 Acres Involved

During the worst of the dust bowl period, 8,000,000 acres were blowing away in Eastern Colorado and New Mexico, Western Kansas and the Panhandle of Texas and Oklahoma, says Cyril Luker, regional conservator for the soil conservation service at Albuquerque, N. M.

From the start of the World War II until last February, he says, more than 4,000,000 acres of sod land were broken in the 5-state area.

"More than half of this land was unsuited for cultivation," he says. "Field reports indicate that this mad breaking of sod con-

Tommy Dorsey And Orchestra to Play at State Fair

It's State Fair of Texas-bound Tommy Dorsey and his orchestra, plus Ziggy Elman, the hottest trumpet player in captivity; Tamer Aswad, popular Assyrian baritone; and 36 other instrumentalists who have followed the Dorsey baton to the top slot in the nation's band hierarchy.

R. L. Thornton, president of the State Fair association, has announced that Dorsey and his orchestra have been booked to appear in Fair Park Auditorium Oct. 5-20 for the first postwar State Fair. A total of 22 performances will be presented, Mr. Thornton said.

Dorsey, the nation's ace popular bandman and trombone virtuoso, will have an augmented concert orchestra of 38 pieces. The surrounding show, expected to include other entertainers of equal note, will be arranged by the special attractions committee, made up of Julius Schepps, chairman, W. H. Hitzelberger, vice-president and general manager of the State Fair association, Jordan Ownby, and Charles R. Meeker, Jr., auditorium manager.

The State Fair association has allocated $100,000 to underwrite the stage show, Mr. Thornton said. This is said to be the largest guarantee ever posted for a State Fair Auditorium production.

continued through the first half of 1946 at a rate far in excess of any war year.

Solution Up To Farmers

The solution lies with the farmers. Through soil conservation districts, they can establish land use regulations against the breaking of soil unsuitable for cultivation.

One dry year doesn't mean a return of dust storms. Generally, two bad years are required before the soil starts blowing. If crop residues, such as straw, are managed properly they hold the soil for approximately a year.

R. L. Throckmorton, dean of agriculture of Kansas State College, says dust storms attract attention because they are spectacular and frightening, but that "one heavy rain in the more humid regions may cause much more damage than several dust storms."

"In one case the soil that is being removed is in the air for everyone to see, while in the other it is carried away in muddy streams and is seen by relatively few people."

It's tough paying 85c a pound for meat; but think how tough it would be at 20c.

FRANKLIN'S FORMULA

Speaking of the Constitution of the United States, William E. Gladstone, the great English statesman, called it "the greatest piece of work ever struck off at a given time by the brain and purpose of man." But reading again Benjamin Franklin's famous motion in the Constitutional Convention will make any believer fear to give man's brain and purpose too much credit.

By the middle of June, 1787, the Constitutional Convention had almost bogged down in its own deliberations. Representatives of the 13 original states had haggled for a month and made small progress. Suspicion had been sown among them. Personal dislikes and sectional jealousies had grown threadbare. And on the morning of June 16, Ben Franklin addressed George Washington in these words:

An Official Motion
"Mr. President—The small progress we have made after four or five weeks' close attention and continual reasoning with each other, methinks, a melancholy proof of the imperfection of human understanding.

"In this situation of this assembly, as it were in the dark to find political truth and scarce able to distinguish it when presented to us, how has it happened, sir, that we have not hitherto thought of humbly applying to the Father of Lights to illuminate our understanding?"

"I have lived, sir, a long time; and the longer I live the more convincing proof I see of the truth, that God governs in the affairs of men. And if a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without His notice, is it probable that an empire can rise without His aid? We have been assured, sir, in the Sacred Writings, that except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it.

Declares His Faith
"I firmly believe this; and I also believe that without His concurring aid we shall succeed in this political building no better than the builders of Babel; we shall be divided by our little, partial, local interests, our projects will be confounded and we ourselves shall become a reproach and a byword, down to future ages.

"And what is worse, mankind may hereafter from this unfortunate instance, despair of establishing government by human wisdom and leave it to chance, war, conquest. I therefore beg leave to move: That hereafter prayers, imploring the assistance

BUDGET HEARING

Notice is hereby given that on the 23rd day of September, 1946, a public hearing on the County Budget for Cochran County for the year 1947; will be held at the Court House of Cochran County, at Morton, Texas, by the Commissioners' Court; and any taxpayer of Cochran County who wishes to do so, may appear before said Court and protest any item therein.

of Heaven, and its blessings on our deliberations, be held in this assembly every morning before we proceed to business . . ."

Need of Prayer
Mr. Franklin's motion carried. The Constitutional Convention prayed, and made progress beyond one of the darkest hours in the career of human liberty. The dark hour which just precedes the dawn is frequently an hour of prayer, and many a devout soul in America knows that another such hour has come. Mutual trust and understanding was never more needed than it is now.

There remains on earth only one big country with individual freedom in its scheme of government; that's the United States. Whole nations plunging toward ruin are looking to us for rescue. It is time for prayer, by assembled worshippers and by contrite souls in their closets, that America may be allowed to keep her God-given freedom and granted power to bear the responsibilities that already are bearing down.

500 lbs. Of Texas State Sudan Seed Shipped to Africa

Thirty-seven years after Sudan grass was introduced into the United States from Sudan, Africa, Texas Tech has shipped back to Africa 500 pounds of Texas State Certified Sweet Sudan grass seed. Sudan grass was brought to America in 1909 by C. V. Piper of the United States Department of Agriculture. Since that time improvement of the grass has been made in the United States and for many years Sudan has been the principal summer pasture grass crop for livestock from Kansas southward. Improvement in the main has been to make the grass more palatable to livestock and less subject to insects and diseases. Texas Tech department of plant industry, headed by Dr. A. W. Young, recently received a request for the Sweet Sudan seed from the Government Supply Mission of South Africa in Sudan. The 500-pound shipment was made August 23.

"My Reputation"

Unquestionably Barbara Stanwick is one of Hollywood's most accomplished leading ladies.

Wednesday and Thursday against a background of modern society "My Reputation" traces the story of Jessica Drummond (Miss Stanwick), a gracious young widow, who, falling in love for the second time, finds herself the center of a vicious scandal which changes her life and engulfs, as well, the innocent lives of her two sons.

So pressing is her problem, so driving is her love, that Jessica is forced to make the supreme choice between her own happiness and the happiness of her two sons. A superb love story.

Well-Rounded Diet Stressed For Children

AUSTIN—Discussing the food requirements of a child enjoying maximum health, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has stressed the importance of a well rounded diet and stated that a healthy and well-nourished child enjoys life and does well in school because he is physically fit.

Dr. Cox stated further that when a child is in good health, his appetite is good, elimination is regular and sleep is sound and untroubled, all of which contributes to his progress in school.

"A child's appearance can usually help parents to judge the state of his nutrition. A well-nourished child has good skin color and there is a moderate padding of fat over the bones and muscles of the arms, legs and body. Muscles are well developed and strong. Teeth are good and the gums are firm and light pink," Dr. Cox said.

The State Health Officer stated that a delicate, hard-to-please appetite or a tired feeling after a little exertion indicates possible malnutrition or the beginning of an illness, and the child should be seen by the family physician. Required as a diet for the preschool child and those of school age, Dr. Cox listed milk, fruit, vegetables, eggs, meat, fish or cheese, cereal and bread and added that cod liver oil and other vitamin preparations may be useful in winter and early spring, but they should always be prescribed by the family physician.

CALLED TO ESTANCIA

New Regulations Will Immediately Eliminate The "Veteran Broker"

New regulations which will immediately eliminate the "veteran broker" and afford World War II veterans seeking to set themselves up in business by acquiring surplus war goods are in effect today, according to Hamilton Morton, regional director of War Assets Administration in Ft. Worth.

"A small number of veterans have in the past been obtaining certification for the purchase of surplus property by representing themselves to be engaged in or about to engage in an established business, whereas they have actually been found to be merely representing commercial dealers in buying up surplus property," Morton added. He stated that this practice has resulted in not only depriving the veteran seeking to go into business for himself of short supply items, but has served to enable some dealer to get veterans to act for them in acquiring property considerably ahead of normal dealers buying positions by utilizing the veteran under the number two priority granted ex-servicemen by the Manasco Act of Congress.

Under stringent regulations now in force, veteran purchasers seeking to buy from War Assets Administration will be protected, since all new applicants for certification will be required to produce three credentials not formerly requested by WAA. They are

All certificates already issued to veterans buying property for resale are now being reviewed by the Fort Worth WAA office and steps are being taken to recall and cancel all such certificates now in the hands of veterans who fail to submit the required evidence of being engaged in or about to engage in the business set forth on their original application, upon request.

A statement from the Chamber of Commerce, Trade Association, Board of Trade or the applicant's bank would constitute the required evidence.

Veteran applicants for the purchase of ferrous and non-ferrous items have all been advised and must comply by September 10 or have their certificates cancelled on that date. All other certificate holders for business purchases must promptly have their certificates reviewed, reissued and be re-certified. WAA pointed out that, in order not to prejudice dated previous certifications, all veteran certificates reissued will carry seniority from the date of original certification.

Morton Will Be Served By Contact Representative From VA In Lubbock

Morton will be served by an itinerant contact representative from the regional office of the Veterans Administration in Lubbock every two weeks on Thursday with hours from 9:30 a. m. until 12:00 noon in the county courthouse. A contact representative will be at court house Thursday, September 19.

The contact representative is not only a source of information for the veteran, but he is a source of actual help in preparing necessary forms, and applications, and in securing the necessary certificates, and documents the veteran will need in order to receive his benefits from the VA. In many cases he fills out the forms for the veteran. All interviews are private and confidential. The first purpose of the representative is to put the veteran at ease and to assure him of his genuine interest to be of service.

The veteran's problem may be simple; it may be complicated. In any case the contact representative knows how to apply his specialized knowledge in the best way suited to the needs of the veteran who has come to him for an intelligent and workable solution to a problem that is all important to him.

He knows exactly what he is talking about when offering advice and assistance to a claimant. He knows the extent, meaning and application of the laws that have been passed by Congress in the interest of veterans and their dependents. He has the knowledge and common sense to interpret these laws, together with regulations made by the VA, into understandable language for the veteran.

If necessary, the VA Contact representative will go to the home of a disabled veteran who is unable to come to his office in order to render service to which the veteran is so rightfully entitled. The theme of the contact service is "serve the veteran, right up to his front door step."

Miss Mabel Ann Manley broke her fingers last Friday, we understand she was trying to get a truck off her car, quite a job for such a little girl.

Mr. Bishop, commander of the American Legion and V. F. W. is being paid for as it is expected. That is really respectable and we know the members of the two organizations would be very grateful for more donations, any size donation will do and it doesn't take very many dollars to amount up to a considerable sum. The boys discontinue soliciting, but any member of either organization will gladly accept your donation.

We haven't had a chance to go and do any hammering on bleachers for the football stadium but we feel confident that the folks will take care of that. Mr. Nelson is supervising the construction of the bleachers and has asked for volunteers to work. Everything has been attended to, with the exception of nailing and the citation have been asked to come out after five o'clock bringing their hammers and a little labor in order to get the bleachers ready for the football game Friday night.

We certainly enjoyed the Lion's dinner last Thursday evening. And any time anyone else wants to pay for our dinner we will be only too happy to accept and "give" them a little publicity for their trouble. We are introduced by our host Lion Benham, but as is usual in case we couldn't think of anything "cute" to say until it all over.

Colleen, the very attractive and charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Smith helped with the singing and we must say Colleen did mighty pretty in a spanking outfit she was wearing.

Mr. Gipsen and H. S. Hawkins as well as others around town have been feeling sympathetic and the spouse since reading "From Texas Towns" in the Telegram last Sunday. This column is edited by Wayne C. and even though it gives us a back eye as far as taking care of our husband is concerned we are thrilled to get our name in his column.

Sometimes we feel that maybe a spouse would like to trade us for a new model but we can't seem to have very much time (either that or we are lazy) sewing on buttons, mending, etc. after rushing around making ads, making the ad layouts, writing all the copy for the column, running down stories, clipping and pasting stories from papers, running errands and the other little things we do to help. And too, it takes a certain amount of time apologizing for mistakes we let get by on our part of reading.

There were several weddings and here last week but there still some eligible bachelors and like to see some one get. Mr. Smith brothers, Roy E. and Syd not only know how to keep a wife but neither of them smoke do they drink coffee, that is like a cinch. Think of all the ash trays one wouldn't have empty.

Rodeos, Fairs, etc., going on all over the state and we have received enough passes to paper a bill, sent of course for what publicity we might give to their shows. Usually the events take place at a date we can't get to or they are too far for us to go.

The rodent exterminators were at the Tribune office this week. They couldn't find any rats—well not any they would want to be poisoned at any rate. They told us there were very few rats in Morton, this bears up our contention that Morton is a clean town, and just wait until we see the new paving.

The County hospital looks more like a hospital every day and we noticed the forms are made for the foundation of the City Hall.

The telephone line crews are back in town, they are installing telephones in the business district and have promised to have a dial system in here as soon as the equipment becomes available. One of the men worked on the Tribune wires last Friday and after he left another came in to fix their ladder. We can't imagine anyone being able to replace anything as large as a ladder.

A few of the publicity chairman have asked us for tips on how to report and publicity about them already know more about it than we do so here are a few tips—and let us

State Recruiting Drive Aims At Nurse Shortage

The enrollment of at least 2,000 student nurses within the next few weeks to forestall the tragic and far-reaching effects of the nursing shortage on Texas hospitals is the aim of a recruiting campaign started Sunday by the Texas League of Nursing Education and the Texas Hospital Association.

Every community in Texas is facing its most serious health menace in years, according to Miss Lucy Harris, president of the Texas League of Nursing Education and superintendent of nurses at Harris Memorial Methodist Hospital. The drop in student nurse enrollment to 300 from a normal 1,500 annually in Texas must be remedied immediately Miss Harris said or not only will hospitals be unable to expand their facilities, but they will be forced to close beds now in use.

To help solve the shortage most of the state's 37 accredited schools of nursing have postponed their opening dates from Sept. 1 to Sept. 15 or Oct. 1. Also backing the campaign are the State Medical Association, the Texas Graduate Nurses Association, the Texas State Board of Nurse Examiners, and the State Organization for Public Health Nursing.

The state recruiting drive is in line with the national campaign to educate the public on the shortage which exists and which will grow progressively worse and to encourage young people deciding upon a vocation to choose the nursing profession. Accredited nursing schools in Fort Worth are Harris Memorial say right here that we really do appreciate the efforts of the club reporters in turning in their club meetings, social events and news.

The duties of a club reporter and publicity chairman: To win a good name and fame for the club and its purposes; to remind and advise new, old and prospective members of forthcoming dates; to draw spenders to money-raising events and above all to cajole editors into printing this free advertising for the organization.

A newspaper editor receives many club notices, the best are chosen from these:

After your editor has chosen the stories she will use, she must determine which merit good spotting and space and which rate inferior spotting and space. How your club news is graded depends on you, Mrs. Chairman, and the quality and legibility of what you turned in. It is to your advantage to study the choice allotments of quarter and half-column write-ups some groups get. Note the news value of the content, the newness and interest of the featured subject, and note the number of names sprinkled through it. Remember, though, that all names should have a valid reason for being included.

Here are some basic rules for presentation:

1. Type your story if possible and double space between the lines. If you cannot type, then write clearly and leave spacing between lines.
2. Submit carbon copies only if they are clear.
3. Don't wax eloquent because you're getting into print. Keep to the sober facts which are of interest in themselves. It is well to remember the tenets of journalism: Who, Why, When (Time-Date) and Where, and base your story on these.
4. Never put in prices for fund raising teas, etc. These are columns of prestige, not advertising columns. However, it won't hurt the paper's feelings if you do buy paid advertisements for certain events.
5. Always sign your notices with your name, address and telephone number, and add "Publicity Chairman," Ladies Auxiliary of so-and-so." The editor may find it necessary to check something with you.
6. Get your notices to the editor by Monday preceding your meeting if you want good spacing. Although you may not get it, you enhance your chances by submitting your story early in the week.
7. Bring your notices in when possible. The editor is always glad to go over your reports with you.

We will see you at the football game Friday night.

Panhandle South Plains Fair Catalogs Scheduled To Be Mailed Next Week

LUBBOCK—Copies of the catalog and the premium list for the 29th Annual Panhandle South Plains Fair will be mailed sometime next week, officials of the Fair Association announced today.

The catalog goes to all who exhibited in the last Fair of 1941, to newspaper editors, county agents, superintendents and judges for the Fair, vocational agriculture teachers, home demonstration agents, home demonstration club presidents and chairmen, and Chamber of Commerce secretaries.

Extra copies of the catalog are available in the office of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. They may be obtained by writing the Chamber of Commerce at Box 561, Lubbock, Texas, or by calling in person at the Chamber of Offices in the Lubbock City hall.

The Fair this year will be held at the Fair grounds, as usual. Dates are October 7-12.

We have gone four years now without a Fair, but we are coming back this year to make the Fair the greatest event ever held in this section. To this end we have upped the first six premiums for county agricultural exhibits to where they are as big or bigger than those of many State fairs.

The first premium is $100; second, $85; third, $75; fourth, $60; fifth, $50; sixth, $40; and $25 for the seventh through the fifteenth place.

While we have got one of the worst droughts in history, we want to make the very best showing possible of our agricultural resources to the thousands who will visit the Fair.

Cochran County is urged to promote an exhibit so that thousands attending the Fair can see just what this section can do, drought or no drought.

The event has been termed "History's Greatest Single Steer Roping and Branding". The eight professional performers will each rope, trip and tie for branding five 900-pound Mexican steers for

Veterans' Questions & Answers

Q. Is it possible for me to complete a four year course in three years if I go to school during the summer as well as during the regular school year?

A. Under the accelerated program, in some schools, it is possible to complete the four-year course in three years or less.

Q. In event a veteran is employed, can he meet all requirements for a degree by attending late afternoon and evening classes?

A. Some colleges and universities have served the needs of employed workers for many years by offering a complete program of instruction in the late afternoon and during the evening. With the exception of medicine, the requirements for a degree in any curriculum may be met while the student is employed full-time during the day. Since it takes proportionately longer to complete the college work on a part time basis approximately 60 per cent of the veterans in the past two years have preferred to obtain subsistence benefits from Veterans Administration and attend college full-time.

Q. May I transfer from one college to another under the provisions of the Serviceman's Readjustment Act or the Rehabilitation Act?

A. Yes. Under the regulations of the Veterans Administration, the veteran may change his school, but he must have the approval of Veterans Administration in advance.

Q. If I get out of service just before school opens and do not have time to make formal application and wait for official determination of my eligibility and entitlement before the beginning of the term, may I attend classes?

A. Yes. You may make application, formal or informal, directly to the approved school that

Sgt. Paul Clark To Test Equipment Of Army Under Frigid Conditions

Sgt. Paul H. Clark, 31, is stationed at Ford Ord, California, with the Williwaw Task Force. He has been in the service for four years with 37 months duty in the Pacific Theatre with the 32nd. division. His wife Mrs. Mayl Clark lives in Morton.

According to a recent release from the Public Relations office at Fort Ord the Williwaw Task Forces are in for a "cold winter," as final plans for 4,500 Army Ground Forces troops of three separate task forces for testing Army Ground Forces equipment nears completion.

These task forces will test all types of AGF equipment, including tanks, self-propelled guns, radars, special snow vehicles, new rations, kitchens, clothing and other items.

From October 1, 1946 until April 30 1947 the task forces will operate in all types of dry cold and wet cold weather to ascertain the suitability of present equipment and new types of equipment to meet all possible winter combat conditions. At the same time they will study the need for changes in existing tactical doctrines and training methods for winter operations.

Colonel James P. Hill who served as Chief of Staff of the much famed 14th Armored Division from January 1943 until August 1945, and was awarded the Bronze Star medal with one Oak Leaf Cluster; the Silver Star; Legion of Merit; French Legion of Honor, and French Croix de Guerre will lead Task Force Williwaw to Adak, Alaska noted for its freakish storms.

These storms called Williwaws for which the Task Force is named reach velocities up to 110 miles an hour, generate without warning, blow in all directions at once; and add the hazards of snow, sleet, and rain to the terrific wind speeds.

The Adak unit is expected to encounter almost constant rain and fog with directly freezing and thawing to further plague the men stationed there.

Adak, an island in the Aleutians chain, averages six inches or more of rainfall per month from October through April with precipitation expected two out of every three days.

"Quonset" huts already installed at the wartime installations will provide the base housing for the Adak Task Force.

Task Force "Frigid" (which will also operate in Alaska) will be led by a veteran of World War I and II. Colonel Reichlo, Airborne Field Artilleryman in the ETO of World War II, served as a Machine Gun Battalion Officer of the Sixth Division in World War I.

With daily average minimum temperature of about 18 degrees below zero for the months of December, January, and February, Colonel Reichlo forces will be

McMurry College Scheduled To Open Sept. 16

ABILENE — McMurry College will open on September 16, instead of September 9, Dr. Harold G. Cooke, president, announced today, giving as the reason for the postponement the need for additional time to complete housing facilities for students this fall, mainly veterans.

"By the later date, we will have accommodations for most of our veterans who are married, and all of the single students who have made application so far.

"Nearby homes have opened their rooms to college students, and we will be able to place many of the students there, at least until the new dormitories are completed," Dr. Cooke said.

"We have not closed our enrollments as yet, but students should check, either by a personal visit or by letter, if facilities are available," he added, "and we will make every effort to see that no one who seeks college training this fall will be turned away."

stationed at Ladd Field, Alaska, moving into the field for actual test operations.

Blizzards during all the winter months in Fairbanks are with accumulated snowfall up to five feet on level terrain normal by the latter part of the winter.

Advance detachments from Task Force Williwaw and Task Force Frigid left Fort Ord, August 13, 1946 for the Precidio of San Francisco where arrangements were made for them to leave Hamilton Field, San Francisco Wednesday morning by Air for Seattle, Washington.

The advance detachments boarded ship at Seattle, Washington the 16th of August after procuring cold weather and wet weather equipment necessary for the move.

Colonel Breedlow, in directing Task Force Frost (at Camp McCoy, Wisconsin) will be conducting tests under heavy temperate climatic conditions similar to those experienced to the American Armies during the Ardennes offensive.

Temperatures for Task Force Frost will range between zero and freezing during three months with occasional lows well below zero. Temperatures of -20 to -37 degrees for a period of a few days are not uncommon. Eighteen inches to two feet of accumulated snowfall can be expected by February.

To determine the degree of acclimation needed to enable troops from temperate climates to operate in Arctic regions medical personnel will have an important role in the tests.

In addition to gaining first hand knowledge of first-aid and evacuation problems in frozen countries, medical teams plan to record clinical data applicable in the study of the effects of temperature variations on ground troops.

Chief among the afflictions which beset the ground fighters as a result of cold aggravated by wind intensity are frost bite and trench foot, both of which accounted for numerous casualties in World War II.

Special observers during the tests will include experts from the Ground Forces, Army Air Forces, Navy and Marines.

Ill health causes more suicides among men than women.

Miss Wynell Buck Becomes Bride Of James F. Chaney

Nuptial vows were repeated Tuesday night, September 3, in a single ring ceremony by Mrs. Wynell Buck and James F. Chaney of Levelland. The couple was married at the home of Mrs. L. N. Graham, 1502 Eighth street, Levelland, with the Rev. Sam A. Thomas, pastor of the First Methodist church of that city, reading the service.

The couple stood before an altar arrangement of pink carnations, with lighted white candles in candelabra providing a twilight effect. Wedding music was furnished by recordings.

Mrs. J. H. Sissons, nee Dolly Clark, maid of honor, was wearing a street-length dress of gray and white with white accessories. Lambert Graham of Levelland served as best man.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Holloman of Morton, chose as her wedding attire a dove gray suit. Her accessories were black, and she wore a shoulder corsage of pink gladioli. A 1943 graduate of Morton high school, Mrs. Chaney was "Miss Cochran County" in the recent South Plains beauty contest held in Levelland.

Chaney, a 1943 graduate of Levelland high school, was a star football player. He has been discharged from the armed forces after three years' service, part of which was overseas. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Jim Nail of Levelland.

The tiered wedding cake was cut and served with punch to the 25 guests at a reception following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Chaney left immediately after the reception for a wedding trip to Ruidosa, N. M. At their return they will live in Levelland, where the bridegroom is employed by Luke's Steak House.
