PLANS COMPLETED FOR FIRST ANNUAL FLOWER SHOW OCT. 15

Plans for the first annual Flower Show to be held October 15 and sponsored by the Cochran County Garden Club are complete and the following program has been announced:

All entries must be in by one o'clock, October 15. Doors will be opened to the public at two o'clock.

There will be a musical program intermittently throughout the show hours with Mmes. L. F. Hargrove and J. B. Knox in charge of arrangements.

The evening program will begin at 7:30 p. m. with the presentation of the Morton High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Harry LeMaire.

The Girl's Chorus will be presented at eight o'clock. At 8:15 there will be a style show.

Mrs. O. E. Stevenson will give a book review at 8:45. Mrs. Stevenson has prepared "Out On A Limb" for her review.

This popular book, just off the press, was written by Louise Baker and late in September Miss Baker and her second book was given a literary launching party in Dallas by book men from five states.

Chicago and New York will give the diminutive writer her second and third parties this month.

Miss Barker's "Out On A Limb" is an amazing story of an amputee written to put heart into the most downcast veteran who faces a one-legged existence.

Little Louise, an uniped since her eighth birthday has literally leaped over her handicap and "Out On A Limb" is her own laughing story of a life on crutches.

The Flower Show program will be concluded with the presentation of an old fashioned square dance.

Everyone in Cochran county is invited by the Garden Club to participate in this show either by exhibiting or attending.

Anyone wishing to present his own paintings or other works of art may do so.

Remember all exhibits, flowers or otherwise must be in by one o'clock Tuesday afternoon, October 15th.

The official report on the amount of precipitation registered on the official rain gauge at the Soil Conservation office from last Friday to Tuesday is 6.07 inches.

In localities near Morton reports have come in of rain exceeding 10 inches, and the end is not yet. A good season is already in the ground sufficing for the present. What the farmers need now is sunshine and fair weather in which to harvest the fall crops.

Torrents of rain are reported to have fallen at Whiteface which will raise the average rainfall to more than 7 inches.

A view over the countryside is an inspiring sight; green fields and pastures as pretty as an artist could paint, with no sign of the red and gold hues of autumn about it yet.

Congressional Committee Will Hold Hearing On Future Policies Of Cotton And Cotton Producers In Lubbock

Congressman George Mahon announced from his Lubbock office this week that on October 24th a Congressional Committee would hold a hearing in Lubbock in regard to future policies and legislation affecting cotton and cotton producers.

The purpose of the hearing is to get the views of cotton producers with respect to legislation to be considered by the next Congress. A portion of the AAA law, including that part which enables producers to establish national and local cotton acreage quotas will expire next year.

In the group will be Congressman Bob Poage of Waco, well known in farm circles.

Mahon said that the committee would hold two hearings in Texas, one at Cameron in Central Texas and the one at Lubbock on Oct. 24th.

The exact place in Lubbock where the meeting will be held is yet to be announced.

the hope that each county in this District would have at least one representative at the Lubbock meeting. The Committee is seeking the viewpoint of the cotton farmer as to support prices, loans, parity, acreage restrictions, and numerous other questions of concern to cotton producers.

New Type Farm Structures Offer Benefits

Possibility of prolonging the life of dairy cattle through better housing and better management is being studied by steel companies through research projects at farms and at state agricultural colleges, according to the American Iron and Steel Institute.

"The dairy cow in this country goes out of production when she should be in her prime," says Dr. E. E. Helsler, chairman of the Dairy Husbandry Division of Wisconsin's College of Agriculture where an experimental welded-steel dairy farm unit has been erected. "Four years are about her limit."

Complete facts are not yet available, but the American Iron and Steel Institute has announced that various studies of farm structures being conducted by the industry point to the possibility of substan-

Power Men Define Policy On Farm Electrification

Calls for Rapid Extension of Lines and Cooperation With All Agencies Interested in Farm Betterment

A statement of policy defining the attitude of the electric power industry towards farm electrification was released this week by the Edison Electric Institute, trade association of the industry. The statement sets forth the practices, which, in the opinion of the electric companies represented by the Institute, will most effectively promote extension of electric lines to farms now unserved, and calls for cooperation of all agencies interested in increasing the value of electric service to the farmer.

"There is a task in farm electrification not yet completed," the statement emphasizes, and "because of its importance to farmers directly concerned, and to the national welfare, the Edison Electric Institute desires to make clear its attitude in this connection. Its interest in the matter is indicated by the fact that electric operating companies serve at retail about 60 per cent of the connected farms, and through wholesale contracts supply a large part of the power used by the other 40 per cent."

The statement affirms, in brief, that "it is the policy of the Edison Electric Institute, working through its members, to:

Promote rapid and efficient extension of electric lines to farms not now connected, and increase the number of users of service along existing lines;

Foster cooperation between officials of operating companies and rural cooperatives, for better understanding of questions arising from two distribution systems operate in adjacent territory;

Encourage building of each line extension by the company, REA cooperative or other agency in position to build the extension most economically;

Sing Sing prison was built by a construction force from Auburn penitentiary.

Early-risers are braggy in the morning and draggy in the evening.

Some of the large varieties of butterflies migrate south for the winter.

Advocate connections between lines of companies and cooperatives, so that adequate wholesale power may be purchased by cooperatives at fair prices; thus making indefensible the use of federal money by REA and other governmental agencies to build generating plants or major transmission lines which duplicate existing systems;

Join in supporting research work, preferably through agricultural colleges and experiment stations, to develop and adapt equipment for farm operations; cooperate with manufacturers in making such equipment available; participate in bringing to farmers, through agencies such as the Agricultural Extension Service, factual information of such equipment; and promote research to improve rural power service, and to increase the usefulness of electricity to the farmer."

In releasing the statement of policy, Grover C. Neff, President of the Institute, said that about 4,100,000 farms, or three-quarters of all those occupied, are now either connected to power lines, or within one-quarter of a mile from such lines. Five-eighths of all farmers are taking electric service. Electric companies expect to connect about 600,000 additional farms in the three years, 1946 to 1948. Cooperatives are expected to connect another 600,000 and other agencies, about 40,000 farms during this period.

With the completion of the task of building rural extensions thus in sight by 1948, a major objective of the electric companies is to get electric power efficiently applied to as many farm jobs as possible, and thus increase its value to the farmer. The companies are already working with state universities and farm organizations on numerous research projects, and with other groups in the electrical industry to find increasingly efficient ways of applying power to farm operations.

The lovely Morrow home, which is set down in an enormous bed of the most perfect flowers which nature, with some assistance, can produce, was the scene of the 1936 Study Club meeting at 4:15 Wednesday, Oct.

Mrs. Albert Morrow served delectable refreshments of individual chicken pie, cranberry salad, nut rolls, nut cake and coffee to the following members, immediately upon arrival:

Mmes. Scott Hawkins, R. C. Ross, F. F. Roberts, J. B. Knox, M. C. Ledbetter, Travis Ferguson, M. E. Nicewarner, Mary Gowdy, H. Hawkins, Chester Strickland, Truman Doss, James St. Clair, Charles Cravy, and J. D. Hawthorne.

After completion of business the club heard a delightful entertaining discussion and reading of "Modern Poetry" by Mrs. Scott Hawkins. During the program Mrs. Hawkins read from the "modern" uncaptialized and unpunctuated poems of "archy and methibel" by Don Marquis. She also gave some works of these modern poets: Edgar A. Best, Grace Noll Crowell, and

On October 16 the Club will meet in the home of Mrs. Pat Hatcher and hear Mrs. Raymond Ross discuss "Famous Paintings."

Farmers Worked 75.4 Hours a Week

American farm operators averaged 75.4 hours of work a week during a recent three years, according to a nationwide survey of working habits in agricultural centers.

In the same period, according to the American Iron and Steel Institute, workers in steel plants averaged 41.6 hours of labor a week.

The operators of the six million American farms spent nearly 4000 work hours a year, per man, plus the use of mechanized equipment, to earn a living and to produce the crops and food needed to meet the urgent wartime demands of a hungry world.

Farm operators in the West North Central area worked the longest hours, putting in an average of 82.5 hours a week. Second were the farm operators in the East North Central area with 82.5 hours a week, while farm operators in the Middle Atlantic worked 79.9 hours a week. Farm operators in the Pacific states put in the smallest number of weekly work hours, averaging 72.1 for the three years of 1939, 1943 and 1944.

Weekly SURPLUS NEWS WAA

Farmers of this region who certify, through the Department of Agriculture, that their production is impaired by a shortage of farm equipment and supplies will be given assistance to obtain available property from government surplus, Hamilton Morton, WAA regional director announced this week.

Morton appointed Duncan D. Myers in the Fort Worth War Assets Administration office to handle agriculture and major farm organizations. It is generally provided that surplus property needed to prevent impairment shall be disposed of to farm organizations, cooperative associations and farmers and orders have been issued to expedite action on such certifications of impairment issued by the Department of Agriculture. This will be of immediate benefit to all farmers in this part of Texas.

As part of its program to relieve the veterans' housing shortage, the FPHA has purchased from War Assets Administration $3,270 worth of valves and fittings for gas and water mains. With many of the items selling for as low as two and three cents each, this adds up to a huge quantity of valves and fittings.

Believe it or not, there need be no shortage of shaving brushes. WAA in Fort Worth has 161,000 brushes for sale. In addition, WAA has many cases of famous brands of after shave lotion on hand, acquired, of all places, from the army. Toothpaste and toothpowder, shaving cream and antiseptic powder are other items offered for sale.

Much in demand prior to the war, double-deck wooden bunks are now being offered for sale by War Assets in Fort Worth. Ideal for families with two or more children, WAA has 41,502 of these beds which are suitable for painting any color. The sale will continue until all are sold and that many more children made

Guard Youngsters Against Winter Health Hazards

AUSTIN—Young children may suffer as much from winter illnesses as they do from those commonly known as "summer complaints," in the opinion of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, and his advice to parents is the winter season approaches is to guard babies and young children against these winter health hazards.

Influenza, tonsillitis, pneumonia, bronchitis, and asthma are included among those diseases which may be dangerous winter illnesses among young children since they affect the respiratory system. Such disease as pneumonia may develop from a neglected cold, they may follow as an after-effect of measles or whooping cough, or they may occur suddenly and with very little warning. These diseases of the respiratory system are more prevalent in winter than in summer and are much more difficult to combat than digestive ailments such as summer complaint.

"These winter diseases are particularly dangerous to babies and young children," Dr. Cox stated. "Nearly all of them are spread through the secretions from the nose and mouth. Children not in vigorous health are naturally more susceptible to these complaints and the first line of defense," Dr. Cox cautioned, "is to strengthen the powers of resistance against disease; the second is to keep them under medical supervision and the third is to make sure they avoid contact with others who have coughs, colds, or fevers."

Seeds From Tech Go To Hawaii For Experiment

LUBBOCK—Seeds from the farms of Texas Technological College have been sent to Hawaii to be used in the first large scale experiment and development in intensive agriculture in Hawaii's so-called "frost belt" area.

The seeds, including honey June corn, sweet sudan, early hegari, red top sumoi cane, sugar beets and plainsman milo, were sent by Dr. A. W. Young, head of Tech's plant industry department to Thomas B. Vance, director of territorial institutions.

Crops will be planted on the farms of the new territorial prison in Hawaii, centered in an elevation range of from 4000 to 6000 feet on the slopes of Mauna Loa, Hawaiian Island. The area is called the "frost belt" because part of it receives light frosts during the winter months.

New Motor Tune-Up Solvent

Receives Praise From Every Mechanic Who Tries It.

Keep Your Engine Action In Top Tune-Up

Satisfactory performance of the modern high - speed, high - compression engine requires clean, smooth-working engine parts. A pint of POWERMAX will remove extraneous matter, thereby obtaining smooth performance of the engine with economical results.

The three fundamental divisions of engine tune-up are compression, ignition and carburetion. Since compression does not depend in any way upon ignition and carburetion, POWERMAX should always be used to keep your engine action in top tune-up.

Hockley-Cochran Baptist Association Raised $1,717.02 For Foreign Relief

The campaign launched at the Southern Baptist Convention in May to raise $3,500,000 to be used to rehabilitate their mission work, and in relieving the suffering in war torn Europe and Asia. Texas Baptists accepted their share of this fund $458,200. They have over subscribed this quota 120 percent having already contributed $658,000 and offerings continue to come in to the state office. Dr. J. Howard Williams, Executive Secretary Baptist General Convention served as director of the campaign in Texas.

An annual meeting of the convention convenes in Mineral Wells, November 11-15th., when the fund will be greatly augmented. None of this fund obtained in this campaign will be used to administer the distribution as salary deduction. However, some of this fund will go for relief where the Baptist Foreign Mission Board does not operate a mission, in such cases we proffer this aid through already existing agencies, some of which has already been sent through the Friends Society. Dr. B. J. Cauthen, Baptist Mission Secretary to the Orient, will supervise distribution to China and Japan through more than 200 Baptist missionaries in those areas.

13 District Farm Bureau Meetings Will Be Conducted Throughout State In Oct.

A series of 13 district Farm Bureau meetings will be conducted throughout the state of Texas during the month of October, it has been announced by J. Walter Hammond, state Farm Bureau president.

One of the meetings will be held in the Lubbock Hotel at Lubbock on Wednesday, October 9. W. R. Tilson of Meadow, state director, will preside. The meeting, which will begin at 10:00 A. M., will be attended by Hammond and State Organization Director Marvin Carter.

"The chief job of organized agriculture is to maintain farm prices at a fair exchange level," Hammond said. This was not done following World War I and the result was depression. After the other war farm prices dropped 53 percent. By 1935 two million farmers were foreclosed. Industrial goods dropped only 14 percent, which brought about disparity between agriculture and other groups.

Principal topic for discussion at the forthcoming farm meeting, will be the proposals of officials of government and other groups with reference to the future of agriculture. "A careful study of agriculture's program as proposed by these people," Hammond said, "will reveal that they are the same plans offered and adopted following the first World War which led the nation into depression that not only wrecked agriculture but brought ruin to business, finance, and industry. The present-day trend is toward cheaper prices for farm products."

"If the right plans are not adopted now," Hammond continued, "we cannot hope for anything but a recurrence of the disaster following World War I. An agricultural program must be maintained that will stabilize the prices of farm products."

Scott, John Carradine and Gilbert Roland. Reginald Owen finds his place on board the "Adventure" galley in the role of a "gentleman's gentleman," hired by Kidd to polish off his manners.

Under permit of the King's Royal Seal, Kidd lifts anchor and sails out to safe-convey the richly-laden "Quedagh Merchant" from India to England. A Lordship and a Lord's estates are to be Kidd's Royal reward for services faithfully rendered. And Kidd, with his greedy eye on the Royal reward, secretly plans to augment it by splitting the "Quedagh Merchant's" treasure with His Majesty.

Kidd safe-convoys the "Quedagh Merchant" to the bottom of the sea and preceeds on his way. But all is not smooth sailing. The presence of the fabulous treasure and the Lady Anne inflames the greed of the crew. Secret revolvers and hates flare out. The decks of the corsair vessel run red with blood. And the end of the long bloody trail for Kidd is a Royal reward at the gallows' ropes.

Comics Romp In "Little Giant"

Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, Universal's champion funny men who have attracted bigger audiences for film exhibitors than any similar team, are, to their new picture, "Little Giant", being graduated to a new and more important status in the amusement world. The movie is due Sunday and Monday, October 13-14 at the Wallace Theatre.

Long dependent on the "gag" type of comedy, which they brought to film and radio from burlesque and vaudeville, the famous team that became a sensation overnight at the beginning of World War II with "Buck Privates", is expected to make just as big a splash at war's end with their latest picture, a totally different type of entertainment.

LOOKING AHEAD

By George S. Benson, President, Harding College, Searcy, Ark.

LONDON TODAY

England suffered much during the war. Many blocks in the heart of the great city of London, completely razed by the Nazi "Luftwaffe", remain unrepaired. All parts of city sustained scattered damage from the raids. They took much punishment bravely, and they are industriously setting about to repair their country.

Perhaps it is partly Britain's proximity to continental trouble-makers and the consequent disaster, although some of these trouble spots have been pawn as well as threat during her history, that gives the people such an awareness of foreign relations. They have learned the defenses that are usually provided by a good foreign office, and have developed shrewd international statesmen. There is little apparent disunity in their foreign policy.

Nonetheless, war came to them, and their sufferings were great. Reconstruction in Britain is moving slowly. A long time will be required for complete rebuilding, even of her damaged streets and destroyed buildings. Materials are short, and rationing diverts most materials into home building, which is proceeding slowly also.

Rationing Slow-Down

Most Britons feel that rationing of materials has slowed production. The government is meticulous about "filling out forms," and the proper approval must be had to obtain each different type of building materials. Sometimes brickwork must stop because the bureau controlling glass has not approved and returned the forms for buying windows. This reminds one of the days when our craft unions were at odds frequently (but perhaps never the bricklayers and glaziers), slowing down construction work. The London press announced while I was there that building contractors were being granted extra gasoline rations because of the additional travel required to get their numerous forms filled out and circulated to wholesalers and retailers, which they found necessary to do in order to complete a building.

All rationing seems to move slowly. For instances, I had to obtain food points to give the hotel for the week I was in London. Upon the advice of the hotel manager that I should report at the rationing office when the doors opened at nine o'clock, I arrived at 8:45 and found a long queue already waiting. Eventually I found myself in a special room for foreign visitors, with only a few of the waiting applicants, and had to wait only about an hour. The speed of the ration clerks reminded me of some of our own paid clerks during the war; it was evident they were not paid by the number of customers they served and that they had no fear of competition.

Queues and Bread

England is experiencing a greater shortage of food, clothing and gasoline than during the war, and therefore rationing has not been eliminated. On the contrary, some items are now rationed which were not under rationing during the war. Queues of from 50 to 3000 people were constantly on the streets, at most all hours, waiting to get rationed articles.

I was actually hungry every day I spent in England. Bread counts as one of the three courses available for a London dinner, and if bread is ordered this eliminates either the soup or the sweet. During my last day in London a hotel waiter was fined $20 for inadvertently putting a roll on the table for each of two men who had not ordered bread. They chanced to be inspectors.

READING & WRITING

By Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

In September, 1938, the coast of New England was swept by one of the worst hurricanes in its history. Trees and houses were torn from their moorings. The lives of people for many miles were in danger.

CHRISTOPHER LA FARGE

Again in September, 1944, six years later, another hurricane struck this same region—bad enough, but nothing to compare with the earlier one. It is around these two hurricanes that Christopher La Farge has written his intriguing novel, "The Sudden Guest," which is part of the Book-of-the-Month Club's double selection for September, along with George Orwell's "Animal Farm."

The story deals with only two days in the life of Carrel Leckton, an elderly, wealthy spinster living in her ancestral summer home on the Rhode Island coast. But by the time the reader has finished absorbing the events of these two days he has learned to know utterly the soul of Miss Leckton, who had thought to dominate others without love, to take without giving. He has learned a good deal about a half dozen other characters, widely assorted, and, most important, he has probably learned a little about himself. We might add that the reader will also have accumulated considerable information about the weather in its most melodramatic phases, for Mr. La Farge's account of the ravages of the hurricanes is unforgettable reading. "The Sudden Guest" is that rarity among recent novels, a highly intelligent book that is at once thought-provoking and exciting.

Mother-in-law stories have long been a standard commodity in our joke books. Father-in-law stories seem to be rarer. Here's one from the Chinese, which we read in "Chinese Wit and Humor," edited by George Kao.

"I understand that your honorable daughter will come to me with a dowry of fifty thousand dollars?" asked the future son-in-law. "Yes," answered the would-be father-in-law, "but for the time being this sum of money is in my safekeeping. As soon as I die it will be hers, plus interest." "About when will that be?" the future son-in-law wanted to know.

Texas' U.S.O. Campaign For $800,000 Headed By Governor Stevenson

What is stated to be a final campaign for U.S.O. maintenance has been announced by a campaign committee which has placed each of the 254 counties of Texas into one of six regions, these being made up of 66 districts with Robt. B. Anderson, N. W. region, chairman.

We have been placed in the 36th division supervised by Col. Carl Phinney of Dallas. Mr. Gayle Bishop was appointed chairman for Cochran County, but we are informed that Mr. Bishop has declined to serve.

The committee reminds us that we have more than 125,000 Texas men still in services, overseas, in hospitals, or who are just beginning training. It is a fact that our servicemen need the environment of the U.S.O. centers.

The churches have profited in prestige by maintaining their own U.S.O. centers which extend hospitality to all servicemen. They have been self-supporting, too, in most instances. Vacant buildings were remodeled and redecorated by the young people of each locality where they were placed. Candy, tobacco, pop-corn, gifts, novelties, etc., are vended at these places and they net a good income. Jewelry is one of the big lines carried overseas at the centers which are sold at a good margin of profit to the soldiers who spend their money freely for gifts to send back home and to give to new friends where they are stationed.

Commercially the U.S.O. cen-

Vic Vet says

ters have proven to be a substantial institution. Free stationery is usually available at the centers for servicemen, as well as many other conveniences and fine courtesies extended to them.

Tours by popular screen and radio personalities have been the entertainment highlights of the camps, particularly where U.S.O. centers are maintained. These will be conducted as long as we have men drafted into military service.

The expenses of obtaining these popular entertainers is the responsibility of the U.S.O., and largely the reason for the campaign.

Choice Of Theatre No Longer Given Service Enlistees

Because of new developments constantly changing to unexpected locations our occupying forces enlistees will no longer have the choice of theatre as has been the privilege granted. Because of this ban a slump is expected in enlistments, which will occasion a resumption of the draft.

An official war document by Secretary of War Patterson made the statement that because the choice by enlisted men had been to the European theatre, that by necessity future assignments must be made to other parts of the war map.

VA Head Director Visits Texas

DALLAS—Four Star General Omar N. Bradley, director of the Veterans Administration, on an inspection tour of VA offices and hospitals in Texas this week, urged continuation of USO shows for veterans in hospitals and outlined current plans to establish a single standard for real estate appraisals for loans to veterans.

"Morale is as important as medicine to the 90,000 veterans in VA hospitals. USO shows definitely help morale," General Bradley told J. O. Newberry, director of the current Texas USO campaign to raise the state quota of $800,000.

The appraisal problem now facing veterans seeking GI loans is being worked out with Housing Expediter Wilson Wyatt, General Bradley said. At present appraisals by FHA and VA are not necessarily the same. It is proposed that the first approval by either agency will stand as the final government appraisal.

General Bradley is expected to continue his tour to San Francisco where he will address the American Legion convention.

Don't Miss "Neglected Daughters" Coming To Wallace Wed., Oct. 16th.

Boys and girls of today are neither better nor worse than those of twenty or fifty years ago, according to a noted educator who recently previewed the motion picture, "Neglected Daughters", which comes to the Wallace Theatre next Wednesday Oct. 16.

According to this authority, modern life has become more complex and the automobile has added to the temptations which are thrown in the way of today's youth. These things combined with the fact that American home life has changed, that parents have little time in which to discuss personal matters with their children, are blamed by him for the muchly over-publicized reports of juvenile delinquency.

"Neglected Daughters", he stated, is an excellently done study of present day student life. Such conditions exist in every city and small community in the country, for exactly the reasons shown. Parents have little time or inclination to listen to the problems of their sons and daughters and usually take the easiest way out, which is to depend upon their finding out many of the more important facts of life as best they can.

According to this authority, "Neglected Daughters" should be seen by every parent in the country, along with their sons and daughters of high-school age, the parents will see the importance of confiding more in their children, and it will help the children to avoid the tragic consequences so often brought about by a lack of proper knowledge.

In addition to "Neglected Daughters", a sensational featurette, "Secrets of Motherhood," billed as a picture you will never forget, but may wish you could, is on the program. William Raymond appears on the stage at

John Tarleton College Asks For An Appropriation

A Brochure telling of the construction of the science building of John Tarleton College in 1938 under a deficiency appropriation authorized by the Governor of Texas in 1937 which was constructed by three private firms at a cost of about $75,000, and because of a legal technicality they have never been paid. This technicality was not explained. This News Service also states that even the Texas vote for amendment SJR No. 5 that passage of the amendment "does not guarantee payment." This money could be applied elsewhere and for irrelevant purposes, then, and the debt remain unpaid.

Also "about $75,000" is an indefinite amount, and therefore illegal; twice this amount could be "appropriated" or made collectable as it now is presented to the public. The names of those to whom the debt is owed should also be made known. It certainly is not a scholarly request.

Treatment Of Small Grains To Prevent Rust Is Of Utmost Importance

Treatment of small grains to prevent rust is of utmost importance, Dr. A. W. Young, head of the plant industry department of Texas Technological College reminded farmers this week.

Two ounces of copper carbonate or one half ounce of the new, improved Ceresan, a commercial preparation, is sufficient for each bushel of grain and may be applied in any type of seed treat-

Prison Rodeo To Have Big Supporting Cast

HUNTSVILLE—Since this, the Fifteenth Annual Show, is expected to be the "Gran'Pappy" of all prison rodeos to date, W. Albert Lee of Houston, Chairman of the Prison Board Rodeo Committee, said he has planned the best supporting cast for the convicts that it was possible to get.

Opening day will see, for the first time in one of these shows, a Grand Entry. This parade will be spiced with the 150 member Drum and Bugle Corps of the Arabia Temple of Houston, together with its band.

There will be several hundred inmate riders—all sporting new pen-stripe suits.

Guadalupe Partida, roping champion of the Republic of Mexico, will ride his horse, Vaintino.

The Grand Ole Opry of Nashville, Tennessee, will fly to Huntsville to be in the entry and the show.

A Prison Dog-Sergeant and his pack of bloodhounds will trail the marchers, just in case—

Prison clowns, including Bert Stonehocker, veteran of thirteen rodeos, will be cavorting along.

The Goree Girls, Texas' women prisoners, will bring their string-instruments as will one of the prison's Mexican Stringster groups.

There'll be convict cowboys, horses, and oxen in the event.

The gates open at noon and from 1 p. m. to 2, when the rodeo itself hits the arena, there'll be an hour of tip-top entertainment.

After that, the all-convict rodeo cast will take over for two hours of riding and roping in the "fastest and wildest rodeo in captivity."

Or, out of captivity, for that matter.

Sixth Annual Convention Of Oilwell Drilling Contractors In San Antonio

Speakers at the Convention of Oilwell Drilling Contractors, which met in San Antonio last week, presented a new proposition to be met by small lease holders who will again be forced to the wall by the increasing importation of oil from Mexico, and other foreign countries where U. S. investors have vast oil developments which are supplying our home market.

William T. Payne, President of the association, advised the contractors to begin operating on an international basis.

It was pointed out that vast oil reservoirs in the U. S. are still untouched, but if the American oil industry is put in the hands of an international authority curtailment of domestic production will increase to the liquidation of independent producers.

Other industries are being put on an international basis, while is reorganizing all business relationships.

Fire Prevention Methods Listed

We have received a list of fire prevention rules to be observed to pre-fire losses.

1. Protect all buildings with lightning rods, say some.

2. Keep heating systems clean.

3. Repair worn electrical cords and equipment.

4. Roofing with fire-resistant material.

5. Discard no matches or cigarettes until they are cold.

6. Store gasoline and kerosene away from wooden buildings.

7. Never use explosive cleaning fluids inside a building.

8. Cure hay and all feeds thoroughly before storing, and test after being stored a few days to make sure it is not heating.

9. Know how to call your fire department.

10. A cistern is the most adequate water supply if buckets are available.

It is estimated that farm buildings are razed by fire at the rate of one every 15 minutes, most of which are preventable.

MR. HAZEL HANCOCK'S PEA CROP HAS BEEN LUCRATIVE

Mr. Hazel Hancock was another Tribune visitor with a fine record for himself. Mr. Hancock's crop which has been lucrative has been with peas, supplying the cannery. We recall the days when we had blackeyed peas the 1st day, navy beans the 2nd, lady peas the 3rd, pintos 4th, big navy soup beans the 5th, white cream peas 6th and ate them all with honey and syrup! Yes, we had something else too, but these were what stuck to the ribs.

Redistricting Of State By Next Legislature Session

A called session of the 49th Legislature for redistricting the state was requested by C. M. McFarland, Wichita representative.

Redistricting every ten years is required by the constitution; but has not been done since 1921, declared Mr. McFarland.

He points out that we of the 119th district by six times that of Wise County it having a population of 19,074 with one representative, and we, in our district, having 130,204 population have only one representative. This should not be an issue for discussion, these being true statements.

TEXAS TECH-S. M. U.

Evidently Lubbock took "big D" so completely by storm last Saturday that she was numbed throughout the rest of the day and night. That's one way to account for Texas Tech defeating S. M. U. 7-0 in the Cotton Bowl.

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER

From where I sit... by Joe Marshall

Are Returning Veterans "Different"?

During the war you heard a lot about how hard it was going to be for returning veterans to get adjusted to civilian life... how they'd be "different."

Well, plenty of them have returned to our town, and a finer, sturdier bunch you couldn't ask for. Most of them are back at the same jobs... going with the same nice home-town girls (getting married, some of them, and setting up families)... renewing the same old friendships.

Even their amusements are the same. Nothing more exciting than fishing Seward's creek or picking horseshoes... enjoying an outdoor barbecue with friendly wholesome beer and pleasant talk.

If they've changed at all it's in the direction of maturity and tolerance... tolerance for everything except dictators, and those who would destroy our democratic principles of live and let live. And from where I sit, that's another reason to be proud of them.

Big Game Hunters Left Wed. For Colorado

Q. How high a fence should be used to confine our turkeys?

A. A fence to confine turkeys need not be high. One not over 4 ft. is most desirable and will keep practically all the birds confined as well as a 6 or 7 ft. fence.

Q. At what age should gilts be selected for their place in the brood sow herd?

A. Many hog breeders believe that growth and development are aids to selection. In the experimental hog herd at the Research Farm of the Ralston Purina Co. at Gray Summit, Mo., gilts are selected for future herd sows when they are six months of age. Until that time they are handled the same as the market hogs for maximum growth and development.

Q. Can you give us some tips on sheep raising?

A. Here are some pointers for the sheepman as drawn up by Purdue University:

1. Wean lambs and rest ewes 2 months before breeding.
2. Trim feet of rams and ewes before the breeding season.
3. Tag the ewes. Clip the heads of woolly-faced sheep.
4. Shear breeding rams by mid-September.
5. Use a strong, heavy boned, vigorous ram of good type for each 25 to 40 ewes.
6. Feed the ewes liberally during the winter, and use good winter pasture when available.
7. Feed ewes so they will gain 25 to 40 pounds before lambing.
8. Feed loose iodized salt to ewes during the gestation period. Block salt wears down the teeth of sheep.

Q. What constitutes a "brace" of dogs?

A. Two dogs of the same breed, matched closely for color, type, and size. They do not necessarily have to be of the same sex.

Q. What breeds are used to produce cross-bred broiler chickens?

A. Usually a Barred Plymouth Rock male is crossed with a Rhode Island Red or New Hampshire female.

Fifteen Texans Are Winners of Santa Fe Railway Educational Awards

Fifteen Texans, including seven candidates for American Farmer degrees, are winners of the Santa Fe Railway educational awards, R. Lano Barron, Texas State Advisor, announced today. The awards permit the winners to attend and participate in the Victory convention of the Future Farmers of America in Kansas City, October 21 to 24.

The seven aspiring for National honors include: Doyle Curry, Rural Route 1, Ropesville; Clarence Oswalt, Rural Route 5, Lubbock; Charles W. Upton, Tokio; Charles Fehler, Clifton; Dwane Jones, Spring Lake; Keesey Kimball, Alpine; Joe T. Lane, Alpine.

Other officers of the State FFA and representatives of Texas FFA activity who were selected for the awards by the State officials include: Alton Brazell, Rural Route 3, Lubbock; James Hancock, Route 3, Timpson; Raymond McNutt, Box 544, Coleman; G. H. Harfst, Box 577, Alpine; Bert Gibbs, Justin; W. A. Messer, Jr., Belton; K. D. Chandler, Jasper; and E. E. Turner, Alpine. More than 15,000 youths are expected at the Victory gathering in recognition of services by members of FFA during war years.

The Santa Fe has been aiding the educational movement of the young farmers since 1928 and has aided many hundreds in furtherance of their educational activities. Fred G. Gurley, president of the Santa Fe Railway, declared that the primary purpose of the Railway's participation is to encourage better agricultural practices. In addition to defraying all expenses one of the highlights of the company's program is the annual breakfast for the winners and their advisors which will be attended by National officers and other leaders.

TWO HORSES

I just saw two horses standing side by side in a field under a tree, facing in opposite directions, switching flies off each other's faces.

It made me feel hopeful about the human race.

If horses can cooperate, why can't people learn to cooperate?

Maybe the countries of the world could learn to cooperate.

Maybe capital and labor can some day learn to supplement each other, like two horses.

Yes, I'm optimistic; maybe in a million years people will be as intelligent as horses.

We wouldn't want Truman Doss, to know it—but his Dad Mr. L. T. Doss makes the prettiest lay-outs. The ad for this week's Grocery "specials" was so nice we were tempted to offer Mr. Doss a job in the Tribune advertising department.

Mrs. Hesse E. Spotts was out early this week putting up very attractive posters, advertising the Flower Show.

Next Tuesday is the big day and from the program we have seen it is really going to be some show. The members of the Garden Club have all worked to put this affair over and we are confident it will be a huge success.

Not long ago we saw Alice Cox in the smartest outfit, a beautiful dark green dress and a sort of Russian Brown Shako hat, the ensemble was most becoming to Alice.

Cochran county hasn't been arid for the past few days. The official report is a little over six inches of rain but we think the gauge slipped a cog.

We were told in August that the normal rainfall expected out here was 17 inches a year, at that time Cochran county had received around four inches, they failed to tell us that as the dead line drew near and the quota not reached, the clouds just opened up and showered us with the needed precipitation to bring the total up to the expected amount in about 2 days time.

The "Fog" evidently reached as far as Snyder because Earl Crum flew away from Morton last week-end but had to return via bus on account of zero visibility, leaving his plane staked out in Scurry county.

Monday in the F. S. A. office we met the area home economist, Mrs. Gladys Holden. She and Miss Norfleet were taking such pains with house plans one would have thought they were plans for their own homes.

Incidentally Mrs. Holden knows one of our dearest friends, Miss LaMarylis Wall. Miss Wall is head of the English department in the Odessa public schools.

Mr. Carl Macon, Supt. of schools, was in a quandary when we saw him Tuesday. He had 1500 tickets good for free admission to the South Plains Fair for local children on Thursday and that is the day to begin the six weeks tests.

We feel sure that the children taking the tests would vote to have school closed on Thursday.

Although Thursday is official Morton day we understand the Fair officials told Mr. Macon they would honor the Morton schools "free" tickets Wednesday.

Lion's Regular Meeting Held Thursday Eve

The Lion's Club met Thursday evening, October 3, with twenty two old and two new members present.

A short business session was conducted by Lion President Cox. Tentative date for Ladies Night was given as October 31, but since this conflicts with the Halloween carnival to be held at the school no definite date has been announced.

Lion Bud Nairn offered the suggestion that Lion's Club sponsor the organization of a Rodeo Association.

J. W. McDermott, formerly of Levelland and active in the Levelland Rodeo association, gave a report on activities of that organization.

No action was taken on the organization of a Rodeo association in Morton.

The program chairman for the evening was absent and a round table discussion took place in lieu of a planned program.

Dr. J. V. McKay and Mr. T. A. McCuiston paid their dues and became members of the Lion's Club.

Other members present for this meeting were: T. K. Williamson, Rev. Arthur Kendall, Carl Ray, L. B. Childs, Floyd Smith, L. E. Huggins, Jack Nelson, Tom McAllister, M. C. Ledbetter, Walter Taylor, D. E. Benham, Louis Smith, Zeke Sanders, Morris Crawford, Charley Cravy, Gayle Bishop, Scott Hawkins, W. W. Williamson and P. B. Ramby.

MR. J. S. CROCKETT, owner and operator of the City Cafe on north side of square is having fluorescent lights installed in the cafe.

MR. and MRS. JACK RICE recently bought the ARLEE BARNARD home in the vicinity of the county hospital. They moved, in to their new home last week.

A recent note from Rev. W. E. Lovelace, former pastor of Morton's First Baptist Church states, "Enclosed you will find check for another year for the Tribune. We feel we could not get along without it."

The note continued: We are enjoying our home here in Albuquerque, Berle is in the University and we have our family together. We enjoy our church work and our contacts with State workers, this is truly a great state and a loveable people. However, we feel that we can never have friends that will surpass many we had while in your town."

We finally met Robert Porter's wife. She is a lovely girl and the possessor of a beautiful complexion. Porter is the law partner of Loyd Kennedy. Mrs. Porter is Lubbock county treasurer. She and Robert are living in one of Albert Morrow's recently completed apartments.

The Big Game hunters from this area got off Wednesday to hunt Bear and Elk in Colorado. We never think of Bears without remembering the time we were camped in Yellowstone National Park and a big brown bear (at least as large as an elephant) ripped our tent open and walked in.

Mighty Fittin'—Those Old-Time Tomato Preserves

"How dear to my heart are the scenes of my childhood!" Memories of old oaken buckets belong to a vanishing generation but almost everybody has fond recollections of the favorite foods of his childhood. Every year a good many people write Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director for Ball Brothers Company, manufacturer of fruit jars, requesting a recipe for pickles or preserves "like my mother or grandmother used to make."

An Old Favorite

A recipe popular a half century ago appeared in an early edition of the Ball Blue Book. It reads: "To every pound of small yellow tomatoes allow one pound of sugar. Put the tomatoes and sugar together and to every seven pounds of sugar allow the juice of three lemons. Let stand together all night and in the morning drain off the sirup and boil. (The recipe doesn't tell how long, but 10 minutes should do.) Put in the tomatoes and simmer for twenty minutes after they boil. Remove the tomatoes and allow the sirup to boil until thick. Just before taking from the fire, add the lemon juice. Put the fruit in the jars and cover with boiling sirup. Seal immediately."

If a more modern recipe is wanted, you might try:

- 2½ pounds (peeled) small tomatoes
 - 2½ pounds sugar
 - 2 cups water
 - ¼ ounce whole ginger
 - 1½ lemon (sliced thin)
 - ½ ounce of stick cinnamon
- Boil together water, sugar, lemon and spices for fifteen minutes; add tomatoes, a few at a time, and cook gently until the tomatoes become bright and clear. Then pour into shallow pans, cover and let stand over night. Pack the cold tomatoes into hot jars and strain the sirup over them. Process twenty minutes at simmering.

Recipe for Less Sugar

If you are wondering where you are going to get the sugar, as who isn't, here is your recipe:

- 2 pounds tomatoes
- 2 cups sugar
- 2 cups corn sirup, light or dark
- ½ cup water
- 1 lemon
- 1 small orange
- 1 stick cinnamon
- 2 pieces ginger root
- 6 whole cloves
- ½ cup raisins

Use small, firm, red, yellow or green tomatoes. Scald one minute. Dip into cold water. Skin but do not core. Combine sugar, sirup, water, lemon, orange (sliced thin) and spices, and simmer 30 minutes. Remove spices. Add tomatoes and boil gently until they are bright and clear. Add raisins. Cover and let stand over night. Pack cold tomatoes into hot fruit jars. Boil sirup until thick as honey and pour over tomatoes. Process 15 minutes at simmering.
