Farmers Encouraged To Store Grain Sorghums Under CCC Loan Program

The CCC is making a Farm Stored Grain Sorghum Loan on this year's grain at $1.66 on No. 1 and 2 grain sorghums. This loan will net the farmer $1.64 after all expenses are taken out. This 2c charge is for insurance and other expenses. Farmers are encouraged to take the loan due to the drop in prices. Indications are that this grain will be much higher in the early part of 1947.

According to Roy Hickman, county agent, the farmer will not lose any thing below the loan rate if he puts his grain in the loan. For instance, if grain drops to lower levels the farmer has his grain sold at the loan rate. He will not have to make up the difference, but the CCC will have the grain. Mr. Hickman states that the farmers here will be buying grain for feed before another crop is made, if it continues to move out of the country at the present rate.

Soil Conservation Office Sidelights

The supervisor of the Cochran County Soil Conservation District have announced there will be a limited number of trees available to district cooperators for planting this winter. Mr. W. W. Smith, secretary of the board of supervisors, brought this subject before the board at a recent meeting because a number of farmers in the county have shown an interest in the practice.

Several years ago nurseries of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service furnished stock for a few windbreak plantings in this county. They were more or less experimental trials and some have proved desirable while others have not. Mr. H. R. Wells forester stationed at Oklahoma City, made an inspection of local tree plantings in September of this year. He has set up a group of recommendations for the planting and maintenance of windbreaks based on findings of his investigation here.

Mr. Wells has told the district supervisors that the nurseries will furnish soil conservation districts trees without charge so far as their stock will meet the demand. Nursery production was seriously curtailed during the war by the help shortage and they have only a limited number of plants on hand at present. He recommends and plans to furnish Chinese elm, mulberry, and red cedar for use in this area.

Anyone interested in obtaining some of these trees should see L. L. Morin at the Soil Conservation Office for particulars and get their orders placed immediately. Requests must be forwarded in December to get plants for this season.

Big Demand Seen For Farm Tractors

With agricultural income at a record high and demand for implements rising steadily, the nation's 6,000,000 farmers will be operating 3,000,000 tractors by 1950, a Philadelphia manufacturer estimates.

Between 300,421 to 399,606 tractors are past their normal junking period, while another 103,577 are wearing out yearly, a study shows, with an estimated 2,238,545 in use last summer.

Texas Builders Urged To Rat-Proof Buildings

AUSTIN—In a preventive program directed against typhus fever in Texas, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has prepared for distribution through the State and Local Health Departments, a pamphlet explaining the importance of incorporation of rat-proofing in the construction of new buildings.

"I am anxious to have this pamphlet in the hands of every builder and prospective builder in Texas," Dr. Cox said. Detailed drawings show how simply and cheaply fundamental rat-proofing can be incorporated in designing a building.

The booklet further explains how much less expensive it is to include rat-proofing in the construction, than it is to make a building rat-proof after it is already built.

"When we build new homes in Texas, they should be for our families only. Rats should be excluded," Dr. Cox declared. "When a new home is not rat-proofed, the rats usually move in about the same time your family does. As long as this continues, typhus fever menaces your family and

Although there are six million farms in the U. S., about 2 1/2 million of them furnish almost all of the commercial farm production for the entire country.

Benefits Assured For Duration

Men who enlist on or after 6 October 1946 are assured of accruing benefits for the duration of the war. Any person who serves honorably on active duty for a period of 90 days, one day of which must be served between 16 September 1940 and the date of termination of the present war, or is discharged with a service-incurred injury or disability incurred within that first 90 day period, is entitled to one year of education or training. If he continues to serve honorably on active duty beyond the initial 90-day period, and between 16 September 1940 and the termination of the war, he accrues additional educational or training benefits equal to the total time he serves honorably on active duty not to exceed four years of such benefits.

For example, an individual who served honorably for three years between 16 September 1940 and the date of termination of the present war accrues one year of educational or training benefits for his first 90 days of active service and one month or year of such benefits for each month or year of honorable active service, or a total of four years of education for a three year period of active service. Or, if a man enlists now and the war is declared over after he has served honorably on active duty for four months, he is entitled to 16 months of education or training.

NAVY SHORT NEWS ITEMS

The United States Navy added 70,000,000 horsepower to its fleet during World War II, equal to the total horsepower of the entire United States light and power industry.

Of 7,000 Sea Scouts who volunteered for the Navy during World War II, 6,082 were commissioned in the Naval Reserve. More than half of the 285,000 Naval Reserve officers were former Boy Scouts.

United States Navy Military and civilian personnel purchased a total of $698,000,000 worth of savings bonds between September 1, 1941, and August 1, 1946.

By scrapping ships not slated for the active fleet, the Navy would realize less than one per cent of their original cost. Instead, the Navy will preserve 2,200 ships in two inactive fleets for 20 years at approximately the same cost as their scrap value.

The volume of liquid fuel shipped overseas in the last year by the Navy and the Merchant Marine was nearly 16 times that of food. Overseas forces required nearly twice as many tons of oil as of all other supplies combined.

The Navy estimated that the Women's Reserve replaced more than 50,000 men for sea duty in World War II, enough to man a major task force.

During 1946 United States Navy chaplains conducted 407,577 divine services which were attended by 32,603,684 persons, performed 12,501 marriage ceremonies, 14,951 funerals and 15,088 baptisms, accepted 13,818 men and women into the church and visited 5,311,408 persons in hospitals, sick-bays and brig.

Perhaps the shortest bombing mission in history occurred during the invasion of Pelelieu when United States Marine pilots flew 1,400 yards from the end of the runway on the recently captured airfield to Bloody Nose Bridge to drop napalm fire bombs in support of Marine infantrymen.

Less than three out of every hundred Navy and Marine wounded died in World War II, as compared with more than seven out of a hundred in World War I. Death from disease was less than one tenth that of World War I, despite the fact that fighting in the recent war took place in far more unhealthy regions.

Portable heaters used by the army in such frigid places as Greenland and the Aleutians may soon be serving needs of city sewerage systems. Recent experiments conducted at a pumping station of the San Antonio sewage system successfully demonstrated the possible use of the heaters as blowers in underground work, showing the advantages of eliminating noxious gases so crews could conduct repair and maintenance operations in safety. WAA's combination heaters may also be used in dairy barns, garages, warehouses and plant nurseries during sudden drops in temperature.

Hospitals, schools, universities, ambulance services and others will benefit materially in an offering by WAA of 43,000 litter carriers, which originally cost the government $800,000. The sale opened Dec. 1, and will last 30 days. Orders will be accepted from priority buyers and commercial distributors desiring to supply industrial health units, ambulance service companies, medical offices, etc. Veterans will have their orders filled first. Prices range from $3 for straight plates and a mattress.

LOOKING AHEAD

By George S. Benson, President, Harding College, Searcy, Ark.

MONOPOLISM

Norway has little government managed industry, as such. The only things wholly owned and operated by the government are the post office, telephone and telegraph, electric power, and railroads, some of which are poorly managed. There seems to be no agitation for extension of government ownership and management. In fact some leaders feel the trend is in the other direction and that the government has shown no ability to provide efficient service.

However, cooperatives are numerous in Norway. Entirely different from government management, they nevertheless control the buying and selling of almost everything and are monopolistic in nature. The effective organizations of the co-ops, while individually owned, have been used in some instances for extension of government control. Subsidies have been offered to farmers cooperatives in an effort to please everybody: the producers with higher prices and the purchasers with low prices. The government now pays half the cost of grain which goes into bread.

Wait Til You're Old

The completeness of the cooperative monopoly may be seen in the association of drug store operators, to which all operators belong. To open a new drug store a man would first have to become a member of the association and get their approval, after which he would appeal to the government for a license. The government could never grant a license unless the applicant were admitted to the association.

Drug store operators admit no new members except at their own pleasure, and then seldom except to replace a member who has died. I was told that an aspirant to the drug industry can seldom be admitted to the association and obtain permission to operate his own store before he is 45 years old. The same applies to furniture stores. On furniture, moreover, the government determines the selling price of all stock. At present dealers are allowed a profit of 35 per cent, regardless of the size, type, or location of the store.

Plenty of Frontiers

A successful businessman in Oslo, who was a prominent leader of the resistance during the war, is in charge of an old firm with an excellent reputation. Said he: "The regulations have come to interfere with everything. I am no longer really doing business. I just sit here and do what they tell me I can do. In my opinion, the controls are a failure. They make production more expensive and prices higher."

Under the right kind of economic climate, the Norwegian people could raise their standard of living. And this right climate Communism can never provide. Norway does not lack for frontiers. Their farms produce as many bushels of grain per acre as our farms. The fishing waters of Norway are not surpassed. Possibilities for electric power are the best in the world. Manufacturing and lumbering offer only the ordinary difficulties. The country is not over populated. Yet their standard of living is not more than half as high as that in America.

There Is A Way Out

When forward looking Norwegians try to modernize an industry, they are met squarely with the deadening hand of monopoly, either private or public. If one fishing company manages to find a way to sell its product at a good price, while another company exports its fish to Europe for a lower price, the former company pays a tax which goes to the second company for the sake of equalization.

This policy invariably discourages excellence and tends to mediocrity. A premium is thus placed on inefficiency and on failure to make money. But a realistic incentive system, based upon honest competition through out, could soon make little Norway one of the most prosperous small nations in the world.

Swing Of Southwest Farm Markets

Southwest markets saw improved holiday demand up the prices of livestock, eggs, cotton and sweet potatoes to offset the lower tendency taken by most grains, turkeys and some vegetables last week, USDA's Production and Marketing Administration reports.

Thanksgiving found plenty of turkeys at southwest markets but demand slow and prices weak. Young toms brought mostly 23 to 25 cents per pound and young hens 34 to 37 cents. Demand for chickens was brisk. Heavy hens held steady at 22 to 25 cents per pound and fryers at 37 to 40 cents.

Egg prices strengthened as fresh supplies were too small to meet the increased holiday demand last week. Current receipts ranged from 45 to 50 cents per dozen, depending on market locale.

Light cattle receipts accounted for the active trading at most southwest markets last week. Prices were steady to stronger under the pressure of improved demand. Small offerings of medium and good slaughter steers brought $17.50 to $21 per hundred at Wichita and $18.75 to $24.50 at Denver. Medium and good steers and yearlings ranged from $15 to $18.50 at Oklahoma City. Good slaughter steers and yearlings realized $20 to $25 at Fort Worth while cutter and common lightweight yearlings and steers brought $9.50 to $11 at San Antonio. Houston sold common and medium steers and yearlings $11 to $15.

$300,000 Worth Of Surplus Lumber To Be Sold By WAA Starting December 16

McLEAN, TEX.—The former Prisoner of War Camp here will be the scene of tremendous activity in alleviating the current shortage of housing for World War II veterans starting December 16 when War Assets Administration opens a sale of $300,000 worth of lumber, plus untold quantities of plumbing, heating, electrical wiring and 20,000 feet of critically short supply pipe.

John M. McGee, field director of WAA in charge of the McLean sale, announced that only holders of HH priority certificates, issued by the NHA or the CPA would be eligible to purchase for the first five days of the sale, December 16 through 20.

McGee stated that purchases would be limited to veterans seeking to obtain materials to erect or to complete one five room individual dwelling, or to contractors seeking to obtain such materials to build a 5-room home for sale to a veteran.

HH priority certificates may be applied for by veterans at the nearest Federal Housing Agency office to their homes, and farmers seeking certification for erection of farm buildings should make application to the Agricultural Extension Service.

Immediate application should be made by those interested in securing the required HH priority certificate to insure having it by the opening date of the sale, December 16th.

More than 300 buildings at McLean POW Camp have now been taken down and the materials stockpiled in preparation of the opening of this huge WAA sale.

Lehman Farms Project In Cochran County To Be Sold By Government

Government sales of the 37,000-acre Lehman Farms project in Cochran county were recently approved in Washington, Congressman George Mahon has advised.

Plans Are Approved
The announcement was made by L. J. Cappelman of Dallas, director of Farm Home Administration, which agency has advised the FSA, after he had advised by Washington representatives of the most recent developments.

Cappelman advised Congress that plans had been approved for sale of approximately 10,000 acres to be sold in 29 units to individual farmers, and that veterans would be given preference in purchase of those units. The FSA county committee, composed of Cochran county farmers, would sift applications and make decisions as to preferences; that preferences, however, would be given to applicants from the Cochran county.

The individual units range from 320 to 522 acres, some of the acreage suitable only for ranchland.

Also, it was announced that in early December three of four ranch units will be sold. A different procedure will be employed in sale of the ranch units, which will go to the highest bidder. All bids will be offered sealed.

There are approximately 8,000 acres in each of the ranch units. Sale of those units will be without preference. The tracts recently were advertised for sale, and the fourth ranch unit will be offered for sale soon.

Since land values have become inflated since the war, and since much oil has been discovered in the area, much interest attaches to sale of the tracts. In that connection, it was announced that oil rights will be transferred with surface rights to purchasers, in conformity with the law.

It is expected, Cong. Mahon said, that disposal of the 29 units for farm purposes will be actuated within two weeks.

VISITED SISTER

Miss Nell Watkins of Ft. Worth visited her sister, Mrs. Ben Dyer and Mr. Dyer, over the Thanksgiving holidays, returning to Ft. Worth Sunday.

FARM FACTS WORTH KNOWING

Q. How can I get my cows to drink enough water during the cold winter months?

A. In winter, the water tank should be kept as close to the barn as possible, and it should be well protected so that the cows will not get too cold and refuse to drink. In cold climates, a tank warmer is almost an essential. Failure of cows to drink enough during severe cold snaps often results in constipation and sharp drops in milk flow.

Q. How much artificial light should be used for lighting turkey hens?

A. Provide one watt for every 3 to 4 square feet of floor or yard space.

Q. What is "blinking" in hunting dogs and what causes it?

A. A "blinker" is a good hunter until he finds the birds; then he changes his course to avoid them or shows extreme nervousness if he does point. In "Handling Your Hunting Dog," a book published by the Ralston Purina Company and written by J. Earl Bufkin, well-known authority on dogs, the author states that blinking is usually caused by too much severe punishment, improperly administered, in connection with the dog's work on game, or by trying to shoot over a dog that is gun shy. In either case, the dog's experience with birds has been so unpleasant that he prefers to avoid them.

Q. How many lambs may be expected from a flock of 100 ewes?

A. The ten year average lamb crop for the United States is 85%. The 1946 lamb crop has equaled the record of 89.5 lambs for each 100 ewes one year old and over, established in 1941. Many flocks will have more than 100% lamb crop, because twinning is common in sheep.

Q. Will range livestock take more salt if it is placed near water?

A. Research workers of the Soil Conservation Service in Texas report that cattle eat nearly twice as much salt when it is distributed at several places in a pasture as when all the salt is placed near the watering trough.

Send your questions about livestock or poultry problems to FARM FACTS, 815 South Eighth Street, St. Louis 2, Missouri. Questions will be answered without charge, either by mail or in this column, as a service of this newspaper.

Coronet Spotlights Texas' Home-Grown Circus

"The Gainesville circus—a truly home-grown show—has become the envy of professionals throughout the entertainment world," said Billy Rose, as quoted in the December Coronet article, "Biggest Home-Town Show On Earth."

Describing the beginning and growth of Gainesville's unique community enterprise, the article tells of the first showing in May, 1930, when the circus cost $300 to produce and grossed $420. Today the show is such a rousing success that it gives performances in other Texas towns and in Oklahoma.

The circus has no professional entertainers, no elephants, no tigers or side show, and yet it is rated fourth largest circus in the United States. Among the clowns are a county judge and a doctor. The equestrian director and ring master is the manager of the local ice company. A housewife is a star bareback rider. There is no shortage of talent in Gainesville.

How to Stop Worrying

I guess folks in our town do about as much worrying as in yours—over housing and prices, and crops, and jobs—and the little domestic problems that are always coming up.

Dad Hoskins, who's lived to the happy age of eighty, has a simple formula for stopping worry. About every problem, he asks himself: Is there anything I can do about it? If there is, he never postpones making a decision, or taking necessary action.

hour" after dinner, and gets his worrying over in one concentrated period. When that's over, he relaxes over a friendly glass of beer with Ma Hoskins—and they talk about pleasant things together, until bedtime.

From where I sit, that's as workable a formula as you could find . . . right down to the mellow glass of beer that seems to wink away your worries.

Heart Disease Rates First In Children's Death

AUSTIN—Rheumatic heart disease is now the first cause of death among children aged 10 to 14, and is second only to tuberculosis at ages 15 to 25. Despite the importance of this disease its epidemiology is not completely established. No vaccine such as those that prevent typhoid, diphtheria, smallpox, and whooping cough has yet been developed for its prevention or control. We do know, however, some of the danger signals and with the physician's accurate diagnosis some of the damaging results of the disease may be prevented.

Exposure to frequent chilling, damp or overcrowded living quarters, a poor diet, an attack of scarlet fever, a bad cold or other infection caused by certain streptococcus germs are likely to be predisposing factors in the appearance of rheumatic fever.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, points out that in general the danger signals of rheumatic fever are pain and swelling in the joints of the knees, ankles, elbows, or wrists. The pain usually is felt in one of these centers and spreads it to the others. Oftentimes a child will get irritable and cross without any visible signs of a good reason for this attitude; he may cry easily or develop habits of nervousness. A physician should be consulted at once in such a situation, for these symptoms may be the beginning of rheumatic fever.

According to Dr. Cox the best safeguard against this disease are to have each child examined at least once a year by a physician, to have the right kind of food and plenty of rest. When the disease is suspected of being present, a doctor should be consulted at once, and if he prescribes complete bed rest, his advice should be implicitly followed.

Judging from the nation's divorce rate America is rapidly becoming the land of the free.

Beautiful weather—the street paving is getting along—but slow. With this nice weather the streets should dry out and the contractors finish the work soon. WE HOPE.

The stores around town are showing the most luscious gift items, both the luxury and practical type.

We have an advantage in Morton, not found in larger places. The clerks are our friends and in most cases the owners are also working in the establishment. They are able to give the customers personal attention and do not seem as harassed with rush as in other places.

Toys this year are much nicer and of better material than noted in the war years.

Some outside Christmas decorating in the residential area has been done. We hope to see a lot more in a few days.

We were agreeably surprised to have so many of the Guild members turn out for the meeting at Vagabond House Monday evening. Although we did have to rush around and dust off more plates when so many put in an appearance. We really enjoyed having all the ladies meet in our home.

The little candles atop Star stickers used on our refreshment plates were an after thought. After we saw how skimpy the food was (we didn't have any more) we decided to take up the extra space with the candles.

Mrs. D. C. Todd attended the Guild meeting, looking mighty pretty, and we understand she has just recovered from an illness.

According to what the little bird told us we will be publishing another wedding date soon.

Our two lovely brides, of last week, Dorothy Ann and Norma Lou, are ensconced in their own apartments now, and from all reports are as happy as can be.

Some one left a package in the Tribune office, one item smells of bacon and there are two rolls of the kind of tissue that is very scarce. If package is not claimed soon we will declare "Finders

Keepers."

The Tribune, Kennedy Law Office and Standard Abstract first around the square to clean their sidewalks. Others are going to follow suit soon.

We must be getting old, as now buy shoes for comfort rather than appearance.

FARM EQUIPMENT STRIKE

The six-months-old strike at the West Allis, Wis., plant of the Allis-Chalmers Co., "demonstrates how far a Communist-dominated union will go in injuring the public, the workers and a corporation," says the N.A.M. News.

"The union of farm equipment workers has prolonged its strike by refusing to accept settlement on terms far better than granted labor in many other disputes," the publication says.

"It has persisted in the strike despite the desire of thousands of the employees to go back to work."

"Goon Squads" Active
"The company reported that 3,000 of the 10,000 production workers had returned to their jobs when union 'goon squads' began beating up the workers."

The situation at the big plant, just outside Milwaukee, "furnishes ample evidence of the necessity for restraining irresponsible labor unions," the publication points out, adding:

"It has been shown by Milwaukee newspapers that the majority of the top-ranking officers and some members of the union have signed petitions for Communist candidates."
