Six electric stoves and fridges have been installed in the home economics department. Just off the kitchen is a living room containing new furniture. Whiteface Man Injured Thursday By Gas Explosion

Herbert Taylor, Whiteface, was injured Thursday morning when a gas main, on which he was working, contained more pressure than he thought. Mr. Taylor was repairing a leaky valve on the natural gas line near his home and although the valve was closed, sufficient pressure remained to burn his wrist and blow gravel into his arm and eyes.

Ten Whiteface Band Members Attending Tech

Ten members of the Whiteface high school band are attending the fourteenth Annual Summer Band School at Tech. This is a six weeks' course conducted for members of high school bands throughout the surrounding towns and offers specialized courses by some of the nation's best band leaders.

The summer school band is under the direction of D. O. Wiley, a leader with an international reputation gained in 25 years of school band work. Mr. Wiley has served many times as judge and clinician and his interpretation and advice will be of great help to the students.

Mr. Joe Haddon, director of instrumental music in Big Spring high school, is instructing brasses. The Lubbock junior high school band, while under the direction of Mr. Haddon a few years ago, was the only first division band in two "National Band Competition Festivals." During the war Mr. Haddon was Chief Warrant Officer bandmaster in the army.

Mr. R. A. Dhossche, Director of Vocational and Technical high school band, San Antonio, is flute director in the summer school. Mr. Dhossche is a graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Ghent, Belgium, and has played in the Los Angeles Philharmonic and the San Antonio Symphony Orchestra as well as other professional organizations. His background of personal appearances and public performances will be of exceptional benefit for those students who plan for a similar career.

Mr. Michael Balnemes, Russian born and naturalized in 1946, is instructor of the clarinet. Mr. Balnemes was granted a scholarship at the Royal Conservatory in Moscow at the age of 13. Later he studied in Germany and for 22 years was first clarinetist of the Royal Opera orchestra in Berlin. During a great part of the time he was a professor of Clarinet in the Stern Conservatory, Berlin. Mr. Balnemes has played under world renowned conductors including Richard Strauss, Kleiber, Klemplerer, Bruno Walter Bleach and Mr. Muck. The ten Whiteface students, Gloria Faye Caudle, Lorraine Pipkins, Joan Smith, Bonnie Mae Lewis, Jackie Ledbetter, Janice Snodgrass, Jerrell Snodgrass, Wayne Lindsey, Helene Eddins and Barbara Willett are attending the school.

Cochran County Wheat Harvest Now Underway

The harvesting of Cochran county's golden wheat crop started last week with H. S. Hawkins shipping the first freight car load of graded number 1 wheat from the Hawkins Grain Company's Elevator at Lehman on Friday, June 13.

H. S. Hawkins said Monday, that he thought there would be plenty of freight cars available to transport the golden grain and that he believes sufficient equipment will be here by the time all the wheat crop is ready for harvesting.

Hawkins also said, that with a few dry days and plenty of sunshine grain now selling at $1.90 per bushel would bring considerable money into the county. He expects this price to hold for the next week or ten days. The record wheat crop in this locality is said to be of excellent quality and promises to establish a precedent for future growers.

Proposition For Or Against Levying School Maintenance Tax In County

Resident, legally qualified taxpayers of Cochran county are urged to go to the polls this Saturday, June 21 and vote.

The proposition is for or against levying a maintenance tax on all taxable property within Cochran county for the maintenance of public schools within the county.

At a community-wide meeting held at the Morton school Monday, these pertinent facts were brought out by county school officials.

The Morton schools are especially in need of roof repair and a heating system, as well as many other necessary improvements, and continued maintenance.

The school burden, according to school officials, has been carried by the local people for many years. They now suggest that we let our natural resources, the hidden wealth of Cochran county that is being shipped out every day to other parts of the world share in the maintenance of Cochran county schools.

Speakers at the meeting urged everyone to exercise his right by voting Saturday, stressing the fact that the maintenance tax is for the benefit of the schools of Cochran county.

If the maintenance tax carries, as it must, for the benefit of our local schools, the added twenty cents on each hundred dollars will be collected by the county tax assessor-collector, the amount will be pooled in a special fund to be administered by county school superintendent and the school board.

As an example, let us suppose

Well—here we go again—alho after becoming entangled with the spouse in a paper hanging job on our hall in Vagabond house we almost despaired of ever being able to do anything else.

One who has never attempted to paper a ceiling cannot appreciate the complications that arise until he finds himself with paste from head to toes, and gooey paper everywhere but the place it belongs.

It is almost an utter impossibility to see straight—or to see at all for that matter with one's head bent back about two inches from the ceiling. Two hands are definitely inadequate for handling paper, brush and steading ones self on a rickety box, that threatens to collapse at every move.

That we got the paper hung and still love each other comes under the heading of a "miracle" in our opinion.

Mrs. Harve Andrews is the most versatile person we nearly ever saw. She is equally at home all dressed up and driving that red Buick to a tea party or helping Harve with the chores on their big farm and ranch.

We saw her Monday driving a truck about a city block long with an attached trailer. She looked as pretty as a daisy and very nonchalant.

Jeanette Bryant, who conducts a column, "Tween Me and My Typewriter" in the Hamlin Herald, took time out in last week's issue to mention her tenth anniversary and to compliment her husband by saying, "These years have passed swiftly, with very few dull moments."

Altho we haven't reached our tenth anniversary we can say with Jeanette, that these newspapermen make mighty good husbands and there certainly is never anytime for a dull moment especially if one helps on the paper.

F. O. Masten introduced his friend and namesake, Francis D. Shifflet to members of the Lions Club last week. And we must say that Francis is one of the finest looking young chaps we have ever seen and on top of that he endeared himself to all present with his kindly remarks about Cochran county.

Cochran county has its drawbacks, certainly—but the good qualities more than compensate for any undesirable ones. Those of us who make this part of the country our home are always appreciative of a stranger who can come in and immediately see the good things.

We have been asked lately by a number of persons to express our opinion on the coming hospital election.

While we feel flattered at the request we do not feel properly qualified to express an opinion.

Bonds for the county hospital were voted before we came to Morton and the Co-op association was also organized before we came here.

And since we have not had time to study both questions thoroughly we would certainly feel presumptuous in expressing an opinion.

Too, we feel that the people who have lived here a long time have managed the affairs of the community beautifully. We have never appreciated "up-starts" coming into a town with the idea of making it over.

We have lived in a good many places over these United States and have found it much easier to adapt our self to the prevailing mode than to try to make a whole community over to our way of thinking.

We have asked a good many questions on the issues involved but most of the arguments have started out with the greatest possible amount of bluster and ended the same way.

Nature did not equip us any too well and the matter of just trying to stay out of trouble is a full time job.

However we do have one definite opinion and it is that the leaders of controversial issues are fortunate in having a simple way of carrying their thoughts clearly to other people.

The method is to put down on paper in black and white, complete information of the issues involved; this abolishes alibis and settles arguments. This way the issues are made clear and the public may then make a choice.

We have noticed in talking with folks opposed to the local pre-paid medical plan that there seems to be some confusion between this and socialized medicine (and according to information from Washington, we may soon have this with us).

Government compulsion is not insurance and Senator Taft answered that claim pretty well sometime ago when he said, "The fact is that this is not insurance. It is a plan for government administration of all medical care, supported by a tax on payrolls. There is no difference between payroll tax and any other tax. This can't be insurance if a man has no option except to buy it."

The following is an excerpt from the Industrial News Review:

The very essence of insurance is that it is voluntary. No one makes you buy it. The choice of policy, company, and type of coverage is purely up to you. Government domination of medicine would obviously destroy all freedom of choice. You'd pay, as you now pay for social security, whether you want it or not. You'd take, in return, whatever the government wanted to give you. Worst of all would be the effect on the medical profession. The doctor's livelihood and future would depend upon his pleasing the political administrators of the program. They would make all the important decisions. The cost of administration would be ever-increasing. The ultimate result would be poorer and more costly medical care.

Voluntary prepaid medicine is solving the problem for employed people. Federal aid, to be administered through the states, can solve the problem for the indigent. We need less, not more, government domination of our lives.

The main thing for any individual is to hear both sides of the question, make up his own mind and then go to the polls and VOTE, one way or the other.

This school maintenance tax seems to have everyone more or less puzzled but as it was explained by school board members we understand it to mean that everyone in Cochran county paying taxes on real-estate will be taxed an added twenty cents on each one hundred dollars if the tax bill carries.

This twenty cents will cost folks right here approximately $4,000.00 more than they have been paying but our local schools, in so much need of repairs, etc. will receive an added amount of approximately $22,000.

Some of us who haven't children may resent the tax, but we all know that a town or community can't be any better than its schools.

What I Learned About Bachelors
by Dolores Wages

Like every gal, I don't know anything about men, especially when it comes to understanding them; but with the help of the questions Ann gave me I lightly touched the mystery by interviewing two or three of them.

My first victim was Ben Alexander. Ben owns half interest in Alexander's Grocery.

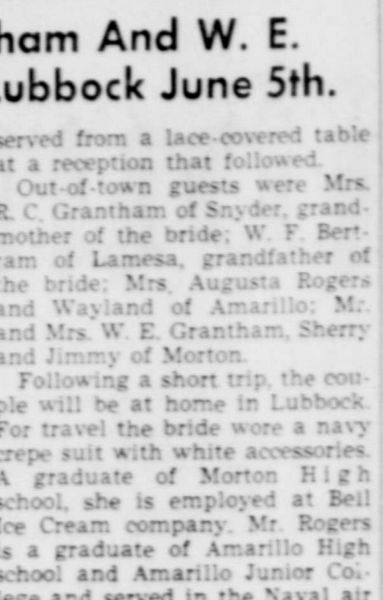

After approaching him, he replied to my first question that he didn't have a job and would rather be fishing, but I noticed he had an apron on. "I shave every morning to keep my whiskers short," declared Ben.

Well, that wasn't so bad after all. Feeling better about the first interview decided to tackle the second, to find it was much easier than the first.

Down the street to Smith Tire and Supply we found Floyd Smith, owner of the store, when asked Floyd replied, "I guess I like my job but I had rather be vacationing anytime." He also said he shaves every day or so, and to my great surprise when the next question was asked; he quickly replied, "Shaves washing my face."

After chasing Zeke Sanders all over town we finally cornered him at the new City Hall. When asked how he liked the new place he said "all right" and also liked his job, but also added he had rather not be working. Zeke answered the last question with, "I shave every day to get my whiskers off."

So you can plainly see it is rather impossible to learn very much about the mystery of men from three confirmed bachelors.

Mrs. Warner E. Rogers, the former Myreta Grantham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Grantham, who was married in Lubbock on June 5.

Mrs. Myrtle Williams, daughter of Mrs. Myrtle Williams, was brought home from a Lubbock hospital June 12th.

Swing Of Southwest Farm Markets

Southwest farm markets remained generally firm to strong last week, but easiness cropped up on some types or classes of nearly all commodities, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Movement of new crop wheat, oats, and barley had gotten well under way and trade sources expected sorghum to join the parade in two or three weeks. Wheat prices sagged steadily, and lost about 20 cents per bushel, closing at $2.25 Friday. Corn and sorghums advanced several cents, while oats and barley changed very little.

Cotton scored market net advances again last week despite late easiness. Good spot demand for the better grades brought only scant offerings. Most crop areas needed rain.

Eggs remained firm last week, while poultry held about steady with declines of the week before. At Dallas and Fort Worth, heavy hens brought 22 to 25 cents per pound, light 18 to 21, and fryers 35 to 36. At Denver, New Orleans, Houston, and Bryan, heavy hens ranged from 22 to 26c, light hens 16 to 21, and fryers and broilers 30 to 35. The Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas area bought heavy hens at 20 to 25, and broilers at 25 to 31.

Cattle sold generally strong to $1.00 or more higher last week, but easiness developed on lower grade cows at San Antonio, and on lower grades of all classes at Fort Worth. Common to medium steers and yearlings brought $14 to $20 at Houston, while medium to good kinds realized $19 to $23.25. Oklahoma City moved good and choice steers at $24.50 to $25.50.

Hogs scored net advances of 25 cents to $1.00 or more at most southwest terminals last week, but butcher hogs lost mostly 25 cents at Oklahoma City, and sows dropped $1 at San Antonio. Bulk of good and choice butchers brought $24.75 to $25 at Fort Worth, and $24.75 to $25.50 at Denver. Late top was $24.75 at San Antonio and Oklahoma City.

Some sheep and lamb markets made small to sharp gains, but lambs dropped $1 to $3 at Fort Worth, old crop lambs fell at San Antonio, and ewes weakened at some places. Good spring lambs moved at $20 at San Antonio; while good and choice kinds turned at $19 to $23 at Fort Worth; $24.75 to $25.25 at Wichita; and $24.50 to $26 at Denver.

Whooping Cough In Texas At Seven Year High

A statement released today by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, indicates that the incidence of whooping cough in Texas is at present almost three times as high as the seven year median.

"Prevention and control of whooping cough, especially among infants and small children, may be accomplished through use of approved vaccine and convalescent serum," Dr. Cox asserted, "and it is important that such measures be taken to protect them. Neglecting to do so, and allowing the young child to suffer an attack of this disease, may seriously impair his future health."

"The infectious agent or germ of whooping cough, is transmitted by droplets expelled in coughing, sneezing or sneaking," Dr. Cox said. "The discharges from the nose and throat are dangerous to susceptible persons; the need for early recognition and careful isolation of whooping cough is obvious."

The first sign of this disease is usually a dry cough, which persists day and night and tends to become increasingly severe. The disease is fully developed when vomiting of food and whooping accompany the paroxysm of cough. Dr. Cox stressed the fact that children who have whooping cough should not attend school and should be isolated so that they will not come in contact with other children until three weeks after the appearance of typical signs of the disease.

BOYCE HOUSE 'Gives You Texas'

Some cynic said he'd rather know less than to know so many things that aren't so.

I spent 12 years in school learning things and a good deal of the time since un-learning them. I was taught that the way to pronounce Nevada was "Ne-vah-duh"; Colorado, "Col-o-rah-duh" and "Hel-ean-uh for Helena, Montana. But talking to folks who come from those places, I find they are called "Ne-vad-uh", "Col-o-ray-do" and "Hel-enuh", respectively.

Probably smallest daily in the state is the Cameron Daily Herald of which J. B. White is editor. The pages are the size of a sheet of typewriter paper, but the daily is newsy and well patronized by advertisers—August 8 will mark the 25th anniversary of the discovery of the great Luling oil field by Edgar B. If we really were frank, we would say most of the time, "How do you feel? Not that I give a darn but it makes conversation."

America's "Most Useful Dog" Being Sought Here

With the thought that it may be located in this section, the Morton Tribune has been asked to help in the Gaines Dog Research Center's quest for "America's Most Useful Dog."

Plans are under way for honoring the winner of the title and his owner during National Dog Week, which will be observed this year September 21 to 27.

Choice of winner is to be made from nominations submitted to Harry Miller, director, Gaines Dog Research Center, 250 Park Avenue, New York 17, N. Y. Complete data, and if possible a picture, should be in before September 10.

The actual selection will be in the hands of a committee of prominent dog folk now in process of formation. The number and variety of services the dog performs will constitute the only basis of judging. Pet dogs or working dogs are equally eligible; age, size, color or breed will not be considered. Final decision will not be made until the leading candidates will have been seen and investigated, Mr. Miller states.

Payments under the old-age and survivors insurance system are made to the beneficiaries as a matter of right and not on the basis of charity. The amount of these payments is based on the amount of wages received and the number of years worked. The old-age and survivors insurance program has no aspects of charity or dole whatever.

LOOKING AHEAD

WHO OWNS BUSINESS?

"Who owns American corporations?" That was the lead sentence of an Associated Press story released the other day. Point of this story was that the people own business. Stockholders of five big companies in representative fields added together number 1,684,868, or enough people to make the fourth largest city of the United States. That is correct, the people do own our corporations. It is right for people to own our business.

I have often contended that in America you have the people owning the wealth and resources of a nation in much more direct and complete manner than you could ever have under any of the socialistic dream Utopias. This is the straight answer to the Communist dodge that the people are the state, to which must be added the fact that in totalitarian countries the state owns the people. In America the people, in a very, real way, own the wealth and resources of the nation.

"Vested" Interests

If you were to combine the populations of Nevada, Wyoming, and Delaware, according to the Associated Press story, you would still not have as many people as own the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. A city composed of the 700,000 A T and T stockholders would be the tenth largest in the country. Moreover it is significant that this corporation's stockholders far outrank in number its 500,000 workers.

This is generally true of American corporations, and when you add the stockholders to the employees, you strengthen your picture of America as a place where the masses have "vested" interest in the wealth of the nation. The stockholders of the richest railroad in the land, the Pennsylvania, outnumber the employees almost four to three. They live in every state of the union, and on the average own 60 shares representing an individual investment of about $1,200.

We're All Dependent

We think of General Motors, biggest automobile manufacturer, as having a lot of employees. Yet, except for a brief period at the peak of armament work during the war, General Motors stockholders have outnumbered employees for 17 years. More than a third of General Motors individual stockholders have holdings of 10 shares or fewer. No single person owns more than 1.5 per cent of all General Motors stock.

While it is remembered that sometimes large blocks of stock will be owned by other companies, it must be kept in mind that these companies in turn have many stockholders. Notable also is the fact that many educational, charitable, and religious institutions and foundations, are on the rolls of "big" business. No one knows just how many persons may be dependent upon the successful operations of our corporations. In the truest sense, all of us are, either directly or indirectly.

Economic Freedom

Some Communist is likely to say at this point that he cherishes the prospect of all these "soulless" corporations being owned by, and operated for, the state. If it's revenue he has in mind, we recall that only once during the six-year period from 1935 to 1941 did tax receipts collected by Uncle Sam from individuals exceed that from corporations. Many other costs of the state are borne by this people's business. Besides various excise taxes, we would have to add also much of what is called "income taxes" of individuals.

Most of the nation's wealth has its source in the enterprise of a carefully conducted business. Natural resources must first feel the hands of the men at the wheels of machines. I cannot imagine why any free American would wish to trade what we

Economic Picture For United States Reported Brighter

WASHINGTON — Government analysts who had forecast a recession did some cheerful hedging today as the census bureau reported that civilian employment rose to an alltime high of 58,330,000 in May.

This development along with reports that retail sales are holding up better than generally expected, has considerably brightened the overall economic picture, officials said.

With civilian employment eclipsing even the war years, the total number of Americans in paying jobs went to 59,800,000, including 1,470,000 in the armed forces.

Changes In Rules On Ambulance Service Asked

Further liberalization of regulations on emergency ambulance service for veterans are the subject of current discussions between representatives of the Veterans Administration, Commandr W. K. Smart of V. F. W. Post No. 5074 said today. The policy of the V. A. regarding ambulance transportation for veterans has been eased somewhat by a recent ruling, Smart said, but the requirement for authorization for this service prior to its use is still in effect except in cases where delay might endanger the veteran's life.

Smart said the Veterans hospital in Amarillo was the closest and all Cochran county servicemen should keep this in mind. The only document or record necessary is your original discharge.

New Policy On Farm To Market Roads Released By Highway Commission

The State Highway Commission today released details of a new state-wide policy on Farm to Market Roads, which will permit an expansion of the present state operated Farm to Market Road Program.

It was explained in the Highway Commission's new policy that the Federal Funds made available by the Postwar Highway Act of 1944 for the construction of Secondary of Farm to Market Roads, covering a three year period, have all been earmarked for specific roads throughout the state. Approximately one-half of this work has been placed under contract and, consequently, no additional funds from this source are now available.

The Commission's statement also noted that no additional funds on the National or State level have been made available for the expansion of the program of construction of Secondary or Farm to Market Roads.

The numerous requests from officials and citizens from all sections of the State for the designation, construction, and maintenance of additional Farm to Market Roads indicated the need of some type of additional program to provide at least for the more urgent and immediate needs in the rural areas of Texas.

On behalf of the Highway Commission, State Highway Engineer Dewitt C. Greer explained, "This new policy of the Highway Commission has been formed to place into operation the new laws passed by the Fiftieth Legislature relative to this type of road."

Mr. Greer pointed out that "a law was passed at this session giving permission for the counties, road districts, etc., and the State Highway Department to enter into a cooperative plan of construction of Farm to Market Roads by a pooling of finances."

He said, "Two additional laws were passed that will tend to yield additional revenues for Farm to Market Roads on the county level. One of these covered the distribution of the surplus of the one cent of the gasoline tax that goes to the Board of County and District Road Indebtedness. This law will tend to give more money from this source to the smaller counties of Texas. The other law is the Constitutional Amendment covering the abolition of the state ad valorem tax and permitting such tax to be assumed by the counties for the construction of Farm to Market Roads and other things."

Mr. Greer explained that "under the new policy of the Highway Commission, if a county or road district desires additional Farm to Market Roads and is willing to furnish the right of way and 75 per cent of the actual construction cost, the State Highway Department will provide the engineering and 25 per cent of the construction cost from its funds, and will provide for the future maintenance of the road, which item alone generally equals the construction cost over a period of fifteen years."

Mr. Greer further pointed out that in the Commission policy it was necessary, due to the limited finances of the Department, that a ceiling of not more than $100,000, in construction costs in any one county in any one year be used to give state-wide distribution under this plan.

Vets Receiving Help At Tech VA Guidance Center

Almost 300 war veterans from Lubbock and the surrounding area have received help in selecting work from the Vocational Guidance center, opened last March at Texas Technological College by the Veterans Administration in cooperation with the college, according to R. L. Hooten, chief.

It's all a part of the Veterans Administration rehabilitation program, and the service given doesn't end with advice. In the case of a disabled veteran, the guidance center goes farther and helps him find a job, either immediately or following subsequent training.

Emphasis is placed on helping war veterans choose occupations in which they will be successful. Advice is based on the veterans' interests and abilities as determined through a series of scientific tests, and on an evaluation of his past experience and training.

Most of the people taking advantage of the service are disabled or handicapped, who may have to choose a vocation other than the one they followed before the war. Of this group, 243 have reported. All disabled persons receiving training under Public Law 16 are required to hold a consultation with the Guidance Center staff. However, any other veteran may receive counsel if he requests it, Hooten explained, and 45 of this group have appeared since the center opened.

The center at Tech is the newest to be established in West Texas. Its staff includes five college faculty members with special training in testing and counseling, a full-time employee to administer and grade objective tests, a clerk-typist and Hooten.

Wayland Receives Go-Ahead Signal For 4-Year College

Wayland College at Plainview received the go-ahead signal this week for accreditation as a four-year college.

A unanimous vote by the executive board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas at a meeting in Dallas Tuesday approved the Wayland board's application to make the school a full-fledged senior college, according to word received from Dr. J. W. (Bill) Marshall, president-elect. This makes Wayland one of three full colleges on the Plains.

The board's decision will make it possible for Wayland students to attend two more years and receive standard college degrees.

Cochran county students who went to Wayland last year and may continue training there for three more years are Velma Justine Bryant, Helen Pearl Crow, Belva Gregory and June Jones of Morton; and Alta Palmer of Bledsoe.

With the third year offered this fall, Wayland officials expect many of those who graduated from the junior college to enroll

Expansion of the laboratory facilities and enlargement of the library are on the immediate improvement program, Dr. Marshall said.

THREE-MINUTE SERMON

By T. L. (Jack) Bullard, Pastor Missionary Baptist Church

"REPENTANCE"

In Acts, 17:30 is the scripture bases for this subject. "And the time of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to Repent." Repentance is a subject that most everyone hears, or has something to say about. Many times the wrong idea is set forth just because we do not know what the Bible has to say about Repentance. According to Paul (Heb. 6:1) it is not the laying again the foundation of Repentance from dead works, and of faith toward God. We should know just what God says about Repentance for it is of eternal importance. Without repentance there is no salvation. Repentance is the first view of faith that is manifest by the individual. Repentance is not a condition but a means of Grace to the individual. Repentance is God's free gift; Acts, 11:17-18. "Forasmuch then as God gave them the like figure as he did unto us, who believed on the Lord Jesus Christ, what was I that I should withstand God? When they heard these things, they held their peace and glorified God, saying, "Then hath God also to the Gentiles granted repentance unto life. Repentance is wholly of God's grace. In Rom. 2:4, Paul made this statement: "—not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance. Many might think that where ever we find sorrow we find repentance, but that is not true. It must be Godly sorrow and not worldly sorrow if repentance is found. Paul said in writing the Corinthian brethren that Godly sorrow worketh repentance not to be repented of; but the sorrow of the world worketh death. In this we find that

Children were saying, "It's how so many of our wartime stick with us."

From where I sit, it's might; good that so many of these common-sense habits like thrift and moderation have stayed with us. Because they belong in America—along with tolerance, and mutual respect for one another's rights. They're habits that have helped to make this country strong and neighborly and free.

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Harrows of heat dragged by the sun had scarred the white sky and the last small cloud had vanished like a bubble falling on the heated griddle of a stove. Shadews were emptied of their coolness by the flaming wind, and sunflower leaves hung twisted and limp like little animals from which life had suddenly been syphoned. A mockingbird fluttered out of the cottonwoods to alight on the leaning piece of pine with which the barbed wire had been twisted to bind the tops of two tall gate posts. Suspended half-way between the posts, the bird gasped, and ignored a small grasshopper that floundered in the hot dust below. A spiraling brown whirlwind passed the upper rim of hills and twisted the sage into grotesque shapes, then spent itself like a spurt of smoke. Even the smallest leaves in the tops of the cottonwoods were motionless before the east wind struck. It was soft and sweet, yet firm as it pushed the wall of heat away. Cattle moved from the deep shade of vine-draped hackberry trees, and began grazing. The mockingbird flew back to the trees with a grasshopper in its beak. A scattering of purple, gold-rimmed clouds in the west were planning to arrest the outlaw sun.

I have been mistaken so often that even my most positive statements are shorn of the conviction which an experienced skeptic would consider worth his effort.

Ignorance will throw away the concealing blanket of silence and try to cover its repulsive anatomy with the constantly shrinking spread of a big mouth.

Listening to the harps of pleasure playing from the rapids of destruction, my friend laughed and kept his course straight ahead. He was deep in his cups so often that companions shunned his otherwise charming company and he splashed his natural talent in lavish waste. He perished in a wake of pain and broken hearts and left a heritage of shame to his children whose greatest crime was to love him. The harvest of sin is one crop that has never known failure.

Fear requires little cultivation. It fruits rapidly in soil from which the strength of faith has been lost through erosion.

Damp, sweet earth pillowed our heads as we lay in the shade of wild plum bushes and looked at little pieces of sunlight and sky through the restless leaves. My companion saw enchanted vistas of the future in which he would work behind a bright soda fountain. My hopes probed the sweet adventure of riding a white horse in a circus. The perfume of wilting weeds and grass chopped from around stunted cotton drifted through our sanctuary. Time was like thick, golden honey dripping from the point of a knife. At last we crawled back through the fence, sharpened our hooves and resumed our work. Hot soil pushed its way up between our toes and we leaned on the sleek, wooden handles to watch the flight of a blue hawk, spiraling in the dreamy summer sky.

Engineered for every region, are being produced at various company plants for use with this new tractor. They are: One and two-way moldboard plows, disk plow, harrow plow, disk harrow, mower, cotton and corn planters, vegetable planters, corn and cotton cultivator, sugar beet and commercial bean cultivator, and a vegetable cultivator. All these tools, the company pointed out, are designed for quick change and easy operation.

$59,000 Offered At State Fair Livestock Show

Exceeding last year's premiums by nearly $10,000, a total of $59,020.00, will be offered this year at the Livestock Show of the State Fair of Texas, Oct. 4-19, according to an announcement by W. H. Hitzelberger, Executive Vice President and General Manager.

It will be one of the largest sums of money ever offered at the State Fair of Texas. Along with increased premiums comes an expanded program to include additional breeds of cattle, sheep and horses.

This year's livestock program will be the most complete, well-balanced show in the exposition's 61-year history. New breeds added to the list of popular breeds are Brahman and Ayrshire cattle, Suffolk sheep and Palomino horses. There will be an open classification in the Beef Cattle Department for Hereford, Aberdeen-Angus, and Shorthorn steers.

Premiums for each department are: $23,465 for beef cattle; $10,100 for dairy cattle; $7,330 for swine; $2,853 for sheep; $732 for Angora goats; $6,000 for horses; and $8,540 for the Junior Livestock Show.

Dates are Oct. 4-17 for the Livestock Show. But the deadline for entries is Sept. 8, according to Livestock Manager Ray W. Wilson.

Not only has the State Fair increased premiums this year, but is spending $216,000 for the construction of the most modern cattle barn in the Southwest.

The cattle barn, when completed about Sept. 1, will house 1,100 new cattle stalls. Now more than half finished, the building covers nearly two acres of ground near the State Fair grandstand.

George Stokes
Appointed To Wayland Staff

Arrival of George Stokes, recently appointed member of the Wayland College staff, marks the beginning of an intensive effort to further the Wayland enlargement campaign this summer, announces Dr. J. W. Marshall, former personnel secretary of the Baptist Foreign Mission Board, and newly-elected president of the Baptist college at Plainview.

Assuming his duties as head of the $385,000 enlargement program, Stokes pointed out that the campaign is especially geared to the predominantly agricultural plains country. The chief plan for raising funds is a campaign to have part of unharvested crops and the increase of livestock designated for Wayland College. Any type of product, including cotton, feed, sugar beets, potatoes, alfalfa, and all kinds of livestock, may be pledged and donated.

Under the program, designed to allow easy participation by the farmers of the plains area, a donor may designate a given number of acres, bushels, or head of livestock, and market that acreage or livestock in the name of Wayland.

The money received in this campaign will be used for immediate expansion at Wayland, including such projects as a new girls' dormitory, a dining hall, faculty apartments, repairs on present buildings, and extension of the departments of agriculture and science, Stokes said.

Veterans' News

Texas and Louisiana are among the 42 states with which the Veterans Administration now has contracts providing for state approval and supervision of establishments that provide on-the-job training for veterans.

The responsibility for approving and supervising job-training in industrial and other establishments rests with state approval agencies under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (GI Bill).

Recently, Congress authorized VA to reimburse states for their services and VA thus far has obligated approximately $5,500,000 for the current fiscal year ending next June 30 for this purpose.

Under the contracts, the states approve applications of establishments for on-the-job training after determining that the establishment meets certain basic training requirements.

These include: (1) The training must be adequate to qualify the veteran for the job he is training for; (2) there must be reasonable certainty that the job for which the veteran is training will be available to him at the end of the training period; (3) progression in the job must be based upon skills learned rather than factors such as length of service and normal turnover; (4) adequate records of progress by the veteran must be kept.

World War II veterans with 90 days of active service and a discharge other than dishonorable are eligible to apply for education and training under the GI Bill.

Those with less than 90 days of service are eligible if they were discharged for a service-connected disability.

7. No motor vehicle shall make "U" turns on state highway intersections. No motor vehicles shall park on the left side of any highway, street, or alley.

8. Failure to observe any control sign or signal now placed by the City Commission upon the highways, streets, or alleys, or hereafter to be placed by the City Commission upon the highways, streets, or alleys shall be a violation of this ordinance.

9. Failure by the owner or driver to appear at the time and place set out in any tag or slip left on any motor vehicle alleged to have violated any traffic regulation shall be a violation of this ordinance.

10. All state highway laws, and all rules and regulations of the state highway department having the force of laws pertaining to the Law of the Road of the State and pertaining to traffic laws, rules, and regulations for incorporated cities, towns, and villages of the State of Texas, are hereby adopted in toto as a part of this ordinance.

Any violation of any section of this Traffic Ordinance shall be punishable by a money fine not to exceed $200.00, together with the regular cost of criminal acts in the Corporate Court of the City of Morton.

Commissioner McAlister introduced the foregoing traffic ordinance and moved its adoption; Commissioner Smith seconded the motion. The Mayor called for a vote upon the motion as read, and all members of the City Commission voted "Aye" and none voted "No."

The Mayor declared the Ordinance duly passed, ordered the same spread upon the minutes of the City Commission in its regular place, and ordered the same published in two issues of the "Morton Tribune," a newspaper of general circulation published in the City of Morton, Incorporated.

"Advance-Design" Chevrolet Trucks Make Bow

The trucks that will bring true postwar design to the highways of America, Chevrolet's new "advance-design" line of commercial vehicles, will be introduced to the trucking industry June 28 by Chevrolet dealers across the country. Incorporating a variety of new features that assure greater operating efficiency, load-carrying ability and highway safety, the new trucks are said to be more rugged and durable than ever before. First units were built in Chevrolet's Janesville (Wis.) assembly plant, and were appropriately hailed. Here the "Queen of America's Dairyland," Miss Betty Gene Gardner, Ridge-way, Wis., christens the new vehicle as Gov. Oscar Rennebohm, Wisconsin's chief executive (right), and R. W. Potlesak, Janesville plant manager, look on.

QUOTES ON COTTON

Necessity—"Cotton is a necessity of modern life. Since the last half of the Eighteenth Century its importance in the commerce of the world has been steadily enhanced. It contributes something of value and utility to every man, woman and child."—Southern Agriculturist.

Greatest Opportunity—"Today, the South and the cotton industry stand on the threshold of the greatest opportunity in 80 years. Whether the South is able to take advantage of the opportunity depends upon the cooperation of all financial, industrial, agricultural and business groups."—Price M. McLemore, Alabama Cotton Grower.

No Substitute—"Some of the qualities of cotton can be reproduced in other fibers; yet there is no other fiber, either natural or synthetic, which conceivably can substitute for cotton in all its uses."—National Cotton Council.

All-Time Low—"The carryover of cotton on July 31 will be almost at an all-time low, and certainly it is an all-time low compared to what the needs are."—Harmon Whittington, President, Houston Cotton Exchange.

Needed For Balance—"We need more cotton to balance the farm program. Not only do we need more cotton to bring about this balance, but we also need the cotton for domestic consumption and for export."—Farm and Ranch.

Must Cut Costs—"For Georgia farmers to continue to grow cotton, it is mandatory that they reduce the costs of production. The mechanization trend seems to be the most definite solution."—C. C. Miller, Georgia Extension Service.

FARM FACTS
WORTH KNOWING

Q. What causes my cows to gnaw wood and pick up old bones and chew them?

A. This indicates a lack of minerals in their rations. Make sure that their diet has sufficient mineral content. Or it may be that your cows lack vitamins A and D which influence the absorption of minerals into the body.

Q. How many turkey toms should be kept for breeders?

A. One tom for every 12 hens is the general rule, but if tom rotation is practiced keep 50% more toms than the above ratio, or one tom for eight hens.

Q. How can a hunting dog be corrected of false pointing?

A. According to Earl Bufkin in "Handling Your Hunting Dog," a book recently published by the Ralston Purina Co., St. Louis, Mo., false pointing is most often caused by excessive cautioning in the field. The master fears that his dog will overrun the birds and cautions him. Thus the dog may be encouraged to stop and falsely point. Bufkin suggests that you let the dog do his own hunting and handling of game. Another remedy is to wait for a point at a place where you are sure no birds are present and then simply ignore the dog and let him decide for himself that he is wasting time. Or the false pointer may be worked with an older dog who has too much sense to back an unproductive point.

Q. What percentage of lambs born finally reach market?

A. Only about two-thirds of the lambs born reach market. This average could be greatly increased through a program of good feeding, good breeding, sound management, and careful sanitation.

Q. What is the best type of hog for marketing?

A. Consumer preference plays a big part in determining the best type of hog. The "medium" or "middle of the road" type is more desirable than either the "chuffy," overdone hog or the rangy, underfed hog. The ideal type of hog should have a maximum of lean in proportion to fat and should have not more than 1½ inches of fat over the back, loin, and hams.

Weekly SURPLUS NEWS WAA

A pre-Fourth of July offering for the benefit of World War II veterans will be made at the Red River Arsenal when 450 trailers, trucks, sedans and jeeps are put on the market by the War Assets Administration. Inspection of the vehicles may be made Friday, June 27, and Monday, June 30, with sales during July 1 and 2. Sales will be limited to one vehicle to a veteran, and order of purchase is to be determined by a drawing held at gate three of the arsenal at 9 a. m., July 1. Admission qualifications will be discharge papers or accepted proof of honorable World War II service. WAA location sales officials declared that veterans attending the sales will be able to inspect, complete purchase and drive their vehicle home before the holiday.

The Amvets want preservation of veterans rights in acquiring war surplus as aggressively opposed to those who want to scrap all priorities, according to Ray Sawyer, national Amvet commander who conferred at Grand Prairie with zone and regional WAA officials recently. After looking over the Grand Prairie WAA plant and visiting a veterans' sale in the warehouse, the Amvet chief said he was well pleased with reports on WAA's handling of surplus in Texas. "You're doing a good job. Don't let criticism get you down," he said on leaving.

Seven to eight million dollars worth of surplus government owned paints, clear and pigment-lacquers, enamels and related products are being offered at low fixed prices on a national sale through War Assets Administration. These products generally are best suited for use as production or maintenance finishes in the industrial field, it was said. Information on the paints and lacquers is available through the Customer Service Center of the Grand Prairie WAA office.

Wholesalers led all other groups of buyers of surplus property in the Southwest during May, purchasing 42.4 per cent of all goods sold, according to a monthly report analysis released by the Grand Prairie office of War Assets Administration. Total sales of government surplus for May more than doubled those of April in the area.

Five surplus army chapels at the Amarillo Army field are being offered for use as shrines or for religious purposes through the War Assets Administration's regional office at Grand Prairie, Texas. They are placed on the market together with their "presently contained fixtures" subject to removal from the area. Priority purchasers have until July 3 to place bids and the general public until July 23.

A surplus item with the government but which was critical to the German war machine in the last months of the war is represented in bearings now offered through WAA until June 30. You will recall the effective work of the 8th Air Force bombers in placing the German bearings works out of commission. Customers Service Center of the Grand Prairie WAA office has made available ball, roller, tapered and anti-friction bearings.

Coal fired and natural gas ranges and baking ovens are among hardware items contained in a sealed bid lot sale by WAA until June 23. Information is available through Customer Service Center at the Grand Prairie WAA office.

The local people have carried this burden for many years, let our Natural Resources, the hidden wealth of Cochran county that is being shipped out every day to other parts of the world, help maintain our schools of Cochran County.

This is for the betterment of the schools of Cochran County. Let's put a fair tax on the Natural Resources of our county, to help build our Schools.

At the present time our schools are in dire need of repairs, and continued maintenance.

WOAI To Report On Farming In New Zealand

A first-hand report on agriculture "down under" will be presented on the National Farm and Home Hour by Wallace Kadderly, farm director of Station KGW of Portland, Oregon, upon his return to the United States after a three-month tour of Australia and New Zealand, Saturday, June 21, WOAI—12:45 P. M. CST.

Kadderly, who qualifies as the Farm and Home Hour's most widely travelled correspondent, will arrive in Los Angeles by plane on June 20. He made the tour at the invitation of the Australian and New Zealand governments, representing the U. S. State Department and the Department of Agriculture as special consultant on rural broadcasting.

The program will also include a story concerning a new crop which promises to be good feed insurance for farmers in any future drought period. Research by E. L. Erickson of the South Dakota Agricultural Experiment Station has proven the possibilities of this new crop which is almost equal to alfalfa in feed value.

Also included on the program will be musical selections by the Homesteaders orchestra, and by the Farm and Home Quartet. Ken Gopen will report farm headlines from Washington, and Everett Mitchell will be heard with week end markets from Chicago.

Farmers, Beware!—Is there more sickness among urban or rural people?—Those who live on farms have three times as many cases of typhoid, twice the diphtheria death rate, an infant death rate one-fourth higher, a maternal death rate one-third higher.
